PRICE FIVE CENTS

REV. CLIFTON E. WALCOTT WHO BEGINS APRIL 11th AS PASTOR OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Baptist Church will welcome its new Pastor on April 11th, at the morning service.

Rev. Clifton E. Walcott was born in Hudson, Massachusetts, and prepared for college at Mt. Hermon, graduating with the class of 1906.

He entered Brown University in the fall of 1906, where he was active in college athletics and for 3 years was a member of the debating team.

He received Phi Beta Kappa honors in his junior year and graduated with A. B. Degree in 1910. After this he entered Newton Theological Institution, graduating in 1913. During his seminary course he served as pastor of the First Baptist church of Ashland, Massachusetts. After his graduation from the seminary he accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Sharon, where he served for 7 years. During that time the church more than doubled its membership and he is leaving a united church that regrets very much his going.

ESCAPED WITH CUTS IN AUTO CRASH

Mr. Arthur T. Downer, treasurer of the Winchester Laundry Co., and Mr. William T. Soule, publicity manager of the same firm, received numerous cuts from broken glass when the automobile in which they were riding was in a collision with a Ford touring car at the corner of the Fellway and Mystic avenue, Medford, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Downer was taking Mr. Soule to his home in Malden when the accident occurred. The two cars came together without warning and both were badly wrecked. The Buick touring car of Mr. Downer having a wheel ripped off, mudguards bent and torn off, and all the glass in the top broken. Both cars were overturned and the top on the Downer car probably was the means of saving its occupants from more serious injury. The Ford was owned and driven by Carroll W. Sill of Haverhill, who was accompanied by Miss Lila Brackett.

Beyond cuts from broken glass and numerous bruises, none of the occupants of the two cars were seriously injured.

WOMAN KILLED BY GAS

Miss Elizabeth Drury, aged 51 years, was killed by gas at her boarding place 644 Main street, Tuesday. In the opinion of the medical examiner her death was accidental.

About noon Tuesday the landlady of the house smelled gas. Tracing the odor she found it came from Miss Drury's room, the door of which was locked. She notified the police and Sergt. McCauley and Officer Cassidy went to the house and broke in the door to the woman's room. She was found dead in bed with gas escaping from a half open jet. In the opinion of the medical examiner, who was immediately called, the jet had been left open accidentally.

The woman has no known relatives and no regular place of abode.

GIRL HIT BY AUTO

Miss Lucille Skillings, thirteen years old, suffered a sprained ankle, a severe cut above her eye, and scratches about the face and body, when a Ford sedan owned and operated by Archibald Liset of Revere Beach Parkway, Revere, struck her Friday afternoon. The accident occurred at the junction of Main Street and Blackhorse Terrace. Dr. Brown was immediately called, and the girl was taken to his home, where her injuries were treated. She was afterwards taken to her home.

1st CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Easter Vespers will be at 4 P. M. at which the Durrell String Quartette of Boston will play the following selections: Nocturne, Borodine, Andante, Beethoven, (from the F. Maj. Quartet), Interludium, Glazounow, Mrs. Barr will be the Soprano Soloist. The Durrell String Orchestra is a group of young women well practiced in the art of ensemble playing and have given many public as well as private performances where their work has been highly commended. Mrs. Barr is always a universal favorite in Winchester.

THE METHODISTS BUY

At a largely attended Quarterly Conference held Tuesday evening, March 30, it was a unanimous vote that the Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Winchester be authorized to purchase the major portion of the Pattee estate, located on Church street. On Wednesday, March 31, the trustees bought this property for the society. The plan is to erect a new church edifice on this admirable site. The Methodists have been somewhat embarrassed in the past by not having a church structure able to meet the demands of its growing constituency. The first thought was to remodel the present building. After careful investigation it was decided that new church, the long cherished hope of the society, was within the realm of reason. The trustees have advanced carefully but steadily, and have made a move, in the purchase of the Pattee place, which affords the Methodists an unusual opportunity. Plans for building will be forthcoming and as soon as business conditions warrant, the society will take the next step.

REV. SIDNEY B. SNOW GOES TO MONTREAL

Following the announcement of the call of Rev. Joel H. Metcalf to Portland, Me., comes the announcement of the call of another of the Unitarian Hungarian Unit, also a Winchester minister, to the Church of the Messiah, Montreal. Rev. Sidney Bruce Snow, late of King's Chapel, Boston, a former well known resident here, has received the Montreal appointment, following the resignation of the Rev. Dudley Hays Ferrill.

Mr. Snow is with Mr. Metcalf at present on a mission to Transylvania for the relief of Unitarians in that stricken country, but it is said that he will be able to take up his new duties next September. He was born in Winchester in 1878 and is a graduate of Harvard.

MR. FRANK H. ADAMS DEAD

News was received Wednesday afternoon of the death at Fort Myers, Florida, of Mr. Frank H. Adams of 441 Mystic street, Arlington. Mr. Adams was widely known in this town. He was 58 years of age and had been in the South since January. For a number of years he had suffered from heart trouble.

He was a Mason and a member of the Calumet and Winchester Country Clubs. He leaves, besides his wife, one son, Mr. Frank A. Adams of Mornington. Mrs. Adams, who was in the South with her husband at the time of his death, will accompany the body home. Arrangements for the funeral services have not been announced.

IDEAL MARKET SOLD

Mr. Walter J. Tibbetts, proprietor of the Ideal Cash Market, announced this week the sale of that business to Messrs. George Kerrigan and Andrew Morrow. The business will be conducted as heretofore under the same name. Mr. Kerrigan is a Winchester man and well known to a large circle of our people. Mr. Morrow comes from Boston where he has been in the meat business for the past fifteen years. The new firm will make every endeavor to continue the business to the satisfaction of Winchester people.

WINCHESTER WON

The last Basket ball game of the season was played on Friday night with the Amesbury High five at the High School gymnasium. The W. H. S. team won by a score of 21 to 15. The proceeds will be used to buy sweaters for the boys who graduate this year.

The summary: Goals from floor: R. Hart 2, Valley 2, French, Gillett, Eldredge 2, Mathews, Currier 3, Monghan 3, From fouls Valley 2, French, Currier 3.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending April 1: Diphtheria 3, Scarlet Fever 1, Tuberculosis 1, Mumps 4, Measles 2.

WEEK-END FIRES

Although the police are keeping a sharp watch this season for the persons who usually set the brush fires in this season, there were several calls for the fire department for such fires over the week-end. None of the brush fires however, were caused by actual setting except the two big ones on the west side Sunday, and these burned into Winchester territory from Arlington and Woburn. The burning hills made a beautiful sight after the sun went down, the whole west side ridge being outlined by the line of fire.

On Friday evening a chimney fire at the residence of Mr. B. F. Blank, Highland avenue resulted in a telephone call to the fire department, and Chief DeCoursey visited the scene and used three gallons of chemical. There was no damage.

Saturday noon box 7-44 was rung in at 12.10 for brush on Farrow street, and at 4.14 P. M. box 7-27 was rung in for grass on Grove street in the vicinity of the Bacon Mill. There was on damage in either instance.

A telephone to the police station Sunday afternoon at 4.30 announced a brush fire in the Fells on town land near the North Reservoir standpipe. The fire department visited the scene, but failed to locate any fire. At 4.55 box 571 was sounded for a burning pile of lumber at the Irwin place on Ridge street. This was caused from burning brush and the local department extinguished the blaze.

Woburn, Arlington and Lexington handled the big brush fire just over the Winchester line Sunday, and the rain Monday afternoon aided in extinguishing the burning woods beyond further danger.

EASTER MUSIC AT THE CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY

The large vested choir of forty men and boys at the Church of the Epiphany under the direction of Mr. J. Albert Wilson, organist and choir-master, will render some very fine music at the eleven o'clock service on Easter morning. The following numbers will be given:

Organ Prelude, Concerto in C minor Handel Processional Hymn, "Welcome Happy Morning" Sullivan Te Deum, in E flat Brewer
Kyrie Winter
Anthem, "Rejoice in the Lord" Martin
Hymn, "The Strife is O'er" Palestrina Anthem, "Behold, Ye Despisers" Parker
Sanctus Field
Communion Hymn, "Here, O my Lord" Dearl
Gloria in Excelsis Old Chant
Recessional Hymn, "The Day of Resurrection" Tour
Postlude, "March Pontificale" Widor

WINCHESTER COUNCIL, K. OF C. COMMUNION BREAKFAST

Never was there a more enthusiastic body of men all seated at breakfast at one time in Winchester. 180 Knights marched from the Altar rail to Lyceum Hall, where they were served with a splendid breakfast. G. K. J. Chris. Sullivan, was toast master and ably filled the bill, being supported by an efficient committee consisting of Frank E. Rogers, chairman; James Valley, Luke P. Glendon, Patrick Foley, William Flaherty, and James F. Haggerty. The speakers were Rev. Francis E. Rogers, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, Chancellor Frank E. Rogers, D. D. S. K. Joseph O'Neill of Dorchester, D. D. S. K. James E. Henchy of Woburn, W. I. S. K. Francis McLaughlin of Allston. Mr. William Garrity presided at the piano and Mr. William Coty, Winchester's famous tenor, rendered several solos. $1500 was subscribed for the Building Fund.

HOW EASTER IS CELEBRATED AT JERUSALEM

Easter Sunday, at the regular service of the Unitarian Sunday School, Prof. James Alfred Patch of the American College at Beirut, Syria, will give a short talk on "How Easter is celebrated in Jerusalem." Prof. Patch is a graduate of our Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has spent nineteen years in the practical missionary work of educating the inhabitants of Syria to help themselves to better things and has traveled extensively about the country and among its peoples. During the recent World War he was at the head of the local Red Cross unit in Beirut which very early in the conflict allied itself with the American Red Cross organization.

All are cordially invited to take advantage of this exceptional opportunity for obtaining first hand information of a section of country in which all Christian races are especially interested.

MRS. GLEASON TO ATTEND FOREIGN CONVENTION

Mrs. Ella Aldrich Gleason of the Massachusetts Woman's Temperance Union is one of a party which is to sail Saturday, April 3, on the "Lapland" for the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union Convention to be held in London, England, April 16 to 26.

Before the Convention a trip has been arranged for the party through Belgium, Southern England and Scotland, returning to London in time for the Convention. After the Convention a trip has been arranged through Switzerland and France.

During the Convention a reception will be tendered the Convention by the Lord Mayor of London.

Mrs. Gleason expects to return by the first of July.

TO BE BIG EVENT

Board of Trade Dinner at Calumet Club, April 15th.

The Board of Trade dinner has been postponed to Thursday evening, April 15th. It is to be held at the Calumet Club.

This is the second annual event of the organization, and chairman Charles A. Lane of the dinner committee is making every endeavor to make it of such a nature, both as regards catering and entertainment, that it will go down as one of the best and most enjoyable occasions the merchants have enjoyed as a united body to date.

The annual election of officers and the regular annual meeting will also be held in connection with the dinner. A well known caterer has been engaged for the affair, and the announcement that Willard Scott is to be the speaker is giving wide-spread satisfaction. No stronger attraction could possibly have been secured, for as a humorist, philosopher and banquet and club orator, there is no better in the country—if as good. His subject, "The Best Man in Town" is a reservoir of fun and will make a decided hit.

Dr. J. Churchill Hinde will lead in a few songs and other attractions of an entertaining nature are being now arranged for. The tickets, for which the demand already appears to overrun the supply, may be obtained of the committee as long as they last.

K. OF C. SHOW NEXT WEEK

The annual show of Winchester Council, K. of C., takes place next Wednesday evening, April seventh, in the Town Hall. This year's production will be entitled "A Pair of Sixes" being a three act farce staged under the direction of Mr. Charles J. Harold, well known throughout this section as a particularly able coach.

The cast for the production will be made up as follows:

Miss Sally Parker, their stenographer
Helen McNally
Krome, their bookkeeper
Dr. James H. O'Connor
Office Boy, Henry Movinhan
Shipping Clerk, Francis Martin
Mrs. George B. Nettleton

Miss Florence Cole
Florence McCarthy
T. Borgs Johns
Henry Maguire
Tony Toler, their salesman

Mr. Applegate
George Young
Thomas J. Vanderholt, their lawyer
Thomas Collins
Coddles, an English maid of all work, Mary Kelley

Play Committee chairman:
Darfel F. Dineen
Francis R. Murphy, secretary; Luke P. Glendon, treasurer; Patrick T. Foley, William J. McKee, James S. Valley, George F. Young, Michael B. Flaherty.

EASTER SERVICE AT THE UNITARIAN CHURCH

The Rev. William H. Drummond of London, England a distinguished Unitarian Speaker, who will preach, has recently been in Transylvania on behalf of the British and Foreign American Unitarian Association. He brought out the first message received from the persecuted Unitarian Church now under Romanian Political control. Dr. Drummond has been speaking in all parts of Great Britain and came to this country on the invitation of the Unitarian Association, to bear witness to what he discovered in Transylvania.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending April 2:

OLD BELFRY HERE TONIGHT

The Old Belfry Club of Lexington visits the Calumet Club this evening for matches in mixed bowling, pool, billiards and cards. This is always a popular event with both clubs and a large turn out is anticipated.

MR. CHARLES A. DODGE

Mr. Charles A. Dodge, aged 58 years, died at the New England Sanitarium, Melrose, on Friday. He had been at the sanitarium for his health for the previous six weeks.

Mr. Dodge was well known in this town where he had made his home with his wife and daughter for the past ten years. He was a native of Boston, but had spent the larger part of his life in Somerville. He was the son of Albert L. and Sarah (Austin) Dodge. For 39 years he had been accountant for the firm of John G. Hall & Co. at 114 State street, Boston.

Mr. Dodge was treasurer and trustee of the Winchester Methodist church and was a life long member of the Methodist church at Somerville. He is survived by his wife, Nellie (Richardson) Dodge, and one daughter, Miss Ruth R. Dodge. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Cummings and Mrs. Helen Brown, both of Somerville.

Funeral services were held at the residence, No. 15 Stevens street, on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. A. B. Gifford of Winchester Methodist church officiated, assisted by Rev. George S. Butters of Auburndale, Rev. Orville C. Poland of Chelsea and Rev. Robert A. Colpitts of Somerville. During the service selections were rendered by a quartette.

The display of flowers was very profuse and beautiful. The pall bearers included Messrs. B. R. Halford of Somerville and G. Raymond Bancroft, Leon E. Crouch and Frank E. Crawford of this town. The interment was in the family lot in Cambridge cemetery.

AN APPRECIATION

The other day I heard that "Charlie" Dodge looking out of his window caught sight of the setting sun and followed it into the land that is right to us, but to him who went away the country of eternal day.

Because he was my friend and something from him had passed into me, to add to the good I enjoy, I ask the privilege of saying something for him here.

Industry, thrift and integrity are primal virtues. Were there not so many who act upon the assumption that a little cleverness can be made a substitute for the more plodding characteristics, I should not mention these qualities which made him successful as a man among men.

But this said, I would remind you that he beautified the spot where he lived. To do that, if it is a genuine self-expression, is to produce a symbol of oneself. We who saw him at work in the early morning and in the cool of the evening digging, planting, sowing, pruning, while the home and its surroundings took shape under his hands, knew that it was his thought and love taking form. He once said to me, "If heaven is paved with gold I am not sure I would care for it, but if fruits and flowers are there I should like it." He knows now that the tree of life is there and bears twelve manners of fruits, yielding her fruit every month and that its leaves are leaves of healing. I shall always be able to see him about the grounds and in the home where he left the impress of himself.

I prized my friend for his contribution to the task in hand. He had his own viewpoint and he was a good defender of his own judgments. Such men always compel you to broaden your view, to make sure of your own position; or, if you are honest, to accept a gift of wisdom from another. But he did not demand agreement with himself to be a friend, he could have appreciation of the other man's position while he believed none the less in his own.

We are all alike and we are all different, usually the difference is more than the likeness. Now this difference is the measure of our contribution to the common fund of life. What others are and can do, just as well as we can be and do; and what we can be and do as well as others, does not matter much. It is what we can be and do, that no other can be or do, that counts as our contribution. I am sure that we who are lonesome now since he went away would say that in the long list of those we count as friends we never had another who could be mistaken for him. He was unique, to that we are agreed. How rich and deep his individuality was, only those can tell who knew him best and whose love sounded its depths. To such there is a solace in the possession of his life in themselves which they can never lose.

Rev. Orville Cram Poland.

W. H. S. GIRLS WON

Winchester 58, Swampscott 20

McCALL MAKES STATEMENT

Former Gov. Samuel W. McCall has issued the following statement:

"I heartily thank those who have signed my papers for delegate-at-large to the Republican convention and I accept their nomination. While I appreciate the difficulty of an individual candidate opposing a combination of four candidates who are placed at the head of the ballot and may all be voted for by a single marking, yet if he is chosen he has a mandate direct from the voter and is not taken because he has contrived to be a member of a group and is pulled through by somebody else. Group voting is contrary to the spirit of our election laws. Instead of meekly accepting the slate so graciously constructed for him by the machine, I trust every Republican will vote by a separate marking for each of his four candidates at large whether they are inside the charmed group or not. He will thus make up his own slate and each man will be his own boss. The ballot is short and such a course will be no tax upon the time and certainly not upon the intelligence of any voter.

First Duty is to Prevent War
"Like all the other candidates-at-large I shall appear upon the ballot without a pledge as to a candidate. This should mean that each one has an open mind and is free to weigh the merits of men, and that he will strive for the nomination of the candidate best fitted to deal with the critical conditions that envelop the country and the world. It is my profound conviction that it is the first duty of statesmanship to seek some method of preventing war, which has just strewn the world with the wrecks of mighty empires and almost engulfed civilization.

"As Governor during the war it fell to me to make ready our state forces and also to be the agent of the President under the federal law to enforce the conscription act. Two hundred thousand young men were mustered into the service in Massachusetts. I looked into the faces of far too many of that body of splendid youth not to feel the transcendent importance of waging war against war itself and overthrowing the hideous altar upon which, from the beginning of time, hundreds of millions of boys have been sacrificed.

"Atrocious Piece of Cynicism"
"Second only to the destruction of life are the blighting effects of the war upon every field of human action. The forces of production are shrivelled up, millions are starving, nations are oppressed by debt, fear and hatred possess men's hearts, governments are falling and the very universe is sick. Never before were the evils of war so clear to the common mind and if we cannot dethrone it now we never can. To do less than our utmost is basely to fail in our duty to the future and to our heroes who sleep under the soil of France. Whatever the faults of the peace treaty, and it had serious faults, it was an atrocious piece of cynicism to make it a party football and send it to its destruction. No party ought to succeed in the coming campaign, and in my opinion no party will succeed, which will not consecrate itself to the work of transmuting the sufferings of our time into the inestimable gift of peace for the future. And it must seek for a man who will fit that issue, one with the vision clearly to see and the ability to do, and not gifted in the ignoble art of giving eloquent reasons for doing nothing.

Master of Economic Questions
"Then we have problems peculiarly our own which call for a man who is a master of economic questions and of public finance. The difference between commonplace leadership and a leadership of genius may make the difference between weal and woe for our country for a generation.

"Of these problems I will instance one. We have a burdensome system of taxation which will soon prove itself an effective antidote to such prosperity as we have. It is cumulative in its effect upon increasing the cost of living. By tapping and almost exhausting the sources of local revenues it is already impairing the efficiency of our state and municipal governments. Even our schools are sinking. The debts and budgets of states are mounting with frightful rapidity. Unless we shall enter upon a new course at Washington the evils we shall suffer are incalculable. With two hundred billions of wealth our war burdens are far lighter than those which rested upon the country after the civil war. Under a sane system of taxation and with a reasonable economy we should bear those burdens with ease. Much depends upon the selection of a leader. If the Republican party shall make the wisest choice and thereby deserve and secure victory, it will confer a benefit upon the country such as it has not conferred since the time of Lincoln."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Dry Cleanse and Dyeing

Now is the time to look over your wardrobe and arrange for dry cleansing and dyeing. We extend our service to you, calling at your home and returning all articles with promptness and dispatch.

Wearing apparel should be cleansed often—it is insurance against germs, dust, stains, soils, etc. Present high prices of clothing would seem to demand the making of one's wardrobe last as long as possible.

THE WINCHESTER LAUNDRY COMPANY

A FAIRY PLAY FOR CHILDREN

Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs, a Fairy Play, will be presented by the Lend-a-Hand Dramatic Club of Greater Boston, under the auspices of the Winchester Smith Club, on the afternoon of Saturday, April 24, at 2.30 p. m., in the Winchester Town Hall. The Lend-a-Hand Club is well known to many people in Winchester through the very charming plays for children which have been given for a number of years in Boston. Little Lord Fauntleroy and The Prince and the Pauper being among the later well-known productions. The club has over a hundred members, about one-third of whom are Smith girls, and children's plays are its specialty.

It is said that "Snow White" is one of the most delightful things which they have ever done and this will give our Winchester children a chance for a performance of their very own. Tickets at 50c., unreserved; 75c. and $1.00, reserved; will be on sale at Parker and Lane's, afternoons from 3 to 5 on and after April 14.

MISS BILLINGS DIRECTS RED CROSS

Announcement was made this week of the appointment of Miss Bernice W. Billings as director of the department of nursing of the New England division, American Red Cross. She succeeds Miss Elizabeth Ross, who has resigned.

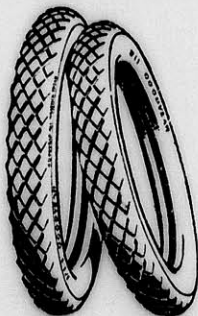

Miss Billings received her training at the New England Hospital for Women and Children. For 10 years, beginning 1902, she was with the Visiting Nursing Association in Winchester. Next she entered the service of the State, later becoming chief of the sub-division of tuberculosis of the Massachusetts State Department of Health. During 1919 she was executive secretary of the Oncoider, N. Y., County Tuberculosis Committee of the New York State Charities Aid Association. She has been engaged in public health nursing and tuberculosis work in this State for some years.

Miss Dorothy Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hewitt of Pine street, now of Bradenton, Florida, won the ladies' golf championship at that place last week by defeating Mrs. John Gleason 3 up and 2 to play. By winning the championship Miss Hewitt was awarded the solid sterling silver cup given by Mr. John Gleason.

MRS. CATHERINE WALSH

Mrs. Catherine Walsh, aged 87 years, a well known former resident of this town, passed away on Sunday after a long illness. She leaves one daughter residing in this town, Mrs. Thomas O'Loughlin; one daughter in Medford, Mrs. Edward Murphy, and a son, John Walsh, of Beverly. The funeral was held Wednesday, with high mass at nine o'clock at St. Mary's church. The burial was in Calvary cemetery.

PROPERTY VALUES HAVE INCREASED—Have You Increased Your Insurance?

In five years, building cost has increased about 65 per cent; furniture cost, about 125 per cent, and clothing cost about 129 per cent. Consequently, there has been a great increase in the values covered by the usual policy on dwelling houses and their contents.

If you were burned out today, would your loss draft from the insurance company pay its rightful share of the present cost of replacing your property?

If you have not enough insurance, permit us to consider with you what amount you should carry.

BOWLING ENDS

Final Roll-Off Creates Enthusiasm
at Calumet Club

Before a gallery of about 150 friends and members, and with much enthusiasm and excitement, the final roll-off in the mixed bowling tournament was held Tuesday night between the three leading teams in the two divisions.

The winners of the tournament are
as follows:

First, Team 16—Mr. and Mrs.
Arthur T. Towne, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Blank, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Aseltine.

Second, Team 12—Mr. and Mrs.
George B. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs.
Ernest Keepers, Mr. and Mrs. Elwell
R. Butterworth.

Third, Team 7—Miss Edith Fenno, Miss Meriel Thomas, Miss Phyllis Tutein, Mr. Roderick W. MacDonald,
Mr. Josiah B. Thomas, Mr. Earle B.
Goldsmith.

Fourth, Team 20—Mr. and Mrs.
Preston E. Corey, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kneeland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Kneeland.

This season, owing to the large list of teams entered in the tournament, it was decided to roll the matches in two sections, otherwise a schedule which would have carried into July would have been necessary. In order to determine the actual winners, the three leading teams in each section engaged in the roll-off.

As had been anticipated, the attendance was such as to tax the capacity of the alleys, seats were provided at every available place for the ladies, while the gentlemen lined the sides three deep.

The rolling was decided wholly upon pin-fall, first prize going to the highest total and being followed by succeeding totals. As a matter of fact it made no difference either by points or totals, for the differences were all clean cut. As a rule the bowling was done wholly by the ladies, they all rolling good scores, while the majority of the gentlemen hung back.

Miss Phyllis Tutein rolled the best total for the ladies with 179, her high string being 93, Mrs. A. T. Towne got the highest single with 95 and got 167 for a total. Other good scores were as follows: Miss Meriel Thomas 173 with 91, Mrs. G. B. Hayward 171 with 88, Mrs. B. F. Blank 167 with 88, Mrs.
F. W. Aseltine 167 with 85, Mrs. Wm.
Kneeland 161 with 84, Miss Edith Fenno 160 with 89, Mrs. H. L. Bennett 86, Mrs. J. F. Tuttle 85, Mrs. E. R.
Butterworth 85. Mr. Aseltine led the gentlemen with a total of 214 on a string of 117, and Mr. S. W. H. Taylor got 201 with 106. Other scores were Mr. E. R. Butterworth's 106, Mr. Earl Goldsmith's 102 and Mr. Ernest Keepers' 101.

The prizes, which will be awarded at the big dinner to be held April 13th at the Club, to be given by the losing teams to the winning teams, were on exhibition for the first time. The winners will receive silver coffee percolator urns; second prizes are silver double vegetable dishes; third, glass baking dishes and glass pie plates; fourth silver thermos carafe jug. The individual prizes, which have not been computed yet, are bar pins of brilliant set in platinum. These are for the two ladies rolling the highest net average and the highest gross average.

Tuesday night's scores were as fol-

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

Helen Hayes in the sub-deb comedy
"Bab" is rapidly establishing a record at the Hollis Street Theatre that will probably stand for many years to come, if the previous record of Maud Adams is any criterion, or anything to base the "Bab" record on. Next Monday night Miss Hayes and her fellow-players will begin their eighth week at this historic playhouse. Miss Hayes, next Saturday when the curtain falls, will have played "Bab" exactly 65 times in Boston, she having had an extra performance on Washington's birthday. The Hollis Street Theatre is over 30 years old, and until the Carpenter-Rinehart play came here the Adams record had stood firm against all encroachments. A notable feature of this engagement has been the unusual number of large theatre parties that have been given by different schools, societies and clubs. It is no exception to see parties of several hundred occupying seats at some performances, indicating what a catholic appeal the play has.

Deserves Well of Posterity.

SPRING TOURNAMENT WINNERS

By the rolling of postponed games, the spring bowling tournament at the Calumet Club came to an official end on Wednesday night. For over a week it has been known that team B could not be defeated for first place, but other teams had a possible chance to advance. Team D stands second at the finish.

Team B—Charles E. Barrett, Capt.; Henry Weed, J. E. Corey, J. E. Gendron, S. E. Newman.

Team D—P. A. Goodale, Capt.; F.
I. Baker, Wallace Blanchard, F. A.
Adams, F. E. Gregory.

The prizes for the tournament will be awarded later, and the individual marks have yet to be announced.

In Wednesday night's matches team A won three points from F and team E all four from C. Berry was high with 317 on 109, and other scores of note were Sanford 302 with 109,

ALL TOGETHER AGAINST HIGH PRICES

To Everybody in Our Plant.

We all want to reduce the cost of living. How can it be done? There is one way, and one only—increased production. The whole world is crying for goods—for products of the factory, of the soil, of the mines.
For nearly five years more than forty million able-bodied men were withdrawn by a warring world from the work of production to the work of destruction, while millions of others turned from production of things needed in peace to production of things to be destroyed in war.
The economic loss to the world of those years of destruction will not be recovered in this generation, but by extra effort on the part of every individual we can make some gain each year.

Only increased production can save the world—your family and your neighbor's family—from the calamity of "hard times."

Increased production will reduce the cost of living—the cost of every article necessary for the welfare and happiness of the people of this country and the world.

To-day people are bidding against one another for the things they need, because the supply of goods the world needs is not equal to the demand.

There is not enough to go around, and so the supply goes to the highest bidders.

Let us produce enough to go around and the sellers then must compete with one another for trade, and prices will go down.

That is an economic law, as certain in its operation as the law of gravitation.

Production, therefore, should be the watchword of every man and woman in Massachusetts this year, of every manager, every foreman, every wage-earner.

It is an individual matter.

This concern wants to pledge its co-operation with all industrial plants in Massachusetts in a campaign for increased production—More and cheaper goods—and such a pledge should include every one of us.

Will you do your part?

Face the Truth.

As courage and intelligence are the two qualities best worth a good man's cultivation, so it is the first part of intelligence to recognize our precarious estate in life, and the first part of courage to be not at all abashed before the fact.—Stevenson.

THE CALL OF SPRING

In the spring the busy housewife, pins an apron over her skirt
And on knees bent like devotion, vases cruel war on dirt.

But before beginning battle, e'er upon her knees she drops.
She hieeth to Hersey's Hardware store and buy-eth needed brushes, buckets and mops.

In the spring Dame Nature calls us, to obey her strictest rules,
And the field and garden calling for the proper kind of tools.

In the spring the rain and sunshine raise the lovely grasses green;
On the lawn in barber fashion, soon the mower will be seen.

In the spring the carol huddled takes in hand a pot of paint.
And investigates bare places, just to daub
it, where it aint.

In the spring when flies are breeding and to swat them we'll be called.
Then the screens for doors and windows clamor to be overhauled.

In the spring the wild weeds call us, where the speckled beauties run.
Then we need a fishing outfit, rod, reel, flies,
and a good shot gun.

In the spring when hubby's fancy turns to mountain trails to rove, Then's the time for kitchen outfit, kettles pans and a good gas stove.

In the spring young man and maiden, gaze with capture o'er the pike.
With a longing, wistful yearning for a ride upon a bike.

All these things and many others, are the needs that spring times bring.
Go to Hersey Hardware Company, they will sell you everything.

In the Spring, along the highway you will hear the motor's chug.
Go to Hersey's, they'll supply you, from a flashlight to spark plug.

OF INTEREST TO AUTO OWNERS

"The marvelous history of the development of the Automobile industry reads like the mysterious tale of Aladdin and his lamp. It demonstrates the fact that when the American brain strains at a job it will never stop till perfection is reached," said the old resident.

"Like all other human inventions the motor car is liable to slip a cog, or explode a tire, or meet with an accident. It also requires a safe and convenient shelter where it can be stored. Here is where the Mystic Valley Garage, W. G. Butman, Prop., is a necessity to the owners of auto cars in Winchester and vicinity. The Mystic Valley Garage is a model of its kind; safe, clean, commodious and the best of care is taken of the cars. Auto owners would do well to have their cars frequently examined by W. G. Butman, a bolt in time may save a doctor's bill. This Garage is well equipped with all the machinery, appliances and tools and a force of skilled mechanics and expert electricians to make necessary repairs and proper adjustments. No matter how severely your car may be damaged he can repair it.

He vulcanizes and rebuilds tires. In this he is an expert. He can detect a weak spot in your tire and repair it before the tire or your temper explodes. W. G. Butman carries a full line of automobile supplies, from a screw to a tire.

He sells the perfect tire, the dependable tire, the durable tire, the reliable tire, the tire that will travel five thousand miles, the tire and tubes you need on your motor car."

SANITARY PLUMBING

"The most important matter for you to consider, is the question of sanitary plumbing for your home," said the old resident.

"The health and good cheer of your family depends on the work being well done, the connections accurate, the heating system perfect and the ventilation pure. I would advise you to give this contract to Shaw and Campbell. They have every facility, the best equipment, a large assortment of the latest improved articles in their line and employ only high class mechanics. In installing steam warm air, hot water and vapor heating systems, their work is flawless. You can be assured of perfect heating efficiency, fuel economy and durability in the systems they install. Shaw and Campbell do all kinds of sheet metal work, guttering, spouting, cornices and cornice work; they can make anything in tin from a dinner pail to a tin roof. There will be no leaky roof or gutters if Shaw and Campbell execute the job. They sell a fine line of McGee's stoves and ranges. For heating or cooking this line is unequalled. Let Shaw and Campbell do your plumbing, tin work and place your heating system and your home will be sweet, wholesome and an abode of health.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING MARCH 26, 1920

The Board met in special session at 7.30 P. M. all present.

The records of the meeting of March 22 were read and approved. Bonds of Town Officers, Town Clerk The bond of Mr. George H. Carter as Town Clerk was received and referred to the Town Counsel for approval as to legal form.

Fire Dept. Unclassified: The matter of purchasing a new clutch and carburetor for the pump and tractor was referred to Committee on Fire Department with power to act.

Licenses 1920 Hawkers and Peddlers: An application was received from Carmon Palucci petitioning for a renewal of his license of this class. The matter was laid over until a little later date when all licenses which expire on May 1, 1920 will be taken up.

Licenses 1920 Auctioneers: A license of this class effective to April 1, 1921 and subject to the usual fee of two dollars was granted to William K. Bean.

Census: A letter was received from John J. Sullivan, Supervisor, 11th District Mass., stating that census enumeration in Winchester is now complete.

In view of the fact that there are probably several houses, however, which have not yet been visited by an enumerator, the Board decided to insert a notice in the Winchester Star of April 2 calling attention to the fact that the Board has received official notice that the census enumeration of Winchester is now completed and that any residents of the Town not having been enumerated, report same at once to the Board of Selectmen. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Sullivan to request that his final figures in regard to the census of Winchester be held up pending further word from the Board.

By-Laws and Regulations: The Clerk was instructed to publish, in accordance with the recommendations of the Town Counsel, the rules and regulations adopted by last year's Board at a meeting held on February 23, 1920. The rules and regulations adopted relate to the protection of the public ways, during building operations, governing the erection and maintenance of bill-boards, clocks, marquees, flag poles, awnings and other like structures; and governing the location of poles in the public streets and placing wires thereon. Such rules and regulations are designated numbers Sections, one, two and three and are known as Sections 173, 185 and 244 in the printed edition of the By-Laws adopted by the Town at the last Town Meeting.

Miscellaneous Inquiries: A letter was received from a Mr. E. Bauer of Brest, France, asking for certain information about Mr. Robert Hatten living at 112 Clay Street, Clark County, Winchester. The Clerk was instructed to deliver this letter to Mr. O'Connor, Postmaster of Winchester, with the suggestion that same be sent to Winchester, Va.

Mementos: The Clerk was instructed to send a letter to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, stating that the Board's attention had been called to the fact that a large number of captured German Artillery pieces were coming to this country and that the Board would greatly appreciate having some pieces sent to Winchester.

Street Lights 1920 Swanton Street: Mr. Blackham called attention to the need of a light on the Swanton Street Bridge. The matter was referred to the Committee on Street Lights.

Outside Work (Swan Pond): An application was received from the James J. Fitzgerald Contracting Co. and approved by the Supt. of Streets asking permission to construct a cinder abron in Swan Pond at Mr. Lawton's. The Board voted to allow the James J. Fitzgerald Contracting Company to lay this abron provided the lines and grades are given by the Town Engineer and the work done under the supervision of the Supt. of Streets according to Town Specifications.

Bathing Beach: The Clerk was instructed to send a copy of the following letter to the Park Commissioners of Winchester and to suggest to them that they write Mr. Rogers, Secretary of the Metropolitan District Commission, asking this Commission to formally turn over to the Town the Metropolitan bath houses in question for the year 1920.

Mr. A. A. Kidder, Chairman, Board of Selectmen, Winchester, Mass.

"Dear Sir:—

"Referring to your letter of October 2, and previous correspondence, relative to use of bath house of the Metropolitan District Commission on Upper Mystic Lake, I have been directed to state that the Commission will allow the Town of Winchester to use this bathhouse during the season of 1920, provided that the town will assume the expense of maintenance and control including policing of the premises and the protection of life of those using the bath house while in swimming. These are in general the conditions under which the use of the bath house will be permitted. If there is anything further I can do to facilitate these matters, please inform me.

Very truly yours,
(signed) GEO. L. ROGERS

Clerk of Selectmen

SELECTMEN'S MEETING MARCH 29, 1920

The Board met at 7.30 P. M. all present.

The records of the meeting of March 26 were read and approved. Invitations: A letter was received from the Winchester Board of Trade inviting the members of the Board of Selectmen to attend the dinner of this association to be held at the Calumet Club Hall, Tuesday, April 6, 1920 at 6.30 P. M.

Licenses 1920 Dealers in Second-Hand Motor Vehicles or Parts Thereof: An application approved by the Chief of Police was received from Irving L. Symmes, 10 Madison Avenue applying for a first class license to purchase, sell, exchange or assemble second-hand motor vehicles or parts thereof in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 259 of the Acts of 1919. The Board voted to grant Mr. Symmes an agent's license, Class 1, same to expire as fixed by law on January 1, 1921 and subject to the usual fee of $20.00.

Census: More complaints were received in regard to the census enumeration of Winchester. The Board as previously decided upon instructed the clerk to have a notice put in the Winchester Star of April 2 asking all those who have not been enumerated to notify the board in writing on or before April 12, 1920. The Clerk was instructed to write to John J. Sullivan, Census Supervisor of the 4th District Mass., asking him to hold up his final figures until after April 12 and until such time as the Board can bring his attention to several complaints received.

Licenses 1920 Common Victuallers: Applications for renewals of Licenses of this class were received from Frederick C. Macdonald, Mrs. Mary W. Carpenter and Giacomo Roccaputo. These applications were laid over until a little later date when all license matters will be taken up.

Licenses 1920 Intelligence Offices: An application was received from Mrs. Mary W. Carpenter asking for renewal of her license allowing her to conduct an intelligence office. This matter was laid over until a little later date when all licenses will be taken up.

Licenses 1920 Hackney Carriages: Application was received from Daniel E. Hurley applying for a renewal of his license to run a hackney carriage. This matter was laid over until such time as all licenses will be taken up.

National Elections, Primary, April 27, 1920: The Board passed the following orders with reference to the National Primary which will be held on Tuesday, April 27, 1920:

ORDERED: That at the meeting of the voters of the Town of Winchester, to be held on Tuesday, April 27, 1920, the polls shall be opened at 5.45 A. M. and remain open until 4.30 P. M.

ORDERED: That at the National Election to be held April 27, 1920, the compensation of the Ballot Clerks and Tellers shall be $7.50 each; and that Messrs. William Adriance, Ralph F. Arnold, Kenneth M. Pratt and Harrie Y. Nutter, Republicans, and Bernard F. Mathews, Jr., Charles F. Newell, James H. O'Connor and Robert H. Sullivan, Democrats be and they are delegated to serve as Tellers.

The Board appointed Messrs. Ralph F. Arnold and Robert H. Sullivan Ballot Clerks.

Licenses 1920 Junk Dealers: An application was received from Samuel Frumson applying for a renewal of his license as junk dealer. This matter was laid over until all license matters are taken up.

Appointments of Town Officers: The Board decided to proceed with the appointment of the various town officers whose terms expire April 1, 1920. The officers appointed were those whose names were presented at the previous regular meeting of the Board and are as follows:—

sel for the year ending April 1, 1921 to be paid for his general services $1,000 payable monthly; and in addition thereto a fair and reasonable compensation for such services as he may render in the preparation and trial of causes before the Courts, the Legislature, Commissions and other tribunals.

Signs: A letter was received from the Superintendent of Streets stating that the sign located at the corner of Main Street and Black Horse Terrace which is to warn motorists approaching the Gifford School has been repaired.

Sidewalks and Curbing (Hemmingway Street): Mr. Stevenson brought up again the matter of having the curbing laid at the corner of Hemmingway and Main Streets. This matter was laid over until such a time as sidewalk and curbing matters will be taken up.

Pole Locations 1920 Pond Street: A petition was received from the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company petitioning the Board for permission to erect and maintain 18 poles on Pond Street from Cambridge Street easterly. As a similar application from the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. has been received within the last few years by the previous Boards of Selectmen, this matter was held up pending investigation of the Board.

Stevens Street: A letter was received from the Town Counsel stating that he had notified Mr. E. L. Taylor, that he as Town Counsel would be glad to take up the matter of selling a parcel of land which the town voted to allow Mrs. Taylor to purchase. The land in question contains approximately 1500 sq. ft. of the Highland School lot, adjoining Mrs. Taylor's property at 23 Stevens Street.

Board of Survey: A letter was received from the Town Counsel relative to the petition of Mr. Edward R. Waite, asking the Board to lay out and approve under the Board of Survey Act a street over land of the petitioner east of Highland Ave. The Board voted to set a hearing in regard to this matter in the Selectmen's Room, Town Hall Building, on April 12, 1920, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Sidewalks 1920 (Gravel or Tar Macadam): A petition signed by Mr. John McCarron and 22 others calling attention to the advisability of constructing a tar macadam walk on the northerly side of Swanton Street from Main St. to the Chapin School was received. This matter was laid over until a little later date when all sidewalk and street matters will be taken up.

Fells Road: Letter was received from Mr. W. H. Corliss of 15 Fells Rd. calling the Board's attention to the serious surface drainage conditions of this street and asking that something be done in regard to the matter. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Corliss that the Board would investigate, but that on account of insufficient funds would probably be unable to do anything in regard to the matter.

Street Lights 1920 Farrow and Water St.: A petition signed by Patrick Noonan and 13 others petitioning the Board to have proper lighting facilities installed on or near the corner of Farrow and Water Streets was received. This matter was referred to the Committee on Street Lights for report.

Manchester Rd., Messrs. Louis K. Snyder, 7 Manchester Rd., Archibald T. Martin, 2 Manchester Rd., George H. Jenkins, 12 Manchester Rd., Daniel J. Kelley, 11 Mystic Avenue, C. C. Prendagast, 4 Manchester Rd., J. L. Campbell, 3 Manchester Rd., and H. W. Clark, 11 Manchester Rd., appeared before the Board with a petition signed by Mr. Louis K. Snyder and 18 others asking that Manchester Rd. be macadamized or thoroughly repaired. Mr. Snyder urged that this road be macadamized and when told by the Chairman that no funds were available for this purpose, asked that at least repairs should be made to the road which should be of a more permanent nature than repairs made before. The petitioners present were told that the Board would make an inspection of this street. The matter was laid over until all matters pertaining to streets and sidewalks will come up.

Boston & Maine RR.: Mr. Ralph S. Vinal of 46 Glen Road and the Town Engineer appeared before the Board at its request in regard to constructing a tunnel under the railroad tracks of the Boston & Maine Railroad opposite the Winchester Station. Plans were shown by the Town Engineer and Mr. Vinal and the matter was discussed at some length. The matter was referred to Mr. Parsons to take up with Mr. Hustis of the Boston & Maine RR. he to show him the plans which were shown the

Last Friday evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Congregational Church gave a very successful entertainment. The program was divided into two parts with a short intermission in which candy was sold. The first part of the program was musical, supplied by local talent and in charge of Miss Hazel Bowles.

The program was as follows:

Duet, Piano and Mandolin
Ruth Hall, Frank Hall
Piano Solo Hazel Chapman
Minstrel Comedy Scene
Warren Saunders
Accompanied by Eddie Peterson
Piano—Fred McCarthy
Leslie Nutting
Drum—Terrence Cullen
Marion Laid
Edna Saunders
Hazel Dotson

Solo Piano Duet
Miss Hattie Snow, Marion Twombly
Solo Helen Reed
Piano Duet
Marion Twombly, Miss Hattie Snow
Solo Constance Park

The musical entertainment was enjoyed by all. The minstrels receiving special attention in the form of a very beautiful bouquet made up of cabbage leaves and radishes very tastefully arranged.

After a short intermission the second part of the program was announced in the form of a One Act Farce entitled, "Who is Who," or "All in a Fog," with the cast selected from the society.

The characters were as follows:

Mr. Broomfield Brambleton (a country gentleman) Mr. Warren Fogg
Mr. Simmonds Swanhopper (a "model young bachelor")
Mr. Warren Saunders
Lawrence Lavender (a valet from Mayfair)

Mr. Clarence Buckmaster
Cicely (Brambleton's daughter)
Miss Ruth Farnham
Matilda Jane (a "superior" housemaid)

Miss Althea Fogg
The play which was under the direction of Miss Elsa Johnson was pronounced equally as successful as the musical part of the entertainment. The whole entertainment was a decided success in every way.

Hilarious Bride.

Because a London bride, aged forty-one, got drunk on her wedding day and kicked a police sergeant, she spent her honeymoon in jail.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

With the coming of pleasant weather the local Union is beginning to think of more active work and by way of recreation is planning for its annual meeting at the Home for the Aged which will be held April 16, by which time it is hoped that Spring will be with us as a steady guest if not a resident. Surely never was Spring more welcome than this year and the programme for the April meeting will express that welcome.

Last week Thursday the county executive board met in the parish house of the Episcopal church in West Newton. The weather was fine but the attendance was not as good as it should have been, the transportation question for many outlying towns being still in process of solution. Winchester has by no means had a monopoly of traffic trouble, many places in Middlesex county being still without trolley service, making cross-country trips difficult. Mrs. Rose E. Thompson, state president of the Young People's Branch, was scheduled as the chief speaker at the afternoon session but owing to the transportation was an hour late.

The World's Convention of the W. C. T. U. will meet this month in London, England, and already many of the delegates from this country are on their way. Winchester will be represented by the president of the Massachusetts Union, Mrs. Ella A. Gleason, who is planning to attend all the sessions and visit a number of other places in the interests of the work. Massachusetts will have several other delegates who, in common with all those from the United States, will go carrying Victory banners to show Great Britain that America has done something that "couldn't" be done. Perhaps drink-cursed England will learn a lesson and demand prohibition also, especially as so many of her colonies are getting the habit of being "dry."

Good Reason.

Jud Timkins says he's got to send his boy to college for the reason that the youngster has gotten to be so smart that a college is the only place he'll find anybody with brains enough to give him an argument.

Let Mrs. Mary Graves Tell You Her Poultry Raising Experience

"Three years ago bought an incubator, this year I've made money. Rats stole my baby chicks. Didn't know until a friend gave me a cake of RAT-SNAP. Next morning found two dead rats in hennery. Kept finding them. Suddenly they disappeared altogether. It's the only sure rat killer." Take Mrs. Graves' advice. Three sizes 25c, 50c, $1.00. Wants Are Contagious.
Wants are contagious, as is proved by experiments on their own fingers made by Drs. Edo J. Wile and Lyle B. Kinney of the University of Michigan Medical School. These physicians seem to have proved that wants are caused by some sort of a virus that passes easily through a filter and therefore through the sound human skin.

BEAUTIFUL SPRING

Rejoice for the cold winter's over.
Although it brought pleasures and joys:
Its feasting, its sleighing and skating
Which amused our girls and boys.
The snow from the hill-tops has vanished
And also the merry sleigh bell.
And Jack Frost with his long hoary whiskers
Has gracefully bade us farewell.

The orchard trees covered with blossoms
Show life from the bough to the root.
And give a hope that the harvest
Will yield an abundance of fruit.
The lambs in the meadows are bleating
And the robin red breast came to sing—
All nature itself seems united
To welcome the beautiful spring.

All the birds of the air in harmony join
And the fish in the babbling brook
Seem playful till caught by the angler
With his worm, his line and his hook.
The fields they are covered with clover
To provide for the sheep and the cow
And the good and industrious farmer Diligently holding the plow.

The industrious wild roaming bee
Employs every minute and hour
In gathering sweet honey all day
As it skips from flower to flower.
And when it has filled up its sack
Will vend its way back to its home
And there will instinctively save it
In cells known to us as a comb.

The days are bright, charming and long.
The azure sky cloudless and clear
And zephyr winds seemingly whisper
That this is the spring of the year.
The children sing joyous and merry
As they join hand-in-hand in a ring
And old folks sit on their verandas Enjoying the beautiful spring.

Our gardens are perfumed with flowers
The violets, the lily and rose,
The bluebell and American Beauty
Spring up from their silent repose.
And Erin's dear emblem—the shamrock
Which adorns its green, mossy sod Says, "Where is the wretch who dare doubt
The existence and power of God?"

Some day like those beautiful flowers
The Lord will raise us from the dust.
And if we have fought the good fight Shall dwell with the good and the just.
We should, therefore, adore the Creator,
And his praise everlastingly sing
Who to provide for our pleasure and food
Has sent us the beautiful spring.

J. J. O'Neil,
Winchester, Mass.

Source of Happiness.

The world contains not one single object that might not be a source of happiness. Sorrow springs from this, that man outdoes himself in misusing everything. He turns against his own body or his own spirit all sorts of things that seem well made for his joy.—Georges Duhamel in the Century Magazine.

TOMMY'S SPIRIT

"You don't get any sympathy in the army," said a returned soldier. "And some of them do not mind a joke now and then on their infirmities. A bunch of us were waiting on the dock at Brest. There were a lot of wounded casualties among us ready to be checked up and sent abroad the transport for home. One of them sat on a box swinging what was left of his leg. It had been amputated between the knee and the ankle. Another Tommy with one arm gone yelled over to him, 'Say, Bill, why don't you water it a bit? Maybe, it will grow.' And the other came back at him: 'Water yer brains, you big stiff! Who got your other arm?'"

IN BOARD OF SELECTMEN

ORDERED—That the following rules and regulations relating to the protection of the public ways, during building operations; governing the erection and maintenance of billboards, clocks, marquees, flag poles, awnings and other like structures;
and governing the location of poles in the public streets and placing wires thereon be and are hereby adopted, to wit:—

Section 1. No excavation shall be made in or under a street or sidewalk, nor shall any barricades, scaffolds, coverings or other temporary structures be erected in or over a street or sidewalk during building operations, without a permit therefor.
Such permit may be issued by the Commissioner with the approval by the Board of Selectmen, and may specify the time during which such excavation may continue. The person making such excavation shall protect it, with sheet piling if necessary or as required by the Commissioner, and shall protect all street mains, pipes and conduits to the satisfaction of the owners thereof and of the Commissioner, and shall not move any pipes, conduits or mains without proper authority. Any such excavation in or over the street or sidewalk shall be guarded by the person making the same with lights at night, and in such other manner as the Selectmen or Commissioner may require. The Selectmen may require such person to file a bond with satisfactory sureties to protect the town from all liability during such work or excavation.

Whenever any person is about to construct, alter, demolish, or remove the exterior wall of a building within 5 feet of the line of a public street, he shall cause that portion of the building bordering upon the street to be enclosed by a proper fence, not less than 4 feet high and at least 5 feet from the line of such building;
the fence shall be made as much higher as the Commissioner shall direct, and it shall be maintained until all liability to accident from falling material ceases; he shall also maintain a walk, not less than 30 inches wide, satisfactory to the Commissioner around said fence as long as the sidewalk is obstructed, and he shall maintain proper lights from sunset to sunrise, if so required by the Commissioner, at both ends of such enclosed space.

In erecting, altering, repairing, demolishing, or removing any building, or structure, no person shall leave in any public street, any lumber or building material, rubbish, or remains of any old building for a longer period than shall in the opinion of the Commissioner be reasonably necessary under the circumstances; if allowed to remain in any street after dark, the person carrying on such operations shall cause a sufficient light, or lights, to be placed over, or near the same and kept lighted from sunset to sunrise. All rubbish from such operations shall be removed from the street before noon of the next secular day after it is placed there and if the person carrying on such operations fails to remove it, it shall be removed by the Commissioner at the expense of such person.

Any person violating any provision of this section, or the preceding section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $50.

Note. For power to remove unsafe or dangerous buildings. See Stat.
1913, Ch. 655, Secs. 2, 3 (accepted by Winchester March 9, 1909) Secs. 4-10 (accepted by Winchester, June 13, 1918) and Sec. 60, R. L. Ch. 101, Secs.
1-5 (accepted by Winchester, March 17, 1913) R. L. Ch. 75, Secs. 67-69.

Section 2. No bill board, clock, marquee, flag pole, permanent awnings or other like structure (except poles, wires, conduits and appurtenances of railways, telegraph, telephone, water, gas, electric light, heat and power companies, fire escapes, and temporary structures herein provided for) shall hereafter be erected or placed in, or projecting for a distance of more than six inches over, any public highway without a permit therefor by the Board of Selectmen.

No awning or marquee shall extend over a sidewalk beyond a point one foot inside of the curb or outer edge of the sidewalk; no billboard or other structure except a flag pole a flag or a sign made of cloth or similar material, shall extend over a public street, a distance of more than 6 feet, or if there is a sidewalk, beyond a point 1 foot inside the curb or outer edge of the sidewalk; all such bill boards shall be steadfast and free from oscillation; the lower edge any awning, bill board, flag or any other object extending over a sidewalk or street shall be at least 8 feet above the grade of the sidewalk or street beneath it.

Every awning, marquee, pole, bill board or structure on or over a sidewalk or street shall be kept in good repair and in safe condition, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner.

No sign shall be permitted to project more than six inches over a sidewalk which does not relate to some occupation or use of, or some business, profession, entertainment, exhibition or amusement, carried on or held upon the premises to which it is attached.

Note. See Regulations of Fire
Commissioner for Metropolitan Dist.
See Mass. R. L. C. 208, sec. 114, 115, St. 1917, c. 344 part V, sec. 9, St.
1915, ch. 176.

Every person violating any provision of this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five dollars for each day that he maintains any structure in violation of the provisions hereof, after five days' notice to remove the same has been given him by the Board of Selectmen.

Section 3. For outside work the requirements of the latest edition of the National Electric Code shall apply together with the following additional rules. Each petition to the Selectmen for the location of poles must be accompanied by a plan drawn to scale showing the proposed location of each pole; if a permit is granted a plan approved by the Selectmen showing the location allowed shall be placed on file with the Inspector of Wires. No two lines of poles bearing conductors of a like class shall be erected on any street, avenue, or square, and no two lines of poles shall be erected on the same side of any street, avenue or square. Poles must be set in the sidewalk not less than 10 inches from the outer side of the curb line, and shall not be located within 6 feet of any hydrant, nor within 10 feet of any lamp-post or any other pole except when they are designed to carry wires on intersecting streets.

All poles now standing or hereafter erected shall be suitably painted and kept in good condition to the satisfaction of the Inspector of Wires.
So far as practicable each line of poles shall continue on the same side of the street. Poles (except poles of railway companies) shall be of substantially uniform height above ground and not less than 35 feet long; they shall be set not less than 6 feet in the ground and not more than 132 feet apart. So far as practicable, all poles shall be set near lot lines or in positions which will interfere as little as possible with private walks or driveways and with the view from dwelling houses; subject to this requirement they shall be spaced as uniformly as practicable.

Extensions must not be made on any pole without the approval of the Inspector of Wires. The second gain from the ground on every pole set in the streets and carrying wires shall be reserved for the wires owned by the Town of Winchester. Where cross-arms are designed to carry 6 or more wires they shall be supported with iron braces. All cross-arms shall be given at least two coats of paint.
Pole brackets shall not be used on poles carrying electric wires of any kind; wires must be supported by cross-arms; where necessary a single wire may be supported on pins on the top of poles. When poles have been abandoned by all users they must be removed by the owners within 30 days thereafter unless a permit to retain them is granted by the Selectmen. Whoever removes a pole from the street, must report the same to the Inspector of Wires.

All live parts and conductors used with arc and incandescent lamps must be insulated from poles and supports in such a manner as to protect employees and other persons from accident, and the method of insulation must be approved by the Inspector of Wires. Guy wires must be insulated from poles and fixtures by inserting an approved insulator not less than 6 feet from point of attachment to pole.
Wires running in the same direction as the line of poles shall be attached to the upper side only of cross-arms.
All wires must be mounted on glass or porcelain weather-proof type in-sulators. The first point of attachment to buildings of lighting or power service wires must be not less than 9 feet above the ground, and any platform or structure on which persons may stand. All wiring along the face of buildings must be in iron conduit. No wires shall hang less than 20 feet from the street or sidewalk at the lowest point of sag.
Where sharp angles occur, or where wires are so run that there is danger of their lifting from the insulators, guard irons shall be used to prevent their leaving the cross-arms.

The Inspector of Wires shall be the sole judge of what constitutes safe and proper construction and insulation of all wires, cables, and conductors, fixtures and appliances under the provisions of these Building Laws.
Whenever, in the opinion of the Inspector of Wires, any overhead wires, cables or conductors, poles or fixtures, used for the transmission and distribution of electric current, are in an unsafe or dangerous condition, he shall notify the owner, and if he deems necessary cause the circuits to be entirely disconnected from the source of electrical supply.

Note.—See R. L. Chap. 25, Sec. 52-56; Chap. 122, Sec. 2, 18-21, Stat.
1911, Chap. 412, Chap. 509, Sec. 3-5;
Stat. 1906, Chap. 463, Pt. 3, Sec. 7, 41;
Stat. 1914, Chap. 742, Sec. 127; Stat.
1916, Chap. 186.

By order of the Board of Selectmen,
GEORGE S. F. BARTLETT,
Clerk.

Note.—The above Sections numbered 1, 2 and 3 are the same as those numbered 173, 185 and 224 respectively, in "Revised Draft" of "The By-Laws Regulating Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas Fitting, March, 1920."

It is reported on good authority this week that the transaction whereby the Methodist Episcopal Church acquires the Pattee lot at the corner of Church, School and Pine streets has been completed. The plans of the church call for remodeling the dwelling now on the property, making it into a church edifice, the present stable being altered into a parsonage. William Parkman Lodge, A. F. and A. M., will take the portion of the lot nearest the centre of the site for its new temple.

Ladies' Friendly Society of the Unitarian Church, will hold a luncheon on Tuesday, April 6 at 1 p. m. Mrs. Alfred Knight and Mrs. H. E. Stone will have charge of the luncheon. At the regular meeting of the Alliance, following the luncheon, Rev. Minot Simons of Boston, who is connected with the Department of Church Expansion, of the American Unitarian Association, will speak on "Vitalizing a Denomination." Mr. Simon is a very interesting speaker, and a large attendance is desired to hear him. Mrs. A. H. Abbott will render several piano solos.

Five young men of this town are having the time of their life today seeing the sights of New York. They motored over in a big Packard touring car yesterday and will return tomorrow. Included in the party are Messrs. Hubert Bernard, Vaughan Harmon, Atherton Gleason, Bruce Bond and Malcolm Jones. While in New York they are making their headquarters at the Hotel Commodore. The boys comprise the Sunday School class of Mr. Edward S. Foster of Grove street, and it is through his thoughtfulness and in his car that the trip was taken.

EASTER WEDDING

Miss Anna L. Hefflon Married to Mr. James B. Morey of Buffalo

An Easter wedding, accompanied by decorations of Easter lilies, spirea, palms and springtime flowers, was that of Monday evening when Miss Anna Laura Hefflon, daughter of the late Joseph H. and Mrs. Hefflon of Myrtle terrace, became the bride of Mr. James Benedict Morey of Buffalo, N. Y. The wedding took place at the First Congregational Church and was performed by Rev. Howard J. Chidley at seven-thirty in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives of the young couple.

The bride, a graduate of the Winchester schools and Simmons College, '19, is the daughter of the late Joseph H. Hefflon who died in France during the war while performing Y. M. C. A. work just back of the lines. She enjoys a large and popular acquaintance among Winchester young people. Mr. Morey is a graduate of Cornell University, '18 and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Hill Morey of Buffalo.

The decorations at the church were wholly Easter lilies, spirea, and palms. The music was by Mr. Joshua Phippen, organist, assisted by Mrs. John R. Fauser, soloist.

The bride wore a dress of ivory satin with tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and orchids, and was given in marriage by her uncle, Rev. George H. Hefflon of Hartford, Conn.

Miss Rebecca Luther of Buffalo, a cousin of the groom was maid of honor, wearing pale green crepe de chine and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses. The groomsmen were Mr. Nevill Timmerman of Buffalo.

There were ten bridesmaids—Miss Ruth Phippen, Miss Bertha Kelley and Miss Ruth Elder of this town, Miss Edith MacConnell of Brighton, Miss Margaret Elizabeth Daniels of Brookline, Miss Dorothy McKissick of Dorchester, Miss Katherine Prescott of Stoneham, Miss Gladys Withersell of Natick, Miss Bernice Maxwell of West Roxbury, and Miss Ruth Stevens of West Roxbury. Five of the bridesmaids wore dresses of pale green, and five were similarly attired in orchid, chiffon. They carried bouquets of lavender sweet peas.

Little Miss Flavilla Morey of Buffalo, cousin of the groom, was flower girl and the ring bearer was Miss Ethel Comley of Bedford, cousin of the bride. They wore gowns of yellow organdie and carried lavender sweet peas, yellow rose petals being strewn in the path of the bridal couple.

The ushers for the ceremony and reception which followed were Messrs. Victor and Donald Lovejoy of Melrose, Harold Tewksbury of West Roxbury, Harold Withersell of Natick, Lyman Tasker of Brighton, Earle Prescott of Stoneham, Paul Bean of Boston, William Safford Phippen of Winchester, C. Burrows Morey and David Howard of Buffalo.

The reception followed the ceremony and was held at the home of the bride's mother on Myrtle terrace. The newly married couple received assisted by Mrs. Hefflon and Mr. and Mrs. Morey, parents of the groom. At the house the decorations were lavender sweet peas, jonquils, forsythia and ferns. Mrs. Hefflon wore a gown of lavender satin embroidered in orchid and silver and wore a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. Morey wore gray satin trimmed marato lace, with orchid bouquet.

Among the out of town guests who attended the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Luther, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Morey, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morey, Miss Grace Morrison, and Miss Ruth McArthur of Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Morey will be at home after May first at Dunkirk, N. Y.

WINCHESTER GIRLS TAKE PART

The annual competitive interclass sing which is to be held this evening, (Friday, April 9) at Mount Holyoke College has become one of the important events of the college year. These sings, which were first held outdoors with the seniors sitting on the steps of Williston Hall, have for the past five years been held in Chapin Auditorium, with college officials and competent judges attending. Each class is allowed specified rehearsals and the songs to be sung are carefully selected.

Among those who will participate in the event this year are the following Winchester girls: Miss Margaret Adriance, '20; Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, '22; Miss Jessie Cline, '23; Miss Marion Nichols, '23 and Miss Anno Zueblin, '23.

"THE UNREACHED PARADISE"

Sermon, by Mr. Chidley, Sunday Morning

Rev. Howard J. Chidley will preach Sunday morning, at the First Congregational Church, on "The Unreached Paradise," and in this sermon will discuss the quest of the human race for a new social and political order throughout the ages. He will relate our present-day social and economic upheaval to this world-old problem. People interested in getting a proper perspective on the social unrest of today are invited to hear this sermon, next Sunday morning, at 10.30.

SURPRISE PARTY

A Reunion of the "Sleeping Car" players was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Edelfson in the form of a surprise party, as the visitors contributed various features, novel and surprising to each other, including the presentation of Easter flowers to the hostess, an original poem, a "tip from the porter" (group pictures) dancing, cards and light refreshments, all affording a delightful evening.

POP CONCERT

Event This Year Largest Ever Held Here

This year's Pop Concert, held in the town hall on Monday evening, was the largest affair of its kind ever given in Winchester. There were 112 tables on the floor. At no previous concert has the number of tables reached 100. The guests included besides prominent society people of Winchester, many well known residents from neighboring towns and cities, and this feature in itself again exceeded former years in the interest taken.

Decorations in pale green and buff, with tapestries along the open wall spaces and bunches and panels of apple blossoms, transformed the hall into its usual setting for the concert. The music was by Teel's Band and Mrs. Helen Edelfson Barr was the soloist, thus providing a program which met with immediate favor by the audience. Benjamin F. Teel directed the band, and Mrs. Barr was accompanied by Lloyd G. del Castillo.

The large number of tables of necessity occupied the entire space provided by throwing open the two halls, and in consequence the number of young ladies who served as waiters was considerably larger than on former years.

The committee in charge of this year's concert included the capable half dozen ladies who have so acceptably staged the affair since its start, including Mrs. Orin C. Sanborn, chairman; Miss M. Alice Mason, Mrs. Clifford O. Mason, Mrs. Harriet C. Munroe, Mr. and Mrs. Percy W. Withersell, Mrs. Warren F. Withersell.

The refreshments and ices were carefully selected and were served by a very charming and capable corps of young ladies, while a large group of ushers handled the seating and table arrangement, and later, at the dancing which followed the concert, took charge of the floor.

The musical program was as follows:

March—"Boston" Teel
Overture—"Mignon" Thomas
Excerpts from "The Rainbow Girl" Hirsch

Oriental—"The Dardanella" Bernard
Grand selection of operatic airs: Tolani

a. Awake My Heart to Gladness Denmore
b. Dream Melody from "Naughty Marietta" Herbert

Sextette from "Lucia" Donizetti
Descriptive Fantasia "The Calvary Charge" Luders

"Songs of the Sunny South" Lampe Helen Edelfson Barr, Soprano
a. By the Waters of Minnetonka (Indian Love Song) Lleurance
b. Roses of Pearly Hayden Wood

Four numbers from the Suite "Atlantis" Safrank

1. Nocturne and Morning Hymn of Praire

II. A Court Function

III. "I Love Thee" (The Prince and Aana)

IV. The Destruction of Atlantis

Finale—"The Stars and Stripes Forever"

The serving was by thirty-eight young ladies including the following: Alice Webster, Madeline Eastwick, Green Skilling, Priscilla Lombard, Louise Simonds, Evelyn Tappan

BASE BALL OPENS MAY 31

The base ball season of 1920 will start here on or about May 31. The management started this week to solicit the usual annual subscriptions for the reserve fund to keep the team in the field during the season, and all residents interested in the sport and holding the desire to have a town team are urged to make contributions to either George T. Davidson, treasurer, or Edward McKenzie, manager. It is hoped that the response will be generous and that sufficient funds will be realized to insure a first class team.

WINCHESTER MEN IN HOOVER REPUBLICAN CLUB

The general committee of the Hoover Republican Club, given out Saturday, contains an impressive list of names, including three from this town, although it is true that none have played a large part in practical politics. It is possible that this fact in itself may have considerable weight with the average voter. Included in the list are Mr. Charles T. Main of Herrick street, Mr. Frederick S. Snyder of Highland avenue and Mr. Herbert S. Underwood of Central street.

THE REV. MINOT SIMONS TO PREACH AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

The Rev. Minot Simons who preaches Sunday at the Unitarian Church, was born in Manchester, N. H. and graduated at Harvard College and Harvard Divinity School. He was settled for four years in Billerica, and in 1900 went to Cleveland where he remained for twenty years. During his ministry the present beautiful stone church was built. He accepted a few months ago the position of Secretary of the Department of Church Extension of the American Unitarian Association.

DINNER AND MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

The annual dinner and meeting of the Calumet Club, at which time the new officers of that organization will be elected, will be held at the club tomorrow (Saturday) evening. The dinner opens at 6.30.

As usual this is one of the big events of the season at the Club, and the attendance is the largest among the men of any affair of the year. A special entertainment has been arranged, including artists of prominent reputation.

BOARD OF TRADE DINNER

The annual meeting and dinner of the Winchester Board of Trade takes place next week Thursday evening, April 15th, at the Calumet Club. The dinner opens at 6.30 and will be followed by the business meeting and an entertainment.

This year's dinner promises to be the best the Board has ever held. The Committee in charge has secured the services of one of the most popular caterers in this vicinity and the entertainment will be such as to give pleasure to all.

The committee in charge is headed by Mr. Charles A. Lane and includes Messrs. A. Burnham Allen, Loring P. Gleason, J. Chris Sullivan, Nathaniel M. Nichols, Arthur T. Downer, Harris S. Richardson.

The tickets for the dinner are in the hands of Messrs. Harris S. Richardson, Thomas H. Barrett, J. Chris Sullivan and J. Albert Hersey.

The business at this meeting will include the usual annual reports of officers and committees, and an amendment to the By-Laws enlarging the scope and limit of membership will be voted upon. The election of officers and directors for the year will take place.

In announcing the entertainment the committee state that the music will be rendered by a seven piece orchestra. This feature will be furnished by an organization of wide and well known reputation. Zarita, known as the Cuban nightingale, will be the soloist and Miss Florence Fitzgerald, styled "the girl at the piano," will assist in keeping things moving. Willard Scott, of national reputation as a humorist and after dinner speaker, will be the big feature of the program. He takes for his subject "The Most Popular Man in Town," and this feature will be a humor, it being said that some of the business men are coming in for considerable consideration and discussion when the subject is voted upon.

Already the sale of tickets has nearly reached the limit and it is expected that many will be unable to attend, as the capacity of the hall is strictly limited.

MUSIC GARDEN MEETING

Mrs. Edward S. Foster of Grove street opened her home to members of The Music Garden for their regular monthly meeting held Tuesday evening of this week.

At the June meeting, which will be guests night, Mr. Joshua Phippen of this town will be the guest of honor. Mr. Phippen will play the piano part in a quartet and 2nd cello in a string quartet.

HERRON URGES THRIFT TO COMBAT HIGH PRICES

"The Thrift Movement" was the subject discussed before the principals of the Boston public schools on Wednesday afternoon at Mason st. by Schuyler F. Herron, educational director of the Savings Division, 1st Federal Reserve District. Supt. Frank V. Thompson presided.

"Our war debts must be paid as soon as possible," said the speaker, "if we wish to bring living conditions to their normal state. High prices and economic problems always follow war. Thrift habits, saving and investments in Government securities will help curb extravagance and combat high prices."

EPIPHANY CHURCH NOTICE

Next Sunday at the regular morning service Mr. Dewart will continue his course on the "Life of Christ" to discuss the resurrection of Jesus. The four Gospels do not agree in their accounts of the first Easter Sunday and apparently contradict each other. What reasonable explanation can be given of this disagreement and what is the position which a thoughtful and honest person today can take regarding our Lord's re-appearance?

NEW PASTOR AND VESPER SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

The Baptist Church looks forward to a great day next Sunday, as it marks the beginning of a new pastorate.

At the morning service Rev. Clifford H. Walcott will begin his work as pastor, he having accepted a call from the church a few weeks ago.

Mr. Walcott comes to Winchester from Sharon where he has been pastor of the Baptist Church for seven years, during which time the membership has more than doubled.

At four o'clock there will be a vesper musical service given by the Lotus Male Quartet of Boston. Mr. Walcott will also deliver a short address. Opportunity is thereby offered any, who desires it, to hear him as the public are cordially invited to these services.

A full line of Eversharp pencils at Wilson's.

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL CLUBS PRESENT OPERETTA YOKOHAMA MAIDS

On Friday evening, April 16th, in the Town Hall, the High School Musical Clubs will present Yokohama Maid a Japanese operetta in two acts. The action of the play is built somewhat on the general makeup of "Mikado" and a chorus of forty voices with ten principals have rehearsed long and faithfully so that an enjoyable evening may be in store for all who attend. The proceeds will be divided between athletics and a fund to purchase musical instruments, and High School Pupils are trying hard to sell every seat in advance. Tickets are $1.00 75c and 50c plus the war tax. Collins' orchestra will furnish music for the dancing which will follow immediately after the play.

FEW CENSUS OMISSIONS REPORTED

In response to the request of the Board of Selectmen for the report of Winchester residents who have not been enumerated by the census takers, a few replies were received they totaling about a dozen. From this response it would appear that the town had been thoroughly taken.

"A PAIR OF SIXES"

K. of C. Show Drew Biggest Audience Yet Wednesday Night

The three act farce, "A Pair of Sixes," presented under the auspices of Winchester Council, No. 210, Knights of Columbus, drew the biggest audience yet of the many large crowds to attend the popular productions of this organization. Charles J. Harold, the well known coach, directed and staged the performance.

The farce, given primarily in aid of the K. of C. building fund here, was well presented by an exceptionally able cast. Many who have uniformly attended the Knight's plays, decided it was the best they have ever given. A cast of twelve, well coached and possessing a natural ability and aptitude for public work, acted out the farce, in a manner which brought down the house—not once, but repeatedly. Most of the participants had been seen here previously, and their appearance in the cast was welcomed immediately. They were not, however, allowed to carry off the honors uncontested, for several newcomers to local theatricals proved themselves fully equal to holding up their end and they found fully as cordial a reception.

The cast was as follows:

Miss Sally Parker, their stenographer

Helen McNally

Krome, their bookkeeper

Dr. James H. O'Connor

Office Boy Henry Moynihan

Shipping Clerk Francis Martin

Mrs. George B. Nettleton Sara Cady

Miss Florence Cole

Florence McCarthy

George B. Nettleton Edward Boyle

T. Boggs Johns Henry Maguire

Tony Toler, their salesman

Mr. Applegate George Young

Thomas J. Vanderholt, their lawyer

Thomas Collins

Coddles, an English maid of all work

Mary Kelley

The play committee included Messrs.

Daniel F. Dineen, Chairman; Francis R. Murphy, Secretary; Luke P. Glendon, Treasurer; Patrick T. Foley;

William J. McKee, James S. Valley;

George F. Young, Michael B. Flaherty.

The ushers were:

John C. Sullivan, Chief; Daniel Dineen, Luke P. Glendon, James W. Haggerty, Francis R. Murphy, William J. McKee, Frank E. Rogers, Daniel J. Reardon, James S. Valley.

The Officers of the Council are: Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt, Chaplain; John C. Sullivan, Grand Knight; Edward F. Boyle, Deputy Grand Knight;

Frank E. Rogers, Chancellor; Eugene P. Sullivan, Warden; Dennis J. Collins, Recorder; Edmund A. Goggin, Financial Secretary; Michael P. Meskill, Treasurer; Charles V. McGuerty, Advocate; Walter E. Shaughnessy, Inside Guard; John D. Sullivan, Outside Guard; Harry E. Cox, Lecturer; Luke P. Glendon, Patrick J. Kenneally, Edward F. Maguire, Trustees.

The directors of the K. of C. building Association include Messrs.:

Francis J. O'Hara, President; Luke P. Glendon, Vice-President; Daniel F. Dineen, Secretary; Henry M. Longfield, Treasurer; Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt, Patrick E. Fitzgerald, James W. Haggerty, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, Charles V. McGuerty, George R. Poland, Edmund A. Goggin, Daniel J. Reardon, John F. O'Connor, M. E. O'Leary, John J. Sullivan, William C. Welch.

BOAT CLUB NOMINATIONS

The annual meeting and election of the Winchester Boat Club will be held next Tuesday evening, April 13, at the club house on Cambridge street.

The nominations for the ensuing year are as follows:

President—Herbert F. Wallace

Vice-President—Nathaniel G. Hill

Treasurer—Fred M. Bates

Secretary—Norman M. Mitchell

Fleet Captain—Burnham Preston

Directors: Dexter P. Blaikie, James M. Flinn, Charles A. Gleason, Harold Meyer, H. Milton Cummings, Lionel A. Norman, C. E. Jennings, Jr., E. Arthur Tuttle.

LADIES FRIENDLY SOCIETY

The Ladies Friendly Society of the Unitarian Church held a most successful luncheon on Tuesday at 1 P. M., under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Knight and Mrs. H. E. Stone.

At the meeting of the Alliance at 2.30, Rev. Minot Simons of Boston, who is connected with the department of Church Extension of the American Unitarian Association, spoke most interestingly. His subject was "Vitalizing a Denomination." He says the Sunday School is the foundation of the church. It is very necessary to keep the young people closely allied with the workings of the church. The church is most fortunate in having such a flourishing Alliance and Sunday School.

Mrs. A. H. Abbott rendered, by request, in a most delightful manner "Old Black Joe" and variations, also other piano solos.

The next meeting of the Alliance will be held April 27 at 3 P. M. This will be the annual meeting and tea will be served.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending April 8:

Edward W. Mitton of Dunster lane, Wood frame dwelling at same address, 21x28 feet.

R. E. Demarest of 28 Lakeview road, Terrace cotta block and cement garage at same address, 22x24 feet.

Stanley B. Puffer of 6 Harrison street, Wood frame garage at same address, 12x20 feet.

Mr. John Watters has returned to Exeter Academy, after spending his Easter vacation at home.

Spring is here! With the new season's advent comes a desire on the part of many people to grow things out of doors. The most practical application of this feeling comes in preparing the backyard garden plot. To do this in the right way requires a knowledge of some of the fine points. Let's not be in too much of a hurry.

When the soil is very wet, it is better to wait a few days before trying to work it. Otherwise it will cake badly and make a poor seed bed. Where land is well dried out, a small section may be spaded in which to plant the early peas.

The garden should be well planned before any seed is sown. Favorite vegetables can be planted, bearing in mind those which will produce the maximum food on a limited area.

The big majority of home gardens are under fed. Stable manures should be bought and applied liberally. Three bushels amounting to one heaping wheelbarrow load is none too much for 100 square feet. Five pounds of high-grade mixed fertilizer and 10 pounds of ground limestone should also be used on this area. They must be secured at once owing to a threatened shortage.

The best seeds are none too good. Gardeners should insist upon high quality varieties and good germination. Insist upon the best the seedsmen has. The results will surely pay.

A person having an old window sash can build a frame for it out in the garden or on the south side of the house. The window should slope toward the mid-day sun. Lettuce and radish may be grown to maturity in such a frame. Tomato, pepper and flower plants may be started in it.

THE CHAMELON

A general belief is that the chameleon changes its color in accordance with its surroundings. Some experiments throw doubt on this view. The color changes seem to be regulated by light, temperature, excitement, etc. Thus one placed in sunlight so that only one side was exposed to the rays of the sun became dark brown on this side and pale brown mottled with green on the other. Placed in a dark box and kept at a temperature of 750 degrees Fahrenheit, another specimen in a dark box at 500 degrees Fahrenheit assumed a uniform salty-gray color.

Now is the time to look over your wardrobe and arrange for dry cleansing and dyeing. We extend our service to you, calling at your home and returning all articles with promptness and dispatch.

Wearing apparel should be cleansed often—it is insurance against germs, dust, stains, soils, etc. Present high prices of clothing would seem to demand the making of one's wardrobe last as long as possible.

THE WINCHESTER LAUNDRY COMPANY

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

With the advent of warm weather it is in order for The Spectator to call attention to the absolute necessity of guarding against the spread of disease by the elimination of careless spitters. The enforcement of the ordinance against spitting on the sidewalks and in public places has an especial warrant at any time of the year and it is none the less to be recognized as a measure consistent with the general health, cleanliness and decency of the town. The very offensive habit, of which comparatively few out of the many people who pass along the sidewalks of Winchester are guilty, is capable of fairly easy correction, and the policy of enforcement needs only to be consistent and persistent, rather than drastic.

Our people do not spit on the floors of their churches, of their homes, of stores or of theatres, and it is neither an infringement of personal liberty nor unnecessary fussiness to teach the careless ones to cross the sidewalk to the curb and gutter if they need a cuspidor while on the street.

Baroness Von Suttner declared that "after the verb 'To Love,' 'To Help' is the most beautiful verb in the world." And who can deny it? And what two verbs are more closely related since "To Love" excites love, while "To Help" immediately prompts one to help. These are alternating actions which will produce such conditions as we attribute to the heavenly life every good Winchesterite is striving for, which made practical would produce a heavenly condition upon earth. The declaration of truth is good enough to be expressed in letters of gold, and kept posted where it could not be forgotten; but for nearly half a century it has been hidden in a book, and is heard of only occasionally. But it must ever remain one of the sublime truths ever uttered.

Are church steeples a luxury? The Spectator not long ago read the declaration of an eminent divine that there is enough money wasted in church steeples to pay the debts of America ten years ago. According to a Winchester clergyman with Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. Dr. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

vine becomes of secondary importance in face of use of the word "wasted," because on the question of whether money spent for church spires is wasted or well spent there are very pointed opinions. A beautiful church structure with a towering spire can be a source of incalculable inspiration. Yet this eminent divine declares steeples are a relic of barbarism that should be demolished, and heaven decries church bells. Whether he does not say, but probably the later, since he advises pastors to get rid of them and put the money into libraries for Sunday Schools.

On a Winchester street corner the other day a workingman was defiantly rebuking Prohibition for robbing him of his enjoyment, a paen of remorse with a small "r," a swansong bitterly rising from a thirsty throat from which the stein-song had once warbled forth so gaily. The rudeness of the workingman's language implied that he did not know that he was voicing a very ancient and very American slogan when he said, "What ought to be, is 'No beer, no work'." In the "good old days" not a church could be raised but the workers were promised their orthodox numbers of "gills" of hard liquor—not as hard as the medicated stuff of the past century, but hard enough to hit the bull's eye when pointed straight. And never a road was built or bridge put up but the laborer had this promise of something more than pay; for all work this chrono was added to inspire esprit de corps and help in the "carrying on."

This would have been true today if folks had stuck to beer or if the stuff that was made hadn't grown so heavy. We had too much hard liquor and had to resort to drastic means to get rid of the excess.

According to one man here in Winchester mince pie without rum is like heaven without angels.

According to a Winchester physician, the dangerous age for man is the period between forty and fifty-five years. From general observation one might conclude it is from sixteen on to the end of his life, when he is susceptible to feminine wiles.

A lot of skinflints go through life hiding their meanness and stinginess behind that respectable word "economy."

PROPERTY VALUES HAVE IN- CREASED—Have You Increased Your Insurance?

In five years, building cost has increased about 65 per cent; furniture cost, about 125 per cent, and clothing cost, about 120 per cent. Consequently, there has been a great increase in the values covered by the usual policy on dwelling houses and their contents.

AMMIDON'S CANDIDACY FOR CHICAGO CONVENTION

It is generally considered by observers of politics that Philip R. Ammidon of Cambridge will be one of the two delegates to be sent to the Republican National Convention from the Eighth Congressional District.

Mr. Ammidon has had a long experience in politics. Interested in public affairs ever since he became a voter, he has been a member of the Republican Ward and City Committee of Cambridge since 1910. In 1915 he was one of the three nominees of his party for the Legislature from the Third Middlesex District and was successful, with his associates, in entirely redeeming a district that had been Democratic in whole or in part since 1911. He was a member of the Legislature in 1916, 1917 and 1918, serving on the committees on taxation and Metropolitan Affairs.

In the fraternity and Club life of the community Mr. Ammidon has always been active. He is a Shriner and an Elk, as well as a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Boston City Club, the Colonial Club of Cambridge and the Belmont Spring Country Club. His friends feel that few men are in a better position to appreciate and interpret the wishes of the Republicans of the Eighth Congressional District at the National Convention.

BASEBALL

(By MACK)

The Winchester Town Team will be on the field again this season under the same arrangement and management as last season. Mr. George T.
 Davidson of the Park Board will act as treasurer and Edward McKenzie ("Mack") will manage the team.

Circulars will be sent out as usual asking for funds to keep this team up to the standard of former years, and also to surpass if possible previous teams. I know that I have applications from extra strong men who are anxious to play here this year. It is hoped there will be a generous response to the appeal for funds.

This should be a banner year for baseball, and as Winchester has always been noted for its teams there is no reason why we should not live up to our reputation. All games will be played on Saturdays and Holidays, starting about May 30th. The Star will contain notices from now on as to the players of the team, etc. In conclusion do not wait to get a circular send your contribution to Geo. T. Davidson 19 Park avenue, Winchester.

MR. CHIDLEY PUBLISHES NEW BOOK STORY SERMONS FOR CHILDREN

Rev. Howard J. Chidley, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, has just published, through George H. Doran & Company, New York, a new book of fifty-two sermons for children.
 This is the third book of children's sermons that Mr. Chidley has written.

The Publisher's note says:
 "For ten years Dr. Chidley has been perfecting his art of preaching to boys and girls. His ministry to children has been a notable success. Every sermon in this collection of fifty-two story addresses has, like those in his two earlier volumes, "Fifty-Two Story Talks to Boys and Girls" and "Fifty-
 Two More Story Talks to Boys and Girls," been tried out in his own pulpit and found effective. Ministers, Superintendents, Teachers and Parents will find this a most original and suggestive series of stories to tell the little folks."

The book is dedicated to the children of the First Congregational Church, Winchester, Massachusetts.

"THE DAY"
"POP"

Say Buddie, do you remember the day
 we were sent,
 To clean up the town that on riot was bent?
 We'd been hanging around for a year or more,
 And many's the time that we felt sore,
 For while some of our brothers and some of our sons
 Were over there beating hell out of the Huns,
 We dubbed around here, taking lots of the gaff,
 Called Mud Guards, Home Guards, and stood the laugh
 From all the kids and from men who were yellow,
 Who layed down, leaving the fighting to the other fellow.

You know how we hiked through town and dale,
 Till drilling and drilling begun to get stale.
 We went into camp like tin soldiers should,
 We cleaned horses, scrubbed pans and tried to be good.
 But at best it all seemed such a hopeless job, Doing K. P., guard duty and feeling like a slob.
 Why many's the time that we felt like a fool,
 When out on parade, say if I'd been a mule

 would rarely, if ever, exceed ten percent.

 And 'twas all we could do to keep our right places.

But at last came the day when we were called out
 And we hurried to answer with yeli, song and shout.
 We all left our jobs, not a quitter, I'll say,
 Went to work for the state at $1.55

 There was a trick to be done and we willingly went
 To do our bit, you bet, wherever we

 Some of the duty was hard, trying and tough.

Lots of work, little play, and not sleep enough.
 But buddies, the most of you did your job well,
 Although, on the quiet, some slept on post for a spell.
 Now the job's finished; we are at peace once again.
 Let's do our work now, it's our duty quite plain
 To make ourselves ready should they call once more.
 For the M. G. Co. to move out as be-

 Let us be ready while we are sticking around,
 To answer "Present" for duty at the old bugle's sound.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Men who judge others by their own standard often measure less than thirty inches to the yard.

Worry is probably the most relentless enemy of success.

Make it easier for your fat friends by calling them portly.

Just put yourself in your enemy's place and you will stop abusing him.

When a man is completely wrapped up in himself the package is apt to be small.

The announcement is made this week that subscriptions are open for the support of the Winchester baseball team for the coming season. This is probably the one big feature here in summer sports, and the game provides entertainment for the greatest number of our people weekly on one of the best playgrounds in the state. Our residents should aid Messrs. Davidson and McKenzie in their efforts and send to them their contributions. No sum is too small and none too large. Do you remember how disappointed you were last year those few Saturdays when there was no ball? Help this drive in your home town for a home entertainment which provides pleasure for all.

The publication of our "Home Garden" department last season proved so successful that we will again open this feature in the STAR this year, the first installment appearing in this issue. Articles of interest to all who conduct home gardens will appear each week bearing upon timely topics and giving helpful information. In connection with this department last year a model garden at the home of Mrs. Alonzo F. Woodside of Lebanon street was used to illustrate and show the practical application of the hints and information given. This garden was visited by hundreds, not only from this town, but from practically every place in this vicinity, and it was considered one of the best gardens of its kind in the State. As yet no arrangement has been made for the model garden for this year, but the articles will be given weekly and will be written by experts at the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture at Waltham.

An appeal is made this week by Captain Harold V. Hovey of the local Machine Gun Co., State Guard, for additional recruits to fill his company to its authorized enlistment strength. His letter published in this issue sets forth clearly the desirability of maintaining a complete unit and the advantages of membership to Winchester boys. It was the older men of the Town who came forward and filled the ranks when the company was first organized. They have done their duty, one and all, and it is to be hoped that the younger men will not hesitate now to fill their places and carry on the enviable record they have created. While the War is now over to most of us in this State, there is none the less need of military protection in these unsettled times when events move swiftly. The younger men should assume it their duty to support Captain Hovey, and the training, physically and mentally, will never be regretted.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE MEETING

The regular meeting of the Winchester Equal Suffrage Club, was held at the home of Mrs. Reeve Chipman, Main Street, Wednesday, April 7.

At a brief business session it was voted to raise the annual dues from 50 cents to $1.00. It was also voted to endorse health bill and to write to the Senate Ways and Means Committee to that effect.

Mrs. Charles A. Briggs of Norwood, the speaker of the afternoon, gave a most instructing talk on "Political Parties" tracing the growth from the earliest beginning from 1787 through to the present day. After the address, tea was served.

A BANNER YEAR

At the New England Conference held in Boston this week the Winchester Methodist Episcopal Church received special recognition. Reports from this parish show an unusual year of progress. More have been received into church membership than the total of five years previous. A thousand dollars more than at other years has been paid to support Christian work elsewhere. The pastor's salary was raised during the year and his return for this next year is unanimously requested by the local society. With the purchase of the Pattee Estate and the General interest throughout the Church this parish faces the future with increased confidence.

FILIPINOS WANT AMERICA TO GIVE INDEPENDENCE

Maximo M. Kalaw Declares U. S.
Cannot Consistently Refuse
"Self-Determination."

By MAXIMO M. KALAW,
Secretary of the Philippine Mission, Author
"The Case for the Filipinos,"
"Self-Government in the Philippines," etc.

"When they show sufficient capacity," "When they are able to govern themselves," "When they are educated enough." Thus run the answers of many Americans pressed with the question as to when the Filipinos should be granted their independence. Now, "ability," "capacity" and "sufficient education" — What do they mean in black and white?

Maximo M. Kalaw.

Senator Shogun may think no people is capable of self-government that does not establish the judicial recall, or that has no Billy Sunday. John Smith of Somerville may think no people is capable of self-government that does not vote his democratic ticket, or go to church on Sundays.

"Capacity for self-government" is as broad and elastic as the world, and if that should be the criterion for the granting of Philippine independence, America might as well say to the Filipinos, "I will give you independence when it pleases me to do so."

Fortunately, the American promise to the Philippines is not based on such obscure and abstract conditions. It is based on a definite, tangible thing. When America, through her Congress, officially told the Filipino people that they would be granted their independence as soon as they could establish a stable government, no abstract or obscure condition was meant. Stable government, according to American usage, means a certain, definite thing.

The United States promised the Cubans the same thing, that "when they have established a stable government, then American troops would be withdrawn." As soon as the Cuban people elected a government suited to themselves, capable of maintaining order and fulfilling all international obligations, there was a stable government in Cuba, and American troops were withdrawn.

When Congress passed the Jones law, it simply borrowed the phrase "stable government" from the Cuban history and applied it to the Philippines. The history of Philippine legislation shows that in black and white, with full knowledge of what it meant, the Filipino people accepted the Jones law and immediately began setting up the stable government required by Congress as a prerequisite to independence. The stable government is now a fact. It is indeed more than that; it is an undisputed fact.

The official representative of the United States in the Philippine Islands, the Governor General, reported to the American Congress and the administration that "the Filipino people have established the stable government demanded by Congress as a prerequisite for the granting of independence—namely, a government elected by the suffrage of the people, which is supported by the people, which is capable of maintaining order and of fulfilling its international obligations."

The Philippine question is therefore no longer a question of politics, argument or supposition. To the Philippine mind, at least, it is now a question of whether the United States is ready to discharge its own obligations fully and completely. America went before the world in the recent war as the avowed champion of "self-determination" and Filipinos cannot see how America can consistently refuse to act.

The Filipino people, however, have no grudge or grievance against the American people. There is a message of friendship and gratitude. They seek independence as the natural and logical outcome of America's policy in the islands and of America's solemn promise to them. They come willing to give privileges and concessions not incompatible with their national welfare.

The Filipino people are willing to accept independence under any of the following conditions: Under a League of Nations, guaranteeing its territorial integrity; under the protectorate of the United States for the first few years; under a treaty of neutrality between the United States, England, Japan, France and other powers, or even without any condition whatever—absolute and complete independence. They have no fear of Japan. Philippine independence, in our opinion, is not inimical to Japanese interests. The Japanese are now free to come to the Philippines, but at the present time there are less than 10,000 Japanese in the islands. There are six times as many Japanese in California as there are in the entire Philippine Archipelago.

The Filipinos are willing to take their chance as a nation. Smaller nations beset by graver problems and dangers have taken a more hazardous chance at freedom, and have succeeded.

While settling an endowment policy with a lawyer recently, he told me the following f:
"A client rushed into my office a number of years ago exclaiming 'I am a ruined man; I have lost everything by speculating.'"

Have you any Life Insurance?
"Yes; when I was flush I paid a lot of money in premiums, but it is worth nothing now."
He brought the policy to me, as I have given considerable attention to insurance contracts. I assured him that on May 15th which was near, its cash value would be about thirteen thousand dollars.

He went home, told his wife and cried like a child.
Few are as ignorant about Life Insurance as that, but many do not realize what up-to-date contracts will accomplish for them and theirs.

KIAKHTA: A MUNICIPAL SIAM-ESE TWIN

According to a recent report, Kiakhta, Siberia, has been taken by the Reds. The immediate results of the occupation may soon place Kiakhta on the front page, since the report, if true, means that Bolshevik forces have turned the right flank of the Anti-Bolsheviks in Eastern Siberia, who must control the Baikal tunnels or lose their main strategic barrier of defense or offensive line of communication. But the greatness of Kiakhta lies in the past and future rather than in the present, according to a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society.

"Where the caravans have rested, railway stations soon will lie," the bulletin says. "Even the aeroplane follows historic trade routes. Kiakhta is an important way station on a famous commercial highway that linked two continents. It is 250 miles south of Lake Baikal. Although the completion of the Trans-Siberian railway to Vladivostok caused a temporary detour, Kiakhta is sure to be on the railway that is to connect the tea bibbers of Moscow and the tea merchants of Hankow."

"One rail head has been pushed south from the Siberian border and another line connects Peking to Kalgan, so that there remains only a thousand miles of easy railway building to shorten the tea route from Hankow to the Trans-Siberian at Verkh-Udinsk by one half, and to obviate entirely the need for transporting across salt water the tea to which Kiakhta owes its very being. Other beverages may have made cities famous but tea made Kiakhta itself. Just across the boundary line, only a stone's throw away, is the Chinese companion city, Maimachen."

Kiakhta and Maimachen face each other across a neutral zone only a few feet wide, but they are as different as two such Siamese twins among border cities can well be. Maimachen is Chinese, bare and grey, filled with Oriental figures in the blue gowns of China. Kiakhta is Russian, with churches and great white houses and its inhabitants wear the familiar blouse and boots of the Russian from Dnieper to the Amur.

In Maimachen, the teapot is king. The samovar rules Kiakhta. The twin cities form a station in the long route between the tea packing establishments of Hankow and the fair at Nijni Novgorod.

"With the completion of the Trans-Siberian, it became a very simple thing to load tea ships at Hankow, in the heart of China, and unload them at Vladivostok, outpost of the Czar's realm, whence a direct railway led to the heart of Russia. Then the caravan tea trade which had reached 50,000,000 pounds a year, began to decline. The long camel trains across the Gobi desert through Yurga, where dwells the Chief Lama of the Mongols, became fewer. The desert journey of a thousand miles, which plodding camels finished in forty days, was supplanted by a water and rail route much longer in distance but shorter in time. Steamers and boxcars formed the last straw which broke the camel's back as a tea carrier. But the tea tasters at the Nijni fair on the Volga declared that they could detect the deterioration in quality due to transport over a water route and the connoisseurs of Russia have secured a considerable amount of Hankow tea, much of it compressed into brick form, over the Gobi route. Until the iron horse takes the place of camel, caravan or ox-cart, there will probably be plenty for the

TWO HOUSE LOTS FOR SALE ON FLETCHER STREET.
Close to the corner of Church Street, in a settled neighborhood, exactly in the residential center of the West Side, with beautiful estates all around; convenient to electric and steam cars, schools and town center. This is an exceptional opportunity to secure two building lots, well adapted to moderate cost houses.

Considering the location, it is unlikely so favorable chance will offer again. Very little observation will convince any one interested that this is an understatement of facts. For particulars apply Mr. H. Lombard, 22 Merchants' Row, Boston. 12

SAM BROWNE

The Soldier After Whom the Belts Were Called.

Who was Sam Browne? Thousands of enlisted men in France who did not have to wear one in France to look like an officer, and many officers over there who were glad to buckle one around the waist and over the shoulder to distinguish them from some enlisted men, have possibly thought he was some great leather magnate overloaded with war orders.

According to an authority, the original Sam Browne was a most gallant British officer and gentleman, who won the Victoria Cross fighting for the Empire in India during the autumn of 1858.

Lord Roberts, field marshal and advocate of preparedness in Britain, who was a friend of the dashing cavalry officer, gives this account of the dead hero who received so much publicity in the late war because he was careless enough to have his arm cut off and therefore forced to devise some means whereby he could be present at parade without his trusty sabre dragging on the ground: "This popular and gallant officer, well known to every native in upper India as 'Sam Brun Sahib,' and to the officers of the whole of His Majesty's army as the inventor of the sword belt universally adopted on service, distinguished himself greatly in the autumn of 1858. With 230 sabers of his own regiment and 250 native infantry he attacked a party of rebels who had taken up a position at Nornai, about ten miles from Philibhit. Browne managed to get to the rear of the enemy without being discovered. A hand-to-hand fight then ensued, in which he got two severe wounds, one on the knee, from which he nearly died, the other on the left shoulder, cutting right through the arm. The enemy were completely routed and fled, leaving their four guns and 300 dead on the ground. Browne was deservedly rewarded with the Victoria Cross.

Sam Browne died at the Wood, Ryde, Isle of Wight, on March 14, 1901, and after cremation was buried there. A memorial tablet has been put up for him in St. Paul's Cathedral in London. There are memorials to the tough old cavalry officer in every community in Canada. Wherever a community of second-hand clothing stores there will be found on the counters discarded Sam Browne belts, linking the reconstruction period with a hand-to-hand fight in far away India many, many years ago.

Natural Pillows.

The pollack tree provides the natives of British Honduras with splendid material for pillows and mattresses. It is common soft wood growth, with a large pear-shaped fruit, which has a hard shell, changing to almost black when ripe, and containing a short staple brown tuft or silk fiber.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

A cablegram received from Buenos Aires, on Easter Sunday, announced the birth, on that day, of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherbourne Sanborn.

Monday and Tuesday evenings were Mount Holyoke Nights at the Regent Theatre, Arlington, the proceeds going towards the Winchester quota of the drive. On Monday night the ushers were Miss Margaret Adams, Miss Marion Nichols and Miss Anne Zuehlke. On Tuesday night Miss Florence Stacy, Mrs. Floyd Clement, Miss Ruth Chamberlain and Miss Helen Jones ushered.

G. Edward Buxton Jr., treasurer of the Providence Journal will speak at the meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church this evening on "The Viewpoint of an Ex-Service Man."

Miss Alice Bradley of the staff of a well-known Boston cooking school will give a lecture this afternoon at 3 at the High School Library on "New Ideas for Sunday Suppers." The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Home Economic Committee of the Fortnightly Club.

The special services for Holy Week at the Second Congregational Church proved most successful and helpful, the Easter Day services being especially well attended. At the morning service Rev. Warren P. Landers acting pastor gave a most inspiring sermon. Miss Wingate, violinist and Mrs. Dill, soloist furnished music that was much enjoyed. The Easter Concert, given by the members of the Church School under the direction of Miss Jean MacLellan was enjoyed by a large number of friends of the School.

Six tenderfoot scouts were invested at the regular meeting of Girl Scouts held in White's Hall, Wednesday.

Captain Parker conducted the drill, including facings and squad work. Miss Paul Howard, now training at the Roxbury Leaders Class, told a story about "Trust and Preparedness."

Troop 4 gave a charade illustrating the Scout Law. "A Girl Scout is Thrifty," impersonating Mrs. Ne'er do well and Mrs. Do Well and their respective families. Relay races with bean bags followed.

Scout songs set to familiar music were sung.

The meeting was in charge of Captain Williams.

Scouts are reminded that the Court of Honor meeting in May will be the time to pass many tests.

During the school vacation two scout picnics were enjoyed. One at the home of Captain Williams, where fifteen girls with a metal grill and fires between stones cooked pea soup, bacon, chops and frankfurters. This feast was followed by a lively game of Hare and Hounds.

On April first Mr. Nichols conducted twenty girls on a hike to a beautiful sunny hill on the west side of the town, where he showed them many ways of making fires and hints on camping. Here the girls ate the lunches they had brought from home as well as cocoa, boiled and fried eggs, fried potatoes and toasted marshmallows prepared by them. A good lusty cheer was given for Mr. Nichols who had planned this most enjoyable trip.

Names of girls invested: Doris Nichols, Amy Merrill, Elizabeth Linseott, Elizabeth Livingstone, Mary Carr, Eleanor Jordan.

The Part.

I have said that I dreamed of a great thing for a nation, in all periods of its fortunes, to be able to look back to a race of founders and a principle of institution in which it might seem to see the realized idea of true heroism. That felicity, that pride, that help is ours. Our past, both its great eras, should announce, should compel, should spontaneously evolve as from a germ a wise moral and glorious future.—Henry Clay.

2ND MISSION COMES FROM PHILIPPINES*Body Headed by Senate President Quezon Reiterates Demand for Independence.

That the Filipino people are in earnest in their demand for immediate independence is indicated by the coming to the United States of a second Philippine mission to work for independence. Coincident with this announcement the War Department received a cable from Manila stating that the all-Filipino legislature had adopted resolutions reiterating its plea for immediate independence.

The second mission, like the first, is composed of the leading men of the islands and will work in the United States not only for immediate independence, but also to bring about "better understanding, greater confidence and closer economic relations between the United States and the Philippines."

The mission is again headed by Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate, who is well known in America, having been for six years resident commissioner to the United States.

Senate President Manuel L. Quezon.

States. Mr. Quezon and the Hon. Sergio Osmena, Speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives and Vice President of the Council of State, are the leaders of the Nacionalista party, which has been in power since 1907.

While Speaker Osmena is not so well known in the United States as Quezon, he is considered one of the ablest men in the islands. Senate President Quezon recently referred to Osmena as "the greatest Filipino since Rizal."

The personal relations between Osmena and Quezon are probably without a parallel in modern politics. They have been the leading political figures in the islands for 22 years, yet there has never been the slightest indication of rivalry between them. Throughout their college life as well as their long political service each has refused to be a candidate for any position that the other aspired to.

During the years Quezon was the Philippine delegate in the American Congress he won the esteem and confidence of both the Republican and Democratic sides of the chamber. Whenever he spoke he was assured of a good attendance. One of the official short hand reporters once declared Quezon used the purest English of any member of the House.

Osmena, as president of the Nacionalista party, is the leader of the national movement for independence.

"Osmena is the premier de facto of the Philippines," said a leading Filipino Speaker Sergio Osmena.

no journalist, now in America. "A very conscientious and tireless worker, thorough and persistent, a genius for grasping the big features as well as the smallest details of public affairs, cool headed, quiet by temperament and education, a deep thinker, an eloquent speaker, a polished writer, a keen observer of men—such is Osmena."

Both Osmena and Quezon have been consistent advocates of Philippine independence, yet when the occasion demanded it they have never hesitated to champion the cause of America's good intentions toward the Filipino people.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

At the wedding of her niece, Theresa Freeman, in Emory Church, last evening, Miss Margaret Mason was maid of honor and Miss Elizabeth Mason was one of the bridesmaids. Mr. Edward M. Mason of Caledonia, formerly of this town, was also present.

The ladies Bethany Society held an interesting meeting on Tuesday, April 6 at the Second Congregational Church Luncheon was served by Mrs. Amy Twombly and Mrs. Charles Wigglesworth. Mrs. Rice of Wakefield spoke on the Inter-church Movement in a most illuminating manner. Plans are under way for the Spring sale of Aprons and fancy articles and food which will be held on the afternoon of Friday, April 16th in the Second Congregational Church. These sales are an attractive feature of the work which this Society accomplishes and it is hoped that a large attendance may be looked for.

Mrs. J. N. Mason of 26 Mt. Pleasant street is visiting her sister, Bertha Mansfield Freeman, in the parsonage of Emory M. E. Church, Pittsburgh.

Janet Brander daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brander of Forest street, entertained fourteen little friends with their parents making twenty-six in all, at her seventh birthday party last Thursday. Games, sociability, and refreshments made a pleasant afternoon for all.

Simple Diet.

The late pope is said to have lived on a very simple diet, as simple as that of the poorest tradesman. In the morning he drank a cupful of coffee, at noon he took a little soup and meat and for supper vegetables and meat. His favorite food was the Italian national dish, polenta.

WON FROM OLD BELFRY

Calumet Teams Took All But One Point in Tournament

In the tournament games with the Old Belfry Club of Lexington Friday evening at the Calumet Club the local organization took every point represented by the schedule but one. That on point carried away by the visitors was made at cards.

This tournament was a return visit of the Lexington Club, Calumet having previously visited Old Belfry during the winter. At that time the local club took the majority points, but did not make such a sweeping victory. Matches in three cushion billiards, cowboy pool, cards and two mixed bowling contests were carried out.

In three cushion billiards and in pool Calumet made easy wins, three 15 point games being played in the former and two 200 point games in the cowboy. There were three card teams for each club, Calumet teams taking two matches and losing the third.

In the bowling the Calumet first team made easy work of winning all four points, the only close point being the third string, taken by nine pins. Calumet created a new mixed bowling record when it rolled a total of 641 in its first string, this figure never yet having been equalled here, and so far as is known at any other place, with Boston pins. Its total of 1794 was also another high figure.

Mrs. Simonds led the ladies of the local club with a total of 281 on a high string of 98, but Mrs. Ballard of the visitors took high single with 111, getting one pin less for her total. Mrs. Tompkins rolled a total of 260 with a high string of 99 and Mrs. White got a single of 89. The gentlemen all rolled exceptional strings.

Mr. Berry topped the list with a total of 364 on a string of 126. Mr. Stephenson made 340 with 136 and Mr. Newman 313 with 115. For the visitors Mr. Redmond got a string of 111, which was high for his team.

Calumet second team, while winning all four points, had harder work to best the visitors. It won its first string by four pins, the second by 14 and the third by a scant margin of one. In this match Mrs. Glidden of the visitors rolled a string of 100, Mrs. Towne of Calumet 253 with 86 and Mrs. Flanders 85. Mr. Goodale got 317 with 124, Mr. Goldsmith 105 and Mr. Taylor 100.

High School Notes

At the last assembly before vacation Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University gave a most interesting and helpful talk on "Reading." He urged the pupils to buy good books, read them slowly and make frequent use of the margins for notes. The school followed the talk attentively and manifested their approval in a very evident way.

John Sullivan of the Commercial Department has been awarded a certificate by the Underwood Typewriter Company. To secure such recognition a student must write an average of 40 words a minute for 10 consecutive minutes from absolutely new matter and may not make more than 10 mistakes. It is hoped that other certificates will be secured.

As a result of the poster contest for the operetta which is to be given by the Glee Clubs of the school on April 16, prizes were awarded to Ruth Nelson, Miriam Cobb, and Lee Court. Honorable mention was given to Frances Hill, Viola Grignard, Ruth Matthews and Viola Dobbins. The cast is working hard and hope there will be a large attendance to greet "The Yokohama Maid." A part of the proceeds is to be used in wiping out deficits in several organizations in the school.

Iron Pipe Makes Good Sprinkler.

Somebody attached to the Arroyo Seco library and playgrounds in Los Angeles had a bright idea. In order to sprinkle the rose hedges and vines in the grounds with little trouble, a three-fourths-inch pipe was perforated at intervals and placed on top of the fence. The pipe was then given water connection; and now when the water is turned on, the entire hedge and border of flowers is sprinkled. Another length of perforated pipe takes care of the library terrace.—Popular Science Monthly.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

April 5, 1920

The Board met at 7.30 P. M., all present.

The records of the meeting of March 29, 1920 were read and approved.

Fire Dept. Alarm: A report was received from the Chief of the Fire Department stating that all fire alarm boxes have been tested and found to be in first-class condition. A test is recorded on a tape enclosed with the Chief's Report.

Census: A letter was received from John J. Sullivan, Census Supervisor, 4th. District Mass., stating that he would delay making the final returns to Washington pending word from the Board as to complaints.

Board of Appeal: Under suspension of its rule the Board appointed Mr. James S. Allen a member of the Board of Appeal for the year ending December 31, 1920.

Committees: On report from Mr. Parsons after investigation by him the Board decided to take no action in regard to appointing a committee to co-operate with the City of Revere in regard to the Bay State Street Railway Company leasing the East Boston tunnel.

National Elections, Primary, April 27, 1920: Word was received from Messrs. Harrie Y. Nutter, William Adrians, Republicans and Charles F. Newell and Robert H. Sullivan, Democrats that they would serve as election officers at the presidential primary to be held on April 27, 1920. Word has not been received as yet from other election officers who have been appointed.

The Board signed the warrant. Measurers of Wood and Bark: A request was received from the Water & Sewer Board asking that Mr. Chas. F. D. Marsh be appointed as a measurer of wood and bark. In view of the fact that the town has voted that there should be not more than 8 measurers of wood and bark, and as 8 persons have been appointed, the Board is unable to appoint Mr. Marsh.

Street Lights (General Subject): The Board voted to instruct the Town Engineer to check up at his convenience all the street lights in town. The street lights are to be checked with a list recently submitted by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

Gas Service: A petition was received from the Arlington Gas Light Company for permission to extend its main on Stone Avenue approximately 850 feet. A report was received from the Superintendent of Streets stating that there were no objections to granting this request provided the main is laid according to lines and grades given by the Town Engineer.

The matter was held over one week pending a tour of inspection of the highways which is to be made by the Board this week.

Euclid Avenue: A letter was received from Mr. Raymond A. Smart of Euclid avenue calling the Board's attention to the lack of proper facilities for taking care of surface drainage on Euclid Avenue. This matter was held up pending the tour of inspection of the highways.

Gas Service (Governor's Avenue): A letter was received from Mr. George C. Ogden enclosing a copy of a letter sent by him to the Arlington Gas Light Company requesting this company to lay a gas main in Governor's Avenue. This matter was laid over one week pending the tour of inspection of the highways by the Board.

No petition, however, has yet been received from the Arlington Gas Light Co. in connection with this main extension.

Sidewalks 1920 Lawrence & Harrison Streets: A letter was received from Mr. L. W. Latimore petitioning for granolithic sidewalks on Lawrence and Harrison Streets. This matter was laid over until such time as all sidewalk matters will be taken up.

Street Lights 1920 Water and Farrow Street: The Board voted to install two 60-candle power incandescent lights location to be as follows: 1 light at the westerly end of Water Street and Farrow Street and the other light placed in Water Street midway between Rumford and Farrow Streets.

The exact location of these lights is to be given the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. by the Town Engineer.

Signs: A report was received from the Superintendent of Streets stating that he has conferred with the Superintendent of Schools and finds that the School Department had paid for the warning signs near the school houses. In view of the fact that there were no warning signs near some of the schools in town and also as the School Department is willing to pay to have signs placed near these school houses, the matter was referred to the Superintendent of Streets to place signs near these school houses, the expense to be charged to the School Department and the location of the signs to be determined by the Superintendent of Streets together with the Superintendent of Schools and the Chief of Police.

Street Acceptances, Sheridan Circle, North and South and Pickering Street: A petition signed by Mr. James H. Noonan and 16 others was received petitioning that Sheridan Circle North and South and Pickering Street, be accepted as town ways. The matter was laid over for the present until such time as all street acceptance matters will be taken up.

The meeting adjourned at 11.10 P. M.

NEW HAVEN ADDS EQUIPMENT

The following announcement was made to-day:

"To the extent of its financial ability, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad is increasing transportation capacity to better meet the commercial requirements. Contracts have been made for 40 large freight locomotives. They will operate on the Shore Line. This will release other engines of less capacity for service on other lines of the system for which they are well suited. The delivery of the new power is promised during July and August. Construction of the large terminals for freight trains and classification at Cedar Hill and at Providence has been resumed, and if the circumstances enable the continued prosecution of the work, both of these facilities will be largely completed by the close of the season. The new locomotives and the yard improvements if completed should greatly improve the service before the end of the present year."

THE FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Monday, April 12th, at 2.30, occurs the annual meeting of the Fortnightly. By vote of the Club, the polls will be open at 1.30 and close at 3.00. The reports of the various committees for the year will be condensed and given by the Secretary. Crawford Adams, a violinist whom many in the Club have already heard with great pleasure, will give the program of the afternoon, which we are assured will be a rare musical treat.

Attention is called to the slip which will accompany the ballot at the polls. This will give an opportunity for each member of the Club to signify the committee upon which she is willing to serve during the coming year, and if carefully considered by each member, will greatly aid the chairmen in making up their committees. The importance of this matter cannot be too strongly emphasized. Every member who is interested in the success of the Club should, if possible, be taking part in some committee activity.

The Fortnightly luncheon will take place at Hotel Vendome, May 3rd, at 1 P. M. Tickets may be purchased of the following committee: Mrs. I. E. Gamage, Mrs. F. E. Hollins, Mrs. E. A. Tutin, Mrs. George Heintz, Mrs. W. R. Moorhouse, and also of Mrs. F. T. Carpenter, Woman's Exchange. Any member of the club kindly offering her automobile to convey those who have no cars and prefer to go that way, please notify one of the above committee.

Battery Repairs and Re-insulation Better Service - Better Batteries

Battery repairs are often the result of failure to use that service which Willard has established for the car owners of America in over seventeen hundred places.

There are two distinct sides to Willard Service: One is paid service—curing battery troubles by skill and thoroughness in handling repairs—doing the job in a workmanlike fashion so that it doesn't have to be done over.

The other side of Willard Service is prevention of battery trouble—and that you do not pay for. Registration of new batteries for special service, cards entitling any owner to testing and filling, good advice, informative literature and general helpfulness.

Every Willard Service Station sells the Still Better Willard Battery—a battery that was already better in material, workmanship and record of service, and was made Still Better by the invention of Threaded Rubber Insulation.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule
not by the rule of Gold

THIRTY denominations of the Church are uniting in a simultaneous campaign in the week of April 25th-May 2nd.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

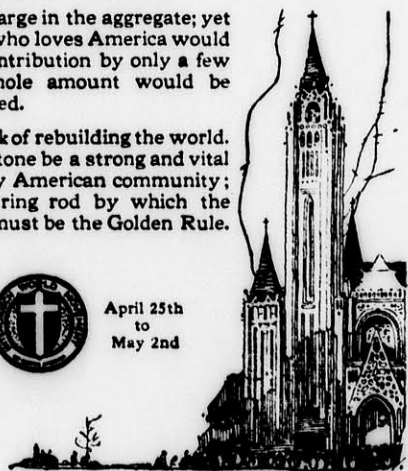

These churches know that the world needs many things; but it needs Faith most of all.

They know that there can be no final solution of our economic problems that is not a spiritual solution, based on the teachings of Jesus Christ and His Golden Rule.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The budget is large in the aggregate; yet if each person who loves America would increase his contribution by only a few dollars the whole amount would be easily subscribed.

We face the task of rebuilding the world. Let the cornerstone be a strong and vital church in every American community; and the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE

The phrase 'all-New England's idol' as applied to Helen Hayes and the comedy 'Bab' seems an appropriate one, for Miss Hayes and her supporting company begin the ninth week of that play at the Hollis Street Theatre Boston, next Monday night. And thus is shattered a record that has been held at the Hollis for over 33 years. Maude Adams, in 'The Little Minister' began an engagement at the Hollis on Sept. 26, 1888, and remained there for 64 performances, but Miss Hayes, an unknown star, opened on February 16, and played her 65th performance Saturday night. As the stay of 'Bab' at the Hollis is indefinite, it is certain that a record will be established that may never be broken at the Hollis. 'Bab' is a dramatization of Mary Roberts Rinehart's stories of a romantic sub-deb, made by Edward Childs Carpenter, and the authors and the star have given the stage a character both new and appealing. This is one of the many reasons for its tremendous vogue. Seats already are selling for the performances of Monday, April 19 (Patriots Day).

ASKS FOR ENLISTMENT IN STATE GUARDS

To the Editor of the Star:

Three years ago, when war was declared on Germany and the National Guard was mustered into the Federal Service, the State Guard was organized in this State. A company was immediately recruited in Winchester and under command of Capt. M. C. Tompkins was accepted as Co. 48 in the Massachusetts State Guard June 6, 1917. This company, which later became the Machine Gun Co., 12th Rgt. Infantry, M. S. G., was composed in the most part of men past military age who were willing to give their time to prepare themselves for any emergency that might arise.

Altho' never ordered out for active duty, the Company under Capt. Tompkins' training made an enviable record in attendance, drills and camp duty, and only needed an emergency such as the police strike to show the thoroughness of this training. When their two years enlistment was up, many of the older men felt that their job was done and were discharged, and the Company recruited from the younger men of the town.

On Sept. 10, 1919, the State Guard was ordered out to protect Boston when the Policemen left their posts. The local Company reported promptly and it is a matter of record that the officers and men of the Machine Gun Co. did their duty in a very satisfactory and soldierly manner for nearly seven weeks.

Through discharges for various reasons the Company is now in need of about twenty men to fill the ranks. There are also several vacancies among the non-commissioned officers for men of experience. The enlistment is for one year, but the State Guard will in all probability be mustered out before that time; when the National Guard now being organized becomes effective. Membership in the State Guard will not prohibit men from joining the National Guard, for men may be discharged for that purpose. It will, on the other hand, enable those who wish to enlist in the National Guard for one year instead of three. The National Guard Act provides that men who have been in the regular service or the organized militia within six months may enlist in the National Guard for a one year period, while original enlistments are for three years.

I shall be glad to talk to any ex-service men or others who wish to enlist in the Company, at the Town Hall on any Tuesday evening or at any other time at my home, 24 Fletcher Street.

Capt. 12th Inf. M. S. G.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The April meeting of the local Union will be held at the Home for the Aged on Kendall street next week Friday, the 16th, at three o'clock. As is usual at this time the meeting will take the form of an entertainment for the benefit of the members in the Home who are so seldom able to meet with the Union at the regular meetings. Plans for a little play readings, and music are under way and those who come will be sure of an enjoyable afternoon, the business session being as brief as possible.

The treasurer, Miss Eugenia E. Elliott, wishes to remind the members that she is anxious to receive all the membership dues before the summer vacation and will be glad to have all in before the May meeting. She also hopes soon to have the full amount—one hundred dollars—necessary to place the name of Mrs. Almira A. Rowe, so long the devoted leader of the Winchester Union, in the Book of Remembrance at National headquarters. Those who wish to have a share in this testimonial are asked to send their contributions promptly.

Miss Nellie Frank Hill, long the Head Resident of the Frances E. Willard Settlement, is now the General Manager, succeeding to that position the first of this month on the resignation of Miss Caswell, so long the head of the settlement work. Miss Caswell continues to be president and will take an active interest but she has felt obliged to give up a portion of the responsibility, because of ill health. Her arduous labors for two years in connection with the war welfare campaign of the W. C. T. U. added to her regular work has brought her to the point where a rest is absolutely necessary. Miss Hill has been for nineteen years in charge of the clubs and classes at the Settlement and is familiar with all phases of the work.

Mrs. Myra L. Higgins also retires from the position of Head Resident at Llewellyn Lodge and will be succeeded by Miss Grace M. Hill, who is no relation, however, to Miss Nellie Hill.

MISS LUELLA J. NICHOLS

Miss Luella J. Nichols died on Sunday, April 4, at the home of her niece, Mrs. J. H. MacAlman, Everett avenue, in her 93rd year. She was a native of Merrimack, Mass., and the eldest child of Humphrey and Sarah Nichols of that place. For the past ten years she had made her home with her niece. Although of advanced age, Miss Nichols retained a remarkably clear intellect and was keenly interested in local and national events to the day of her death. She was a member of the Women's Relief Corps of Merrimack.

The funeral services were conducted at the MacAlman residence on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 by Rev. Howard J. Chidley. The interment was in Merrimack.

Polite.

At a wedding recently, when the clergyman asked the bride, "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" she, with a modesty which lent her beauty an additional grace, replied, "If you please."

Worth Trying.

Since "as a man thinketh in his heart so is he," let us see what sort of thoughts we are thinking, so we may find out how much harmony we have within.—Exchange.

NIETZSCHE CREED EXPOSED IN "UNPARDONABLE SIN"

Big Photoplay, Starring Blanche Sweet, Has Unique Feature For Thinkers

Harry Garson's extraordinary screen production, "The Unpardonable Sin," starring Blanche Sweet, under the personal direction of Marshall Neilan, begins an engagement at the Stoneham theatre, Stoneham, and will continue there for 2 days, the final exhibition being given Tuesday night; the picture will be projected twice daily, matinee presentation beginning at 2:30 o'clock, and the evening shows at 7:30.

"The Unpardonable Sin" will unquestionably attract to the Stoneham theatre a class of patrons which have heretofore been inclined to scoff at the moving picture as a means of telling a dramatic story. Reviews of the picture which have been printed in other cities emphasize the fact that here is one of the few photoplays ever produced that "starts out to do something and does it."

In no sense is "The Unpardonable Sin" a preachment. It is an absorbing tale of love and adventure, with incidents of the World War as a background.

"The Unpardonable Sin" was completed on the Pacific Coast only a few weeks ago, after having been in the process of production for many months. It is from the book by the same title written by Major Rupert Hughes. Supporting Blanche Sweet, the star whose return to the screen will be welcomed by myriads of admirers throughout the world, are Matt Moore, Wallace Beery, Mary Allen and other well-known photoplayers who combine to make a company of unusual excellence.

BODY FOUND IN SANDBANK

Albert O'Donnell of Woburn, together with several boys, found the body of John Cassidy, 60 years of age, of Lynn in a clump of bushes in the sandbank near Sheridan circle Saturday afternoon about four o'clock. Cassidy had been living in Woburn with his sister-in-law and had been working as a carrier. He had left his place of abode previously and it was then thought that he had gone to his home in Lynn.

The Winchester police were notified and Sergt. McCauley visited the scene and notified assistant medical examiner, Dr. Charles F. McCarthy, who viewed the remains. The medical examiner stated that the man had been dead about 24 hours and had died from exposure.

Must Work Together.

Human beings were made to succeed and to be happy when they work together on the "each for all and all for each" basis. Put them together any other way and they won't get on at all.

Let us put ADVANCE CORK INSERT
Brake Lining

on your Ford. Makes Fords work wonderfully smooth. Stops rattling, shaking—makes brakes quick-acting and positive.

Cork Insert is far the cheapest. One set outwears three sets of ordinary lining—saves expense of relining brakes. Does away with jarring and vibration—makes Fords last longer.

Ordinary linings get a slick surface from friction and oil. This slick surface hasn't any gripping power. The corks in Advance Cork Insert always grip and have great wearing quality.

We do expert repairing—always at your service. Full line of accessories—the best oils—greases—tire tubes.

SAVE MONEY ON MEAT.

Here is a real thrift recipe for a tasty, nutritious dish prepared from less costly meat. It is issued by the Division of Women's Activities, Department of Justice. Use this recipe and save money on meat.

POT ROAST OF MUTTON WITH CURRANT MINT SAUCE

2-1/2 pounds mutton (plate)
Seasoning
Wipe meat, sprinkle with salt and pepper, place on rack in dripping pan, and dredge meat and bottom of pan with flour. Bake in hot oven for 2 hours, basting frequently with butter or butter substitute. Serve with currant mint sauce.

Currant Mint Sauce
Separate 2-3 tumbler of currant jelly in pieces, but do not beat it. Add one to two tablespoonfuls finely chopped mint leaves and shavings from an orange rind. Serve around roast.

ESCALLOPED CORN BEEF
2 cups cooked corn beef, cubed
1 cup medium white sauce
1 stalk celery, chopped fine
2 slices onion, chopped
Cook celery and onion in sauce. Put the corned beef in a shallow baking dish. Remove celery and onion from sauce. Add sauce to meat. Sprinkle with bread crumbs moistened with melted butter or butter substitute. Brown in hot oven.

Recipe No. 6
VEAL CUTLETS AND SOUP
3 pounds veal shank.
Cook a veal shank in boiling water until tender. Remove as much meat as possible from the bone. Cut the pieces to resemble chops.

Take this veal and season well. Roll in crumbs, egg and crumbs again and saute in butter or butter substitute. Garnish with parsley.

For the soup take the remaining portion of the shank and put it into a kettle with 3 cups brown stock and a few peppercorns, salt, celery salt and any other seasoning desired. Add 1-2 cup each of dried potatoes, turnips and parsley. Cook for one-half hour.

This veal shank provides a soup and cutlets for a family of five.

PORK AND SAUERKRAUT

2 pounds spareribs
2 cans sauerkraut
Seasoning

Wash spareribs and place in roaster. Bake in moderate oven or 1-2 hours, after seasoning well with salt, pepper and any other additional seasoning desired. Heat the contents spareribs on platter and surround with sauerkraut.

BAKED STUFFED FLANK STEAK

Flank steak (about two pounds)
1 cup crumbs
1-2 cup water or stock
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
1-2 small onion chopped fine
1 small carrot, turnip
1-2 cup celery

Wipe steak, remove skin and lay out flat for stuffing. Make a dressing of stock, salt, pepper, onion and a small amount of celery and spread on the meat. Roll with the grain so that when cut it may be cut across the grain of the meat. Place the diced vegetables in roasting pan and on this layer of vegetables lay the meat, and add two or three cups of water, depending upon size of pan. Cover and bake three hours, or until tender. When cooked remove meat and thicken broth.

Dye From Onion Skins.
To make dye from onion skins, says The Electrical Experimenter, take the outer skins from half a dozen onions (medium sized), and boil in water until the color is extracted. This is a very suitable yellow dye.

CALUMET DINNER

Officers Elected and Elder Gift Received

The annual dinner of the Calumet Club, held in conjunction with the annual meeting and election of officers took place last Saturday night with a record attendance. A feature of the evening was the presentation to the club of a fine picture of the late Samuel J. Elder, a former member.

The dinner opened at 6.30, about 210 members and guests sitting down at the long tables spread in the hall on the second floor. A very attractive and substantial menu was provided by Andrew Schlehuber, Inc., of Lynn, who has successfully catered for the club for several years. President William S. Olmstead presided. During the dinner the company joined in singing, and solos by Mr. George E. Willey and Dr. J. Churchill Hindes were greatly enjoyed. The hall was decorated for the evening with flags and bunting, and firecracker cigarettes and cigars which were freely distributed until the diners could not distinguish them from the genuine, created much fun.

The business meeting and election followed the dinner. President Olmstead read a letter from the Misses Margaret M., Frances A., and Ruth T. Elder, and Mr. Samuel J. Elder, presenting a portrait of their father, the late Samuel J. Elder, to the club. In accepting the gift Mr. Marcus B. May replied, outlining the life of Mr. Elder and the esteem in which he was held.

Mr. May said in part:

Mr. President and Members of the Calumet Club:

You all remember Leigh Hunt's story of Abou Ben Adhem when the angel appeared, writing in a book of gold. To that radiant vision Ben Adhem said, "Write me as one that loves his fellow men." This, I think, characterizes the life of him whom we have affectionately referred to as "Sam Elder." I think that Sam Elder was one who did preeminently love his fellow men. My time is too brief to tell you much of the story of Mr. Elder's life, and I can, therefore, refer to only a few salient facts.

Samuel James Elder was born in Hopewell, Rhode Island, on January 4, 1850. His father, who was a sea captain, met a sudden death in New York harbor while Samuel was but an infant. It has been said of him that his education began under circumstances that have been characterized as "the best education in the world; that got struggling to get a living." His mother removed to Lawrence, and in his early days he showed habits of industry by selling newspapers, and then by his frugality he was able during the Civil War to use a part of his earnings in the purchase of a small Government bond. Later on, through the bequest of an uncle in Baltimore, who was attracted by the sterling worth of the lad, he was able to obtain a college education. Everybody who knew Sam Elder knew his loyalty and fidelity to his Alma Mater, Yale Col-

RANGELEY SOLD

Agreements have been signed whereby the Bonelli-Adams Co. has taken over the property from the estate of the late Edwin Ginn known as "Rangeley" consisting of 25 acres of land and 15 houses. The total is assessed for $260,000.

This property has been long known as the best residential section of Winchester, stretching along Church street and the railroad between the Winchester and Wedgemere stations. The houses at present are all occupied on lease by prominent citizens of Winchester, but all will be sold for occupancy upon the termination of the existing leases, many of which expire within the next few months.

The Bonelli-Adams Co. is planning the erection of new colonial houses ranging in price from $20,000 to $30,000 which will be offered for sale. All of the property is for sale in separate parcels and the development of this property is looked upon with a great deal of interest by the citizens of Winchester. All plots will be suitably restricted.

The present occupants of the houses at "Rangeley" are Mr. A. P. Weeks of the Merchants National Bank, Mr. C. W. Morrow, Mr. T. Grafton Abbott, Mr. H. G. Fairfield, Mr. E. A. Black, Mr. A. W. Loftus, Mr. J. W. Northern, Mr. J. M. Skillings, Mr. M. F. Brown, Mrs. Sarah F. Cutter, Mr. A. H. Marchant, Mrs. Fannie S. Swain, Mr. R. C. Gillespie and Mr. John R. Fausay.

LADIES' NIGHT

There was a record attendance at the ladies' night of the Congregational Men's Club Friday evening. The vestry of the church was filled to overflowing and an estimate placed the attendance at the neighborhood of 250. The entertainment was a talk by Mr. E. Edward Buxton, Jr., treasurer of the Providence Journal. He gave a remarkable talk, with many excellent quotations, which carried his hearers with him in a most sympathetic spirit. His subject was "The viewpoint of the ex-service man." During 1914-15 he was war correspondent for his paper in Germany, France and Belgium, and was Major in the 82nd Division at the outbreak of the war. He received three citations for bravery in action. Seldom has a similar talk provided such genuine pleasure to a Winchester audience, and it was with regret that he concluded after an hour and a half entertainment.

President T. Grafton Abbott of the club presided, and at the conclusion of Mr. Buxton's talk refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

MYSTIC VALLEY LODGE A. F. & A. M. INSTITUTED

On Thursday evening, April 8th, Rt. Wor. Charles H. Miles, District Deputy Grand Master of the Sixth Masonic district, the district representative of the Grand Master of Masons in Massachusetts, presided at the institution of Mystic Valley Lodge A. F. & A. M., the new Masonic body of Winchester.

The officers of the new lodge seated by the District Deputy Grand Master are as follows: William M. Belcher, Wor. Master; Amasa Harrington, Senior Warden; Harris M. Richmond, Junior Warden; Franklin E. Crawford, Treasurer; Edward E. Thompson, Secretary; Allison B. Gifford, Chaplain; Benjamin T. Morgan, Marshal; Gordon E. Musselman, Senior Deacon; J. Lawton Whitlock, Junior Deacon; Elmer R. Glidden, Senior Steward; Adna E. Smalley, Junior Steward; Robert F. Guild, Inside Sentinel; F. Percy Lewis, Organist; Warren F. Foster, Tyler.

Mystic Valley Lodge, Under Dispensation, will work as such until December next.

SENIOR RECEPTION

The Senior class of the High School held their annual reception to the Junior class Saturday evening in the High School Assembly Hall. The dance was attended by about 50 couples. The hall was very prettily decorated with the class banners and red, white and blue streamers. The prize box of chocolates was won by Ralph W. Emerson and Mildred H. Lewis. Misses Marjorie Weeks and Ruth Taylor of the teaching staff were matrons for the occasion.

Miss Elizabeth Bird held a party at her home after the dance in honor of several Dartmouth friends.

MRS. EDMUND CURRY

Mrs. Hannah W. Curry widow of Edmund A. Curry passed away suddenly at her home 8 Stevens Street, Saturday morning, April 10.

Mrs. Curry is survived by two sons Thomas of Boston and Dr. Edmund F. of Fall River; also three daughters Miss Abbie W. Miss Elma J. of Winchester and Mrs. J. L. Brown of Montclair, N. J.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. M. W. Dewart at the home Monday, April 12, at 2 P. M., and the burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

VALUABLE CONFERENCE FOR WINCHESTER

The inspiring and constructive value of such a program as is promised in The Sixth District Conservation Conference of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, at the Unitarian Church on April 23, is not confined to members of the local club, but radiates its influence throughout the entire community. Winchester, recognizing the splendid benefits derived from such a gathering, joins with The Fortnightly in welcoming the visitors from some thirty towns in the Sixth District, and many guests from other parts of the state.

Included in the program which is in charge of the State Conservation Committee, are many subjects which are of special interest at this particular season. Take for instance the practical demonstration of fruit tree pruning by the Horticultural agent of The Middlesex County Farm Bureau, Mr. Albert Jenks, who will not merely talk on the subject, but will do the actual pruning.

To those who are interested in the artistic development of the home grounds—as we all should be—the presentation of this subject by a landscape architect of such fame as Loring Underwood, is alone a most unusual opportunity. His lecture is illustrated by slides made from pictures of "Old New England Gardens," taken by the lecturer by "direct color" photography, illuminated, and thrown upon the screen by an electrically lighted stereopticon.

Other subjects to be considered are: Thrift and Trees, Birds and Bird Houses, and Forestry problems; the latter by that able authority, Mr. Harris Reynolds. The program is announced as follows:

Morning Session, 10.30

Welcome—Mrs. Herbert Bond, President of Hostess Club.

Greetings—Mrs. J. C. Woodman, Chairman Conservation Department.

Sneakers, Thrift—Mrs. Irving O. Palmer.

Birds—Mr. Edward Howe Forbush. Subject to be announced—Mr. Harris Reynolds, Sec'y Mass. Forestry Association.

Afternoon Session, 1.45

Sneakers, A Tribute to Trees—Mrs. A. F. Woods.

Small Fruit Pruning—Mr. Albert Jenks.

Junior Audubon Society—Mrs. Harriet Goode.

Old New England Gardens (illustrated)—Mr. Loring Underwood.

Bird houses on exhibit all day.

Box luncheon. Coffee served by Hostess Club free.

All Club members should bring their tickets.

EASTER LUNCHEON

The Easter luncheon of the Mission Union was held in the vestries of the First Congregational Church on Tuesday, and notwithstanding the stormy weather, about 200 ladies attended and enjoyed the affair. The event this year was a buffet lunch and the centre serving table and the numerous small tables were decorated with jonquils.

The affair was in charge of a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. Cutler B. Downer and Mrs. George B. Smith, and among those who assisted were Mrs. John B. Boyce, Mrs. John Brooks, Mrs. R. E. Hall, Mrs. A. W. Dean, Mrs. B. T. Morgan, Mrs. H. S. Parsons, Mrs. A. D. Speedie, Mrs. Louis Snyder, Mrs. George Rice, Miss Gladys Folts, Miss Esther Parker, Mrs. C. M. Runels, Mrs. M. C. Tompkins and Mrs. Clara Brackett.

Those who served included Mrs. W. H. Lowell, Mrs. C. A. Lane, Mrs. W. E. Healey, Mrs. J. L. Cayting, Mrs. G. B. Whitehouse, Mrs. F. A. Bradford, Mrs. F. S. Scales and Mrs. F. E. Hovey.

WINCHESTER IDEA SPREADING

The "Thrift Exposition" which originated in the Thrift Committee of The Fortnightly last November, and which proved such a splendid success for three days, December 2, 3, and 4, did not stop with Winchester, but has been widely copied by neighboring towns. Following Winchester, Somerville adopted both the name and the idea, and a Thrift Exposition on a smaller scale was put on in January. Several other towns have followed, and at present, April 15, 16 and 17, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is conducting the most extensive Exposition of all, which is quite natural as they are backed by some 17 or 18 Womens clubs and have the assistance of several men on their committees, while the original Exposition was managed wholly by the women of one club.

POLICE TRANSFERS

Several transfers were made in the police department the first of the week. Officer Shea has been transferred from the centre to the West Side, officer Donaghey going from the West Side to the centre. Officer W. E. Cassidy has been transferred from the Plains district to the Highlands, officer Hogan from the Highlands to Main street and officer Farrell from Main street to the Plains.

BOARD OF TRADE DINNER

The annual dinner of the Winchester Board of Trade was held last evening at the Calumet Club about 150 members and invited guests sitting down to a most excellent repast. The affair eclipsed all other entertainment yet held by the organization.

The dinner opened at 6.30, following an informal reception in the club parlors. President C. Herbert Symmes presided during the dinner. Community singing was enjoyed while the menu was discussed and a program was rendered by an orchestra.

Dr. J. Churchill Hindes led in the singing, Miss Florence Fitzgerald assisting at the piano, and Arnold's orchestra also rendered a fine program. The business meeting of the association followed immediately at the close of the dinner.

The meeting was short, the reading of last year's records being omitted and the Secretary and Treasurer's reports being accepted without comment. In opening the entertainment program, President Symmes introduced Mr. William L. Parsons of the Board of Selectmen, who spoke in an interesting and constructive manner on the assistance the Selectmen could receive from the Board of Trade through its co-operation. In the course of his remarks he spoke of the extensive building program which confronts the town in the erection of new schools, the memorial on Manchester Field and other projects. He estimated a tax rate of $35 in the near future. The building program would take about a million dollars, calling for $100,000 a year. His talk was of great interest to the entire company.

A program of music was given by Miss Fitzgerald and Zarita, the Cuban nightingale, who sang. Further general singing was led by Dr. Hindes, and then Mr. Willard Scott was introduced, who entertained the company for an hour and a half with his dry humor and homely philosophy.

The guests of the evening included the Selectmen, Chief David H. DeCoursey of the Fire Department, President William S. Olmstead and Vice-President Samuel E. Perkins of the Calumet Club and Chief of Police William R. McIntosh.

Rising votes were accorded the retiring president, Mr. C. Herbert Symmes, and to the retiring officers.

The officers elected were: President, Arthur T. Downer; Vice-President, Harris S. Richardson; Secretary, Loring P. Gleason; Treasurer, J. Albert Hersey. Directors: John C. Sullivan, Jr., Herbert Wadsworth, Jr., Thomas Quigley, Jr.

RECEPTION TO MR. LUTES

Fellow employees to the number of about 50 tendered a reception to Mr. W. O. Lutes of the Winchester Laundry Co. in White's Hall on Wednesday evening. The affair was given in recognition of the esteem in which Mr. Lutes is held and particularly every male employee of the Laundry attended.

A program of music and reading was enjoyed, together with refreshments and the presentation to Mr. Lutes of a purse containing $25 in gold. There were readings by Mr. M. C. Ambrose, songs by the Laundry quartette, composed of Messrs. James H. Hammond, J. F. Fitzgerald, A. M. Fitzpatrick and James Egan; accordion solos by Mr. John Barry and piano solos by Mr. Henry Hume.

The presentation was made by Mr. Harry Pickering. Mr. Lutes, although thoroughly surprised by the turn of the program, was able to express his thanks and appreciation in a satisfactory manner to his friends. He is in charge of the shipping room at the Laundry, with which he has been connected for the past eleven years. He leaves May first to take up farming in New Brunswick.

BOWLERS DINE

Dinner and Dance Ends Season at Calumet Club

The final act of the bowling season of 1919-20 closed at the Calumet Club on Tuesday night when the mixed tournament teams held their annual dinner and dance. The prizes for the tournament were also awarded during the affair.

There was an attendance of about 150, including bowlers and invited guests, and the dinner was given by the twelve lowest teams to the twelve highest teams, there being 24 teams of six persons each in the match this year. The final roll off between the two divisions was held a few days ago, which decided the prizes.

Dinner was served in the club hall, it commencing at 6.30. Schleiber who so successfully catered for the annual dinner and the Board of Trade dinner last night, was in charge and the menu was all that could be desired. During the dinner community singing was enjoyed, led by Dr. J. Churchill Hindes, and Mr. George E. Willey was called upon for a song. Piano selections were also given by Mrs. DeLoisele, and Arnold's orchestra rendered a pleasing program. Fancy caps and other favors were distributed during the dinner and added to the enjoyment.

The prizes were awarded at the end of the dinner, during the clearing of the floor for dancing, chairman Arthur W. Pitman of the Bowling Committee making the presentation.

First prize, silver coffee percolator urn, won by team 16. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Towne, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Blank, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Aseltine.

Second prize, thermos carafe jug, won by team 12. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Keepers, Mr. and Mrs. Elwell R. Butterworth.

Third prize, Pyrex scallop dish and pie plate, won by team 7. Mr. J. B. Thomas and Miss Thomas, Mr. Earl Goldsmith and Miss Phyllis Tutein, Mr. R. W. MacDonald and Miss Edith Fenno.

Fourth prize, covered silver dish, won by team 20. Mr. and Mrs. Preston E. Corey, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kneeland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Kneeland.

Individual prize for flat high average, Mrs. Maurice C. Tompkins, 89 2-22.

Individual prize for high average with handicap, Miss Merial Thomas, 80 3-20 and 20, making 100 3-20.

The individual prizes were bar pins of brilliant set in platinum. The dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Among those who attended the dinner were:

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

The use of alcoholic beverages has been practically universal in all ages. It has been sanctioned by all Christian Churches until within a very short time. Moral and intellectual progress may possibly be retarded by the habit, but the historic fact that the nations which have done the most for human advancement are among the most liberal users of alcohol. This nation, which is largely Christian, has just been congratulated by the Sultan of Turkey and the Sheik of Islam on its acceptance of modern standards of morality.

One Winchester gentleman has pointed out that under these circumstances it might be assumed that a large part of the community would regard prohibition as a perfectly unwarranted invasion of their personal liberty and would offer some open and unmistakable protest against its enforcement. They have not done so, however. They have left all resistance to the men who make money in the manufacturing and vending of alcoholic beverages. If it be a fact that no one opposes prohibition except intemperate individuals and individuals whose pecuniary interests are involved, then there is little doubt that prohibition is the settled policy of the nation.

People here in Winchester and elsewhere who never tasted venison have been eating deer food for a long time now.

Eliminate sentiment from life and we all become beasts of prey with fangs bared against each other. Allow the heart to respond to the impulses of Christian Charity and we become our brother's keeper. Life will glow with gentle fires and keep the soul at genial warmth.

So many here in Winchester and elsewhere have so much and so many so little! And it is hard to wait until the next world for equalization.

The Spectator has just been reading a report published by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, in which the cost of the war, reckoned upon the destruction of human life, as well as upon the money value of property destroyed, is so appalling as to be almost beyond imagination. The known and estimated dead reach a total of almost 10,000,000 human beings. Compared to this the total mortality of all the wars of the nineteenth century from the Napoleonic down to the Balkan wars of 1912-13 falls less than half as many dead. The money value of the dead is variously estimated, based upon the different economic worth in their respective countries, but upon this basis the loss in human life cost the world $33,551,276,280. Figuring property loss alone, France's total reaches $30,000,000,000, while Belgium is estimated to have lost $7,000,000,000.

VISITED THE SOUTH SEAS

Vancouver Man Gathered Many Valuable Relics

Frank Burnett Spent Twenty-five Years of His Life Making One of The Most Valuable Collections in America.

For twenty-five years, from his forty-second year until his sixty-seventh, Frank Burnett devoted much time to acquiring the greatest individual collection of things from the South Sea Islands that were most representative of the Polynesian and Papuan people that live on that wondrous stretch of islands scattered along 5,000 miles of way in the South Pacific Ocean. During these twenty-five years he roamed far in search of the treasures which made his collection perhaps the finest on the American continent and the greatest ever collected by one man entirely by personal endeavor in the world pertaining to this particular subject.

Though today 67 years of age, and having his home in the Canadian seaport city of Vancouver, he spends about half of his time in the islands. But though he will probably continue to collect rare things until he dies, he has bequeathed this whole magnificent collection to the new University of British Columbia, now under construction on the outskirts of the city of Vancouver.

When completed the university will be one of the finest halls of learning on the Pacific coast. Standing in the centre of an enormous campus in the suburb of West Point Grav, its windows look out over the Gulf of Georgia. And to one of the great rooms in this university in the future will be brought all these varied rare things representative of the varied life of those far flung islands.

To search them out he traveled more than a hundred thousand miles by steamer, small sailing coasting vessel, canoe and on foot. He penetrated into the very heart of the cannibal country, the dangerous Solomons, taking his life in his hands many times to obtain some particularly unique object difficult of acquiring, such as cannibal forks, plates just been reading calls attention to the fact that the figures estimating a total loss, direct and indirect, of some $337,900,000,000, incomprehensible and appalling as they are, "do not take into account the effect of the war on life, human vitality, economic well-being, ethics, morality and other phases of human relationship disorganized or injured." And in some respects more terrible than the visitation upon the present generation is the fact that the blot of this catastrophe will fall upon millions yet unborn. Years must elapse before conditions will begin to assume a normal aspect; one year already has flown and the problems of restoration are as far from solution as ever.

and human meat hooks. These were utensils dedicated to the handling of human flesh alone, for with the cannibals the eating of their kind is accompanied by much ceremonial.

Even twenty-five years ago these utensils were rare and difficult of obtaining. To his great museum, which fills a room as large as the ballroom of a castle, he brought hundreds of spears widely varied in shape and design. There are some barbed with human bones, some wedged with sharks' teeth.

Clubs that date back centuries and have taken scores of lives are mingled with the spears that line two walls of the long room. They are of every shape and pattern peculiar to the Polynesian and Papuan people, who inhabit that vast stretch of the Southern Pacific on several thousand islands.

To travel over even a portion of this territory is a labor of years, and though there are some places, of course, Frank Burnett has not gone, his journeyings among these islands have been most thorough and his selection of the objects representative of the various islands has been most careful and complete.

In his museum are human heads taken from bodies that served at cannibal banquets. The heads are both stripped clean and smoked, the latter ornamented in weird designs. There are cabinets filled with countless ornaments, shell money, feather money from Santa Cruz Island, long past out of existence, for the bird they made the money out of has become extinct, and the people themselves have changed. There is money from the Solomons made in the form of rings six inches across, a hundred dollars value of which is more than a man could carry.

Rare tapa clothes hang upon the walls and are piled in cases; mats of difficult weave and marvelously pliable, their texture speaking of the long labor they required.

Frank Burnett himself is quite as interesting as the collection he has made. Born at Peterhead, Scotland, Burnett went to sea at fourteen and experienced much adventure until he was twenty, when he emigrated to Canada. After ten years of business life he became a stock broker, but gave up this to pioneer the new Canadian West, a kind of life dear to his heart. For fifteen years he lived in Manitoba, seeing it change from a wilderness to a prosperous and fertile country. Always fond of new frontiers, he went to British Columbia and became a dealer in lands.

In 1895 he went to the South Seas for the first time on a short trip, when he began his collection. In 1901, to better cover the far reaches of the region, he purchased and outfitted his own ship, the Laurel, an 80-ton ship, and visited the most remote islands in various groups. For fifteen months he voyaged, seeing places seldom by white men visited. On this trip he made a great addition of particularly rare and valuable objects representative of the life in the islands.

Since 1901, he has traveled often to the South Seas, his trips becoming more frequent and more protracted until of late years half his time has been spent in roaming and combing the islands for new things of interest.

Goodness of Apples.

Because we like apples we use them, but apart from that we use them because they contain healthful acids, needed minerals including iron, lime and sulphur, many calories of energy, and some real nutrition. True, an apple is eighty-five per cent water, but so is milk, and the apple has thirteen per cent of sugar and starches.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Through the thoughtful suggestion of members of the Fortnightly Club, which had prepared the actual machinery and equipment of a state election for the choice of their own officers on Monday, April 12th, two classes of the Winchester High School were enabled to attend the "polls" in the morning and cast their votes on regulation ballots. Election officers were sworn in and stationed, the polls were opened, each voter was checked in, given an opportunity to mark a ballot in one of the booths, checked out and permitted to observe several other details of balloting. Thanks are due Mr. Carter and Mr. Callahan for helpful information and assistance.

An English Club has been formed from those pupils in the Freshman divisions who have received at least 80 in their work in English. It is hoped that the membership will be increased when the report cards are given out after the third quarter. The following officers have been elected: President, Elizabeth Underwood; Vice President, Stanley Butterworth; Secretary and Treasurer, Ronald Locke.

At the last assembly there was community singing by the school with Lincoln Russell at the piano. His playing was greatly enjoyed, especially the solo number.

The time for the Spring house cleaning is approaching and one of the senior girls has suggested that a committee be formed from the students to erase from the walls all marks made by students. Work will begin as soon as the force is organized. We hope the students will enjoy this voluntary work so much that they will apply for work at home also. The Acting Principal welcomes such cooperation of the student body in the effort to make the school attractive in every way.

AT THE STONEHAM THEATRE NEXT WEEK—MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Mary Pickford, the Prophet of Gladness

Do you think you have a lot to be sad about? Do you believe that old Man Gloom has chased joy out of your life forever? Are you bowed down under a heavy load of business responsibilities that have a tendency to pessimize your good nature? Has Misfortune tried to make a pal of you?

If such is the case, then don't fail to see Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna." This is Miss Pickford's first photoplay since she joined the "Big Four." It is being released by the United Artists Corporation and will be shown at the Stoneham Theatre, beginning next Monday.

There is no better tonic for those who have been the victims of bad luck and who may as a result be downhearted or even resentful against fate, than this remarkable play. It carries the message of good cheer to one and all, pointing out that no predicament is so bad but that it might be worse.

And if you will go to see this splendid screen play, Pollyanna will carry her message to you. When you leave the theatre you will feel refreshed; you will have a new vigor and vim with which to tackle the problems that it is necessary for you to work out.

WINCHESTER GIRLS MADE GOOD SHOWING

The Girls' High School basketball team did some high-grade playing this season. With Melrose High, the champion team, and Malden High runner-up the Winchester High team was reckoned third best, but by another year it will have a team that probably will be second to none, as it is understood that most of this season's players will return.

In spite of the fact that the Winchester team had to take third place in the rating of teams, it made two records that are not likely to be broken in this State for some time by a High School team. The first record was scoring 132 points against six for Wellesley High, bettering the high-score marks set by Melrose and Malden at different times.

The captain of the team, Lillian Gray, not satisfied to have Capt. Barbara Goss of Melrose hold the best individual record for throwing goals from the floor, went out and caged 38 in the Wellesley game for a total of 76 points. Prior to that game Capt. Goss held the record with 36 goals from the floor, or 72 points.

One of the guard positions was filled by Carolyn Dow, who did fine work, as did Miss Laraway, the other guard; Miss Barnard, a forward, and Miss Roberts, the center. Miss Barnard scored 28 goals from the floor in the Wellesley game, thus materially aiding in making the record of 132 points.

TREE IN CHURCH STREET AGAIN CRITICIZED

April 13, 1920
Chairman Board of Selectmen, Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir:
I desire to call your attention to a case just reported by the Massachusetts Supreme Court with reference to a town's liability in damages for injuries caused by trees within the limits of a public highway. The case is that of the Valvoline Oil Company vs. the Town of Winthrop. In the opinion the Court says:—

"While many cases have been considered by this court involving injuries to travellers on a highway caused by trees standing within the limits of the way, most of them have arisen because of the decayed condition of such trees, yet we are of opinion that there is no sound distinction between the liability of a city or town for failure to guard against defects caused by trees within the limits of a highway, which are old and decayed, and those, which, although sound, in course of time cause a defective condition of a highway by growth."

I do not mean to suggest by this letter that the question of the removal of the large tree on Church street be renewed, but I do think that the authorities of the Town ought to realize the possibility of a claim against the Town in case of accident caused by allowing the tree to remain. I am sending a copy of this letter together with a newspaper clipping in reference thereto to the Editor of the Winchester Star.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) ROLAND H. SHERMAN
Note: That portion of the clipping referred to above holding interest here follows:

The full bench of the Supreme Court, in a decision handed down today, says that branches of trees which protrude over a public highway constitute a defect for which cities and towns are liable in damages for injuries caused thereby. The decision is made in connection with the case of the Valvoline Oil Company against the town of Winthrop.

A wagon of the plaintiff company, while passing along Herman street, Winthrop, in June, 1918, had its top injured by a limb of a fifty-year-old tree. Suit was brought to recover damages in the Municipal Civil Court. The matter was appealed to the Appellate Division of that tribunal and the three judges found in favor of the town. The case was carried to the Supreme Court, where the judges reversed that finding and made an award of $91.19 to the plaintiff.

WINCHESTER GRANGE NOTES

Tuesday evening at Lyceum Hall, Winchester Grange held its regular meeting. As it was the occasion of annual deputy inspection, the meeting was of exceptional interest. The ladies' degree team of Winchester Grange conferred the third degree on a large class of candidates and the work was especially well done and highly commended by Worthy Deputy Ralph Forbes who came from Worcester. There were many visiting grangers from surrounding cities, among them Worthy Master George M. Lister of Stoneham, master of Middlesex Essex Pomona Grange, Worthy Past Master Jackson of Cambridge Grange was also present. These gentlemen spoke during the course of the evening and complimented Winchester Grange on the immense improvement it has shown since their last visit.

After the flag was duly saluted and the visiting Master and past Masters were conducted to a seat at the right of presiding Master Marston, Past Master Millett of Winchester Grange was presented with a past master's jewel, a tribute of love and appreciation from the members of Winchester Grange for his loyalty and hard work in keeping the Grange in existence during its struggle to hold the charter.

However, since Winchester Grange's reorganization, many new members have appeared on the roll and from the splendid showing at the Tuesday evening meeting, a most successful year is anticipated.

After the 3rd degree work was completed a buffet lunch was served by the Feast Committee, Mrs. Clara J. Mullen, chairman.

Sr. Elsie Mobbs, chairman of whist party committee of March 30 made her report and made returns. Sr. Alice Caldwell, chairman of whist party committee for party April 22 reported progress. The committee for the party (date to be decided later) was appointed. Sr. Lillian McMullen, chairman. Sr. Allen, Sr. Goodnough, Sr. Delia Nowell, Sr. Annie Gustin.

Announcement was made that the first and second degrees would be conferred at Winchester again the first meeting in May the third and fourth on the second meeting. Applications may be received at the next meeting.

Announcement was also made that the fifth degree will be conferred at Wilmington, April 23 and again at Winchester, Sept. 30. As the National League is to meet in Boston on Nov. 10, 11, 12 there will be an opportunity provided to receive the sixth degree at a later date. Wilmington will supply vehicles to convey the grangers from the train to the hall on the occasion of their visit.

As Wilmington Grange has extended an invitation to Winchester Grange to neighbor with them on April 28, it has sent word that autos will wait at the depot for the visitors.

There will be a deputy inspection of the Middlesex Essex Pomona Grange at Wilmington April 23 by Worthy Deputy Adams of Housatonic.

Cultivate Confidence.

The man or woman who ventures much, may fall often, but he will achieve in proportion to those very failures because he will use each one as a stepping stone to higher effort. But the man or woman who quibbles, reconsiders, hesitates and weighs every gain against a greater loss, is a predestined failure, because his very attitude of mind counts that condition which he should avoid.—Exchange.

MACHINE SWITCHING CENTRAL OFFICE

When the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company opens its first machine switching central office in Boston during 1921 at Harrison avenue, Essex and Oxford streets it will be known as "Liberty."

On the base of each telephone instrument connected with the new exchange there will be a dial with ten holes, one for each digit. In addition to the digits, eight of the dial holes will have three letters of the alphabet. These letters and numerals are necessary in order that the subscriber may "dial" the exchange name and the number of the telephone desired.

The apparatus has been so arranged that it will be necessary to dial only the first three letters of the exchange name, which will be printed in full faced type in the subscribers' listings in the telephone directory.

When the new telephonic exchange is opened the telephone numbers in the Metropolitan division of one, two or three digits will be preceded by three, two or one ciphers like this: NORWOOD 0008 or MALDEN 0042, or REVERE 0322-M. Four digits are necessary because the machine switching apparatus will not work properly unless all telephone numbers consist of four numerals.

The detailed method of making a telephone call from a subscriber's station connected with the new "Liberty" office to any office in the Metropolitan division is simple. Assume that John Smith, connected with the machine switching office, desires to make a call to John Doe in Roxbury, where the switchboard is manually operated. He will find the name listed in the directory in this way: Doe John, 782 Moody Street, ROXBURY 9264.

After removing the receiver from the hook, Smith will place a finger in the one of the ten holes on the face of the dial until his finger strikes a little arm which prevents it from going further. Removing the finger the dial will quickly revolve backward and stop. Smith will then revolve the dial from the letter "O," as far as the little arm, and once more from the letter "X." These letters will appear at different places on the dial.

After indicating the exchange desired, Smith will repeat the same process with the number "9264," revolving the dial for each numeral. If it should be a party line that is called another turn of the dial from the proper ring letter will call the person desired.

When a Roxbury subscriber desires to call a person connected with the "Liberty" office in Boston, he will give the name of the exchange and the number wanted to the Roxbury operator, who will establish the connection in the same manner as at present.

Special numbers will be assigned for calls to the toll operator, information and wire chief. The digit "O" will be used for emergency calls or for the chief operator.

When a measured service subscriber connected with the new machine switching office has completed a local call by replacing the receiver on the hook, it will be automatically recorded on a meter in the central office, provided he has reached his called station. If the called station is busy, does not answer or is out of order, the call will not be registered.

A CORRECTION

Boston, Mass., April 12, 1920
Editor Winchester Star:

In your issue of Feb. 13, 1920 appears an article entitled: "The Philosophy of Chiropractic." In the interest of truth I think you will be glad to give space to the correction of a fundamental error in this article. The article states: "Chiropractic is neither medicine nor surgery nor osteopathy. It attacks disease from a truly new standpoint." And again: "Chiropractic is no more nor less than the adjustment of displaced vertebrae." This is fundamental in osteopathic philosophy and practice. Dr. Andrew Taylor Still, founder of osteopathy practiced and taught spinal adjustment many years before the advent of Chiropractic.

52¢ How would YOU like a raise like this?

—and for 34 Years Work

THAT is the kind of increase in salary the minister has received. His living expenses have risen just as fast and as far as yours.

But he is paid on the average just 52 cents more per church member than he was paid 34 years ago.

The Minister Never Fails You

Every officer of the Government with a war message to deliver appealed to the ministers first of all.

But 80% of the ministers receive less income than government economists figure as a minimum for the support of an average family.

When hospitals need money they enlist the support of the ministers—and receive it.

But when sickness visits the minister or the members of his family they must be treated in a charity ward. His pay is less than a day laborer's.

8 out of every 10 ministers receive less than $20 a week—about half the pay of a mechanic.

We Pay Him Half the Wages of a Mechanic

And of these pitifully inadequate salaries, how much do you contribute? Nothing if you are outside the church; an average of less than 3c a day if you are a church member.

All of us share in the benefits of Christian ministers to the community. They marry us; bury us; baptize our children; visit us when we are sick. In their hands is the spiritual training of the youth.

We Are All Profiteers at Their Expense

Part of the Interchurch World program is this—a living wage for every minister of Jesus Christ; an efficient plant, and a chance to do a big man's job.

If you want better preachers, help to pay the preachers better. It's the best investment for your community—and for your children—that you can ever make.

SENATOR MCKNIGHT WITH-DRAWS

The Following Letter Has Been Sent To Mr. Lewis Parkhurst by Senator Edwin T. McKnight.

Medford, Mass., April 15, '20.
Lewis Parkhurst, Esq.,
Winchester, Mass.

My Dear Mr. Parkhurst:

A few weeks ago I announced that pressure of business had caused me to decide to retire from politics at the end of the present legislative session. At that time I hoped to be able to spare the time to go as a delegate to the Republican Convention in June, but business affairs have since so developed that it will be impossible for me to attend, so I have decided to leave the field to you and Mr. Amundson, both of whom I feel have good claims for the honor of representing our district.

I have been pledged to our illustrious Governor for President, and I sincerely trust that present day conditions in our nation may emphasize to you why you should support and work for the nomination of Calvin Coolidge, our beloved Governor, the great expounder of law and order.

Trusting you will thoroughly enjoy your duties at Chicago, I am

Sincerely yours,

Edwin T. McKnight.

SMITH COLLEGE PLAYS

"Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs" the play which is to be given in the Town Hall on Saturday, April 24, for the benefit of the Smith College Endowment Fund, is also to be presented in Boston.

It is one of the favorites among Grimm's fairy tales and the play is unusually delightful on account of its opportunities for charming dances among which are to be a number by the maids of honor to the queen, one by the dwarfs and one, the Butterfly Dance, by Snow White alone. There is also a song by Mrs. Carol Swan as the Voice of the Mirror.

The play is directed by Miss Priscilla Orway and the dances, originated by Mrs. Derby Brown, are directed by her.

The Winchester committee is as follows: Miss Beatrice Putnam, chairman; Miss Helen Hall, vice-chairman; Mrs. Bowen Tufts, in charge of scenery; Mrs. Burton Cary, tickets; Mrs. Norman Cushman, programmes; Miss Irene Lord, in charge of ushers. There will be a candy sale during the performance and Girl Scouts will act as ushers. A part of the 50c tickets for the play are to be reserved in order to accommodate any classes, clubs or groups of children who may wish to sit together but who do not care for the higher priced seats. The tickets are on sale now daily from 3 to 5 at the office of Parker & Lane.

FORTNIGHTLY SECRETARY'S REPORT

Report of the Secretary for the Year 1919-20

April 12, 1920.
As we look back over the records of the past year, we find that The Fortnightly has been instructive, entertaining and progressive—a Club to which it is worth while to belong. We have held fourteen regular meetings, including four public meetings, with an average attendance of 317. In the spring, we were fortunate in securing Mrs. John Craig, who had recently returned from France, and she gave us a most interesting talk on "Drama at the Front." Mr. Grilley and his daughter entertained us with stories and music at our last meeting in the spring.

The evening of July third, The Fortnightly gave a Welcome Home dance to the Winchester boys in the service. The Social committee had charge of the affair with the executive committee acting as hostesses. At our first fall meeting we had Elizabeth Pooler Rice, who read "The Two Virtues." Many invitations have been extended to us from other clubs and in connection our second meeting in the fall was President Day, when Professor Bliss Perry of Harvard spoke to us on "The Lesson of the Hour." Mrs. Geo. Baker, President of the Massachusetts State Federation, was guest of honor and the men teachers of the Winchester schools were special guests of the afternoon.

Two stereopticon lectures have been given during the year. One by Lila Van Kirk on "Modern Italy, Her Social and Economic Life," and one by Dr. Peter MacQueen on "Reconstruction."

The Dramatic Committee presented December 8th, the three act comedy entitled "Eliza Comes to Stay," which was enjoyed by an audience of over 500.

The Social Committee had charge of the Children's Party and adults as well as the little tots enjoyed the entertainment furnished by The Stage Children of New England. After the program each child received a gift in from a Christmas tree on the platform. After hearing Mary Parker Dunning, I think we would all like to visit "The Country of the Golden Dragon." Mr. Frank W. Wright was unable to come to us and sent Mr. Burr Jones, who spoke about "The New Outlook for Education."

The Music Committee furnished an excellent program for us by having the Symphony Sextet and Miss Edith Wey, soloist. Owing to the unusual amount of time and work necessary to present the Pageant as planned, it was decided to give it up, and the Art Committee had an attractive program of music, reading, dancing and living pictures. At the last meeting in the spring, the Civic Committee presented Professor Dallas Lore Sharp, who spoke to us on "Patrons of Democracy." Each committee has had an afternoon on the program and much credit is due to the different committees for their work and suggestions in making the program so attractive.

The Fortnightly this year invited the junior and senior high school girls to three of its meetings and almost every girl has accepted and appreciated the invitation.

Community singing with a community leader has been one of the features of nearly every meeting. The work of our several committees has been carried on in a most efficient manner. Under the supervision of the Home Economics, Pure Food and Health Committee, five lectures have been given on clothing and material by Mrs. Woolman. On recommendation of this committee money has been furnished by The Fortnightly for mid-morning lunches at the Rumford and Chapin schools; three classes have been formed in millinery with Mrs. Priest as the instructor, and a lecture by Miss Alice Bradley on "New Ideas for Sunday Night Suppers."

The committee on Civic Conservation and Thrift answered the urgent appeal of the Federation to emphasize Thrift and held a most remarkable Thrift Exposition on December 2, 3, 4, which has been widely copied by other clubs in our own and other states. In the interest of Conservation, this committee has worked to secure by invitation of The Fortnightly the 6th District Conservation Conference which will be held in Winchester, April 23rd. In addition to contributions made to other Civic interests the returns from the Thrift Exposition enables the committee to contribute the lecture to be given by Mr. Loring Underwood and pay all local expenses of the conference.

Story telling on Manchester Field and at the Chapin school during the summer months, with Mrs. Margaret W. Powers as story teller, was conducted by the Education Committee. This committee has also had Mr. Alden G. Alley lecture on "America's Attitude Toward a League of Nations," which has been so successful that the class has been formed into a club known as the Cicola Fra Noi.

The chairman has also made arrangements to loan a Winchester girl, who plans to go to college next fall, $150 from the Scholarship Fund. A class was formed by the Literature Committee to study the works of the English writers of the present day. Five meetings have been given by individual members of the committee assisted by members of the club. Tea has been served and discussion of the books has followed the reading.

By the efforts of the Music Committee we have had music at nearly every meeting and a leader in community singing.

The Legislation Committee presented three bills to the club which the club endorsed, also had Mr. J. Randolph Coolidge lecture on "The League of Nations" at the home of Mrs. Hunter Robb.

The Art Committee formed a class and met every first and third Thursday of each month and studied French period furniture.

Letters and flowers have been sent to many homes as messages of cheer or sympathy by the Courtesies Committee. One of our members has left us never to return.

The Northwestern wrote in the month of March, 1918, $14,669,580.00

March, 1919, $27,046,820.00

Nearly all the men had insurance already, but felt the need of more protection.

The Press Committee has given notice of and reported all regular meetings of the club in the Winchester Star and such notices of the activities of various committees as the chairman choose to submit for publication. It has also sent notices of regular meetings to the Boston Sunday Herald and The Transcript.

Our Federation Secretary has kept us well posted about conferences and meetings of the State Federation, has attended Federation meetings at South Hadley, Brockton, and Revere, and has also read at our regular meetings letters of our State Federation President and General Federation President.

Acting upon the recommendation of the State Federation our Membership Committee carried on a very successful membership drive and added 154 new members to The Fortnightly.

The Printing Committee deserves much credit for our very handsome year book.

The Social and Hospitality Committees have made our meetings more enjoyable by serving five teas and looking after new members and guests.

The Hospitality Committee has called personally on about two-thirds of this year's new members; ushered at all meetings and met all talent upon their arrival at Winchester.

Our Finance Committee has been kept busy in figuring income and expenditures, a task which increasing prices has made very difficult. 1745 communications have been sent by our Corresponding Secretary. As there has been many changes it was thought advisable to have a Revision Committee and have the By-Laws and Standing Rules revised and new books printed. Mrs. Sarah J. Apsey, Miss Ethel Gleason, Mrs. Geo. E. Willey, Mrs. E. E. Thompson and Miss Susie Gurnsey were appointed to serve on this committee. On January 26th, 1920, the revised By-Laws and Standing Rules were voted upon, and with two or three amendments, the revision was adopted. Our club is still represented in the State Federation by Mrs. Lorence Woodside and Mrs. George H. Eaton.

From our Philanthropy Fund we have given to the Home for Aged $50, Winchester Hospital $20, Christmas Cheer for Soldiers at Parker Hill Hospital $25, Mid-morning lunches for mal-nutritious children $100, Massachusetts Child Labor Co. $5, Museum of Fine Arts $10, Girl Scout Fund $10, Visiting Nurse Association $100, Winchester Y D boys $25, American International College $50, Sailors' Haven, Charlestown, $10, and have given $109.50 to help support three French War Orphans.

May I ask if the activities of a club really cease when the last meeting is held in the spring, the officers and chairmen has handed in their reports, and a recess is called? Ask a faithful President and those who necessarily work with her, and they can emphatically say "No." And it is well for all members to think of this and, when they return to The Fortnightly in the fall and find every thing well under way, to realize fully by how it has been brought about. To make our Club adequate for standing foremost, every member must do her bit.

Respectfully submitted,
LILLIAN T. MASON, Recording Secretary.

BASEBALL

At its regular monthly meeting the Winchester Post of the American Legion voted to organize a baseball team to play this coming season. It was voted that the Athletic Director, Mr. James F. Flinn, apply to the Park Commissioner for a permit to use Manchester Field on Saturdays and holidays up to and including Labor Day. It was further decided that if possible all the members of the team should be Winchester Legion members, and that semi-professional rules should govern, also that the athletic director obtain the services of Mr. George LeDuc as manager.

The Park Commissioners will meet tonight and Mr. Flinn will present the Legion's request. If they are favorable to this request the Legion will endeavor to organize similar to the Winchester Baseball Association in order to receive financial assistance.

With Mr. LeDuc, the well known manager of many a successful team, directing this proposition there would be, undoubtedly, a team worthy of the town at all times.

Mr. Charles A. Walker passed away suddenly, Sunday, April 11, at his home, 14 Silkup road, Brookline. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Mitchell Walker, one daughter, Mrs. Horace P. Woods of Brookline, one son, Mr. M. Leon Walker of Boston, and two sisters, Mrs. Henrietta P. Walker of Cambridge, Mrs. J. Arabelle Pynchard of this town.

Arrangements were made at a meeting of the Winchester Irish bond subscription committee Tuesday evening at a meeting in the office of Thomas Barrett on Main street for the public meeting this Friday night at Lyceum Hall. The principal speakers will be Thomas J. Mahoney, chairman of the bench and bar committee of the Friends of Irish Freedom, and Thomas J. Linehan of Malden. Rev. Fr. Francis E. Rogers and Rev. Dr. John W. H. Corbett of St. Mary's Church and Chairman Henry Longfield of the committee will be the local speakers. A concert of Irish music will be given. The meeting will be a "victory" gathering to celebrate the successful close of the Irish bond campaign in Winchester for the town's quota of $2000. Up to the present about $3660 worth of bonds have been subscribed for and the committee hopes to make the total $4000.

AMERICAN LEGION TO PRESENT "OFFICER 666"

The Winchester Post of the American Legion has decided to present at the Town Hall the latter part of May "Officer 666," a melodramatic farce in three acts, by Augustus MacHugh. This play is well known, having first been presented by Cohan & Harris at the Gaiety Theatre in New York in 1912. Later, after a decided success and long run, several companies were sent to our largest cities, where further approval was found without exception.

Mr. Charles Harrold has been engaged to coach the show and will undoubtedly take one of the parts. Mr. Harrold, who is a resident of Winchester, is well known for the great number of successful entertainments he has presented in Greater Boston. He will be assisted in his cast by a number of Winchester's younger society set, who have appeared in other plays in recent years. Among those who have already been selected are: Mr. Francis Wyman, Mr. Alden Symmes, Mr. Kenneth Caldwell, Mr. Harry Bigelow, George LeDuc, Edwin Boyle and Miss Margaret Ray, Miss Heter Bradford and Mrs. Doris Thompson. With this cast Mr. Harrold believes he will be able to present to the people of Winchester an entertainment second to none that has

As the main purpose of presenting a show at this time by the Winchester Post is to obtain funds to meet unexpected obligations which it felt the members could not well withstand, it is hoped the whole town will give its support and co-operation.

Further announcements will be made as to the exact date, prices of tickets, etc. Watch for the date and buy your tickets early. Don't miss this chance to see a real show and at the same time lend a hand to the ex-service men.

REV. C. H. DAVIS RETURNS TO THE MINISTRY

It is of interest to many Winchester people to know of the return of Rev. C. Harrison Davis to the ministry. Mr. Davis is splendidly fitted for this work and it was generally regretted that he should leave his chosen profession to enter business. At the Annual Conference held in Boston recently he requested an appointment and was sent to Mittineague, West Springfield. Dr. John R. Chaffee has concluded his services as pastor of the Federated Church at Camp Devens and has received appointment to the Methodist Episcopal Church at Jamaica Plain. Rev. A. B. Gifford is returned to Winchester, where a happy and growing church makes his labors a delight.

LANDS WHERE EVERY YEAR IS LEAP YEAR

Once again with 1920 women have a chance to take the initial step toward providing themselves with an introduction to the heavenly kingdom, a boon which marriage brings to them, according to Mormon philosophy. The return of a year which leaps forward a day, bringing to them a privilege monopolized by man three years out of four, has no significance for women of many lands, since they enjoy that liberty all the time, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society issued from its Washington headquarters.

The women of no race possess more freedom in this matter than the Hopi Indians of Arizona, the bulletin continues. A maiden does not woo the man of her choice, but simply and forcibly states her proposition to his mother without any encouragement on his part. Her only preliminary proceeding is to do her hair in two gigantic whorls, one over each ear. This is her announcement that she is going a-courting. These peculiar knots are intended to represent the blossoms of a squash vine, symbol of virginity, but to those untutored in their meaning they resemble huge door knobs set at a rather violent angle. When some debutantes thus announce that they are "out on the carpet," it is said that as many as six or eight of the eligible young men of the tribe literally take to the woods.

After this aggressive young lady has selected her victim and his mother has agreed that he shall be sacrificed, she serves in the house of her future mother-in-law for thirty days grinding meal, very much after the fashion that Jacob of old served fourteen years for Rachel. The poor youth in the meanwhile does not sit idly by, but weaves her wedding garments.

Among the Batus of the Uganda Protectorate of Africa, if a girl is fortunate enough to be asked to "are in her home town, she goes to another village and offers herself to some man there. Though not honored in her own country, she at least receives consideration in that of her neighbor, for a woman is an excellent agricultural laborer and a man is not likely to refuse such a business asset.

The Galla woman of the eastern coast of Africa has the rare privilege among savage and half-civilized people of refusing to marry a man who is undesirable to her.

Little is known of the marriage customs of the ancient Egyptians, but we can easily believe that women had at least the privilege of expressing a preference if they did not actually do the proposing, for, if we trust the historian Diodorus, a man promised his wife to grant her complete control over him and to offer no objections to her commands.

Some survival of this liberty of Egyptian women must have permeated other portions of Africa, for princesses on the west coast of that continent whose children may become future rulers choose their own husbands. Nor is a princess limited in her choice to unmarried men. She may just as easily decide upon one who has already entered the marriage state, and the poor fellow has to put away his other wives and become her slave. Moreover, she has the power of life and death over him. He sometimes has only one consolation—he inherits all her property if he is fortunate enough to be spared until her death.

In the Tyrol a girl may express her preference for a man by presenting him with a bottle of spirits. If she is afraid that her procedure has not the endorsement of her parents she may contrive to lower the precious fluid at night from her chamber window.

In north Transylvania, a young peasant woman may give a particular swain a tip that he is the "apple of her eye" by going with him in his cart at the time of the harvesting of the oats to help him carry in his crop. It is said that at this season one sometimes sees a procession of gaily-decorated carts going afield, a willing maid seated in each.

One of the obligations of a father in Rumania and Bosnia is to provide so well for his marriageable daughter that when she is presented with a list forming her of the means and qualifications of the eligible young men in the vicinity she will not be hampered by a lack of worldly goods on her own part in making her choice.

In bygone days in India women were sometimes allowed to choose their own husbands. One of their old fairy tales tells of a fair princess who after a tournament placed a garland around the neck of a knight who had won her heart.

Among the Eskimos of the east coast of Greenland, a man captures the girl he wants, but from that time on the usual order of things is reversed. He has to exercise the greatest vigilance to prevent her from clopping with any other man whom she may prefer, as this seems to be her privilege. In the northern New Hebrides, a bride who is unhappy seeks the earliest opportunity of running away from her husband and seeking a home with some man she likes better.

If her parents cannot induce her to return to the injured husband, they usually send him a pig to soothe his wounded feelings.

Affinities.

Jennie had several dolls, but she liked to dress the kitten in the dolls' clothes and carry it around. "Cause," she explained, "her's alive and we have some sympathy together."

Always That Exception.

A PHILIPPINE TRAVELOGUE

THE ROMANTIC ISLANDS OF THE FAR EAST. PICTURES OF THEIR NATURAL BEAUTY AND HISTORIC SPOTS—BE-COMING A MECCA FOR TOURISTS AND A POPULAR WINTER RESORT.

The Zigzag on the Way to Bagulo, Summer Capital of the Philippines.

All aboard! Let's go! We're starting from Manila, the great picturesque, Americanized Oriental city, and will travel by automobile 200 miles to the north to Bagulo, the summer capital of the Philippines. The trip can also be made by train.

We have ahead of us one of the most scenic, spectacular and thrilling automobile trips in the world. We will have excellent roads all the way. The Philippines are, in fact, a paradise for motorists, possessing 3,500 miles of fine macadamized roads.

The first part of the trip is through typical small towns and then across the central plain of Luzon and through several rich and fertile provinces, where tropical vegetation is seen at its best. Here one is impressed with the great agricultural wealth of the Philippines, which represents one of the East's greatest producing areas, with the advantage of immense natural resources for the development of further production. It is regrettably true that even in the United States there is far from any real understanding of the potentialities of the islands.

At some points rice fields, looking in the distance like the greenest of green lawns, stretch away as far as the eye can see. If you want color, if you want to feel the romance and mystery of an Oriental twilight, pass this way as the red eyed sun at the end of the dying day is slowly sinking behind the unending expanse of green fields. At first you cry out in ecstasy at the gorgeous scene. But as you ride along, your eyes fastened on the panorama of tints and colors, and with the impenetrably black Oriental night coming on fast, you become enthralled. You no longer try to express your feelings. You cannot. You realize that those now fast changing, colorful masterpieces in the heavens and on the landscape are pictures that no man can adequately describe nor human hands duplicate. So what's the use of trying!

True, these are but impressions, but the travelogue considers himself justified in mentioning them, for they are a part of the trip to Bagulo and return. Indeed, the gorgeous sunsets in all parts of the Philippines leave an impression on the mind of the tourist that is everlasting.

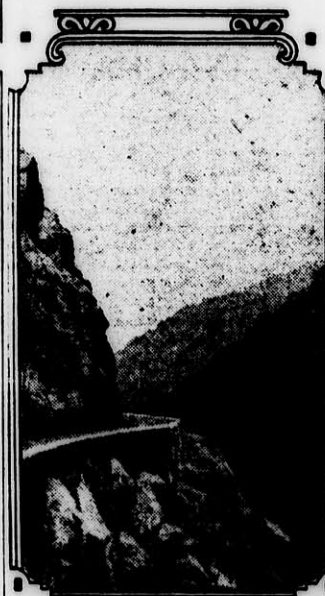

We leave the palms and tropical foliage and enter the zone of rugged pine. We pass from the soft, incense laden air of the warm lowlands to the crisp, invigorating ozone of the temperate zone, all within a few hours' time.

For mile after mile the road now follows the tortuous course of a river, the road lying in the bottom or on the rocky sides of a granite canyon.

The Philippines are rich in hydro-electric possibilities. This power is the cheapest power on earth. And it is everlasting. Your travelogue is neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but he predicts that one day there will be innumerable Philippine government owned hydro-electric plants in this canyon we are now passing through. Think of the possibilities of such a project! Today the trip from Manila to Bagulo is too expensive for the average Manila worker and his family, many of whom may live and die without beholding the wondrous beauties of their own island of Luzon. Think of what a blessing it would be to Filipino mothers and children to feel upon their fevered brows the cool, invigorating breezes of the mountain tops, now so near and yet so far! With the Philippine government owning its own electric railways and hydro-electric plants it would be possible to bring the trip to Bagulo within the means of hundreds of thousands of Filipinos. Not only is there sufficient power in this river to electrify a line from Manila to Bagulo, but to operate the street railways of Manila, light the city and furnish power for manufacturing concerns.

But we have now arrived at Camp One. From this point the scenery rapidly changes as the elevation increases. We are traveling over the famous Benguet road, the construction of which through the mountains is a most remarkable engineering triumph. At places the road is blasted out of the solid granite. Riding on the edge of a 100 foot precipice makes one feel like he is on the rim of the world. Some of the turns are so sharp it is impossible to see 20 feet ahead, and we seem to be perilously near the jumping off place. We wonder if it is safe to lean out and peer into the canyon far below, and when we do we are perfectly satisfied we are flirting with death. Yet the trip is a safe one, providing our driver has better nerves than our own. All too soon we reach the outskirts of Bagulo, a city among the clouds, and are rather surprised at the modern city we find it to be. In ten years Bagulo has grown from a village of huts to the now justly famed mountain resort of the Philippines, sometimes called the Philippine Simla. It is undoubtedly destined some day to become a large city.

Bagulo ranges in elevation from 4,500 to 5,500 feet and is surrounded practically on all sides by high mountain ridges and "hogbacks" towering into the skies at a height of almost 8,000 feet.

Aside from the scenery, which is noteworthy, the great blessing of Bagulo is its temperate climate, which is indeed a godsend to those impoverished by the tropical temperatures of the lowlands. Not only is the mountain air rich in ozone, but it has been demonstrated to be extraordinarily free from germs of all kinds.

Each year during the hot season the school teachers of the entire archipelago are enabled by the government to spend a month at the teachers' camp in Bagulo for recreation and conference on school work. American army officers and their families also go to Bagulo for the hot months.

And now that your travelogue has you in Bagulo, he believes he will leave you there, for there are many interesting side trips to take, and, besides, Bagulo is the most delightful place for a vacation in the entire Orient.

THE FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Fortnightly held its annual meeting on Monday afternoon at 2.30. At the business meeting, it was voted that the Club send the President as a delegate to the Biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Des Moines. The President announced that Mrs. Arthur E. Gates has been appointed as one delegate and urged that any member who will be able to go to Des Moines and who will be willing to serve as delegate from The Fortnightly, communicate with the President as soon as possible that she may receive the appointment.

A very comprehensive and interesting report of the year's work, which is printed in full below, as given by the Secretary who had condensed and assembled the reports of the chairmen of the various committees. The polls were closed at three. The result of the election was as follows: President, Mrs. Lora A. Bond; 1st vice-President, Mrs. Harriet C. S. Hildreth;

2nd vice-President, Mrs. Sarah J. Apsey; Secretary, Mrs. Lillian T. Mason; Treasurer, Mrs. Florence R. Scales; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Helen F. M. Jordan; Federation Secretary, Miss Cora Quimby;

Chairmen of Standing Committees: Art, Mrs. Gretchen H. West; Civics, Mrs. Alice Mudge; Conservation, Mrs. Loretta M. Woodside;

Dramatics, Mrs. Anna M. Edlefsen; Education, Mrs. Pearl S. Bond; Home Economics, Mrs. Lena M. Tarbell;

Literature, Mrs. Ada C. Getty; Legislation, Mrs. Mabel E. Bradley; Music, Mrs. Anna M. Mason;

Membership Committee: For 3 years, Mrs. Lilla W. Sanderson; For 3 years, Mrs. Myrtle L. Hodge;

Finance Committee:

For 3 years, Mrs. Adelaide G. Crowell; Nominating Committee for 1920-1921: Mrs. Mabel G. Nichols, Mrs. J. Arabelle Punchard, Mrs. Blanche U. Shultis, Mrs. Marguerite Jones, Mrs. Anna E. Lane.

Seldom has the Club had the pleasure of listening to a more delightful entertainment than was rendered by Mr. Crawford Adams, violinist, accompanied by Miss Nan G. Synott, pianist. Mr. Adams' interpretation of the varied program of classical and popular music, will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to have heard him. The Souvenir, by Fanzie Drala, and Schubert's Ave Maria might be mentioned as special evidence of his genius. Dvorak's Humoresque, he made singularly complex by intermingling the melody of Home Sweet Home. His rendition of the Hungarian Waltz showed his remarkable technique. Miss Synott's genius as an accompanist equals that of Mr. Crawford as a violinist. She is a pianist of unusual talent, an artist in every sense of the word. The perfect sympathy that existed between the two throughout the entire program was most remarkable.

On account of the holiday, Monday, April 19th, the Literature Class will meet on Tuesday, April 20th, at 3 o'clock, in the High School Library. The study upon Lady Gregory's Life and works will be directed by Miss Richmond. Tea will be served. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

An important Club event will occur Friday, April 23rd in the all day Conservation Conference under the supervision of the Conservation Committee. This will be held in Metcalf Hall of the Unitarian Church, morning session at 10.30; afternoon session at 1.45. All Club members in the State are invited and especially those of the Sixth District. Club tickets admit members to this Conference. It is most desirable that every member of The Fortnightly should consider herself personally a hostess on this occasion. At noon there will be a box luncheon. Coffee will be served free and ice cream may be had for a nominal sum. Members of our Club are urged to bring their lunches and meet cordially the visitors from other clubs. The program promises to be a most interesting and instructive one. During the morning, Mrs. Irvig O. Palmer, State Federation Chairman on Thrift, will speak. There will be a stereopticon lecture on Birds and a brief talk upon the Junior Audubon Society by Mrs. Goode of the State Conservation Committee. A demonstration of Pruning of Trees and vines will be most practical. In the afternoon, Mr. Harris A. Reynolds, State Secretary of the Massachusetts Forestry Association, will give a talk on Reforestation. As a crowning feature of the Conference, the Committee has been most fortunate in securing Mr. Loring Underwood, landscape architect, to give his lecture on "Old New England Gardens." Club members must present club tickets for admission to this lecture. Non-members may purchase tickets at the door.

The Fortnightly luncheon will take place at Hotel Vendome, May 3rd, at 1 P. M. Tickets may be purchased of the following committee: Mrs. I. E. Gamage, Mrs. F. E. Hollins, Mrs. E. A. Tutein, Mrs. George Heintz, Mrs. W. R. Moorhouse, and also of Mrs. F. T. Carpenter, Woman's Exchange. Any member of the club kindly offering her automobile to convey those who have no cars and prefer to go that way, please notify one of the above committee.

The annual meeting and election of the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association was held in the small town hall on Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance, notwithstanding the stormy weather. Reports of the Secretary, Treasurer and various officers and committees were read and received. Mrs. James W. Russell, Jr., president of the Association, presided.

The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Dr. Percy Kammerer, assistant at the Emanuel Church, Boston, who gave an interesting talk on the work his church is doing in mental and physical instruction.

lege, from which he was graduated in 1873. At college he was popular and early proved his ability as an orator, winning various prizes in debates. He was active in athletics, played on the base-ball nine, and was on the first Yale foot-ball team. He always kept up his keen interest in everything that related to Yale, and was a familiar figure at the Yale-Harvard foot-ball game. He studied law in the office of Morse & Hardy, in Boston, and was admitted to the Suffolk Bar in 1875. Shortly after his admission to the Bar, during the following May, he was married to Lilla S. Thomas, and three daughters and a son were born to them.

Mr. Elder was highly successful in the practice of law, and was regarded as one of the leading members of the Boston Bar. His reasoning was keen and logical; he had the ability to present law and facts cogently and persuasively; and he was eminently successful in the trial of jury cases. It is said of him that he seemed to understand the working of the mind of the ordinary jurymen, and that he so won the hearts of the jury by his courteous treatment of witnesses and the opposing counsel and by his eloquent presentation of his case that the jurymen were moved to find for him whenever the case hung in the balance. His reputation was not local, but was international. You will recall that in 1910, he was selected by President Roosevelt as one of the senior counsel for the United States before the Hague tribunal in the North Atlantic Fisheries case. He spent months in preparation, and in the trial of that famous case before that august international tribunal. With him was associated the Honorable Elihu Root, and it is interesting, and in no disparagement to Mr. Root, to note that, out of the seven subjects matter discussed on behalf of the United States, Mr. Elder was successful in the five that were assigned to him. In recognition of his ability, he was offered a seat on the Superior Court bench, and President Taft desired to appoint him as a Judge in the newly formed Commerce Court; but Mr. Elder, preferring active practice, declined both these honors.

Mr. Elder sought no political office, although he was deeply interested in our international political welfare. I think the only public office which he ever held was when he represented Winchester and Arlington for one term in the Massachusetts Legislature. From this office he voluntarily retired. He was a delegate to the National Republican Convention in 1908, and in 1912, he represented President Taft before the Committee on Credentials in the Republican Convention. His counsel was sought in national affairs, and he enjoyed the friendship and confidence of many of our national leaders.

In the framing of our copyright laws, we are indebted much to Mr. Elder. He had devoted much study to the technicalities of the copyright laws and was regarded as an authority in matters relating to copyrights, and I understand that he had participated in preparation a treatise on copyrights.

In spite of the fact that Time had silvered his hair, Sam Elder, as we knew him, was always young. He had the spirit of eternal youth. He had a keen sense of humor, and he was witty and quick at repartee, but his shafts of wit never rankled in the breasts of those who received them. His bearing was always marked by the greatest courtesy, and all men seemed to be his friends; he treated the menial who served him with the same courtesy and friendliness with which he treated the greatest. Like Kim, he was "a friend of all the world." It was only two years ago, you will remember, that he joined in the fun and banter at one of our Club dinners and charmed us with his graceful eloquence and delightful stories. It has been said of him "that he had a most happy outlook on life. He would meet the frowns and frowns of fortune with a smiling face. He seemed to live according to the ideal of the old Greek poet 'not with glory but with peace may the long summers find me crowned—the fiercely great hath little music on his path.' So our brother lived his life. He commanded the confidence of an ever widening circle of men and women; he won the love of children. He left the world full of friends and pleasant memories of what he had been and what he had done."

His children, the Misses Elder, and the son, who bears the name of his beloved father, have presented the Club a photograph of Samuel J. Elder, and in their name I make this presentation. (The framed portrait was unveiled.)

May the spirit of brotherhood and good will, which his life shed on those about him, ever mark this happy family of club brethren. We need not his picture to bear him in loving memory, and yet we are proud to have it, that it may serve as an inspiration to follow, so far as we may, in his worthy footsteps.

Mr. Elder, as you know, had the degree of Doctor of Laws conferred upon him by Yale University, in recognition of his public service. In closing I will read to you the rarely felicitous words with which his beloved Alma Mater conferred this degree upon him:

"His fertile nature, his rare culture, his gentle and unselfish character, his ardor in support of clean and high ambitions, make him one whom it is a delight to know, a necessity to love, and a privilege to honor."

And so, returning to the story of Abou Ben Adhem,—you will remember that on the second visit of the angel there was brought a list of those whom the Lord had blotted for love of fellow men.

"And lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest."

So can it be said of Sam Elder.

At the conclusion of his remarks the picture, which stood on the stage covered by an American flag, was uncovered, and a unanimous vote was passed conveying the thanks of the Club to the givers of the picture, together with a copy of Mr. May's acceptance. In this connection a committee of three including Messrs. Marcus B. May, E. Henry Stone and Winfield F. Prime, was appointed by the President to represent the Club.

The resolution prepared by the Committee and spread upon the Club records is as follows:

WHEREAS, the Misses Elder and Samuel J. Elder have presented to the Calumet Club a portrait of their father, Samuel J. Elder, long an honored member of the Club, a friend and fellow townsman, and we, the members of the Club desiring to record the high esteem in which he is held, and our appreciation of the gift,

RESOLVED,
That the thanks of the Club be extended to the donors of this gift with the message that, in placing the portrait on the walls of the Club House, there will be a constant reminder to us of the sterling worth, and lovable and Christian character of one, who was dear to us—Samuel J. Elder, a man "with high erected thoughts seated in the heart of courtesy."

The election following resulted in the selection of these officers for the current year:

President—William S. Olmstead
Vice-President—Samuel E. Perkins
Secretary—Fred H. Farnham
Treasurer—James M. Flinn

Directors: John H. Taylor, James E. Corey, John C. Kerrison.

Remarks were made by President Olmstead and Vice-President Perkins outlining the endeavor of the administration for the coming year members.

The roll of deceased members who passed away during the past year was read, the company standing during the ceremony. Reports of previous meetings were also read by Secretary Farnham.

The entertainment followed the meeting, a very fine musical program by the Venetian Trio occupying an hour and a half and giving great pleasure to all.

QUESTION CONCERNING MR. HOOVER

Editor of the "Star":

In the recently published letter of our townsman, Mr. Chandler M. Wood to Mr. Hoover, I note this significant paragraph:—

"I have assisted in the organization of the Hoover Democratic Club of Massachusetts, which was formed for the purpose of securing your nomination for President on the Democratic ticket. I believe that your intimate association with the present administration, the general sympathy you had always exhibited toward its policies and accomplishments your appeal two years ago for the election of a Congress that would support President Wilson, and your progressive and independent tendencies, would make it consistent for you to accept such a nomination."

Granting that Mr. Hoover possesses all the attributes claimed for him by his friend, is there to be found in that situation any compelling reason for giving Mr. Hoover the Republican nomination for the Presidency, when we are not suffering from a dearth of able candidates who have not always exhibited a "general sympathy towards the present administration, its policies and accomplishments?"

Which policy and accomplishment of this shifty and incompetent administration has Mr. Hoover's sympathy and support?

Is it the policy of 1916, when it sought a re-election because "He kept us out of war," or is it that later policy of 1919, when, intoxicated by his love for war, he seeks to place our country under the domination of foreign governments and declares that we shall have nothing but the one-man-made peace?

It will be found that the voters will look with most favor upon the candidate who does not endorse for President one who constitutes himself the whole Government but one who duly credits the accomplishment of the whole American people who were not "too proud to fight," and who, after repudiating the administration and rejecting Mr. Hoover's advice in 1918, won the Great World War.

PREPARE GARDEN SOIL CAREFULLY

Home garden soils should be carefully prepared for planting. Proper preparation and fertilization of a home garden is half the battle won. Most home gardeners in this section, because of the prevalence of the European corn borer, would do well to rake up and burn corn stubble, large weeds and other debris about the garden. Most of our back-yard gardeners suffer for want of humus, and under ordinary conditions we would not think it best to burn up the debris on the surface of the soil, as it should be worked in. Because of the borer trouble, however, it is much better to destroy this form of humus and plan to apply it through stable manure, rye, clover, and other material which can be planted on the soil after the vegetables are off. Some backyards are wet and heavy. The texture of the soil can be improved by mixing in sifted coal ashes. Coal ashes have little or no value as a fertilizer.

As suggested last week, practically all garden soil was acid, and in need of a liberal application of lime. Most home gardens will be spaded rather than plowed. In spading it is well to turn the soil over and to dig it much deeper than we have in the past. After the soil has been spaded the lime should be applied and the surface soil thoroughly raked. If one is using stable manure, and it is desirable to where it is available, it should be applied before the spading is done.

One cannot be too thorough in the preparation of the seed bed. It should be raked and raked so that the surface soil will be thoroughly pulverized. If home mixed or ready mixed fertilizers are used in addition to the stable manure, it will be well to apply a larger share of same to the surface soil and work it in during the raking process.

The first planting of early garden peas can now be safely done. Following are varieties recommended by the County Bureau as being well suited to local conditions:

Pole beans (shell) Carmine Horticultural.
Pole beans (snap and shell) Kentucky Wonder.

Bush beans (green snap) Bountiful Refugee.

Bush beans (wax snap) Wardwell's Kidney Wax.

Bush beans (shell) French Horticultural.

QUALITY AND SERVICE

Winchester, Mass.,
February 23, 1920.

ORDERED—That the following rules and regulations relating to the protection of the public ways, during building operations; governing the erection and maintenance of billboards, clocks, marquees, flag poles, awnings and other like structures; and governing the location of poles in the public streets and placing wires thereon be and are hereby adopted, to wit:—

Section 1. No excavation shall be made in or under a street or sidewalk, nor shall any barricade, scaffold, covering or other temporary structures be erected in or over a street or sidewalk during building operations, without a permit therefor. Such permit may be issued by the Superintendent of Streets and may specify the time during which such obstruction may continue. The person making such excavation shall protect it, with sheet piling if necessary or as required by the Superintendent, and shall protect all street mains, pipes and conduits to the satisfaction of the owners thereof and of the Superintendent, and shall not move any pipes, conduits or mains without proper authority. Any such obstruction in or over the street or sidewalk shall be guarded by the person making the same with lights at night, and in such other manner as the Selectmen or Superintendent may require. The Selectmen may require such person to file a bond with satisfactory sureties to protect the town from all liability during such work or obstruction.

Whenever any person is about to construct, alter, demolish, or remove the exterior wall of a building within five feet of the line of a public street, he shall cause that portion of the building bordering upon the street to be enclosed by a proper fence, not less than four feet high and at least five feet from the line of such building; the fence shall be made as much higher as the Superintendent shall direct, and it shall be maintained until all liability to accident from falling material ceases; he shall also maintain a walk, not less than 30 inches wide, satisfactory to the Superintendent around said fence as long as the sidewalk is obstructed, and he shall maintain proper lights from sunset to sunrise, if so required by the Superintendent, at both ends of such enclosed space.

In erecting, altering, repairing, demolishing, or removing any building, or structure, no person shall leave in any public street, any lumber or building material, rubbish, or remains of any old building for a longer period than shall in the opinion of the Superintendent be reasonably necessary under the circumstances; if allowed to remain in any street after dark, the person carrying on such operations shall cause a sufficient light, or lights, to be placed over, or near the same and kept lighted from sunset to sunrise. All rubbish from such operations shall be removed from the street before noon of the next secular day after it is placed there and if the person carrying on such operations fails so to remove it, it shall be removed by the Superintendent at the expense of such person.

Any person violating any provision of this section, or the preceding section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $50.

Note. For power to remove unsafe or dangerous buildings. See Stat. 1913, Ch. 655, Secs. 2, 3 (accepted by Winchester March 9, 1909) Secs. 4-10 (accepted by Winchester, June 13, 1918) and Sec. 60, R. L. Ch. 101, Secs. 1-5 (accepted by Winchester, March 17, 1913) R. L. Ch. 75, Secs. 67-69.

Section 2. No bill board, clock, marquee, flag pole, permanent awnings or other like structure (except poles, wires, conduits and appurtenances of railways, telegraph, telephone, water, gas, electric light, heat and power companies, fire escapes, and temporary structures herein provided for) shall hereafter be erected or placed in, or projecting for a distance of more than six inches over, any public highway without a permit therefor by the Board of Selectmen.

No awning or marquee shall extend over a sidewalk beyond a point one foot inside of the curb or outer edge of the sidewalk; no billboard or other structure except a flag pole or a sign made of cloth or similar material, shall extend over a public street, a distance of more than 6 feet, or if there is a sidewalk beyond a point one foot inside of the curb or outer edge of the sidewalk; all such billboards shall be steadfast and free from oscillation; the lower edge of any awning, bill board, flag or any other object extending over a sidewalk or street shall be at least 8 feet above the grade of the sidewalk or street beneath it.

Every awning, marquee, pole, bill board or structure on or over a sidewalk or street shall be kept in good repair and in safe condition, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner.

No sign shall be permitted to project more than six inches over a sidewalk which does not relate to some occupation or use of, or some business, profession, entertainment, exhibition or amusement, carried on or held upon the premises to which it is attached.

Note. See Regulations of Fire Prevention Commissioner for Metropolitan Dist. See Mass. R. L. C. 208, sec. 114, 115, St. 1917, c. 344 part V, sec. 9, St. 1915, ch. 176.

Every person violating any provision of this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five dollars for each day that he maintains any structure in violation of the provisions hereof, after five days' notice to remove the same has been given him by the Board of Selectmen.

Section 3. For outside work the requirements of the latest edition of the National Electric Code shall apply together with the following additional rules. Each petition to the Selectmen for the location of poles must be accompanied by a plan drawn to scale showing the proposed location of each pole; if a permit is granted a plan approved by the Selectmen showing the location allowed shall be placed on file with the Inspector of Wires. No two lines of poles bearing conductors of a like class shall be erected on any street, avenue, or square, and no two lines of poles shall be erected on the same side of any street, avenue or square. Poles must be set in the sidewalk not less than 10 inches from the outer side of the curb line, and shall not be located within 6 feet of any hydrant, nor within 10 feet of any lamp-post or any other pole except when they are designed to carry wires on intersecting streets.

All poles now standing or hereafter erected shall be suitably painted and kept in good condition to the satisfaction of the Inspector of Wires. So far as practicable each line of poles shall continue on the same side of the street. Poles (except poles of railway companies) shall be of substantially uniform height above ground and not less than 35 feet long; they shall be set not less than 6 feet in the ground and not more than 132 feet apart. So far as practicable, all poles shall be set near lot lines or in positions which will interfere as little as possible with private walks or driveways and with the view from dwelling houses; subject to this requirement they shall be spaced as uniformly as practicable.

Extensions must not be made on any pole without the approval of the Inspector of Wires. The second gain from the ground on every pole set in the streets and carrying wires shall be reserved for the wires owned by the Town of Winchester. Where cross-arms are designed to carry 6 or more wires they shall be supported with iron braces. All cross-arms shall be given at least two coats of paint. Pole brackets shall not be used on poles carrying electric wires of any kind; wires must be supported by cross-arms; where necessary a single wire may be supported on pins on the top of poles. When poles have been abandoned by all users they must be removed by the owners within 30 days thereafter unless a permit to retain them is granted by the Selectmen. Whoever removes a pole from the street, must report the same to the Inspector of Wires.

All live parts and conductors used with arc and incandescent lamps must be insulated from poles and supports in such a manner as to protect employees and other persons from accident, and the method of insulation must be approved by the Inspector of Wires. Guy wires must be insulated from poles and fixtures by inserting an approved insulator not less than 6 feet from point of attachment to pole. Wires running in the same direction as the line of poles shall be attached to the upper side only of cross-arms. All wires must be mounted on glass or porcelain weather-proof type insulators. The first point of attachment to buildings of lighting or power service wires must be not less than 9 feet above the ground, and any platform or structure on which persons may stand. All wiring along the face of buildings must be in iron conduit. No wires shall hang less than 20 feet from the street or sidewalk at the lowest point of sag. Where sharp angles occur, or where wires are so run that there is danger of their lifting from the insulators, guard irons shall be used to prevent their leaving the cross-arms.

The Inspector of Wires shall be the sole judge of what constitutes safe and proper construction and insulation of all wires, cables, and conductors, fixtures and appliances under the provisions of these Building Laws. Whenever, in the opinion of the Inspector of Wires, any overhead wires, cables or conductors, poles or fixtures, used for the transmission and distribution of electric current, are in an unsafe or dangerous condition, he shall notify the owner, and if he deems necessary cause the circuits to be entirely disconnected from the source of electrical supply.

Note.—See R. L. Chap. 25, Sec. 52-56; Chap. 122, Sec. 2, 18-21. Stat. 1911, Chap. 442, Chap. 509, Sec. 3-5; Stat. 1906, Chap. 463, Pt. 3, Sec. 7, 64; Stat. 1914, Chap. 742, Sec. 127; Stat. 1916, Chap. 166.

By order of the Board of Selectmen,
GEORGE S. F. BARTLETT, Clerk.

Note.—The above Sections numbered 1, 2 and 3 are the same as those numbered 173, 185 and 224 respectively, in "Revised Draft" of "The By-Laws Regulating Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas Fitting, March, 1920."

Here is a real thrift recipe for a tasty, nutritious dish prepared from less costly meat. It is issued by the Division of Women's Activities, Department of Justice. Use this recipe and save money on meat.

BEEF GOULASH

This may be made from the chuck. Cut the beef into cubes or slices and sprinkle with vinegar and a little summer savory. Add a teaspoonful of salt, and half teaspoonful of paprika; cook six onions for each two pounds of meat, slowly, in one-fourth of a cup of butter or butter substitute. Add the cooked onions to the meat, cover tightly, and cook slowly for about two hours. The liquid may be increased just before serving; by the addition of a little beef stock, or either sweet or sour cream.

SAVORY BEEF

2 pounds beef cut in size for serving (use plate, shank, rump or round)
3 large onions sliced
3 tablespoons lard
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoonful salt
1-4 teaspoon black pepper
1-4 teaspoon ground cloves and thyme or summer savory
1 pint brown stock or boiling water and meat extract
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon catsup
Brown onions slowly in lard. Increase the heat. Add meat and brown Mix the flour, pepper and other seasonings. Sprinkle this mixture over the meat. Add the stock, vinegar and catsup. Cover closely. Simmer until meat is tender, allowing two hours for shank or plate and 1-2 hours for rump or round.

BRISKET WITH ONION SAUCE

Wipe the meat with a damp cloth, and tie it into a compact shape with strips of cloth. Place it in a deep kettle with boiling water (or part of the stock if possible.) Add a soup bunch, several cloves and pepper-corns. Simmer until tender, add salt when partly cooked. Take the meat from the liquid, remove the cloth, and place it in a shallow baking dish. Beat one egg and spread over the beef, then sprinkle with coarse crumbs, and brown under a flame or in a hot oven.

For sauce—for a three-pound piece of meat—cut up half a cup of green onions and cook these with two table-spoons of butter or butter substitute. Brown slightly. Stir in two table-spoons of flour, and a cup and one-half from the stock of brisket, and a tablespoon of minced parsley. Keep the sauce over hot water, or in a double boiler, until the meat is finished. Pour the sauce over the meat and serve.

From left-over prepare beef croquettes. There should be enough left from this roll to prepare croquettes for a family of five for the second meal.

Water glass for preserving eggs.

on your Ford. Makes Fords work wonderfully smooth. Stops rattling, shaking—makes brakes quick-acting and positive.

Cork Insert is far the cheapest. One set outwears three sets of ordinary lining—saves expense of re-lining brakes. Does away with jarring and vibration—makes Fords last longer.

Ordinary linings get a slick surface from friction and oil. This slick surface hasn't any gripping power. The corks in Advance Cork Insert always grip and have great wearing quality.

We do expert repairing—always at your service. Full line of accessories—the best oils—greases—tires—tubes.

Rangeley

Winchester,

Massachusetts

We wish to announce that that part of the estate of Edwin Ginn, known as "Rangeley" has been taken over by us for the purpose of immediate sale in separate parcels.

It is unnecessary for us to explain or to emphasize the attractiveness of "Rangeley" for a home place which will please the most exacting tastes.

We are now sub-dividing the property into separate parcels and are offering attractive lots of 15,000 sq. ft. and up, suitably restricted. We have 15 houses on the property, all occupied at present by some of Winchester's leading citizens, all of which are for sale, ready for occupancy, at the expiration of the present leases, many of which expire within the next few months.

The prices set on these houses range from $10,000 to $25,000, with generous plots of land. More or less land may be had with each house.

It is our desire to maintain the parklike effect of "Rangeley" and altho' we will provide enough land for 40 foot streets for possible future use, no change will be made in the existing roadways.

The prices we have set on these houses and lots are far below their real value. We anticipate that some of the tenants will purchase the houses they are now in, but we are offering them to the first purchasers interested.

We wish to particularly call to the attention of the public the fact that "Rangeley" has been held by one owner, the Ginn Estate, for a number of years, and the present tenants have lived in these houses at nominal rents.

New Houses to be Built

Our Engineering department under the personal supervision of Mr. William J. Freethy, well known as the designer of some of the best houses in Winchester, is now drawing plans for new houses of the brick colonial type to be built on lots in "Rangeley". These houses will be arranged to suit any prospective purchaser and will be offered for sale from $20,000 to $30,000 each.

We invite co-operation and constructive criticism on this undertaking in Winchester. Our representatives are at your service.

This property is not offered through brokers.

"ALL OUT FOR THE 1920 HOME SERVICE APPEAL"

Babies are babies the world over and the Salvation Army's day nurseries in New England include some mightily representative little men and women of tomorrow, take it from the poster artist who was casting about for original Home Service Appeal poster material. Here's the choice of selection from the Boston Day Nursery; she's typical of the small folks whose welfare is one of the Salvation Army's big jobs of today. Maintenance of hospitals, maternity and rescue homes, day nurseries, fresh air camps, milk distributing centres, etc., are some of the reasons for which the Army will make its appeal throughout New England May 10 to 20 for a million and a quarter.

EXPENDED $2,000,000 DURING PAST YEAR

Col. Gifford Shows Why Salvation Army Needs $1,250,000 to Continue Work Throughout New England.

Boston, April 13—The Salvation Army expended during the past year nearly $2,000,000 in New England according to the statement today of Col. Adam Gifford, Commander of the organization forces in the six states in rendering "an accounting of stewardship" of the funds contributed last year for Home Service. Col. Gifford issued this statement to show why the Army needs $1,250,000 to continue its hospitals, maternity and rescue homes, day nurseries, fresh air camps, prison reform work and innumerable other activities for which the 1920 Home Service Appeal will be conducted May 10 to 20.

Up to January 31st exactly $1,643,954.63 had been paid out leaving a reserve of $108,037.27 to carry the organization in the six states until the end of May, a total outlay of $1,752,991.90.

The biggest item was $1,276,397.15 for the liquidation of mortgages, the purchase and erection of new buildings.

During the eight months ending with January the support of corps activities required, $145,521 with a reserve of $57,822, to provide for the needs during the subsequent four months. This included the maintenance of Army establishments, salaries, travelling and other expenses of workers in the province. The women's social department which included maintenance of maternity hospitals and other welfare activities for women and children cost $5,400, with $11,600 in reserve for the ensuing four months' needs. Maintenance of the provincial and divisional headquarters and their activities required $139,347.20 to the end of January, with $39,615 in reserve for maintenance until the end of May. The Army has a retired officers pension fund and New England's contribution to this was $53,000; the province's share for the maintenance of National Headquarters was $23,788.

"To conduct our work as we would like throughout the coming year New England will need approximately a million and a quarter," said Col. Gifford, "and it is our modest hope that the accounting of our stewardship will merit again the support of the kindly folk of New England."

THE PASSING PIPPA'S GIFT

Reproduction of Old Painting Presented to Salvation Army Hospital and Home by Wandering Girl Who Bought Refuge and Died.

In the girls' club and social room of the new Evangeline Booth Home and Maternity Hospital maintained by the Salvation Army in Boston, hangs a splendid reproduction of "The Light of the World." The acquisition of the picture forms one of the innumerable little stories with which this institution is replete.

During the recent influenza epidemic of a few months ago a girl, homeless, friendless and almost too seriously ill to keep her feet, tottered to the door of the Home and was immediately placed in one of the wards. She only lived a few days, but before she died she called one of the nurses to the side of her cot and explained that she had a little more than seventeen dollars in her purse, all she had in the world, and asked if this might be used to purchase some gift for the institution. The picture was her choice.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

The Board met at 7.30 P. M. all present.

The records of the meeting of April 5, 1920 were read and approved. Town Hall engagements 1920, Ladies Friendly Society: The Ladies Friendly Society was granted the use of the Town Hall for the purpose of conducting a May Party on Saturday, May 1, 1920.

Licenses 1920 Town Hall: Notice was received from the Chief of the District Police of Massachusetts quoting the statute in regard to the need of obtaining from the Chief of the District Police each year a license authorizing the Board to allow the use of the Town Hall for entertainments, etc. This license expires August 1, 1920. The matter was referred to the Inspector of Buildings for report.

Census: A complaint was received from Mrs. J. F. Ryan of 5 Cliff st., stating that no census enumerator had called at her residence. The Clerk was instructed to send a list to Mr. John J. Sullivan, Census Supervisor, 4th District, Mass. Concord, Mass. of all those who had sent complaints into the Board in regard to not being enumerated by the census enumerators.

Mementos: A letter was received from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge in reply to the Board's letter of recent date in regard to securing one or more of the captured German cannon which it is reported are being brought to this country. In his letter the Senator states "That thousands of bills have been introduced into Congress for the donation of captured German cannon to states and municipalities but no action has yet been taken on any of them and I assume that nothing will be done until some general policy is formulated, providing for this distribution." The Senator further states that he has introduced a number of bills at the request of city and town officials of Mass., and will take pleasure in presenting the bill in behalf of Winchester.

National Elections, Primary, April 27, 1920: Messrs. Patrick H. Fitzgerald, chairman and Whitfield L. Tuck, secretary of the Democratic Town Committee appeared before the Board in regard to election matters.

Word was received from Mr. William Adriance, republican and Mr. Bernard F. Mathews, Jr., democrat, that they would be unable to serve as election officers at this National Primary. Messrs. Leslie J. Johnston, republican and James H. Mathews, democrat, were appointed election officers in place of Messrs. Adriance and Bernard F. Mathews, Jr.

Signs: The Superintendent of streets reported that he had placed a new sign on the town line of Winchester-Stoneham on Forest street.

Church and Common streets: The Superintendent of streets reported that the temporary arch of welcome at the corner of Church and Common streets has been removed in accordance with a vote of the Board.

Town men took down the "Welcome Home" arch at the entrance to the Common Monday. This was ordered taken down some time ago, but owing to the weather it could not be done. The men made short work of demolishing the structure, the steam road roller pulling up the posts as the final portion to be removed. The arch had reached the stage when it was necessary to lay out more money on it, and as all the Winchester boys in service reached home months ago, it was thought unnecessary to maintain it longer.

YOKOHAMA MAID

High School Pupils Present Operetta At Town Hall

Although Winchester waited this year until well into the Spring for its usual amateur show, it came at last on Friday evening under the auspices of the High School Musical Clubs, and proved well worth waiting for. An audience which filled both the large and small town halls was interestingly entertained for two hours by a tuneful and well presented musical comedy which surprised more than a few by the ability and talent displayed by the young artists. To them all, individually and collectively, credit is accorded for giving a good show.

The selection of the "Yokohama Maid," with its Japanese setting and tuneful music was very acceptable, and the young artists fitted into the various characters remarkably well. The principals numbered ten of the scholars, while in the chorus were fifty-five, more the average age of the cast, as the program announced, being 15 years. Even without taking this into consideration the show was well presented, and when one considered the effort even more appreciated, for the average audience in its endeavor to make allowances becomes really more critical.

To the supervisor of music in the public schools, Mr. Richard W. Grant, who directed and coached the operetta, all credit outside the individual talent should be given. Mr. Grant turned out a finished and satisfactory product.

The music was well suited for the cast, and some of it, although very ambitious for young performers, was well above the average. Mr. Evan Kibbe, who took the principal masculine role, was excellent, and he played opposite Miss Helen Raynor, who with her dainty personality and sweet voice yielded not one bit of prestige to him. Others in the cast were excellent too, and some of the solos and duets had to be repeated several times to satisfy the audience.

JAMES E. LYON

Former President of Calumet Club Dead

Mr. James E. Lyon, aged 66 years, died suddenly at his home on Dix street Tuesday. He was the fourth president of the Calumet Club, holding office in 1890.

Mr. Lyon was born in Westfield, Mass., and was the son of the late Charles Edwin and Cordelia (Shumway) Lyon. He was for many years in the spice and wholesale grocery business in Boston, and at the time of his death was department manager for Wm. Flanders Co., wholesale grocers.

He married Miss Lydia Carlton Marvin, daughter of the late Rev. Elihu P. and Julia Carlton Marvin, October 12, 1881. His wife survives him, together with one daughter, Mrs. Esther L. Lyon, two sisters, Mrs. Frank J. Chaplin and Mrs. Austin S. Kilburn of Newton, and one brother, Mr. Charles W. Lyon of Melrose.

He was one of the first presidents of the Calumet Club, serving fourth in line, in the year 1890. He was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, the Boston City Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Friday) at his late residence, 10 Dix street, at 2.45, the Rev. William L. Worcester, general pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem (Swedenborgian) Boston, officiating. The burial will be in Wildwood cemetery.

Mr. Lyon resided for 13 years in Winchester, leaving 25 years ago to make his home in Medford. He returned to Winchester to live last November.

EDWARD R. GROSVENOR

Assumes Duties of Cashier at National Bank

Mr. Edward R. Grosvenor of Uxbridge recently appointed to the position of cashier at the Winchester National Bank, assumed his new duties here last week. Mr. Harold E. FREIGHT THIEF CAUGHT

Much Loot Recovered by Police on Railroad Saturday

Last Saturday was an active day for the Winchester police department, for in addition to other activities officers recovered a large quantity of stolen goods on the Boston & Maine railroad right of way and Sgt. Thomas F. McCauley captured one of the thieves.

Thousands of dollars worth of merchandise has been stolen recently from the railroad, and every effort is being made to stop the thefts. Saturday's capture will undoubtedly put a stop to some of the work which has been going on in this neighborhood. The incident opened at 10 o'clock Friday night when James F. Cummings, an electrician living on Grove place, found two gallon jars of chemical beside the track just below Wedgemere station. He notified Metropolitan Park police officers. Saturday morning station agent Cardinal at Wedgemere went on a little sleuthing expedition of his own. He discovered a large case of shoes hidden in a pile of sleepers below the station along side the Parkway. He notified the Winchester police.

With this evidence in hand the Winchester police and B. & M. Railroad detectives went over the ground Saturday afternoon, and as a result of their expedition four cases of shoes, a carton of collars and a woman's suit were uncovered in various piles of sleepers between Wedgemere station and the Grove street bridge. The stuff was not molested and the officers retired to the bushes between the tracks and Mystic Lake to watch for further developments.

At about four o'clock two men walked up the tracks towards Wedgemere. As they passed the piles of sleepers they stopped for a moment and gave them a casual "look-over." They did not attempt however to remove anything. After they reached the Wedgemere station they turned and walked back down the Parkway, crossing the strip between that and the tracks and finally commenced the removal of a quantity of shoes which had been taken from a case.

They evidently were suspicious, for before finishing the work they suddenly started off. The officers im-

SET CLOCKS AHEAD

The State daylight saving law will go into effect at 2 A. M. Sunday, April 25th, at which time standard time will be advanced one hour. Attention is called to the statement of railroad time as adopted by the Boston & Maine R. R. which is printed in this issue.

CHESTER B. KELLEY

Winchester Man Drowned at Provincetown Saturday

Mr. Chester B. Kelley of Foxcroft road was drowned at Provincetown Saturday night when he was rowing out to a dory anchored off shore. The skiff which he and his companion were using filled and sank during the trip, and although Mr. Kelley was able to swim to the dory, he succumbed to the icy water and sank. His body was recovered the next morning on the sand where it was left by the receding tide.

Mr. Kelley, in company with his wife, the latter's sister, Miss Dorothy Wingate of Medford, Mrs. William Milliken of Roxbury and Mr. Francis Culbertson of Boston, left Friday to spend the holidays at Provincetown at their summer cottage. Mr. Kelley and Mr. Culbertson were fishing during Saturday afternoon and when they came ashore the low tide made it necessary to leave their dory some distance off the beach. About 7 o'clock they started out to bring it in on the incoming tide. To reach the dory they secured a small skiff, and although they tried it to see if it was watertight before starting out, they had only gone about half the distance when it filled.

Mr. Kelley, who was a strong swimmer, started to swim to the dory. Mr. Culbertson remaining clinging to the swamped skiff. Mr. Kelley called back to Mr. Culbertson that he had reached the dory, but when rescuers arrived he had disappeared. Mr. Culbertson was rescued in an exhausted condition.

Chester Byron Kelley was widely known in Winchester, where he had spent his life since infancy. He was the son of the late Anthony and Lizzie (Chase) Kelley. He attended the local schools and later Andover Academy, from which he entered the Union Paste Company under his father.

He leaves his wife, Miss Helen Wingate, whom he married in 1908, and two children, Dana Wingate Kelley and Priscilla Kelley. He also leaves three brothers, Joshua C. Kelley and Herbert W. Kelley of this town, and Edward A. Kelley of Arlington, all of whom were associated with him in the Union Paste Company.

Mr. Kelley was 36 years old. He was a Mason and a member of William Parkman Lodge of this town. St. Paul's Chapter of Boston, and Medford Council.

Largely attended funeral services were held at the Church of the Epiphany on Tuesday afternoon conducted by Rev. John W. Suter, rector honorarius, assisted by Rev. Murray W. Dewart, rector of the church. The music was by the full choir, and the display of floral offerings was very profuse and magnificent. The services were attended by many delegations from fraternal organizations and business associates. The pall bearers were the three brothers of the deceased, Messrs. Joshua C., Edward A. and Herbert Kelley, and a cousin, Mr. Edwin K. Bearse of West Harwich. The burial was in Wildwood cemetery.

WINCHESTER HIGH vs. WOBURN HIGH

On April 19th Winchester High played its first game of the season with Woburn and won it 12-8. The lack of practice was evident in the number of errors, but at the bat Winchester showed up better. There was an exceptionally large crowd at the field, both from Woburn and the home town.

HOW THE TRAINS WILL MEET DAYLIGHT SAVING

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has enacted a daylight saving law which becomes effective at 2.00 A. M. Sunday, April 25th, 1920, and continues in effect until 2.00 A. M. Sunday, October 31, 1920, under which the standard time in Massachusetts will be advanced one hour.

The Boston and Maine Railroad, as an interstate carrier, in common with other railroads operating in Massachusetts, will continue to observe the Eastern Standard Time, and the time shown in folders and on railroad clocks will, therefore, indicate 2.00 o'clock when clocks conforming to Massachusetts time indicate 3.00 o'clock. Patrons should keep this in mind when arranging for railroad journeys.

All local Boston and Maine Railroad system trains (except as otherwise designated in time-tables) and all through trains originating on the Boston and Maine Railroad system and terminating on the lines of other railroads will, be scheduled one hour earlier than at present. Through trains from other railroads may be operated on revised schedules to be announced later.

The foregoing arrangement has been decided upon after most careful consideration as one which will accommodate the greatest number and occasion the minimum inconvenience. The present schedules are designed to serve the interests of all communities, irrespective of state boundaries, and any attempt to adjust them to meet local conditions in various states due to difference in time would cause the breaking of many connections and a complete disruption of the present schedules, with consequent inconvenience to patrons.

The following examples are illustrative of the proposed schedules:

A train leaving Boston at 5.00 P. M. will be scheduled to leave at 4.00 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, this being 5.00 P. M. Massachusetts and New York Daylight Saving Time.

Similarly, a train now scheduled to leave a station at 8.00 A. M. will be scheduled to leave at 7.00 A. M., Eastern Standard Time, this being 8.00 A. M. Massachusetts and New York Daylight Saving Time.

F. T. GRANT, General Passenger Agent

REAL ESTATE IS ACTIVE

Rumors of real estate activity in Winchester continue to grow at an alarming rate. If the STAR were to publish all of the reported sales which have come to notice this week a large part of the town would be homeless forthwith. Out of consideration to our friends and with the desire that no one be deprived of his hearthstone we announce only the following:

It is reported that Mr. Lucius Smith has purchased of Blank Brothers the single house at 38 Park avenue. The property is occupied at present by Mr. Edward J. Sears.

Mr. Justin L. Parker is reported to have purchased of Philip J. Blank the house on Mt. Vernon street adjoining the Wadleigh school.

Mr. George B. Whitehouse is reported to have purchased of P. J. Blank the three houses at Nos. 45, 47 and 49 Myrtle terrace. These houses are occupied by Messrs. Lindsey E. Bird, Hollis L. Riddle and John B. Howard.

Mr. Edmund C. Sanderson is reported to have sold his house at the corner of Washington street and Park avenue to Mr. Norman V. Osborne. This house is occupied by Mr. J. Albert Hersey and Mr. George Purring-ton.

There are numerous others of our friends who are looking for houses, some of their names being announced next week.

MT. HOLYOKE DANCE

One of the Social events of last week was a dance at the Country Club Saturday evening for the benefit of the Mount Holyoke College Endowment Fund. The hall was prettily decorated with lanterns and College banners secured thru the efforts of Miss Marian Nichols. One of the features was two prize dances under the direction of Mrs. Louise S. Lester. Punch and ice cream was served during the intermission. The matrons were Mrs. James E. Corey, Mrs. Lillian T. Mason, Mrs. James S. Allen and Mrs. Harold M. Woodbury. Mrs. Woodbury wishes to thank all those whose efforts contributed towards making the evening a social and financial success.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

At the assembly of April 16, in observance of Patriots' Day, Annette Mason read an original poem about Paul Revere, and there was singing by the school.

At the period following the general assembly the Freshmen Girls in Commercial English presented a very creditable patriotic program of recitations, songs and dancing.

The Freshmen Girls in College English are reading the Merchant of Venice and several members have been presenting parts of the play before the class.

In both of the classes mentioned the program was arranged and presented entirely of their own initiative.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending April 22: Scarlet fever 4, measles 2, mumps 4, tuberculosis 1, lobar pneumonia 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ami Winn of Marion road left Monday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Rony Snyder, at Philadelphia.

OUR DUTY

An important Presidential Election is before us. Everybody must do their duty.

Something must be done to bring our country out of the present spirit of unrest and make business conditions normal again.

We need a REPUBLICAN Executive, with a good strong REPUBLICAN government back of him, to accomplish these results.

Tuesday next we elect delegates to the National Convention.

It is important that we send the right kind of progressive, sound thinking men to this convention.

We have just this type of man as our candidate from Winchester—

Lewis Parkhurst

unpledged so that he may be free to use his own judgement, and accomplish the best results.

REPUBLICANS of Winchester make your first step in the right direction.

YOU can only bring about results by doing your share and voting at the primaries.

SEE that your neighbor goes also.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

APRIL 16, 1920

The Board met in special session, all present.

The records of the meeting of April 12 were read and approved.

Eastern Mass. St. Ry. Company (Fares): A letter was received from the Eastern Mass. St. Railway Co. in reply to the Board's letter to the Public Service Commission, (letter forwarded by this Commission to the Street Railway Co.) in regard to Mr. William J. Stevenson's complaint about car fares in Winchester. The letter states that the fare from Everett Ave. to the Winchester-Woburn line is 15 cents as it is just south of the zone limit at Church and Cambridge streets, and the Winchester-Woburn line is in the middle of the zone which extends from Winchester Square to Woburn Square. A copy of the letter was ordered sent to Mr. Stevenson.

Church Street (Tree): A letter was received from Mr. Roland A. Sherman in regard to a case just reported by the Massachusetts Supreme Court with reference to a town's liability in damages for injuries caused by trees within the limits of a public highway. The letter was ordered filed.

Memorial Day: The following letter was received from the Chairman of Committee on Welfare and Memorials, Winchester Post No. 97, The American Legion.

April 13, 1920.
"Board of Selectmen,
Winchester, Mass.
"Gentlemen:—

"At a recent meeting of the Winchester Post No. 97 of the American Legion it was unanimously voted to offer the services of the Post to the Town on Memorial Day. Will you kindly incorporate this matter in your records?"

"I shall be pleased to hear further from your Board regarding the part which the Town desires the Post to take in the observance of Memorial Day."

"Very truly yours,
WILLIAM E. RAMSDELL,
Chairman of Committee on Welfare and Memorials, Winchester Post No. 97, The American Legion.

The matter was referred to Mr. Kidder to take up with Post No. 97, American Legion and also the A. D. Weld Post G. A. R. The observance of Memorial Day and the money appropriated by vote of the Town comes under the direction of the A. D. Weld Post G. A. R.

Street Lights 1920: A letter was received from the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. calling attention to the fact that owing to the "Daylight saving plan" the street lighting service can be extended one hour later each night with no additional cost. The Clerk was instructed to write the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. that the Board would not have the lights burn later than 1 o'clock A. M. Street Lights 1920: The matter of whether or not the lights should be shut off after 12 or 12:30 P. M. was referred to the Committee on Street Lights for report.

The meeting adjourned at 9 P. M.
GEORGE S. F. BARTLETT,
Clerk of Selectmen

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Much interest has been expressed in the result of the work of the Home Economics Com. in providing milk for the school children under the supervision of Dr. Moore.

There are two classes of ten girls, one in the Chapin School the other in the Wyman School, selected from children who are not strong, or who are undersized for their years. They are taught the advantage of clean teeth, open windows, baths, fresh air, at night etc., and are very enthusiastic in carrying out the work planned for them. They are weighed every two weeks to ascertain gain or loss.

The afternoon session of the State Conference will be held in the town hall, admission by club ticket.

The program of the next club meeting April 26th will be given by the "Pierce Players" Harry Raymond Pierce and Zulette Pierce. It is said that they have no equal in their line of endeavor, that they can so completely change their personality, they are so versatile, that their combination of talent conveys the impression that at least four artists are performing.

The meeting of the Literature class was held on Tuesday at the High School Library.

Miss Richmond as leader gave a very interesting account of the life of Lady Gregory, calling her the Grandmother of the Irish Playright.

Even though seventy years of age, she is sure that in Ireland at least, the laugh is more valuable than tears, and many a play begun as a tragedy has had its scheme changed that the laugh may be heard.

"The Bogey Man" was acted by two lads, Gordon Corliss and Edward Taylor. This was very well done and a realistic fight was brought about when Toague called his cousin a liar.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. Etc.

Dry Cleanse and Dyeing

Now is the time to look over your wardrobe and arrange for dry cleansing and dyeing. We extend our service to you, calling at your home and returning all articles with promptness and dispatch.

Wearing apparel should be cleansed often—it is insurance against germs, dust, stains, soils, etc. Present high prices of clothing would seem to demand the making of one's wardrobe last as long as possible.

THE WINCHESTER LAUNDRY COMPANY

MANY FIRES MONDAY

Patriot's Day was the occasion for a number of brush fires about town, and the fire department was kept busy during the entire afternoon and well into the evening. The largest fire was that on the west side hills. This fire burned into Winchester territory from Lexington, and before it was extinguished Winchester, Lexington and Arlington departments fought it. During the afternoon the great clouds of smoke which rolled up on the sky line were the most magnificent ever seen here during any other woods fire, the white and brown billows reaching high in the air and drifting with the high wind to the south. This fire called the department out at 1:20 P. M. and kept the men busy until 10 at night.

At 10:59 in the morning burning grass at 34 Everett Avenue called out the chemical, and at 2:20, while the big west side fire was in progress, a grass fire at the Calumet Club created considerable excitement. Box 55 was rung in for this fire which was very threatening and narrowly missed burning the club house. While this fire was in progress box 7-64 was sounded for a grass fire on Prince Avenue. The latter fire did no damage.

BEST SELECTED AT COUNTRY CLUB

The best selected nine in 18 holes competition at the Winchester Country Club Saturday resulted in a win for Claude M. Crafts, 37-8-29. Seventy players took part. The summary: R. S. Dunbar, 34-31; P. W. Dunbar, 36-33; N. Seelye, 38-33; A. M. Bond, 37-33; J. Wheeler Jr., 37-33; H. V. Hovey, 42-33; S. T. Hicks, 36-34; W. R. Walker, 41-34; M. E. Brown, 38-34; W. G. Page, 38-35; R. L. Smith, 38-35; P. A. Hendrick, 40-36; J. W. Osborne, 47-36; G. H. Musgrave, 44-37; C. H. Cummings, 47-38; B. K. Stephenson, 42-49.

PROPERTY VALUES HAVE INCREASED—Have You Increased Your Insurance?

In five years, building cost has increased about 65 per cent; furniture cost, about 127 per cent, and clothing cost, about 129 per cent. Consequently, there has been a great increase in the values covered by the usual policy on dwelling houses and their contents.

If you were burned out today, would your loss draft from the insurance company pay its rightful share of the present cost of replacing your property?

If you have not enough insurance, permit us to consider with you what amount you should carry.

FREIGHT THIEF CAUGHT

mediately gave chase, shooting at them as they ran. The pair made off across country and got a fairly good start. They ran across Grove street and through the Brooks estate in the direction of Oak Grove Cemetery.

Sergeant McCauley took the automobile and drove down Grove street and through the Russell farm, coming onto the main road at the Cemetery just in time to take into custody one of the men. The other eluded his pursuers somewhere in the cemetery.
The captured man, beyond giving his name as Frank Allen of Rochester, N. Y., would not talk.

The loot recovered and taken to the Winchester police station consisted of four cases of 124 pairs of shoes, a carton of collars and a woman's suit from R. H. Stearns & Co. All of the stuff was taken from an express car of the Lowell, Manchester & Concord Express Co. This company runs several cars up on a night freight passing through town around ten o'clock.
The goods were thrown off on the Bacon Curve and men awaiting hid it in the sleepers. It is possible that they were at work when the first case of chemicals was found.

On Sunday another search of the stretch of track revealed another case of shoes in a pile of sleepers in West Medford. All of the loot was taken to the Winchester police station. The shoes the two men were taking away Saturday when the officers interrupted them were all loose, they having been taken from the boxes Friday night and 24 empty shoe boxes were found laying besides the tracks. The thieves attempted to take some of these shoes away with them, and the following officers recovered five pair during the chase three pair being found in the cemetery.

Just Where and How Is the Money to be Spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Interchurch World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its budget under six main heads:

1 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK
AT HOME. A score of times come under this head. Consider only one.
Five and a half million people in the United States cannot even read and write the English language. Who is to carry forward this vast work of Americanization if the church does not?

2 FOR HOSPITALS AND HOMES.
Every year thousands of men and women seriously ill are turned away from Church hospitals because of lack of room. The children's homes are compelled to turn away more children than they can receive.

3 FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. OF the 450,000 American students in institutions of higher grade, one-half are in institutions founded and supported by the Churches. Many of these institutions have had no great endowment campaigns, but their needs are just as pressing as the needs of larger schools; and you have only to read their list of alumni and alumnae to measure the value of their contribution to America.

4 FOR RELIGIOUS TRAINING. At least 12,000,000 children and young people under 25 years of age are anticipating American life without any religious training at all. Remember the faith of Washington and Lincoln, do you think that America will continue to produce Washingtons and Lincolns if faith dies out of the hearts of its youth?

5 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK ABROAD. Influenza came first from the Orient thirty years ago;
nearly all plagues are Oriental plagues. So long as China has only one physician to every 400,000 people the Orient will continue to be a menace. So long as one-third of the babies of India die before their second year our own babies are not safe. A Christian doctor or teacher sent abroad is working for America as truly as though he worked at home.

6 PREACHERS' SALARIES. The preacher is called the "forgotten man," and well he may be. Eight out of ten preachers are paid less than $20 a week!

Each denomination has its own detailed budget, and will administer its own funds. Your pastor has copies of the budget; examine them for yourself. In the week of April 25th-May 2nd you will be given your opportunity to help. You can do it with the full satisfaction of knowing that every dollar of your gift has its post assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for better America and a better world.
When your church calls on you give—and give with your heart as well as your pocket-book.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Some men think they are getting ahead if they don't get any worse off.

It is easier for a man to make money these days if he isn't on speaking terms with his conscience.

Many a man who is sure he is right hasn't energy to go ahead.

One thing we are sure of! it does not require capital to start a rumor.

Many a brave man has lost his nerve in a dentist's chair "Hey Doc."

LEGION BASE BALL STATEMENT

Editor Star:
Will you kindly print the following report of the Base Ball hearing by the Park Board April 16, 1920?

To members Winchester Post
American Legion:

Your Athletic Director has been advised by the Chairman of the Park Board, Mr. Davidson, that our request for the use of Manchester Field for baseball Saturdays and holidays this summer has been refused and that the privilege had been granted to Mr.
McKenzie. This was the result of a hearing by the Park Board last Friday, April 16.

The Legion's request was founded on the following:

1. Inasmuch as there is no duly organized body taking an active part in the management of a town base ball team, the local post of the American Legion, an organization of ex-service men of this town, having among its members those who take a most active part in athletics, desires to put a team in the field this summer and present the highest class of base ball to the town.

2. That the entire field management including the selecting of players and opposing teams would be left with Mr. George LeDuc whose judgment has proved a valuable asset to Winchester Base Ball.

3. The financing of the team would be accomplished through popular subscriptions among citizens and through voluntary contributions at the games.

Mr. McKenzie in stating his position to the Park Board said he was perfectly willing to step aside for the Legion as his only interest was in good base ball and that it was his opinion that The American Legion in Winchester had been a failure in all its activities to date and he did not believe they could equal his teams of the past if granted permission to use the field.

However, the majority of the Park Board appeared to have more interest in Mr. McKenzie's team than he himself, and from the questions asked, your Athletic Director could only think that a decision had been reached prior to hearing the Legion's request.

In all due respect to Mr. Davidson, Chairman of the Board and Treasurer of Mr. McKenzie's team, it does not seem that he was in a position to act unreservedly in this matter.

Mr. Carhart, the only other member of the Board who appeared to favor
Mr. McKenzie, stated that his only interest was to have a winning team on the field regardless of who the players were, where they came from and how much they were paid. He did not agree with your representative that a better use could be made of the field Saturdays and holidays by having a team composed of mostly Winchester boys.

While hope of a regular team this summer has met with a setback, due to the Park Board's decision, it is urged that all members attend the Legion-High School game tomorrow afternoon on Manchester Field.

TYPE OF MAN FOR PRESIDENT

Boston, Mass., April 21, 1920
Mr. T. Price Wilson,
Winchester Star,
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Mr. Wilson:—

If you have space in the coming issue of the "Star" I would be glad to have you print the following letter.

The man who is chosen to guide the fortunes of our country for the next four years should have a knowledge of the underlying causes of the present nation-wide unrest, the economic as well as the social causes, and who has some definite conception of the remedies, a man who has administered large affairs successfully, who has employed subordinates with sympathy and success, who has executive experience, who has made his way up from humble beginnings and therefore is able to understand the psychology of the man who works with his hands, who has courage to combat squarely either unfair representatives of business or misguided or vicious elements of our country.

We need a man who has seen and knows the actual conditions in Europe and the Far East, and who can guide

Speaking of not leaving a sufficient amount of life insurance, agent Murphy of Atlanta said at a convention I attended:

"Me in heaven wid a gold crown, and Widdy Murphy at the wash tub! I'd say, 'Lord plase kape the crown for me and let me go back and help the Widdy!'"

But he cannot, neither can you.

our International relations with firmness and sympathy, justice and honor.

Many of us have great respect for one or more of the men who are seeking in an honorable way to secure the presidential nomination and for others who are receiving consideration, and we will be glad to work and vote for such a man if he receives the nomination, but we believe that none of them has the amount of first hand knowledge of our National and International affairs as has Herbert Hoover.

Mr. Hoover has the confidence of the American people to a very great extent and what is needed is to have an expression of this, so that the delegates of the National Convention will feel that the people are behind them in their choice of a candidate.

His record refutes the idea that he would not proceed in an orderly manner in the performance of his duties, if elected, with due regard to the other branches of our Government.
His record indicates that he would surround himself with efficient men who would be allowed to use their own initiative, but who would be held responsible for results. His training and experience has been along such lines as to make him conform to organization.

His education and profession as an engineer has taught him to think and act along straight lines with regard to the truth of fundamentals and to study problems quantitatively as well as qualitatively, and, as he has said
"What we need is more quantitative and less qualitative legislation."

Personally, it will give me pleasure to vote for Governor Coolidge, General Wood or Governor Lowden, if any one should receive the nomination, but I believe that at this particular and extremely serious time in the history of this country and the world, that the choice of Mr. Hoover would be the best one, and no one can doubt for a moment that if nominated, he would be elected with an overwhelming majority.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES T. MAIN

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little of Cambridge street are the parents of a son, born on Patriot's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gates of 319 Washington street are the parents of a son, born at the Winchester Hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McElhinney of 3 Cross street at the Winchester Hospital last week.

Mrs. Viola Richardson of Forest street, who sustained serious injuries two months ago by a fall at her home, went this week to the Homeopathic Hospital, Boston, for treatment.

Town Clerk George H. Carter, who is seriously ill at his home on Main street, is reported to be improved this week.

On Monday forenoon a light delivery truck of the Horn Pond Ice Co., driven by Wm. M. Clements of Wo-burn, was overturned at the corner of Main street and the Parkway and Mr.
Clements badly cut and bruised. The truck was going north on Main street and the driver made a sudden turn to avoid striking a rapidly driven touring car coming up the Parkway. The touring car was driven by John J.

Teeran of Arlington, and besides the driver contained six young children.
Driver Clements was highly commended for his prompt action, which undoubtedly saved the children from serious accident. The ice truck was tipped over and its contents scattered about. It was slightly damaged by the accident.

PETER FOLEY RAN IN MARA- THON

As usual, Peter Foley, Winchester's veteran runner, participated in this year's B. A. A. Marathon race. Mr.
Foley, who is 65 years of age, started at Ashland one minute behind the other runners, his entry in the race having been refused on account of his age. He covered the course in good time. For many years he has participated in the event.

Winchester House for Sale

The two-family house at 4 Park Avenue is for sale. It has six rooms, upstairs and down. It has oak floors, fireplaces, sleeping porches, brass water piping, two good furnaces and kitchen ranges. It is about three years old.
The lot contains about 5,400 feet of land.

The apartments may be rented for $95 a month.

THE PRICE IS $10,500, OF WHICH $4,500 IS A FIRST MORTGAGE
AT 5 PER CENT. THE BALANCE MUST BE IN CASH.

The owner purchased it to live in himself and believes that the price is fair and that the house is in good condition. Unforeseen events have forced him to sell.

References will be required of any prospective purchaser, to protect the neighborhood.

IN BOARD OF SELECTMEN

ORDERED—That the following rules and regulations relating to the protection of the public ways, during building operations; governing the erection and maintenance of billboards, clocks, marquees, flag poles, awnings and other like structures; and governing the location of poles in the public streets and placing wires thereon be and are hereby adopted, to wit:—

Section 1. No excavation shall be made in or under a street or sidewalk, nor shall any barricade, scaffold, covering or other temporary structures be erected in or over a street or sidewalk during building operations, without a permit therefor. Such permit may be issued by the Superintendent of Streets and may specify the time during which such obstruction may continue. The person making such excavation shall protect it, with sheet piling if necessary or as required by the Superintendent, and shall protect all street mains, pipes and conduits to the satisfaction of the owners thereof and of the Superintendent, and shall not move any pipes, conduits or mains without proper authority. Any such obstruction in or over the street or sidewalk shall be guarded by the person making the same with lights at night, and in such other manner as the Selectmen or Superintendent may require. The Selectmen may require such person to be a bond with satisfactory sureties to protect the town from all liability during such work or obstruction.

Whenever any person is about to construct, alter, demolish, or remove the exterior wall of a building within 5 feet of the line of a public street, he shall cause that portion of the building bordering upon the street to be enclosed by a proper fence, not less than 4 feet high and at least 5 feet from the line of such building; the fence shall be made as much higher as the Superintendent shall direct, and it shall be maintained until all liability to accident from falling material ceases; he shall also maintain a walk, not less than 30 inches wide, satisfactory to the Superintendent around said fence as long as the sidewalk is obstructed, and he shall maintain proper lights from sunset to sunrise, if so required by the Superintendent, at both ends of such enclosed space.

In erecting, altering, repairing, demolishing, or removing any building, or structure, no person shall leave in any public street, any lumber or building material, rubbish, or remains of any old building for a longer period than shall in the opinion of the Superintendent be reasonably necessary under the circumstances; if allowed to remain in any street after dark, the person carrying on such operations shall cause a sufficient light, or lights, to be placed over, or near the same and kept lighted from sunset to sunrise. All rubbish from such operations shall be removed from the street before noon of the next secular day after it is placed there and if the person carrying on such operations fails so to remove it, it shall be removed by the Superintendent at the expense of such person.

Any person violating any provision of this section, or the preceding section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $50.

Note. For power to remove unsafe or dangerous buildings. See Stat. 1913, Ch. 655, Secs. 2, 3 (accepted by Winchester March 9, 1909) Secs. 4-10 (accepted by Winchester, June 13, 1918) and Sec. 60, R. L. Ch. 101, Secs. 1-5 (accepted by Winchester, March 17, 1913) R. L. Ch. 75, Secs. 67-69.

Section 2. No bill board, clock, marquee, flag pole, permanent awnings or other like structure (except poles, wires, conduits and appurtenances of railways, telegraph, telephone, water, gas, electric light, heat and power companies, fire escapes, and temporary structures herein provided for) shall hereafter be erected or placed in, or projecting for a distance of more than six inches over, any public highway without a permit therefor by the Board of Selectmen.

No awning or marquee shall extend over a sidewalk beyond a point one foot inside of the curb or outer edge of the sidewalk; no billboard or other structure except a flag pole or a sign made of cloth or similar material, shall extend over a public street, a distance of more than 6 feet, or if there is a sidewalk beyond a point 1 foot inside of the curb or outer edge of the sidewalk; all such billboards shall be steadfast and free from oscillation; the lower edge of any awning, bill board, flag or any other object extending over a sidewalk or street shall be at least 8 feet above the grade of the sidewalk or street beneath it.

Every awning, marquee, pole, bill board or structure on or over a sidewalk or street shall be kept in good repair and in safe condition, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner.

No sign shall be permitted to project more than six inches over a sidewalk which does not relate to some occupation or use of, or some business, profession, entertainment, exhibition or amusement, carried on or held upon the premises to which it is attached.

Note. See Regulations of Fire Prevention Commissioner for Metropolitan Dist. See Mass. R. L. C. 208, sec. 114, 115, St. 1917, c. 344 part V, sec. 9, St. 1915, ch. 176.

Every person violating any provision of this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five dollars for each day that he maintains any structure in violation of the provisions hereof, after five days' notice to remove the same has been given him by the Board of Selectmen.

Section 3. For outside work the requirements of the latest edition of the National Electric Code shall apply together with the following additional rules. Each petition to the Selectmen for the location of poles must be accompanied by a plan drawn to scale showing the proposed location of each pole; if a permit is granted a plan approved by the Selectmen showing the location allowed shall be placed on file with the Inspector of Wires. No two lines of poles bearing conductors of a like class shall be erected on any street, avenue, or square, and no two lines of poles shall be erected on the same side of any street, avenue or square. Poles must be set in the sidewalk not less than 10 inches from the outer side of the curb line, and shall not be located within 6 feet of any hydrant, nor within 10 feet of any lamp-post or any other pole except when they are designed to carry wires on intersecting streets.

All poles now standing or hereafter erected shall be suitably painted and kept in good condition to the satisfaction of the Inspector of Wires. So far as practicable each line of poles shall continue on the same side of the street. Poles (except poles of railway companies) shall be of substantially uniform height above ground and not less than 35 feet long; they shall be set not less than 6 feet in the ground and not more than 132 feet apart. So far as practicable, all poles shall be set near lot lines or in positions which will interfere as little as possible with private walks or driveways and with the view from dwelling houses; subject to this requirement they shall be spaced as uniformly as practicable.

from the ground on every pole set in the streets and carrying wires shall be reserved for the wires owned by the Town of Winchester. Where cross-arms are designed to carry 6 or more wires they shall be supported with iron braces. All cross-arms shall be given at least two coats of paint. Pole brackets shall not be used on poles carrying electric wires of any kind; wires must be supported by cross-arms; where necessary a single wire may be supported on pins on the top of poles. When poles have been abandoned by all users they must be removed by the owners within 30 days thereafter unless a permit to retain them is granted by the Selectmen. Whoever removes a pole from the street, must report the same to the Inspector of Wires.

All live parts and conductors used with arc and incandescent lamps must be insulated from poles and supports in such a manner as to protect employees and other persons from accident, and the method of insulation must be approved by the Inspector of Wires. Guy wires must be insulated from poles and fixtures by inserting an approved insulator not less than 6 feet from point of attachment to pole. Wires running in the same direction as the line of poles shall be attached to the upper side only of cross-arms. All wires must be mounted on glass or porcelain weather-proof type insulators. The first point of attachment to buildings of lighting or power service wires must be not less than 9 feet above the ground, and any platform or structure on which persons may stand. All wiring along the face of buildings must be in iron conduit. No wires shall hang less than 20 feet from the street or sidewalk at the lowest point of sag. Where sharp angles occur, or where wires are so run that there is danger of their lifting from the insulators, guard irons shall be used to prevent their leaving the cross-arms.

The Inspector of Wires shall be the sole judge of what constitutes safe and proper construction and insulation of all wires, cables, and conductors, fixtures and appliances under the provisions of these Building Laws. Whenever, in the opinion of the Inspector of Wires, any overhead wires, cables or conductors, poles or fixtures, used for the transmission and distribution of electric current, are in an unsafe or dangerous condition, he shall notify the owner, and if he deems necessary cause the circuits to be entirely disconnected from the source of electrical supply.

Note.—See R. L. Chap. 25, Sec. 52-56; Chap. 122, Sec. 2, 18-21. Stat. 1911, Chap. 442, Chap. 509, Sec. 3-5; Stat. 1908, Chap. 463, Pt. 3, Sec. 7, 64; Stat. 1914, Chap. 742, Sec. 127; Stat. 1916, Chap. 166.

By order of the Board of Selectmen,
GEORGE S. F. BARTLETT,
Clerk.

Note.—The above Sections numbered 1, 2 and 3 are the same as those numbered 173, 185 and 224 respectively, in "Revised Draft" of "The By-Laws Regulating Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas Fitting, March, 1920."

Brake Lining

on your Ford. Makes Fords work wonderfully smooth. Stops rattling, shaking—makes brakes quick-acting and positive.

Cork Insert is far the cheapest. One set outwears three sets of ordinary lining—saves expense of retinning brakes. Does away with jarring and vibration—makes Fords last longer.

Ordinary linings get a slick surface from friction and oil. This slick surface hasn't any gripping power. The corks in Advance Cork Insert always grip and have great wearing quality.

We do expert repairing—always at your service. Full line of accessories—the best oils—greases—tires—tubes.

PRIMARY ELECTION

The primary election held Tuesday was devoid of excitement or any great interest here. The Republicans turned out in representative strength to cast 805 votes, the regular group for delegates at large being elected and the district delegates, without contest, receiving a large vote. Notwithstanding the announcement of Senator Edwin T. McKnight of his withdrawal from the district group, he received 2995 votes in the district outside of Wakefield, where the returns were not announced up to Wednesday noon.

Mr. Lewis Parkhurst polled the largest vote here, 710, which was as it should be, and Henry Cabot Lodge followed with 644. The ungrouped delegates fared badly, Mr. McCall polling the highest vote here, 283, which was considerably below Edward A. Thurston, lowest of the big four group. Mr. McCall ran sixth in the State. Thomas W. Lawson got 112 votes here and was placed next to last in the State list.

The district vote was as follows:

Cambridge	1468	735	1034
Medford	650	722	848
Melrose	582	359	524
Arlington	475	281	524
Lexington	188	108	180
Winchester	395	281	710
Watertown	344	243	224
Wakefield	248	168	231
Belmont	218	115	214
Stonham	170	151	209
Totals	4738	3162	4702

The Democrats polled a total of 33 votes. David I. Walsh led the ticket on the delegates at large group with 26. Mr. Whitfield L. Tuck received 17 votes and headed the district delegates group.

Following was the Winchester vote.

WINGATE TROPHY FOR EXETER BOYS

Goes to Ball Player Who Does Most While at Bat

The Dana J. P. Wingate memorial trophy has been completed for Phillips Exeter Academy and the first award will be made this year.

The award will be given to that player on the Phillips Exeter baseball team who does the most for the team during the season when Exeter is on the attack or, in other words, "at bat."

Dana J. P. Wingate, in whose memory the trophy is established, was both a high ranking scholar and inspiring leader and also one of the most brilliant players and captains that Exeter and Harvard have had. He played on the Exeter baseball team when it won its victory over Andover in the game that dedicated the Plympton Playing fields at Exeter, and captained the team the subsequent year. He captured the Harvard team when it won the championship in 1913 against that famous Yale team known on account of its victories over the other colleges, as "the team of the century," and was reelected captain for 1914, thus being one of only three men who have ever held that distinction of a two year baseball captaincy at Harvard. At Exeter he won the Yale cup given each year to that student who most excels in scholarship and athletics combined. And at Harvard he won for three years in succession the Barrett Wendell trophy for excellence on the diamond.

The Dana J. P. Wingate memorial trophy awards are based on the same "points" as those which governed the awarding of the Wendell trophy.

At Exeter the winner each year will have his name inscribed on the base of the trophy, which remains permanently at the academy. In addition, the winner will be given a mahogany trophy bat bearing a silver plate, on which will be inscribed his name and record.

The permanent trophy at the academy stands about three feet high and includes the silver cup set in a canopy of handsome enameled wood especially designed for this memorial by Robert Colt the well known architect.

The inscription reads:

DANA J. P. WINGATE
Captain of the Phillips Exeter Baseball Team 1910
Winner of the Yale Cup Exeter 1910
Captain of Harvard Freshman Baseball Team 1911
Captain of Harvard Varsity Baseball Team 1913 and 1914
Winner of the "Alertness on the Diamond Trophy," Harvard 1912, 1913 and 1914

Mr. Wingate lived in Winchester, Mass., and was prominent in athletics here as captain of the Winchester baseball team and as a golf player of the Winchester Country Club.

SECOND THIEF CAUGHT

The second man connected with the freight car robbery, who escaped during the chase through Oak Grove cemetery last week, was captured by Sgt. Thomas F. McCauley this week. He is John J. Gibbs of Charlestown, and when arraigned in the Charlestown Court was identified by Sgt. McCauley as the man who escaped during the chase. Following the arrest of the other man, Frank Allard of Charlestown, Sgt. McCauley engaged in the search for the second man. He found that Gibbs was wanted on a default warrant, and a search of his house revealed goods alleged to have been stolen from the railroad. He was sent to Deer Island and after serving a sentence there the Middlesex Superior Court will be ready to try him on the robbery charge.

WINCHESTER EQUAL SUFFRAGE CLUB

The Annual Meeting of the Winchester Equal Suffrage Club will be held Wednesday, May 5th, at three o'clock with Mrs. George H. Root, 39 Lloyd Street, Mrs. Frederick P. Bagley, chairman of the Committee on American Citizenship will speak on the League of Women Voters, its aim, to promote a more intelligent electorate. This is an important meeting and a large attendance is desired.

SCHOOL SURVEY BEGUN

Work Started Monday by U. S. Bureau of Education Staff

Work was commenced on Monday by the United States Bureau of Education staff on the educational survey of the Winchester schools. The field work, consisting of observation in the schools, perusal of records and general collection of data, will occupy it is expected, about two weeks. The entire survey will take until the latter part of May.

The work is undertaken at the request of the School Committee in accordance with the vote of the Town passed at the annual meeting in March, the committee arranging for the work at a conference held several weeks ago with Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, under whom the survey will be conducted.

The staff assigned to the work here is directed by Dr. Frank E. Bunker of the U. S. Bureau of Education, specialist in city school systems. Included on the staff are Dr. T. F. Balliet, former Dean of the School of Education of New York University and Superintendent of Schools at Springfield; Mr. W. S. Deffenbaugh, specialist in city school administration, member of the U. S. Bureau of Education; Miss Florence C. Fox, specialist in primary education, and professor of principals and practice of education at Ohio State University, on detail with the Bureau of Education; Miss Alice Barrows Fernandez, specialist in industrial and social relations, U. S. Bureau of Education; Miss Julia Wade Abbott, specialist in kindergarten education, U. S. Bureau of Education.

Not all of the staff are on duty yet, the preliminary work being carried on to such points as require their services. The work includes a constructive study of the school system with reference to needs and possible improvements.

The surveying commission met the teachers of the schools at a meeting held Monday afternoon and made preliminary statements regarding their work.

RECEPTION TO REV. AND MRS. WALCOTT

On Friday evening April 23rd, the First Baptist Church tendered its newly appointed pastor, Rev. Clifton H. Walcott and Mrs. Walcott a reception in the Chapel of the Church. The Chapel was most tastefully decorated with cut flowers and palms. Assisting Rev. and Mrs. Walcott in receiving were Deacon and Mrs. Wallace P. Palmer, Deacon and Mrs. Harry C. Sanborn and Deacon and Mrs. Newton Shultz.

The ushers of the evening were Messrs. Alfred O. Weld, Frank W. McLean, Willard A. Bradley, Ruel W. Eldredge, Edward E. Thompson, John S. Blank, Jr., Leroy Downer, Harry W. Moulton and Deacon Harry T. Winn. During the evening music was rendered by Mr. W. H. W. Bicknell's Orchestra.

Rev. Nathan E. Wood, who has been acting pastor of the Church for the past few months, spoke words of welcome to the new pastor on behalf of the church and Rev. Howard Chidley of the Congregational Church brought greetings from the other ministers of the town.

Refreshments were served by a group of young ladies of the Society including Miss Pearl Prime, Esther Bartlett, Mildred Bartlett, Gertrude Felber, Mildred Sherman, Miriam Cobb, and Mrs. Willard Robinson.

The committee in charge of the evening was composed of Mrs. Frank W. McLean, Chairman, Mr. L. C. Prime, Mrs. W. E. Cobb, Miss Clara E. MacDonald, Miss Florence M. Jewett, Miss Julia Crawford, Miss Edna B. Ralph, Mr. Ruel W. Eldredge and Mr. Arthur W. Lloyd.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AVERTED

A serious accident was averted by the quick action of two railroad employees Monday afternoon. An automobile, left unattended in front of the Post Office, suddenly started down the incline and brought up against the fence between the tracks at the Station.

Larry Smitherman, the Baggage Master, ever on his red flag just in time to stop the 3.26 train, while Capt. Fitzgerald of Ladder 1 superintended the job of getting the track clear of the auto.

Much praise is due these two efficient men for their prompt and effective work.

LEGION DEFEATED HIGH SCHOOL

In a five inning game, brought to an end by cold and darkness, the local Post, American Legion, defeated the High School baseball team 10 to 0 on Manchester Field Saturday afternoon. The High School nine never had a look in from the start. Warren Goddu, an old High School player, pitched for the Legion and absolutely shut out the High School. Mathews and Good were active at the bat for the winners. Cullen and Simons were the High School battery.

BRIDGEWATER NORMAL SCHOOL

A lecture on "Baking Powder" and Its Uses" was given recently to the members of the domestic science class by Mrs. Griggs of the Rumford Baking Powder Company. After the lecture, Mrs. Griggs demonstrated the methods of making and baking several kinds of biscuits.

The members of the class were asked to write essays describing the lecture, the best one of which was to receive a prize, he prize, a cook-book was won by Miss Margaret Chase of Winchester, Mass.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Many Sales Make Winchester an Active Market

Seldom has this town been a more active real estate market than at the present time. Sales and rentals are taking place so rapidly that one hardly knows from day to day who his next door neighbor may be. Although we record a number of these transfers this week, the list is far from complete, various considerations causing the withholding of a number of important transactions.

Among the sales is that of the house at 161 Highland ave. This property is purchased by Mr. William H. Field, Jr., the present occupant, of Mr. Thomas Quigley, Jr.

Mr. J. Albert Horey is reported to have purchased the Rust estate on Elm street, and after extensive repairs he will occupy it.

Through the office of Thomas H. Barrett the sale of the estate of Mr. Frank Chapman on Fells road is reported. The purchaser is Mr. J. A. McDonald of Boston. This property includes an 11 room house and 25,000 feet of land.

The house on Maple road owned by Mr. C. F. Whitney has been purchased by Mr. Davis of Cambridge, the well known ice cream manufacturer, will occupy. The Barrett office has sold Mr. Whitney the Jay B. Benton estate at 2 Summit avenue, consisting of a 10 room house and 17,000 feet of land.

The Barrett office also reports the purchase by Mr. Park C. Sherman of Boston of the house at 288-285 Washington street owned by Mr. Mathew V. McEwen.

The Edward T. Harrington Co. have sold for Mr. Arthur W. Dean his property No. 34 Oxford Street comprising a ten room dwelling and about 11,000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser is Mr. Daniel B. Holmes of Dorchester.

The Edward T. Harrington Co. have sold for James H. Broughton the house now under construction on Chesterford Road. The lot contains 10,910 sq. ft. The purchaser is Mr. Arthur E. Adams of Arlington who will occupy.

The Edward T. Harrington Co. have sold for Mr. F. B. Reynolds his property on Foxcroft Road containing 14,452 sq. ft. of land.

The Edward T. Harrington Co. have sold for James H. Broughton the attractive bungalow he has just completed on Chesterford Road. The purchaser is Mr. L. M. Howard of Cambridge.

The Edward T. Harrington Co. have sold for Herbert E. Gleason his property on Salisbury Road comprising an eight room house and about 10,000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser was Mr. Harold Lane of Lowell.

The Edward T. Harrington Co. have sold for Thomas M. Smith of Boston two lots of land on Bacon St. containing 17,950 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser was Mr. Frederick B. Reynolds of this town.

MR. JAMES B. WEBSTER

Mr. James B. Webster, father of Mrs. Harold F. Simon, died Friday at the home of his daughter on Church street. He was 86 years of age and had been in failing health for several months.

James Batchelder Webster was a native of New Sharon, Me. In early life he went to Malden where he made his home for many years. He was one of the best known hay and grain commission merchants in this country and abroad, having been actively engaged in export as well as domestic trade.

For many years he was employed at 250 Commercial street, Boston. On the death of the owner of the business Mr. A. H. Munro, he took over the business, and in 1898 he formed the firm of Lord & Webster, of which he was the head for over 40 years.

He was a former director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a member of Beausant Commandery, K. T., Converse Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Malden, a former member of the Kernwood Club of Malden and of the First Universalist church.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lydia B. S. Webster of this town, one daughter, Mrs. Harold F. Simon of this town, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Shaw of Winthrop, Me.

Funeral services were held at Mt. Auburn Chapel on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30, being conducted by Rev. J. F. Albion of Portland, Me., a former pastor. The interment was at Mt. Auburn.

AMERICAN HOCKEY TEAM LOST

Leon Tuck Played Strong Game Against Canadians

After defeating the Swiss seven 29 to 0 in its first participation in the seventh Olympic games at Antwerp, the American hockey team, with Leon Tuck of this town playing a defence position, went down before the Canadians 2 to 0 in one of the greatest hockey games ever seen, according to reports.

America made easy work of the Swiss team, and when it met the Falcons of Canada it was predicted that if it did not win it would certainly put up some game. It did. It was anybody's game until the finish, and Europe never saw a game equal to it. Owing to the narrowness of the rink the American team was slightly shifted, Tuck playing defence.

Under Olympic rules all teams directly beaten by the champion team compete for second prize. This brought America, Czechoslovakia and Sweden in line, and it appears that America will bring home second place honors.

Save — Save — Save.

SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS

Practically every child in town seemed to have been enthused with the idea of attending the Smith College benefit show in the town hall last Saturday afternoon, for the performance was given before a crowded house of youngsters and their mothers. To say it was enjoyed is to put it mildly, and the little people were delighted by the fairy tale of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs as presented by the Lend-a-Hand Dramatic Club of Greater Boston.

The cast was composed wholly of ladies, all of whom were from out-of-town. Their acting was excellent and the performance was carried through with professional skill. Margaret Arnold as Snow White, Caroline L. Freeman as Queen Brangmar, Amy Beal as the Court Chamberlain, Bonnie M. Jarvis as Prince Florind, and Margaret B. Pierce as Christabel were all excellent. The seven dwarfs, the witch and her cat, together with the pages and other fairy characters dear to the childish hearts, completely captivated the audience.

The performance was given under a local committee as follows:

Chairman, Miss Beatrice Putnam, Vice Chairman, Miss Helen Hall. Scenery, Mrs. Bowen Tufts, Chairman, Mrs. Rumels. Tickets, Mrs. Burton Cary, Chairman, Mrs. Rumels. Publicity, Mrs. George C. C. Programmes, Mrs. Norman Cushman. Ushers, Miss Irene Lord, Candy, Miss Helen Hall.

The patronesses were:

Mrs. Arthur A. Kidder, Mrs. Frank L. Ripley, Mrs. E. Abbott Bradley, Mrs. Samuel W. McCall, Miss Barbara Fernald, Mrs. George N. Proctor, Mrs. F. Manley Ives, Mrs. H. Adams Gale, Mrs. Herbert T. Bond, Mrs. Ralph E. Joslin, Mrs. Stillman P. Williams, Mrs. James W. Russell, Jr., Mrs. Roland H. Sherman, Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott, Miss Elizabeth S. Downs, Mrs. Newton Shultz, Mrs. Reeve Chipman, Mrs. Charles H. Eastwick, Mrs. George B. Kimball.

ANNUAL MEETING OF LADIES' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

Ladies' Friendly Society of the Unitarian Church held its annual meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. R. Fauscy rendered a group of songs in a charming manner. The reports of the last year were read and showed the Society had been doing a very broad and influential work. The social life of the Society has been most delightful and inspiring.

Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed by a large number of members.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Pres., Mrs. H. E. Wellington
Hon. Vice-Pres., Mrs. Joel E. Metcalf
Vice Pres., Miss M. Alice Mason
Treas., Mrs. C. W. Smith
Cor. Sec., Mrs. R. H. Perkins

ATWOOD—DUNN

Miss Myrtle Dunn, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Johnson was married at their home, Dun Cairn, Highland Avenue, to Mr. Roy Franklin Atwood by the Rev. Murray H. Dewart on April twenty-first noon.

Mr. George B. Dunn, of Houlton, Maine, guardian of the bride, gave her away.

Mrs. Tom L. Fernald, sister of the bride and matron of honor, was charming in yellow silk with wide hat of gold-colored straw. Music delightfully in keeping, was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Bicknell, and a violinist.

The bride, more than lovely, in her gown of white satin and long veil of tulle holding a shower of lilies of the valley and white orchids, descending the stairs to the wedding march; the ceremony; flowers and congratulations as the bride and groom stand together; the wedding breakfast; the cutting of the bride's cake; the catching of the bridal bouquet; an revoir and bon voyage as the new Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atwood drive away; all these impressions formed a wedding beautiful in its simplicity, yet lacking none of the wedding customs.

Myrtle Dunn was the fourth bride of Dun Cairn, as the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's two daughters and two nieces have all taken place there.

MATINEE WHIST A GREAT SUCCESS

One of the largest matinee whist parties ever held in town took place last Saturday afternoon in Waterfield Hall under the auspices of the League of Catholic Women.

Many guests from Newton, Arlington, Lynn, Somerville, Woburn and Stoneham were present. The hall was very tastefully decorated with festoons and flowers of green and pink crepe paper.

Mrs. Edward Morris had charge of the markers. There were thirty-two beautiful prizes. The first in auction bridge was won by Mrs. William H. Bowen of Lynn. The first in progressive whist was won by Miss Mary Mulligan of Winchester.

An intermission of twenty minutes was given and Mrs. Leo McNally entertained in her usual artistic style with a group of songs. Refreshments were served by the Committee assisted by Miss Florence McCarty and Miss Mary Murphy.

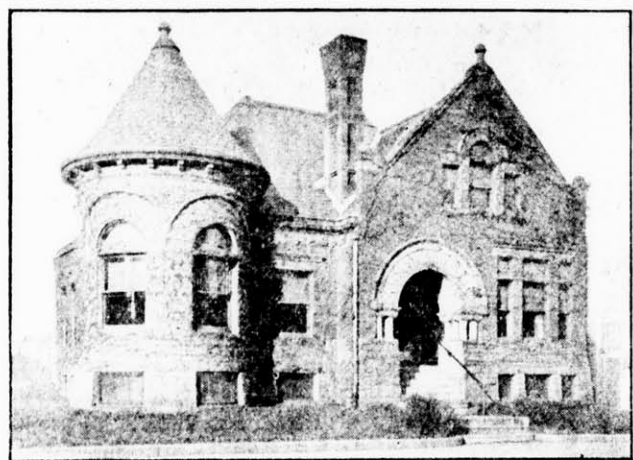

A large sum was netted for the diocesan centre.

The following committee are receiving congratulations on its success:

Miss Mary A. Lyons, Miss Josephine M. Brine, Miss Helena B. Doherty, Mrs. Harry Cox, Mrs. Joseph Donahue, Mrs. Charles B. Groce, Mrs. Clarence Henry, Mrs.

STATE FEDERATION CONFERENCE

The Fortnightly was hostess at the Conference of the State Federation Conservation Department held in Metcalf Hall on Friday April 23rd. Although a stormy day, there was a large attendance.

Mrs. Bond gave the address of welcome, followed by response from the Federation by Mrs. Julian C. Woodman who presided over the conference.

The first speaker was Mrs. Irving O. Palmer chairman of the Thrift Com. for the Federation.

She said that Thrift means plain common sense in every day actions, conserving all our resources, spending wisely all of which means more comfort and joy in living.

The training of boys and girls in the home is of greatest importance as they are the people of the future, and a democratic form of government is what the people want it to be.

Thrift teaches us how to simplify life, and because of the power of organization, the woman's clubs should make it a broad national campaign.

Mr. Harris Reynolds, Secretary of the Massachusetts Forestry Association, spoke upon conservation in Forestry. He said ignorance and indifference were the greatest foes that work has to contend with, and asked us to let our Senators and representatives express our sentiments.

There is now a bill before the General Court asking that 250,000 acres of land be purchased and reforested during a period of 10 years.

We are sending to other places for our lumber. Each year 3,000,000 feet are sent to us from Oregon, whereas one fifth of the area of Mass. fitted for growing trees is growing nothing but bushes. We must make our land produce what we know it can and will produce. There is an opportunity near every city in this state for reforesting useless land, making recreation parks for the people of the slums.

The following resolution was passed:

Resolved: that we favor the passage of the bill now before the General Court, which provides for the purchase and reforestation by the Commonwealth, of 250,000 acres of land during a period of 10 years which bill has been unanimously reported by the Committee on Agriculture.

Winthrop Packard Secretary of the Massachusetts Audubon Society spoke upon Birds and Bird Life.

He began his remarks by saying that this Society is greatly in favor of this bill. Let the forests take care of your water supply, and the birds take care of your gardens.

He said no country has so great a variety of birds as the United States, and referred to the names given them by the first settlers of this country, names which have come down to us by tradition.

In the same way the bird songs have been given words that fit the rhythm. In different parts of the country we find different words for the same song. The White throated sparrow says for us "Old Man Pea-body" etc. in the South they think he says "Oh My Happiness" and in the North it is "Oh Sweet Canada." This Society tries in every way to encourage interest in birds and many more would have died this past winter but for care in feeding them.

Bird houses are of value, make the opening 1 1/2 inches wide facing the South. Have a protruding roof for shelter. Bird Baths should be shallow.

He spoke of their great economic value. If it was not for the birds forests, fields orchards and gardens would be overwhelmed. A box luncheon was enjoyed at twelve o'clock, hot coffee and ice cream being supplied by the Fortnightly.

The afternoon session, held in the Town Hall, was opened with community singing followed by a demonstration of Small Fruit Pruning by Mr. Albert Jenks of the Middlesex Farm Bureau. This bureau gives information on farming subjects to any resident of the county who applies for it.

Mr. Jenks said that in pruning we must work very carefully as we work against instead of with Nature. The more grapevines are pruned the more delicious your fruit will be. Apples can be pruned anytime before the leaves appear.

Raspberries and blackberries should be planted two feet apart, and after the first year cut back most all of the old canes to prevent disease.

The damage done by field mice this past winter is beyond repair. The only remedy is bridge drafting. Insert new wood, the suckers that grew the preceding year, above and below the wound, every two inches around the trunk.

Mr. Loring Underwood gave a very interesting talk about old New England garden illustrated by the stereopticon. He was asked by the New England Society of New York to make a record of such gardens. To get the best results he used Autochrome plates, a French invention by which the natural colors are absolutely reproduced. With this he must have obtained such gems as were given on the screen.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. T.C. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Dry Cleanse and Dyeing

Now is the time to look over your wardrobe and arrange for dry cleansing and dyeing. We extend our service to you, calling at your home and returning all articles with promptness and dispatch.

Wearing apparel should be cleansed often—it is insurance against germs, dust, stains, soils, etc. Present high prices of clothing would seem to demand the making of one's wardrobe last as long as possible.

WINCHESTER'S GRAND OLD MAN

Dear Mr. Wilson:

Once again I am going to ask for a small space in this week's issue of the STAR to say a few words relative to the remarkable performance of "Winchester's Grand Old Man," Peter Foley, over the Marathon course last Monday.

As is generally known, he is barred from entering the actual race, as the officials fear a collapse owing to his age, (he was 65 last week.) To those who know him intimately this fear is groundless, for, although he did not start until the last man had left, some seconds) he had caught and passed him in less than half a mile. He passed six others before reaching Wellesley and not until then would he accept any nourishment. A small piece of orange. On the hill coming out of Auburndale he passed one more, at Lake street another, and the final one, just below Coolidge Corner.

In all he outdistanced ten young men and I doubt if any one finished in better condition than he.

From Mass. Avenue to the finish line on Exeter Street he was given a tremendous ovation. I took personal care of him throughout the contest and at no time was he in the least distressed nor was it necessary to rub him even after the race.

He did not even shake his running shoes or costume but just slipped into his street clothes and was ready for home.

He succeeded in what he set out for. Cut his last year time 22 minutes and did the course under 4 hours. His actual time was 3 hrs. 50 min.

As we were on our way home, on Commonwealth avenue we met some of the eligible runners, just coming in. Peter Foley is certainly a wonderful athlete, and a credit to Winchester.

Board of Appeal: Under suspension of its rule 4 the Board appointed Mr. Ralph S. Vinal, 46 Glen Road a member of the Board of Appeal for the year ending December 31, 1920. The Board of Appeal now consists of Messrs. Arthur T. Smith, 50 Myrtle Terrace, James S. Allen, 41 Myrtle Terrace and Ralph S. Vinal, 46 Glen Road.

Eastern Mass. Street Railway Co. (Fares): Mr. Parsons reported that Mr. William J. Stevenson of Hemingway Street had been to see him in regard to his complaint about a fifteen cent fare charge from Everett Ave. to the Winchester Woburn line. The Clerk was instructed to write to Mr. H. F. Fitch, Assistant General Manager of the Eastern Mass. Street Railway Company and ask him to send the Board a copy of the zone system in effect in Winchester.

Governors Ave: The Superintendent of Streets sent a copy of a notice which he has sent to the Water Department, Sewer Department, Telephone Company, Edison Company, Gas Company, Fire Department, Tree Department and others, calling attention to the fact that Governor's Ave. is to be constructed from Washington Street about 425 feet, and that "It is necessary that all repairs or renewals of service pipes, mains or conduits; the installation of new services; or any other work affecting the road surface, be done at once, as a street openings will be allowed for three years the street is rebuilt, except in cases of extreme emergency."

Wildwood Street: A copy of a notice similar to the one above calling attention to the fact that Wildwood Street is to be constructed from Cambridge Street to No. 53 was also received from the Superintendent of Streets.

Bacon Street Bridge: The matter of carrying out the vote of the Town in regard to taking preliminary steps for the purpose of obtaining borings, plans and specifications for a new bridge to replace the bridge in Bacon Street over the Aberjona River was laid over one week.

Street Lights 1920 Swanton Street Bridge: A report was received from the Town Engineer in regard to the need of better lighting facilities on or near the Swanton Street Bridge. Carrying out his suggestion the Board referred the matter back to him. He is to submit a plan showing the actual street lighting conditions in the vicinity of these bridges and to submit a plan showing proposed changes which he recommends.

Street Accidents: A letter was received from the Town Engineer calling the Board's attention to a report which he had made to a previous Board on the matter of application of the Betterment Act to the acceptance and construction of streets, together with recommendation bearing on the matter. This matter was referred to Mr. Parsons, the Town Counsel, and the Town Engineer. They are to report with reference to the adoption of a policy in regard to the matter of street acceptance and street construction and also to look into the matter of proper legal forms.

Sidewalks 1920 Grandditch: The matter of voting to construct certain grandditch sidewalks was laid over pending a personal investigation by the Board.

The meeting adjourned at 11.25 P. M.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

A few men take up the law, but all women lay it down.

We sometimes hear one man call another a bad egg, but even bad eggs are worth about $1.00 per dozen.

Providence may give us our daily bread, but we certainly have to hustle for the Butter.

A stove dealer's advertisement says: "Let us put you in a furnace before the cold weather comes." I guess we better think this over a bit first.

Don't count your chickens until they are old enough to bluff a cat.

Now let's see what May can do.

Times change and time changes.

The present day slogan—Own Your Own House.

Why not keep a man on duty to help the women and children with that door at the Post Office?

Florida should be accorded a place by itself in the annals of the State. Not a vote was cast in the primary election, even the Town Clerk neglecting to cast his ballot. What's the slogan up that way—"let George do it?"

The vote accorded Mr. Parkhurst Tuesday was gratifying to all. It was surprising, however, to note the large vote given Senator McKnight after he had announced his withdrawal. It is evident that not all of our voters take care in marking their ballot.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING APRIL 26, 1919

The Board met at 7:30 P. M. Present Messrs. Kidder, Blackman and Dolben.

National Elections, Presidential Primary, April 27, 1920: In accordance with Chapter 835, Section 229, Acts of 1913 the Board appointed Miss Mabel W. Stinson, Clerk pro tempore to perform the duties required by that act at the Presidential Primary to be held on Tuesday, April 27, 1920.

Licenses 1920 Hackney Carriages: A license of this class was granted to Patrick Maguire, William P. Hargrove, Eugene P. Sullivan (two licenses), George Kerrigan, Willis O. Blaisdell and Daniel E. Hurley. These licenses which are all renewals are proved by the Chief of Police and are effective to May 1, 1921 unless sooner revoked. They are subject to the usual fee of $1.00.

Licenses 1920 Hawkers & Pedlers: A license of this class was granted to Salvatore Marchese, Salvatore Lentini, and William Duffy. These licenses which are renewals are approved by the Chief of Police and are effective until May 1, 1920 unless sooner revoked, and subject to the usual fee of $2.00.

Town Hall Engagements 1920 The American Legion Post No. 97: The American Legion Post No. 97 was granted the use of the Town Hall for the purpose of conducting a play and dance on Saturday May 22, 1920 from 7 P. M. to 12 P. M., and also for the purpose of a dress rehearsal on Thursday, May 20, 1920.

Coal: Letters were received from Parker and Lane Co., George W. Blanchard & Co., and Joseph F. Winn & Co. which were opened in the presence of all the members of the School Board, including the School Superintendent and all the members of the Water Board. As none of the letters received from these local coal dealers seemed to be bonafide coal bids the Board decided to take no action at the present time. It was the opinion also of the other Boards present that no action should be taken at this time. When conditions warrant the Selectmen will call for bids again and the various town departments concerned will be notified.

Inspector of Buildings: The Board appointed Mr. Maurice Dinneen, Inspector of Buildings of the Town of Winchester, for the year ending June 30, 1921. Mr. Dinneen's salary for the current year as passed by a vote of the Board under date of March 22 is Six Hundred Dollars ($600.) a year.

Street Lights 1920: A telephone message was received from Mr. Sewall E. Newman former member of the Board of Selectmen suggesting that a spot light be installed in the centre of the own so as to play on the traffic officer while he is stationed there in the evening. This matter was referred to the Committee on Street Lights for report.

North Main Street (Car Track): A letter was received from the Superintendent of Streets stating that he has been informed by Mr. Ellis, Manager of this division of the Eastern Mass. Street Railway Company that they have been unable to start track work on North Main Street because of the non-arrival of materials. The Superintendent of Streets is to be notified by Mr. Ellis when the Railway Company is ready to begin work.

Gardens: A letter was received from the Superintendent of Streets stating that he has assigned forty-five garden plots on the Stone farm to sundry persons, and two plots to the School Department.

Swanton Street Bridge: A report and a plan were received from the Town Engineer as requested by the Board in regard to improving the st. lighting facilities in Swanton Street in the vicinity of the bridges. There are at the present time in Swanton Street, the Town Engineer state "9 lamps 7 being 60 c. p. 1 of 100 c. p. and 1 of 600 c. p. These lights are not adequate in my opinion for the needs of the street. I recommend that the street lighting installation for the street be as follows: 16 lamps of the following c. p. 60 c. p. lamps, 3 80 c. p. lamps, 2 100 c. p. lamps." This matter was referred to the Committee on Street Lights for report.

Licenses 1920 Explosives and Inflammables: Mr. Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water and Sewer Board appeared at the hearing in regard to the granting of a license to the Water and Sewer Board for permission to store gasoline in an underground tank and pump of a capacity not to exceed 300 gallons at the rear of the Water Works Shop on Vine street. The Board voted to grant this license. Same is effective until May 1, 1921 unless sooner revoked.

Street Lights 1920 Yale Street: A letter was received from Mr. Gordon E. Musselman of Yale street asking for information as to how to secure electric lighting on Yale street from Foxcroft road to Wildwood street. In his letter Mr. Musselman states that poles are set up to No. 51 and that houses are now under construction which will shortly necessitate completing setting the poles the balance of the distance. This matter was referred to the Committee on Street Lights for report.

The meeting adjourned at 11 P. M. GEORGE F. BARTLETT Clerk of Selectmen

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The subscription ticket to the Boston Art Museum for the coming year has been purchased. Any member of the club will be admitted upon showing her club ticket.

At the business meeting on Monday April 26th much enthusiasm was shown when the subject of reducing the high cost of living was brought up by the Home Economics Committee. Two hundred of the members present signed a pledge to stand with this committee in any plan of work they may undertake.

The entertainment by the Pierce Players was a very clever production of three short plays which Mr. Pierce introduced by saying that laughter was the most valuable thing in the world. His old gentleman from the State of Maine was so true to life that many of us felt we had met an old friend. Zolette Pierce was particularly happy in her presentation of Mary Carey in the wedding scene.

GIRL SCOUTS

Captain Emerson will have charge of the meeting of Girl Scouts to be held Wednesday in the High School Gymnasium.

A most interesting afternoon is promised and all Girl Scouts are urged to attend.

Chief DeCourcy of the Winchester Fire Department will give a talk on Fire Prevention and demonstrate Fire Drill.

Girls who can come early may be of great assistance in arranging the fire nets, ladders and other apparatus.

We pay 5% interest on deposits. Winchester Co-operative Bank.

SAVE MONEY ON MEAT.

Here is a real thrift recipe for a tasty, nutritious dish prepared from less costly meat. It is issued by the Division of Women's Activities, Department of Justice. Use this recipe and save money on meat.

BROWNED PIG'S FEET

1 can beets
6 pig's feet
1 egg
1-2 cup crumbs
Butter or butter substitute
Crumb the pig's feet and brown in butter or butter substitute. Arrange in casserole and bake basting with high grade table sauce and butter. Serve in casserole, having 1 can beets, which have been heated, surrounding the pig's feet.

VEAL POT-PIE

2 pounds veal neck
Cook in boiling water until tender. Trim all meat possible from the bones. Add to white sauce.
White Sauce
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons melted butter or butter substitute
Salt and pepper
1 1-2 cup milk

Scald milk, then add the butter and flour which has been made into a paste. Add seasoning.

Make an ordinary biscuit dough and line a baking dish with this. Into the dish pour the meat and white sauce combined, and put a covering of biscuit over the top, being careful that there are small openings in the top for the steam to escape. Bake in a medium oven for 20 minutes. Serve with mashed potatoes, and peas

SWISS STEAK

2 pounds round or sirloin steak cut 2 inches thick
1-2 cup flour
Salt and pepper, mix
2 pounds round or sirloin steak cut 2 12 inches thick
Few slices onion
1-2 green pepper, chopped fine
2 cups boiling water or 1 cup water and 1 cup strained tomatoes
Pound flour into meat with wooden potato masher or edge of heavy plate. Heat the fat. Brown the meat on each side in it. Add onion, green pepper, boiling water and tomato. Cover closely. Simmer two hours. This may be cooked in a casserole in the oven. Other vegetables may be added if desired.

Dancing for grown ups from 4 to 6 at the Town Hall, May 1st.

A full line of Eversharp pencils at Wilson's.

Studebaker

A DEPENDABLE and never failing 60-horsepower motor drives the New Seven-Passenger Studebaker BIG-SIX easily on high gear and without effort, at two miles an hour or a mile-a-minute. Its 126-inch wheelbase, with perfectly balanced chassis, gives to this car riding qualities that are truly remarkable.

Equipment includes cord tires, shock absorbers, genuine hand-buffed leather upholstery, silver-faced speedometer and jeweled 8-day clock, glove box in back of front seat, extension tonneau lamp and many other conveniences.

I have two cars which have just arrived.

Studebaker quality, dominant for 63 years, is reflected in this New BIG-SIX

The Home Garden

Contributed by the GARDEN SPECIALIST
of the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture
WALTHAM

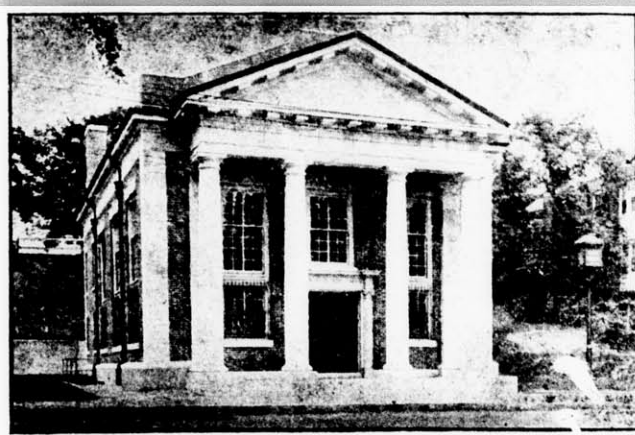

Many vegetable seeds will be planted this week. One would do well to plan the garden before planting any of the seeds. All growing vegetables should be placed on the north side of the plot so as to allow the maximum amount of sunlight to reach each row of vegetables. All vegetables should be planted in long rows instead of in raised beds. Long rows save in labor and space.

In a small garden plot rows are oftentimes planted as closely as 2 1/2' and small vegetables as closely as 14". Best results can be obtained on small areas by alternating a row of one of the large growing crops such as beans, tomatoes or corn with rows of small growing crops like cabbage, bush beans or peas. Crops such as lettuce and radishes should be grown between hills of pole beans, among early cabbage, in a row where tomato plants are to be set. Onion sets and radishes may be set or planted in the row of parsnips or carrots. They will come on and get out of the way before the carrots and parsnips need all of the space.

It is well to plant the garden in such a way so that one crop will follow another. Winter cabbage can very easily follow early beans, spinach and Kohl Rabi after early beets or carrots; in order to get success, planting small amounts of each. Vegetables should be planted at intervals of two weeks or the planting of early and late maturing varieties should be done at the same time; this, in order to produce a continuous supply of vegetables. Early varieties of peas, radish, lettuce, spinach, carrots, beets and parsnips can be safely planted this week.

FIRE HAZARDS SUBJECT OF TALK

Co-operation between property owners and public officers in the prevention of fire dangers was urged last night by Roland E. Simonds of Winchester, representative of the Mutual Fire Insurance Co., who spoke at a meeting of the safety council in the office building at which Fire Chief Henry H. Heitman and many firemen were present as guests.

Fire hazards thrive, said Mr. Simonds thru lack of co-operation which comes from what he called "good housekeeping."

He touched upon the dangers of building construction, faulty in its type and lacking in conformity with sensible regulation. Dangers from fire thru backyard and tenement area, filth and disorder, within and without structures, were illustrated in many pictures showing closeness of tenements built to factory walls. Pictures were shown which revealed lack of care and attention to fire hydrant piping and the speaker told how pipes become clogged and dangers are made greater thru lack of water pressure, not because of inadequate water supply but thru corroded fire pipes.

Sprinkling systems, as in vogue in the great industrial establishments and larger commercial enterprises, Mr. Simonds commended as big benefits and he talked of the wisdom of private co-operation with public service in hydrant and hose arrangements. Firemen, he said, should learn the intimate detail of mechanism to fire fighting apparatus; it is a mistake, he pointed out, for great industrial enterprises to equip with private fire fighting facility not in harmony with that of the city or town. Hydrant service privately installed should be in conformity with that of the city's service or that of the city should fit the case of the big industrial plants.

Effective demonstrations of fire fighting equipment, how to handle fires in different types of buildings, benefits of gas masks and general efficiency thru knowledge of conditions, the speaker detailed as assets in a well managed fire district.

Benjamin W. Johnson, chairman of the safety council, presided. Waterbury Roadman, April 16, 1920.

ADVANCEMENT OF B. & W. ELECTRIC FREIGHT AGENT

on your Ford. Makes Fords work wonderfully smooth. Stops rattling, shaking—makes brakes quick-acting and positive.

Cork Insert is far the cheapest. One set outwears three sets of ordinary lining—saves expense of relining brakes. Does away with jarring and vibration—makes Fords last longer.

Ordinary linings get a slick surface from friction and oil. This slick surface hasn't any gripping power. The corks in Advance Cork Insert always grip and have great wearing quality.

We do expert repairing—always at your service. Full line of accessories—the best oils—greases—tires—tubes.

MEMORIAL DAY

To the Sons and Grandsons of Civil War Veterans:—

Memorial Day is the Day of the Grand Army of the Republic. They founded it. They propose to observe it as their Day as long as the G. A. R. exists.

They look to the Sons of Veterans to assist them, as they have assisted them for the past thirty-eight years. It is our duty to assist them. There can be no question if we do our part. We, whom the Grand Army of the Republic prefer, shall perpetuate Memorial Day.

Let us honor the Old Veterans, living and dead. It will cheer the living to see our ranks grow strong. In honoring the dead we pay tribute, many of us, to our fathers, and carry out the ideals of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The labor of love which they expect of us will in most cases be increased this year. The Sons of Veterans is a patriotic society composed of sons and grandsons of those who constituted the Union Army, Navy and Marine Corps of 1861 to 1865 in the War of the Rebellion. Founded and organized similar to the Grand Army of the Republic, it exists to perpetuate the services and sacrifices of the men who preserved the Union, its principal object being to honor their memories by the proper observance of Memorial Day, the inculcation of patriotism and love of country, and allegiance to the Government of the United States.

The society is a civic and patriotic organization, founded upon a trust in Almighty God. It is strictly non-sectarian and non-political. Its principles are Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.

Now come all you who have one iota of the spirit and courage of the fathers or grandfathers who left all home ties and threw themselves into that struggle to make this a free country—free to you and free to live in. Don't stay back there and look on while others are doing what you are afraid to do. We are only a few and we need you.

Come up to the G. A. R. hall on Wednesday evening next, May 12th and you will find a hearty welcome. They want you and I need you.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WINCHESTER SUFFRAGE CLUB

The Annual Meeting of the Winchester Equal Suffrage Club was held with Mrs. George H. Root, 39 Lloyd street on Wednesday afternoon May 5th. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Daniel C. Bennett
Vice-Pres., Mrs. Charles Zueblin
Treasurer, Mrs. W. Holbrook Lowell
Corresponding Sec., Mrs. Philip S. Dickinson
Rec. Sec., Mrs. J. P. Heaton
At large: Miss Frances Elder, Mrs. A. J. Solis, Mrs. James Nowell, Mrs. James L. Campbell, Mrs. Edward Russell.

Mrs. Frank P. Bagley, National Chairman of the Committee on American Citizenship of the League of Women Voters demonstrated in a most enlightening manner how the League of Women Voters works. Women are going to do the same things they have always done. They will concern themselves with six classifications, namely:

American Citizenship Child Welfare
Food Supply and Demand
Unification of Laws for Women and Children Women in Industry
Social Hygiene

There will be a national chairman for each one of these divisions. Each national chairman will have a chairman in each state who cooperating with the various leagues of women voters will work to bring about desirable legislation along these lines in our state and national legislation. The Winchester Equal Suffrage Club voted to dissolve at the next meeting, to become a League of Women Voters.

METCALF UNION SOCIAL

Last Friday evening the Metcalf Union of the Unitarian Church held a social. It was an informal good time and as usual everyone was supposed to know everyone else. The music was furnished by two of the members of the "Century Four." Refreshments were served and those who attended passed a very enjoyable evening.

Among the present were: Messrs. W. H. Bowe, Jr., Robert Hart, Parker Hart, Hall Gamme, Everett Ginn, Robert Apsey, Edward Sanberg and Gordon Wheeler.

Also the Misses: Barbara Goddard, Pauline Mansfield, Elizabeth Bird, Elizabeth Wicker, Helen Bowe, Katherine Yeager, Alice Webster and Dorothy Barry.

EXHIBITION AT THE ROBBS'

Next Wednesday from 4 to 6 Mrs. Hunter Robb is to open the music room at her residence on Bacon Street for an exhibition of pictures by Mr. Otis Philbrick. Since his exhibition at Mrs. Robb's a year ago Mr. Philbrick has painted or drawn many Winchester people.

He is to show some thirty portraits, including those of Charlotte Ives (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Manley Ives); the children of Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter; Mrs. Harry Dunn (Katharine Hale that was); David Tufts (son of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Tufts); the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Snyder; Ralph Fitch (son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fitch); Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Higgins; and Patience Pecker (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pecker).

Mr. Philbrick has purchased the Caesar studio on Hillcrest avenue and has attracted much attention in Greater Boston artistic circles by his painting and drawing, especially by his portraits of children.

YOUNG AMERICA IN OLD PARIS

On Tuesday evening, May 11 at the home of Mrs. Harrison Parker, 408 Main Street there will be an address by Rev. Stanley Ross Fisher, Co-Pastor of the American Church in Paris.

Mr. Fisher speaks on "Young America in Old Paris." He will tell of his experience as Director of Social and Educational Work among American officers in London and Paris during the war, and will relate briefly the plans for "A Finer American Life in Paris," being devised by the American Church, (denominational).

A Recital of French Songs will be given by Mrs. Fisher, dramatic soprano, preceding the address. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in "Young America in Old Paris."

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings: Charles T. Hayes, 5 Laurel street. Wood frame garage at same address, 20x19 feet.

GEORGE H. CARTER

Prominent Town Official Passed Away Friday

Mr. George H. Carter, prominent in town affairs and holder of a number of town offices for many years, died at his home on Main street last Friday forenoon following an illness of a fortnight. His death was due to heart disease.

Mr. Carter was probably the best known town official Winchester has ever had, he having held office for 28 years. He first entered public office July 29, 1895, when he was appointed assistant Town Clerk. In March, 1899, he was elected Town Clerk, and from that date he held this office until his death, with the exception of a sort period from March 1, 1909 to Jan. 15, 1910. He was Overseer of the Poor since March 4, 1892 and a member of the Board of Assessors since March, 1895. On the same date he was elected a member of the Board of Selectmen, holding this office for three years.

He was widely known among Winchester people, and his long and satisfactory term of service in public life is a living testimonial to his popularity and the esteem in which he was held by his fellow townsmen.

THE WINTON CLUB

The annual meeting of the Winton Club was held at the home of Mrs. T. L. Freeborn, 35 Oxford street on last Monday afternoon. Reports of the past winter's work were given, among which was that of the work committee.

This showed that the following articles had been completed and given to the Winchester Hospital: 32 children's nightgowns, 16 bureau scarfs, 77 pillow slips, 41 binders, 36 dollies, 11 towels and 18 infants dresses making a total of 231 pieces.

The officers were elected for the year 1920-1921 they being President, Mrs. Alfred D. Radley; Vice President, Mrs. Charles A. Burnham; Secretary, Mrs. Philip T. Redfern; Treas., Miss Barbara Fernald.

After the adjournment of the meeting auction bridge was enjoyed. First honors went to Mrs. Curtis W. Nash second to Mrs. William Kneeland and the consolation to Mrs. Donald Belcher.

LAST LADIES' NIGHT

The party Friday evening at the Calumet Club brought to a close the series of ladies' nights held during the winter. The program was a bridge party, and there were 20 tables with an attendance of about 125. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Smalley, Mrs. William F. Edleffson, Miss Jean Macdonald, Mr. H. E. Crawley and Mr. J. Frank Tuttle, the latter cutting with Mr. A. D. Rogers. The prizes were most attractive, the ladies receiving a glass bowl on a gold stand, six ginger ale glasses and a glass candy jar, and the gentlemen a silver pencil, smoking stand and carton of cigarettes. The committee in charge was headed by Mrs. J. B. Lord and included Mrs. H. A. Goddard, Mrs. E. A. Tucker, Mrs. W. F. Edleffson and Mrs. E. R. Butterworth.

WINCHESTER GRANGE

The next regular meeting of Winchester Grange will be held at Lyceum Hall Tuesday evening May 11th. The first and second degrees will be conferred on a large class of candidates. The second degree will be worked by the Men's Degree Staff of Somerville Grange.

A special meeting was deemed necessary last Thursday evening in order to act on a number of belated applications. All subordinate granges are doing their utmost to get all the members in line for the entertainment of the National Grange at Mechanics Hall, Boston, Nov. 10th and Winchester is anticipating a good showing. There will be a class of 8,000 to receive the seventh degree in November and opportunities will be given by the Pomona and State Grangers to get the fifth and sixth degrees before that time.

ANNUAL MEETING

Officers and Reports of Home for Aged People

The annual meeting of the Directors of the Home for Aged People in Winchester was held Monday evening in the vestry of the First Baptist Church, the departure in holding the meeting at that place being made on account of sickness at the Home, where the meeting is customarily held. President Preston Pond, presided.

President Pond outlined the work of the past year in a summary of the affairs of the Association and in the course of his remarks spoke of the fact that at present several of the inmates are in delicate health and of the applications for admission which could not be accommodated. He stated that in this connection it might be possible to include in the Association's list a number of elderly people who it would not be able to take into the home itself, but to whom many of the privileges might be extended, and in this connection he urged the formation and establishment of a fund for that purpose.

There was a full attendance, and the reports of the Treasurer, Directors, etc., were read and received. During the meeting the following resolution offered by Mr. A. S. Hall was read and accepted:

Voted: That upon the records of the Home mention be made, with deep regret, of the death on April 26, 1920, of George H. Carter, the Auditor and a Director of the Home ever since its organization; and that an expression of sympathy be extended from his co-workers to his daughter, grandchildren and sister. Hows always watchful of the interests of the Home, and in his going forth we have suffered a great loss.

The officers elected for the year were as follows:

President, Preston Pond.
Vice-Presidents, Marshall W. Jones, Mrs. E. Florence Kelley, Stillman P. Williams.

Secretary, Charles N. Harris.
Treasurer, F. Nelson Hawley.

Directors for Two Years, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Bennett, Charles A. Lane, Miss Helen A. Pressey, Frank W. Reynolds.

The annual report of the Directors was as follows:

The Directors of the Home for Aged People, pursuant to the by-laws of the Corporation submit their annual report, the twenty-seventh of the series, and lay before the Corporation the records of their doings for the year ending April 30, 1920.

At the time of the last report there were nine occupants of the Home, to wit: Miss Janet Lytton, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Hemingway, Mr. Hiram W. Folsom, Miss Augusta W. Peach, Mrs. Ida M. Hayes, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Davies, Mrs. Mary W. Page, Mrs. Helen F. Rivers and Miss Ella C. Abbott.

Since then, one of them, Mrs. Helen F. Rivers has died and three new inmates, viz: Mrs. Susan Caroline Brazier, best known to residents of Winchester as Mrs. Susan Caroline Bailey, Miss Della G. Wood, a resident of Winchester for forty-five years, and Mrs. Harriet Emily Gerrish, seventeen years resident here, have been admitted, making the present number eleven.

A number of applications for admission have been denied chiefly on the ground that the applicants were not qualified on the requirement of residence.

Four persons have been added to the list of Life Members, viz: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Joslin, Mr. Justin L. Parker and Mr. Wallace F. Flinders, and two life members, Miss Antonia

YOUR AID REQUESTED

Winchester enters upon its endeavor to secure $1800 for the Salvation Army Home Service Fund next Monday. The sum is not a large amount for our town. If each one, recognizing the great good enacted by the Salvation Army, will contribute only a moderate sum, the amount will easily be realized. Solicitors will call at Winchester homes between May 10-20 for your contribution.

WINCHESTER BOY AMONG HEROES HONORED BY FRANCE

The memory of 27 Massachusetts men who gave their lives for the cause of France while driving ambulances in the American Field Service organization during the early years of the War will be honored by having fellowships in French universities named in their honor by veteran members of that noted band who are to meet in New York today. Among the men thus honored is the late Chester R. Tutein, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Tutein of Wildwood street.

LADIES' NIGHT

One of the most enjoyable and popular affairs of the spring at the Baptist church was the ladies' night Tuesday evening, given by the Men's Club. About 125 attended and the program was most satisfactory to all. Rev. Herbert S. Johnson recently returned from Czechoslovakia, gave a very interesting talk on conditions in that country; community singing, solos by Miss Harriet Pingree, also Soloist of the church and refreshments, all combined to the success and pleasure of the members and their ladies.

ANNUAL MAY PARTY

Ladies' Friendly Society Event Largely Attended

The annual children's May Party, given each year by the Ladies' Friendly Society, was held on Saturday as usual in the town hall. The hall was used during the morning by members of the State Guard, assembled to be in readiness to quell the anticipated riots threatened throughout the State. In the afternoon the scene contrasted strongly, with the hall filled with early dressed dancers and throngs of children, out for a program which affords each year the opportunity for one big dancing party for the young folks.

The party this year was as successful as any in the past. It was probably the largest in point of attendance of any yet given, and the fancy dances, held during the first half of the afternoon, were judged as the best seen in many years. The program was in accordance with the customary May Party, the fancy dancing being followed by general dancing.

The program and committee was as follows:

CROWING OF THE MAY QUEEN

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On Thursday of this week Mr. Hall, head of the history department, took the American History Class to the State House. The party left on the 9.06 and went directly to the Hall of Flags where they met the governor at 10.30. They were then shown about the State House. After lunch they attended sessions of the Senate and House of Representative. This party, which was of great interest to all, was arranged through the courtesy of Representative Coolidge of Medford.

In Assembly last Tuesday Mr. Mason '07 spoke to the school. Mr. Mason has been in Calcutta, India; and he told of his experiences in a tiger hunt near there.

The baseball game with Saugus, scheduled for Wednesday was postponed.

The usual class play has been given up this year because the operetta was given so late in the season and the Seniors are busy with graduation and college exams. In its place the Junior class will give a play in the Assembly Hall in the latter part of May. The committee in charge is: Miss Cathleen Case, Miss Madeline Eastwick, and Harry Price. Mrs. F. B. Reynolds has given her services as coach.

BASEBALL

(By Mack)

The season of 1920 will soon be at hand and from appearances it looks to be a banner year for the great American game. It is my intention this season to surpass any team we have ever had in the way of playing strength. At this writing I have several letters from some of the best teams in Eastern Massachusetts looking for games at Winchester, also letters from teams wanting Winchester at their grounds.

Beginning Monday, May 17, we will have practice on Manchester Field from 7 o'clock until dark. And right here I wish to state that all ball players in Winchester are eligible for the team, provided they can show they have the ability and ambition to make a team worthy of the name of Winchester. The people of the town support a team in great shape and are entitled to the best there is in the way of baseball and that is what I intend to give them.

From this week on you can look for developments in this way of baseball each week in the Star. I will tell you who the probable players are and what teams we are going to have here.

RANGELEY

We desire to have you get your information about "Rangeley" direct from our representatives, because:—

1. It is not for sale thru brokers. Therefore the brokers will naturally advise purchases elsewhere.
2. The tenants have been notified to vacate on the termination of their leases, therefore some of them are likely to be unfair on account of their disappointment.
3. The sympathizers of the dissatisfied will advise you not to buy at "Rangeley."

We offer the following houses for sale: all located at "Rangeley." Same will be sold subject to existing leases, all of which expire before October 1, 1920:

No. 7 "Rangeley"—Brick house, 10 rooms: 36,500 sq. ft. of land.	Price, $15,000
No. 14 " " —10 rooms: 56,000 sq. ft. of land.	Price, 15,000

PROPERTY VALUES HAVE IN- CREASED—Have You Increased Your Insurance?

In five years, building cost has increased about 65 per cent; furniture cost, about 125 per cent, and clothing cost, about 129 per cent. Consequently, there has been a great increase in the values covered by the usual policy on dwelling houses and their contents.

If you were burned out today, would your loss draft from the insurance company pay its rightful share of the present cost of replacing your property?

If you have not enough insurance, permit us to consider with you what amount you should carry.

SALVATION ARMY FUND

Campaign by Local Committee From May 10 to May 20

The Winchester Committee for the Salvation Army Home Service Fund, Campaign 1920, will make up our quota during the ten days from May 10th to 20th. This Committee is headed by Selectman George M.
Bryne and includes Mr. George E.
Willey, Vice Chairman; Mr. Charles E. Barrett, Treasurer; Mr. Samuel E.
Perkins, Mrs. James E. Corey, Mrs.
Fletcher Clark, Miss Helen Hall, Mrs.
Harry C. Sanborn, Mr. Patrick Noonan, Mr. C. N. Eaton, Mr. Richard Parkhurst, Mr. Wallace F. Flanders,
Mr. Alexander S. MacDonald, Mr.
Alfred G. Barr and Mr. Robert F.
Guld.

Winchester has been asked to contribute the sum of $1800, a small amount in comparison with the usual requests made of us, and it should be easily raised if each one will contribute only a small sum.

The money is all to be used locally,
and the work of the Salvation Army, carried on without regard to race or creed, is so well known, that the Committee feels it will receive the quick support of all in aiding it to quickly reach a satisfactory conclusion.

It is the plan now to arrange for a residential canvass, the Town having been divided into districts. The solicitors will be your neighbors. Aid them by a prompt contribution, and lighten their work.

WINCHESTER HIGH LOST TO ARLINGTON

Arlington High defeated Winchester High, 12 to 4, in the Mystic Valley League on Manchester Field Saturday afternoon.

Winchester was weakened considerably by the fact that three of the regular players, catcher Tansey, 2nd baseman Gillotti and right fielder Robert Hart were disqualified because they are down in their studies.

GYMNASTIC MEET

The girls of the Winchester High School held a Gymnastic Meet in the gymnasium Friday evening, April thirtieth. The crowd which filled the gymnasium to overflowing showed the interest which the town had in the event. Miss Parkhurst, to whom much credit is due for the excellence of the program, had planned the meet to be more of a contest than an exhibition. All the events were competitive except the dancing and basket ball. Lillian Gray of the Senior Class won the most points for individual excellence. Her remarkable work drew the attention of everyone. She had the distinction of securing one of the first three places in every event in which she took part.
Although rivalry among the classes was very keen, the Senior class with a total of seventy-two, won far more points than any other. However, all the participants should be congratulated for their fine work, which showed that they had put much time and effort into its preparation.

The events judge by games included the marching and games. The Juniors won first place for marching, the Freshmen won second, exhibiting remarkably good work for so large a class, and the Sophomores won third.
The Basket Ball Circle Relay was won by the Juniors and the Pursuit Relay by the Seniors. These races which were the most exciting events of the evening evoked great enthusiasm from the audience.

The Folk Dancing done by the Freshmen and Sophomores was very graceful and animated. The Seniors and Juniors did equally well in the Jockey Dance, which proved a feature of the evening.

The drills, apparatus work, and driving were indeed for individual excellence. In the Freshmen-Sophomore Gymnastic Drill, Jessie Naufts won

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy.
Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. The

Dry Cleanse and Dyeing

Now is the time to look over your wardrobe and arrange for dry cleansing and dyeing. We extend our service to you, calling at your home and returning all articles with prompt-

Wearing apparel should be cleansed often—it is insurance against germs, dust, stains, soils, etc. Present high prices of clothing would seem to demand the making of one's wardrobe last as long as possible.

Grice and Mrs. Sybil S. White have deceased.

During the past year there has been received the sum of $5,125, being a legacy from the estate of the late Joseph Moulton. A request of $500 has also been made to the Home by the will of the late Dora M. Nickerson.

The Home has also been generously remembered by numerous living benefactors.

Its domestic concerns continue to be efficiently supervised by Miss Richards, the matron, and by Mrs. Shaw, acting matron during the temporary absence of Miss Richards.

In October last, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Home was most pleasantly commemorated by Mr. Alfred S. Hall, the first President, and one of the Life Members of the Home who, as host, called together around his banquet board at the Calumet Club all the past and present officers and Directors of the Corporation.

He also prepared and distributed in printed form a short History called by him "A Story" of the founding and development of the Home.

The Directors view with solicitude the fact that the membership of the Corporation has not increased during the past year. In fact, by reasons of deaths and removals, it has actually diminished. At the same time, the applications for admission have been more numerous than usual.

The Directors therefore renew the appeal to their constituency for personal efforts to increase the membership of the organization and for generous aid in the task of caring for those who are unable to care for themselves.

For the Directors
Signed Preston Pond, President
Charles N. Harris, Secretary
The Treasurer's report was as follows:

PAINT INSURANCE

You insure your house against fire, why not against depreciation.

You pay fire insurance to provide against possible loss, and you should paint to prevent certain loss.

Painting is economy through preservation and protection.

Good paint not only preserves and protects but the right colors for the different styles of houses beautifies and increases the value of your property.

Let me figure on your painting interior and exterior and get a price based on the best of material and workmanship.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Some men get mad when you ask them for your money, they aren't slow to anger, but just slow to pay.

Some painters have reduced the art of slowness to such a science that they just keep ahead of the dryer.

One way to acquire popularity is to keep your troubles to yourself.

Some men attempt to practice what they preach, but they soon get out of practice.

A woman hates to acquire her first grey hair as badly as a man hates to part with his last one.

May Day has passed safely. The Reds, or Spartans, or whatever they please to entitle themselves, decided the time was not quite propitious for a demonstration—which we believe consists of destroying property, marching with red flags and crude signs, and making speeches condemning everybody and everything except themselves. Do you remember the May Day of your youth? Do you ever remember on that day any public assemblages to protest against the bourgeoisie, the neighbor who lived on the hill, or the government? Did May Day ever come to your attention as a date for down-trodden labor to raise its head in struggle to rise above its mire? Do you ever remember Dick Smith the carpenter, or George Ellis the blacksmith, or Tom Hennessey of the leather shop attaching any significance to the date to air his personal grievance against mankind and everything in general? We think not. Your recollection of May Day is probably the same as ours—a time of spring and gladness; of flowers and happiness; a welcome to the pleasant days on the threshold before us. Which do you prefer—this modern May Day, brought to our homes by the scum of Europe, or the Old New England May Day which was a time of joy and happiness? We think there is but one answer. If the European who comes to our shores to enjoy the blessings and privileges this Country offers and gives him cannot do so without attempting to instill us with his poison, he should be kept outside; if he cannot join with us in what we enjoy let him stay away. We listened to much talk through the War of hyphenated Americans, yet we seem today to have more hyphens than ever—the only difference being that the word German is not before the hyphen. It appears the only reason our May Day was not turned into a demonstration of some sort against a grievance of some sort was the active preparedness for any eventuality. Let it continue; only many of us are getting weary of our present state, and would really like to see some genuine house cleaning.

A USEFUL CITIZEN

The people of Winchester are not likely to overestimate the very valuable services to their town and community, of the late George H. Carter. He began holding offices of public control when Winchester was a village of only moderate size, over thirty years ago, and in those years has filled with fidelity, and ability, the various positions, of Town Clerk, Assessor, Selectman, Overseer of the Poor, and Registrar of Voters. Much of the time he has held several of these offices at once. At the last Town Meeting he was chosen to the most important office of an Assessor, without opposition, no other name being upon the ballot. He probably knew more men, in Winchester, than any other person. In the formative years of the town, and in its rapid and strong development, great responsibilities were devolved upon him. There was of course much routine in his clerical work, but questions of original construction, new methods and modern usages were always arising. In meeting these issues, Mr. Carter did not come short. Nearly all of the real estate in the Town has been given original valuations, and has been revalued many times by him in his period of assessorship. He has ministered to the poor with kindness, and with justice to both rich and poor. The highways attest the good judgment of the Selectmen while he was a member of that Board. The correctness of his records as a Town Clerk has never been questioned; and his books and writings have never been confused. The whole citizenship looked to him for counsel and historical reference, and relied upon his honest administration, his patience, fairness, kindness and humanity. All classes will cherish his memory, and realize that they have lost a personal friend.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

On Monday May 10th William G. Ward will speak upon Current Events. Those of us who remember the pleasure and profit gained from the lectures on that subject given here by his wife, May Alden Ward, should give him a cordial welcome. Mr. Ward is said to be one of the most popular lecturers of the day.

The Home Economics Committee are arranging for next Fall classes in cooking, dressmaking and millinery. Reservations are being made now. Any one wishing to join any of these classes, please notify as soon as possible Mrs. C. W. Tarbell Chairman, phone 734-M or Miss E. Josephine Quimby Secretary, phone 641-W.

One of the most pleasant events of the year occurred in the Club Luncheon at the Hotel Vendome on Monday and about one hundred and sixty members and friends were present to enjoy the good things that had been so carefully prepared by the Luncheon Committee. Mrs. Z. E. Gammage, Chairman.

Members of the Executive Board acted as hostesses at the various tables. Flowers were given by Miss Downs and Mrs. Gale. A delicious luncheon was served, and the spirit of social good cheer was dominant. After the tables were removed, Mrs. Bond in the spirit of gaiety, introduced Mrs. Root as Toast Mistress.

Her promise of a merry hour which would demonstrate that "A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men—and women" was well fulfilled.

Mrs. Goddard in her readings, and Mrs. Musselman in a topical song written by Mrs. Le Favour, who accompanied her, created gales of merriment.

Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Bourne might have been criticised as rather rude in leaving so early to catch a train, as there are a good many trains coming to Winchester, but were forgiven when they returned and gave a very clever sketch written by Mrs. Gilpatrick, full of wit and humor, in just the ordinary train conversation between any two Winchester ladies.

The President's remarks were in keeping with the happy spirit of the occasion.

"The Fortnightly Yell," written by Mrs. Woodside, was given by the Club with an enthusiasm worthy of a crowd of college students.

The music, in charge of Mrs. Mason, Chairman of the Music Committee, was a pleasing feature. The community singing led by Mrs. Mason was full of spirit. She also sang two solos accompanied by Mrs. Abbott, which gave much pleasure, especially Green's "Sing Me To Sleep" with violin obligato by Miss Felber. As an encore she sang "Little Mother of Mine."

Great credit is due to the efficient Luncheon Committee, who planned and executed this successful affair. It is understood that Mrs. Gammage besides being a woman of many resources is also a poet, as witness the poem on the menu served with the luncheon, which runs as follows:

To The Fortnightly Club House
Here's to the R-O-L-T of the tree of life

The beginning of all that's good,
And here's to the L-A-N-E by the side of the road

Whose branches spread forth where we stood.

MEMORIES

(May 3, 1920)

The Fortnightly Club outshining the sun, Planned storming the Hub for luncheon and fun.

So matron and maid by train and by car,
All brightly arrayed went traveling afar.

At last all arrived past state house and dome,
To where long has thrived the hotel Vendome.

The spread was well served from first course to last,
And thanks well deserved for genial repast.

The Root of the toast was stories galore,
All wished this bright host had time to tell more.

And were you "surprised" at Musselman's strains?
And how highly praised were Mason's refrains.

At times interspersed was community song,
Then playlets well versed and rahs! loud and long.

And Woodside, Lane, Bourne, what merriment there,
While "Jere Downs cook" brought shouts everywhere.

The president's Bond was gilt-edged and true,
A queen's magic wand and all subjects drew.

And this was her call, democracy's light,
Is shining for all "work then with your might."

With laughter and fun the hours slipped away,
Long speeches and pun, then gone was the day.

Along now it stands as Memory's day,
To all who join hands 'neath the Fortnightly's sway.

A CLUB MEMBER

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Illness still persisting in the Home for the Aged the postponed meeting of the local Union was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, on Vine street, last Friday afternoon, with a good attendance of the workers.

Sums of money were appropriated to the Lilian M. Stevens Memorial Fund and to the support of a French Orphan by Middlesex County. The support of one French orphan is credited to the Winchester Union thru the generosity of one of its members, who gave the money for this purpose the year of the War Welfare drive and has continued it.

Delegates were chosen for the Middlesex County Union which is to be held in Framingham, Wednesday, May 19, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. It is practically certain that Winchester's quota for the Jubilee fund will be in hand by that time and it will be in order to celebrate that achievement. Twenty states have already gone over the top for the Jubilee fund and others are nearing the goal, in spite of the urgent demands of the various other drives and movements. People seem to have got into the habit of giving, certainly they are doing it with fairly good grace.

Other policies will mature later which may be similarly arranged, giving them a guaranteed income through life.

Llewellyn Lodge is to have its annual Open House Day on Saturday, May 22, and it is to be hoped that the weather will be pleasant, for now that the winter has passed the country has a special lure. Further particulars will be given later.

Presidential possibilities and other news apparently have crowded out the reports of the World's W. C. T. U. meetings from the daily press, but private advice assures us of much interest and wonderful gatherings in connection with this great convention in London, this three hundredth year since the Pilgrims came to Massachusetts.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING MAY 3, 1920

The Board met at 7:30 P. M. all present.

The records of the meeting of April 26 were read and approved.

There being a vacancy in the office of the Town Clerk of the Town of Winchester due to the death of Mr. George H. Carter, the Board appointed Mr. Arthur A. Kidder a Clerk under Statute 1913, Chapter 835, Section 424 as amended to perform the duties therein specified with the same powers as Town Clerk in the performance thereof. Mr. Kidder consented to take this position temporarily in order that the work of the office of Town Clerk might proceed.

Public Meetings: Mr. Whitfield L. Tuck appeared before the Board in regard to taking some action against profiteers. He suggested that a mass meeting be called by the Selectmen or some other civic body to protest against this profiteering.

Governor's Avenue: The Board voted to stop the construction of Governor's Avenue at the north-west line of the tennis courts.

Bacon Street Bridge: The matter of taking some action in regard to the possible construction or repairing of Bacon Street Bridge was referred to the Committee on Highways. This committee is to report in regard to the condition of the bridge and also the feasibility of repairing the same.

Street Lights 1920 Swanton Street Bridge (Main Street): The Board voted to have an 80 c. p. incandescent street light installed on the Swanton Street Bridge (Main Street) the exact location of this light to be given by the Town Engineer. The Town Engineer is to report whether or not it will be possible to have this light installed approximately on the middle of the bridge.

Laborers: The following letter was received from the Town Council in regard to the vote passed in Town meeting March 10, 1920 relating to extra money for pensioners.

"May 1, 1920

"Board of Selectmen
Arthur A. Kidder, Chairman
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sirs:—

"In connection with the vote of the town under Art. 26 of the warrant calling the last annual meeting, it may be of service for you to have at hand the following references:

General Acts 1909, chapter 21, which fixes the rate of pensions for laborers; and General Acts 1919, chapter 80, which prevents any pensioner of the town receiving compensation for any service rendered the town, excepting teachers receiving annuities not exceeding $180.00 per annum on March 31, 1916, and a jury service and service as a public official."

"Yours very truly,

Ralph E. Joslin"

Street Lights 1920 Yale Street: The matter of whether or not street lights should be placed on Yale street from Foxcroft Road to Wildwood Street was referred to the Town Engineer, he to report and make a plan showing where new lights should be installed.

Town Hall Building and Grounds: A letter was received from the Town Engineer in regard to improving the appearance of the town Hall grounds. The Board decided to have a blind drain built and also have certain shrubs removed and transplanted. The matter was referred to Mr. Hinds, Town Engineer, to see that the work is started at once.

The meeting adjourned at 11:10 P. M.

Did You Ever Figure Out how money accumulates at compound interest? Suppose at the age of twenty you had one thousand dollars deposited in a savings bank at 4½ per cent. Your bank will agree to keep this sum intact and compound it at 4½ per cent. for a period of thirty years; then, at the age of fifty, you will have to your credit in cash

$3,800.13

From now on you can draw out in interest, each year, the snug little sum of $171.00

Your thirty year nest egg will still remain intact for the rainy days of later years.

Try this with any deposit you can make now in our saving's department for the benefit of yourself and your heirs.

The little May Queen this year was Miss Louise McGill, and her attendant was Miss Virginia Flanders. The Queen entered the festivities in the march, walking beneath a wreath of apple blossoms. Billy Perkins was the page.

During the special dances Miss Carlene Murphy gave an exhibition dance which was quite the best thing of the afternoon. Miss Murphy was very graceful and was highly complimented upon her number.

The closing number, a patriotic tableau, included in addition to those who had parts in other dances, Miss Helen Bowe as the Goddess of Liberty, Mrs. Mildred Binns as the Angel, Miss Dorothy Kerrison as the Red Cross Nurse, Mr. Henry Chapman, bugler, girl scouts, boy scouts and Miss Frances Newell.

The orchestra, something wholly new in May Party annals, was a feature in the dancing, and Mrs. W. S. Doane, chairman of the committee in charge, desires to express to her committee her personal thanks for their efforts in aiding her to carry out the successful party.

78th BIRTHDAY

Mr. Henry J. Rieburg of Hemingway street, a well known resident of Winchester for the past 50 years, was enjoyably surprised on Friday evening at his home by a party of friends who took possession of the house, and after presenting him with many beautiful flowers in honor of his 78th birthday, arranged a program of music, cards and refreshments which occupied the evening. The party included friends from John T. Wilson Camp, S. of V.; the Women's Auxiliary and Winchester Lodge, A. O. U. W. Mr. Rieburg is still active, working in his garden daily, and the wish was expressed by his visitors that now that he has enjoyed his first 78th birthday, he may continue to enjoy many more.

The Home Garden

GARDEN SPECIALIST

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture
WALTHAM

Last Saturday was Arbor Day officially, but there is no reason why home gardeners should not continue the spirit of the day for several weeks. Many are the home grounds which can be very materially improved by the planting of shade trees, fruit trees, and shrubbery.

A home gardener came into the office last week and stated that he got $300 more for a place which he had just sold because he had invested three years ago about $15 in a Rugosa rose hedge. Real estate men all are agreed that a place improved with a few dollars' worth of shrubbery brings enough more to pay a large interest on the investment.

Aside from its being good business to improve one's surroundings, shrubbery, flowers, and trees cannot help but make us better citizens, here is something about nature which is truly religious and elevating. One's contact with nature always tends to improve ideals and make for happiness. Nice families, when selecting a location in which to reside, prefer locations where the neighbors keep their lawns tidy and in first-class condition, where there are lots of shrubbery and flowers. If one does not know just what to plant, it is well to discuss the matter with a local nurseryman from whom the shrubs are to be purchased. Excellent advice can in this way be obtained without additional expense. One should be careful to keep the lawn open and free from shrubbery and trees unless the lot is very large, in which case an occasional tree is permissible. Ordinarily the shrubbery is used for borders and for banking against buildings.

More of the back-yard garden should contain a succession of berries. The old-fashioned garden not only included vegetables, but all of the different kinds of berries, flowers, and small fruits. Berries are relished by nearly every family, and in recent years have become very expensive. It is possible to have a small bed of strawberries, a few raspberry plants, blackberries, currants, gooseberries, and overbearing raspberries and strawberries and by so doing have berries fresh from the back-yard garden from July until frost comes in the fall.

The back-yard garden should also include asparagus and rhubarb. Strange to say about three out of every four home gardens do not include these two vegetables which everyone is so fond of early in the spring. Full directions will appear next week for the actual planting of asparagus, rhubarb, strawberries, blackberries, raspberries, currants, and gooseberries. Home gardeners should get their orders in and have their plants on hand.

The majority of the home gardeners are in the process now of spading or having plowed, their gardens. Small portions in many gardens have already been spaded, in which have been planted some of the seeds which will stand the cool wet soil. Among the vegetables which may be safely planted at present we find beets, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower celery, kale, lettuce, onions, onion sets, parsley, parsnips, early peas, radishes, spinach and early turnips.

Most seeds are being planted somewhat thickly in order that the plants may be thinned out later to the desired distances. This is especially important when one is in doubt as to the germinating qualities of the seeds. There is nothing to be gained by soaking seeds before planting, and in fact the practice should be discouraged. New Zealand spinach is the only exception to this rule. This should be soaked in warm water over night. Seed potatoes should be soaked for 30 minutes in a solution of one ounce of powdered corrosive sublimate in 12 gallons of water. This is to kill many of the potato disease germs found on the skin of the potato. Larger seeds should be planted 1 inch deep; smaller seeds not over 1.2 inch at this time of year. Fine pulverized soil should be placed over the seed and the soil firmed with the back of the hoe or by walking or rolling.

How a Noted Vet. Gets Rid of Rats—Farmers' Head.

Dr. H. H. Butler says, "I use RAT-SNAP around my hospital every three months, whether I see rats or not. It does the work—RAT-SNAP gets them every time. I recommend it to everybody having rats." Don't wait until there is a brood of rats, act immediately you see the first one. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Central Hardware Co., Allen's Pharmacy and Richardson's Market.

WHAT a difference in these motor-car days, when every point in the county is hardly more than "just around the corner."

People's ideas are changing, too.

They're beginning to figure out how much it is costing them to keep a car. And the man who is doing the greatest amount of figuring is the man with the moderate-price car.

II

There still seems to be a notion in some quarters that any tire is good enough for a small car.

That's not what the man who owns it thinks.

In recommending and selling U. S. Tires we are trying to see his side of the proposition—finding out what he wants in a tire and giving him that.

III

Large or small, U. S. Tires are built to only one standard of quality—the standard that produced the first straight side automobile tire, the first pneumatic truck tire.

Every tire that bears the name "U. S." is built the best way its makers know how. It isn't the car, but the man who owns the car, that counts with the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

IV

As representatives of U. S. Tires in this town, we offer you the benefit of our experience and advice in settling your tire problem.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.

George Hutchins Carter was born in Boston, October 23, 1860. He was the son of John and Susan V. Carter. He attended the Cranney Hall School in Boston, and upon graduating took a business course at the Bryant & Stratton School. He entered business with his father, who was the head of the wholesale grocery firm of Carter Mann & Co., with offices on State street, Boston. He retired from business life in 1885.

The family came to Winchester about 1870, and since that date he lived here continuously. In 1873 he married Miss Nellie D. Cook of this town. She died in 1876, and after her death Mr. Carter seldom entered social life. He was a charter member of the Winchester Young Men's Club, the origin of the present Calumet Club, and had been an Odd Fellow and a Mason, although at the time of his death he was not affiliated with any lodge.

One daughter, Mrs. William L. Barnard, survives him, together with four grandchildren; also one sister, Mrs. William R. Cowdery of this town.

Mr. Carter had been in his usual health up to a little over two weeks ago, when he was taken ill at his office. His condition rapidly became serious, and for several days little hope had been held for his recovery.

Largely attended funeral services were held at the residence on Sunday afternoon at two-thirty. Numbered among the mourners were practically every town official and many of the members of the town departments, besides many others prominent in the life of the town. The display of floral offerings was the most profuse, including among the many, gifts from the Selectmen, Assessors, Overseers of the Poor, Calumet Club and his associates.

A simple service was conducted by Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church, selections being rendered during the service by a male quartette. The ushers were Mr. J. Herbert Dwyer, Mr. Edward H. Stone and Mr. William R. Cowdery. There were no bearers. The burial was in the family lot at Forest Hills.

During the period between Mr. Carter's death and the services, flags on the public buildings and schools were flown at half mast, and during the service the bells were tolled.

DONATE YOUR CAR

On the calendars in the charitable institutions of Boston that house cripple and orphan children there is a great red circle drawn around the date of June 9 for on that day Chester I. Campbell will conduct the annual outing for these unfortunate children under the auspices of the Boston Automobile Dealers Association. Twenty-five hundred tots will participate in the outing which will be at Nantasket Beach.

It certainly is a red letter day in the lives of these children. From the moment that they leave the institutions that they know as home it is one round of pleasure with a chance to stuff themselves with unlimited quantities of candies, pop corn and ice cream.

It will require about six hundred automobiles to efficiently transport the youngsters. Mr. Campbell has sent out an appeal to owners to donate their cars for the occasion. He states that once a man has been fortunate to loan his car and drive it with those "kiddies" on the outing that he feels that he has reaped a big reward for his effort.

Those who wish to donate their car for the day or make a cash donation may send it to Chester I. Campbell, 5 Park Square.

The officers and non-coms of the local Machine Gun Company were called to headquarters Saturday for school work and target practice. During the morning instruction was given the officers and in the afternoon target practice was held at the range at the West Side. Dinner was served at the town hall at noon. This was done in accordance with the general scheme to hold all military forces in the State in readiness for trouble of any kind on May Day. The matter was to have been kept secret, but owing to the enterprise of Boston papers it was announced broadcast. Regular target practice is to be held by the Company from now on, and any young men who are interested in military matters may receive instructions from the Company officers. During Saturday the officers were in touch with all members of the Company, and had the occasion arose, the Company could have been quickly assembled ready for active duty.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

Will Meet Fortnightly Ladies on High Cost of Living

The regular meeting of the Winchester Board of Trade was held Tuesday evening in White's Hall, president Arthur T. Downer presiding. In response to a request from Mrs. F. N. Kerr of the Civic Committee of the Fortnightly, a committee will receive a delegation of the ladies sometime today to discuss the high cost of living, and to this committee, in addition to president Downer, was appointed Mr. A. Burnham Allen, Mr. Harris S. Richardson and Mr. Charles A. Lane.

The meeting had under discussion several very interesting and vital topics, and in addition transacted important business. The proposed amendment to the by-laws was passed, whereby "any resident voter who declares himself interested in the business welfare and civic improvement of the community shall be eligible for membership." This will considerably enlarge the executive powers of the organization, as it is anticipated that a number of town officials and other residents interested in public affairs will avail themselves of the opportunity to join the organization.

A number of committees which are working on various matters pertaining to betterment of local conditions and welfare of the association made reports. Included in this list was the matter of the tunnel at the railroad station, illuminated sign in the center, the Dunster Lane separation, Forest street improvement and others.

New committees were announced as follows:

Membership—Charles A. Lane, chairman; A. Burnham Allen, James J. Fitzgerald, J. C. Sullivan, George F. Arnold, Albert B. Seller.

Entertainment—Harris S. Richardson, chairman; Robert F. Whitney, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy.

Publicity—Herbert Wadsworth, Jr., chairman; Price Wilson, Loring P. Gleason.

Signs—Robert F. Whitney, chairman; Edmund C. Sanderson, J. Albert Hersey.

Closing Stores—Albert B. Seller, chairman; J. Albert Hersey, Thomas H. Barrett.

Credit Bureau—Herbert Wadsworth, Jr., Loring P. Gleason.

Outing—J. Albert Hersey, chairman; Everett A. Smith, Harris S. Richardson, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, Robert F. Whitney, J. C. Sullivan, Charles A. Lane, G. Raymond Bancroft, John Piccolo, Herbert Seller.

In addition to other business transacted, the organization voted to join the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce.

The Board of Trade will not meet again until September, provided no special meetings are called.

MR. WALTER S. KRAMER

Mr. Walter S. Kramer died at his home on Sheffield road on Wednesday of heart trouble. For several weeks his condition, brought about by an earlier attack of influenza, had been very grave, and little hope had been held for his recovery.

Mr. Kramer was in his 55th year. He was a native of Cambridge, the son of Sebastian and E. Augusta (Bacon) Kramer. For many years he resided in Lexington, where he leaves two sisters, Miss Emma and Miss Belle Kramer. He came to Winchester and made his home 16 years ago.

He was president and manager of the John Richardson Co. of Boston, importers of china clay. His business called him abroad largely and he spent much time in England. He had made 96 crossings of the Atlantic.

He was a Mason and was a member of William Parkman Lodge of this town, Corinthian Lodge of Concord, Walden Royal Arch Chapter of Concord, Boston Council, Royal and Select Masters and Boston Commandery. He was also a member of the Calumet Club, the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Boston City Club and the St. Austell Club of Cornwall, England.

He leaves a widow and two sons, Robert and George S., besides his mother and sisters.

The funeral services will be held this Saturday afternoon from the residence, 20 Sheffield road, at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Loren McDonald of Concord. The interment will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

New Spring stationery. Wilson the Stationer.

GEORGE HUTCHINS CARTER

The death of Mr. Carter on April 30, 1920, brings to a close a record of public service to the town of Winchester which deserves more than ordinary recognition by this Board.

Mr. Carter was a selectman from March 4, 1895, to March 7, 1898; he was an overseer of the poor continuously from March 28, 1892, to the day of his death; an assessor continuously from March 4, 1895 to the day of his death; the assistant town clerk from July 29, 1895, to December 30, 1898; and, with the exception of the period from March 1, 1909, to January 17, 1910, he was town clerk and ex-officio a registrar of voters from March 6, 1899, to the day he died. Such a record of varied, continuous and important service is without a parallel in the town's history, and it is improbable that it will ever be equalled.

That Mr. Carter performed the tasks devolving upon him in all of these offices to the satisfaction of his constituents is proved by his many uncontested and unanimous elections and re-elections. That the town was fortunate to number among its citizens one who was willing to devote his time and talents to their service is made increasingly evident as from year to year it becomes more and more difficult to get capable men to accept and perform the duties of town office. In recognition of his long service and as a brief but inadequate memorial of his worth, it is hereby unanimously VOTED: that the Board of Selectmen express the deep regret which they share with all the citizens of Winchester upon the death of Mr. Carter; that this brief statement of his service be made a part of its record; and the clerk of the board be directed to send to his family a copy thereof and to cause the same to be published in the Winchester Star.

WILL NOT BOYCOTT STORES

The Fortnightly Gives up Reported Plan for Tradeless Mondays

It was reported yesterday that the Fortnightly, the local women's club, which has taken up the matter of high cost of living, has abandoned the plan to boycott Winchester stores on Mondays. This, it is said, has been done upon advice from Boston.

As reported earlier in the week it was the plan of the club to eliminate any trade whatsoever with any store in town on Mondays. This was to be done in connection with a plan to bring down the high cost of living. The club, in this action, was to co-operate with other women's organizations throughout the State, and the trading was to have been as usual on all other days. Monday's supplies being purchased Saturday, the scheme being to show the merchants the strength of the women of the State when combined in united action.

Under present plans the only step definitely decided upon is the mass meeting of this week. It was intended to establish a "Fair Price List" in the center, this bulletin giving the government prices and being used by the women, but this, too, will not be used, it is said.

A MASS MEETING

On Saturday evening May 15th at 8 o'clock a Mass Meeting will be held in the Town Hall under the auspices of the Fortnightly.

This marks the beginning of the Fortnightly's campaign against the present high cost of living.

The speakers will be the Hon. Samuel W. McCall, and Mr. Charles L. Underhill of Somerville for many years an honored and distinguished member of our State Legislature.

There will be community singing led by Mr. George Dane of the War Camp Community Service and discussion from the floor.

The object of the meeting is to bring home to the people of this town their individual responsibility and how to meet it.

A Fortnightly Pledge against H-C-L has been issued for the women of Winchester. It is hoped to meet not only club members but every woman in the community so that two thousand pledge cards will be hung in the windows of Winchester homes.

WOBURN DISTRICT CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Woburn District, Massachusetts Sunday School Association assembled on Tuesday, May 11th in the Methodist Episcopal Church. There were 114 registered delegates, representing 16 of the Sunday Schools in the District, and supper was served to about 90 of that number by a committee of ladies, members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church, under the direction of Mrs. Robert W. Dover, as chairman.

The words of welcome to the delegates as expressed by Rev. A. B. Gifford Pastor of the entertaining church at once made the feeling of good fellowship, which existed throughout the whole day, very apparent. The welcome was responded to by Rev. William M. Taylor, President of the Woburn District Association in a few well chosen words which expressed the gratitude and appreciation of the entire delegation, for the warm welcome received.

During the afternoon session, Miss Nathalie Gifford, rendered most acceptably a solo "My Task."

At the afternoon business session the nominating committee submitted the following list of officers, which were unanimously elected.

The afternoon addresses one on "Religious Education and Child Conversion" by Rev. Clifton H. Walcott, of the Baptist Church, and the other by Miss Katharine C. Bourne, State Supt. of the Home Extension Dept. were both very inspiring and full of helpful suggestions. Miss Bourne's subject being along the lines of the new plan adopted by the State Association in Home Department work, making this Dept. under the new name of Home Extension cover all ages, from the Cradle Roll to the Adult period.

Conferences were enjoyed from five o'clock right up to the supper hour at 6 o'clock and were led by the following experts in their particular lines.

Junior, Mrs. Viola V. Morris, Worcester.

Home Extension, Miss Katharine C. Bourne, Foxboro.

Pastors and Supts., Rev. E. M. Ferguson, D. D.

The evening service started promptly at 7:15 opening with a praise and devotional service conducted by Rev. Charles Stackpole, of the Stoneham Methodist Church.

Reports of the Secretary-Treasurer covering a year's period and showing some progress were read and accepted.

It was voted that the Association express its appreciation of the faithful service rendered by Miss Florence E. Plummer, who has served the Woburn District S. S. Association in the capacity of Secretary-Treasurer, since February 1915, by sending her with all expenses paid, to the Northfield Summer School as Delegate for the District.

An invitation was extended the Association by Mr. Wallace Turner, Supt. of the Methodist S. S. of Woburn to hold the annual convention in their church next year and it was voted to accept the invitation.

Before the evening address, Miss Costance E. Park of the 2nd Congregational Church, sang very sweetly and in a most pleasing manner a song entitled "I Come To Thee."

The Delegates were fortunate to have as evening speaker, Rev. E. Morris Ferguson, D. D. newly elected to the State office of General Secretary. It was a pleasure to meet Dr. Ferguson and it will be a greater pleasure to work through the District Organization with a man of his knowledge in Sunday School matters.

Meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock and the Convention was discussed with a benediction by Rev. A. C. De Lapp of the North Woburn Congregational Church.

RED CROSS CONFERENCE

Of interest to all Red Cross workers is the general Red Cross conference to be held in Horticultural Hall, Boston, May 20th and 21st. The conference is planned not only to inspire and encourage the Chapters and Branches to take up the peace-time program, but also to give definite help to those who need advice in carrying out plans that have already been made.

It is the hope to have representatives from every Chapter and Branch attend, and the program will give a clear understanding of the work that is planned out ahead by National Headquarters.

The first session will deal with Red Cross at home and abroad today, and the second day there will be special sessions on the methods by which Chapters and Branches can most successfully carry out their projects.

The morning sessions are from 10 to 12 o'clock; afternoon, 1:30 to 5 and evenings at 8. Luncheon will be served in the hall from 12:30 to 1:30.

SHOWER FOR MISS BARNES

The E. P. H. class of the First Baptist Church tendered Miss Charlotte Barnes of Highland Avenue a shower at the home of Miss Alice B. Romkey 22 Stone Avenue, Thursday evening May sixth. Miss Barnes' engagement to Mr. Arthur Gilmore of this town was recently announced. The shower came as a complete surprise to Miss Barnes as this was a regular class meeting.

After the business meeting several interesting games were played at the close of which a large gayly decorated May basket, marked for Miss Barnes appeared mysteriously at the outside door. When opened it was found to contain a chafing dish and equipment, the class gift, and smaller miscellaneous gifts from each of the members. These latter were accompanied with appropriate humorous verses, and all spent a merry time listening to them. Later refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed.

Among those present were:

THREE ARRESTED FOR BREAK

Three young men were arrested in Lane's lunch room, Medford Square, early this morning by Winchester officers charged with entering Barnes' dry goods store earlier in the night. Night man James Barrett at the Winchester Auto garage heard breaking glass shortly after 12. He investigated and found three men entering the Barnes store by way of a back window. His appearance frightened them and they ran towards Swanton street. Officers Kelley and Donaghey immediately took up the chase and caught the men about 1:30 at Medford, they being identified by officer Kelley, with whom they had talked earlier in the evening when he stopped them on their way home. The men were George H. Donovan of Boston, Paul E. McCaffrey of Medford and Walter P. Leahy of Medford. They had not entered the Barnes store further than the toilet where they broke in.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE FAILS

It looks as though Winchester will not come anywhere near raising its quota of $1800 in the Salvation Army Drive. After a week's work by officers of the local committee the response has been very discouraging and but a small sum has been realized. The local quota is small in proportion to the population, if everyone here only gave a quarter the sum would be raised, and it is to be regretted that the town must record failure.

Mr. Charles E. Barrett of the local committee and Mr. Geo. M. Bryne chairman, and any subscriptions may be left with them.

October 1st.

Eversharp pencils. Full line at Wilson the Stationer's.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Cummings of 8 Ravenscroft Road, Winchester, on Saturday, May 8 announced the engagement of their daughter Ruth to Mr. Paul H. Buxton of Torrington, Connecticut, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Buxton of Paisley Park, Dorchester. Miss Cummings is a graduate of Wellesley College and served as a Reconstruction Aide in Occupational Therapy at the Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C. Mr. Buxton, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was overseas as a Lieutenant in the Aircraft Section of the Ordnance Department.

AMERICAN LEGION TO PRESENT

"OFFICER 666"

Everybody is talking about it, the Legion show "Officer 666." As all seats are reserved don't wait too long and then be disappointed. The Winchester Post of the Legion wishes to thank those people who have already secured their seats for the first Annual Legion Show "Officer 666" to be presented in the Town Hall, Saturday evening May 22nd.

Those who have not yet obtained their seats may buy them at Allen's Pharmacy all next week. No telephone orders will be taken so buy early as there is a big demand for tickets.

Officer 666 the well known farce made famous by Cohan and Harris is to be played by a cast composed of entirely Winchester people starring such popular persons as Francis Wymann, Margaret Ray, Charlie Harrold, Alden Symmes, Kenneth Caldwell, Hester Bradford, Ned Boyle, Doris Thompson, Harry Bigelow, Ebbin Kibbe, Harold Farnsworth, Allen Wood and Royal McCarthy. According to Charlie Harrold the director, the cast will be ready to present the best show Winchester has had in many years.

By seeing "Officer 666" you will forget all your troubles while laughing at the wonderful humor of the lines together with following the unusual plot throughout the evening.

The Legion chose this entertainment in order that the people of Winchester would all be pleased. You cannot afford to miss this production. Buy your seats early, remember the date, the 22nd, go to the Town Hall and see a good show by a "made in Winchester" cast.

The Legion is the authorized organization of ex-service men and women of the World War. The Winchester Post already has more than 400 members. However the expenses of this new organization are large in forming and developing the local post to that calibre worthy of the town. The Winchester Post does not ask for gifts to meet its expenses but that each person attend the first annual show thereby giving financial assistance. Dancing will follow the performances.

THE AMERICAN CHURCH IN PARIS

There was a large attendance at the Congregational church on Tuesday evening to hear the talk by Rev. Stanley Ross Fisher on "Young America in Old Paris," an address in sympathy with the American church in Paris. The affair, to have been held at the home of Mrs. Harrison Parker on Main street, was transferred to the church vestries after the invitations had been issued owing to illness in Mrs. Parker's family.

Rev. Mr. Fisher gave a very interesting address, speaking from his experiences as director of social and educational work among American officers in London and Paris during the War. He outlined the scheme for the establishment of the American church in Paris and told of the plans which it was hoped to carry through.

In connection with Rev. Mr. Fisher's address, Mrs. Fisher, dramatic soprano, gave a recital of French and American songs. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Dudley Fitts. Mrs. Fisher's beautiful voice and charming personality added much to the evening's pleasure. The following French and American songs were among those on the program, and in several cases encores followed:

Widow, Villanelle des petits Canards, Chabrier

Songs My Mother Taught Me, Dvorak

Mohacs Field, Korbay

The Ol' Ark's a Moverin', Guinon

Song of Hope (Swedish), Carl

MOTHERS ASSOCIATION

The Mother's Association will hold its regular meeting in the High School Assembly Hall, Wednesday May 19, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Carl V. Morris of Worcester will speak on Parent Problems, dealing especially with children up to twelve years of age. Any one with special questions may send them before the meeting to Mrs. Fletcher D. Parker. Mrs. Gordon Musselman will sing, and a social hour will follow. It is hoped a large number will come, rain or shine, for this will be a particularly helpful talk for all. Little children may be brought and left in charge of a kindergarten teacher.

All workers and any interested in children are cordially invited to come.

VINAL APPOINTED ASSESSOR

At the meeting of the Board of Selectmen Monday night Mr. Ralph S. Vinal of 46 Glen road, well known as a resident of Winchester for many years and prominent as an architect and designer of many of the town's fine residences, was appointed a member of the Board of Assessors.

Mr. Vinal who assumes office at once fills the vacancy on the Board of Assessors caused by the recent death of Mr. George H. Carter, who held office for many years.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending May 13:—

Mrs. E. S. Rogers of 44 Glen road. Alterations and additions of sleeping porch to present residence.

Mr. Daniel E. Hurley of 71 Holland street. Wood frame garage at same address. 18x18 feet.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending May 13: 14 measles, 2 German measles, 2 whooping cough, 2 lobar pneumonia, 2 mumps.

CONVERSION OF 4% BONDS INTO 4-1-4% BONDS

Unless temporary 4% coupon bonds of the Second and First Liberty Loans are received by us for exchange and conversion into permanent 4-1-4% bonds before May 15 and June 15 interest dates respectively, holders will not be entitled to the higher rate of interest for the ensuing six months periods from these dates because all conversions are effected as of the next succeeding interest dates of the two loans.

In addition to the desirability of obtaining the increased rate of interest, it is important that owners make this exchange in order to obtain subsequent interest due them as the last coupons attached to the temporary 4% bonds have matured.

Special 4% coupons will be attached to 4-1-4% bonds delivered upon conversion to cover interest until the time that the 4-1-4% rate will be effective.

Please schedule all temporary 4% bonds which you may have on Form F-1 (in triplicate) and forward immediately.

Any effort which you make in reminding holders of 4% bonds of these facts will be appreciated.

The Winchester Trust Company will make this exchange without charge.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING, MAY 10

The Board met at 7:30 a. m. present. The records of the meeting of May 3 were read and approved.

Board of Assessors: The Board held a joint meeting with the Board of Assessors at 8:15 P. M. to appoint a successor to fill the vacancy on the Board of Assessors caused by the death of Mr. George H. Carter. The meeting organized with Arthur A. Kidder, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen as Chairman of the joint meeting and George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen as Clerk. After a few remarks by Mr. Wooster who was the only member of the Board of Assessors present, ballots were cast showing that Mr. Ralph S. Vinal of 16 Glen Road was unanimously appointed, the seven ballots cast being all for Mr. Vinal. Mr. Percival B. Metcalf, the other member of the Board of Assessors was unable to attend this joint meeting.

Town Clerk: The following statement in regard to the death of Mr. George H. Carter was drafted and also the following vote passed in regard to the same. (Vote printed in another column).

Trees: A reply to the Board's letter of May 5, 1920 was received from the Tree Warden, stating that there was one dead pine tree and some dead tree limbs on Stevens street which would soon be removed otherwise the trees on this street appear to be in good condition. The Clerk was instructed to send a copy of this letter to Mr. Taylor of 23 Stevens street who had complained about the trees on this street.

Sidewalks 1920 (Yale Street): A report and an estimate was received from the town engineer in regard to Mr. W. H. Baker's request for the construction of granolithic walks in Yale street fronting lots 196, 197 and 198. The matter was laid over for the present pending consideration of other sidewalk matters.

Street Lights 1920: It was decided to take no action at present about shutting off the street lights at 12:30 P. M. The matter, however, is to be kept on the docket for later consideration.

Sidewalks 1920 (Warren Street): A report and an estimate was received from the town engineer in regard to Mr. William A. Mulholland's request for the construction of a granolithic sidewalk in front of his property at 9 Warren Street. As the present walk in front of his property is of tar concrete and in good repair the town engineer recommends that this work be not done. The matter was laid over for the present pending consideration of other sidewalk matters.

Everett Avenue and Cambridge Street: A letter was received from Mr. C. E. L. Wingate suggesting the widening of the "grass island" at the corner of Everett Avenue and Cambridge Street be cut down in order that more room may be allowed for the road and thus making this corner more safe for vehicular travel. The matter was referred to the town engineer to take up with the Park Board and to report back to the Board of Selectmen.

Aberjona River: A letter was received from the Town Counsel in regard to a hearing in room 435, State House, on Wednesday, May 12 at 10 A. M. with reference to the bill for the completion of the work on the Aberjona River.

Licenses 1920 Explosives and Inflammables: An application was received from Kimball and Earl for "permit to install a 500-gallon tank to contain gasoline, together with a pump on the outside of sidewalk at premises numbered 751 Main street. The Board voted to hold a hearing on June 1, 1920 at 8 o'clock P. M. in the Selectmen's Room, town hall building.

Trees: A letter was received from Dominick Flowers, 17 Holland street asking that attention be given to trimming a certain tree on this street. A copy of the letter was ordered sent to the Tree Warden.

Sidewalks 1920: A request was received for a sidewalk from C. L. Raynor, 15 Maxwell Road. Although a granolithic walk was not mentioned in this request, Mr. Raynor undoubtedly meant to apply for the same abutting his premises and also the adjoining lot. The matter was referred to the town engineer for estimate and report.

The meeting adjourned at 10 P. M.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

ANNUAL REPORT OF RECORD-ING SECRETARY OF LADIES FRIENDLY SOCIETY

April 27, 1920

The flight of time, which grows more rapid with each succeeding year again brings our Society to the moment when we make the annual chronicle of the work and the play of the year.

The season past has not been hampered by the ravages of any epidemic, as was the case last year nor have the usual activities of the organization given place to the arduous and necessary war work as was the case during the tragic days of the great war.

A glance over the records show that the normal course of events has been obtained throughout the year, though the exigencies of an unusually cold and stormy winter have prevented some of our gatherings from being the success anticipated and hoped for.

Our Society now boasts a membership of 212 making it one of the largest of the Alliance Branches.

There have been seven regular meetings of the Society, including this annual meeting, four of them preceded by a luncheon. There have been also five sewing meetings at four of which tea was served. Tea was served also at three of the regular business meetings which were not preceded by a luncheon.

At six meetings there has been a program.

On October 14, Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, our minister, gave an account of his experiences and observations while at the "front" illustrating by stereopticon.

On November 11, Reverend George Spurr of Nashville, Tenn. was a guest of the Society and spoke about the trials and hardships attending the struggling growth of a Unitarian parish in the hostile soil of the South. The speaker for this afternoon was Miss Mattie Louise Foster of the North End Union who spoke on the "Mission Method of Americanization Work."

February 10, our Guest Day, occurred simultaneously with one of the heavy snow storms of the winter. A program of unusual excellence had been prepared and while the talent succeeded in reaching the church very few, either guests or members were present to hear them.

The few who came were more than repaid by the musical program rendered by Mr. Carl Webster, cellist, and Mrs. Lockman pianist and accompanist. The musical program was followed by a brief talk on "Poland" by Mrs. Kennedy.

On March 9, Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach, Editor of the Christian Register, was the speaker giving an interesting discourse on Spiritual Law and Personal Efficiency.

Rev. Minot Simons, Secretary of Church Extension of the American Unitarian Association, spoke to the Society on April 6, "Vitalizing the Denomination" being the text of his discourse.

The annual Christmas Sale occurred on December 9, and was a most successful affair netting a satisfactory sum of money and adding also to our sum of unity and good fellowship.

One of the most successful affairs of the season, not only of this Society but of the whole parish, was the Ladies Friendly supper held on February 24. The Executive Board had charge of the affair, supper being served to a "capacity house." The members of the Metcalf Union assisted in the serving. The program that followed the supper began with community singing, led, with a contagious enthusiasm, by Mr. Dane of Boston, leader of the War Camp Community Singing.

Miss Folger of Braintree, formerly connected with the church, danced fancy dances and Mrs. Reynolds presented six young ladies of the parish in a sketch called "Six Cups of Chocolate."

Dancing closed the program.

The following musicians have assisted in making the programs enjoyable and successful: Mrs. Caroline Gilpatrick, soprano, who sang on October 14; Miss Gertrude Felber, violinist, who played on March 9; and Mrs. A. H. Abbott, pianist, who played on April 6.

The following appropriations of money for philanthropic and other purposes, outside our own borders have been made:

$50.00 to the Social Service Council of Unitarian women.

$25.00 to Rev. George Spurr for use in his parish in Nashville, Tenn.

$100.00 to the Appeals Committee of the National Organization.

$2.00 to the Directors Travelling Fund.

$10.00 towards fitting up a room at 25 Beacon street.

$50.00 for the Hungarian Relief Fund, which mission has taken Mr. Metcalf from our midst, again, in the name of the Faith which we all uphold.

"For the love of Truth, in the Spirit of Jesus Christ and for the Service of Man."

The Standing Committee of the church requested that some member of the Society be appointed to represent the Ladies Friendly Society on the Publicity Committee of the Church and Mrs. Robert Perkins was appointed as that representative.

There have been nine meetings of the Executive Board with an average attendance of 14.

and the co-operation of a company of several thousand people.

Priscilla Dean has the role of Sari, a beautiful beggar girl of Stamboul, wild as a leopard, with a passion like the burning desert and a temper as furious as a Sahara simoon. With alms secured through her street dance and cajolery she supported her aged Syrian mother. She was a familiar figure to Yusef, who kept a shop near the Bazaar of Egypt, and one day when she came there to solicit alms she met a handsome American who was in command of a famous legion, composed of the dregs of Asia known as the Black Horse Troop. She heard Yusef warn the American to beware of her, as her "soul was as the filth in the streets of Stamboul." Filled with despair, Sari resolved to purify her soul to be worthy of the man she loves.

Entering the mysterious mosque she beheld a crime being enacted within the sacred walls. But having committed the grave offence of entering the mosque, to which no women are admitted, her lips were sealed and she dared not divulge her secret. This is the beginning of the story, the telling of which engages an army of players, thousands of horses, camels and dogs, gigantic settings and wonderful locations and which was six months in the making. Miss Dean's splendid support includes Wheeler Oakman, Wallace Berry, E. A. Forde, Ethel Ritchie and other well known players.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

There are really only two times when you believe a liar—when he says something good about you or something bad about somebody else.

Self esteem never lets up until it reaches the jumping-off place.

Smartness enables a man to catch on, but wisdom enables him to let go.

Handling any job ought to be like handling a needle; seeing it through.

A man is seldom as black as he is painted nor a woman as white as she is powdered.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Education Committee of the Fortnightly, desiring to establish a reading room for the remote districts of Winchester, request each member to donate one or more books for that purpose. These may be left at the Town Hall in care of Miss Stinson, or will be called for by notifying Mrs.
J. Waldo Bond, chairman, 195 Highland avenue.

A current events class will be formed in the Fall, details will be furnished later.

At the regular meeting held on Monday May 10th Prof. William G.
Ward spoke upon current events.

He has made the study of History his life work, and has this vast store of knowledge upon which to base his judgment of the present day conditions.

He spoke of the struggle in England as the greatest battle ever known outside of war. The French regards as the greatest nation on earth.
Their centuries of hard knocks have taught them that a nation cannot be ruled by emotions or sentiment as we are in this country in great measure, but by hard, strong facts. Russia he considers as helpless in the hand of the Bolsheviks.

The best news that has come to us since the armistice is the success of Poland against the Bolsheviks. For many centuries she has been fighting for her freedom; now with the help of Greece and the other four Southern nations on her boundaries, she is winning her goal.

France has sent her officers to advise and command, we have sold their arms and uniforms, our flying men are in action with them, and it would seem that she is not only gaining her own freedom but protecting Europe and even America from the terror of Bolshevism.

Ice cream and cake were served and the Fortnightly adjourned until the second Monday in October.

WINCHESTER WAYS

By Beth O'Shea

Little toy town with your tall trees, your well-kept velvety lawns, your miniature lakes with their tiny bridges your parks and flowers and old English houses—you are very lovely.
There's a quiet and peacefulness about you that is restful, too, and your people are cordial and kind. Even the little black and white dog one meets on the street wags a friendly tale and the big-eyed youngsters one smiles at smile back frankly without the fear which the city bred children seem to have of every stranger.

The warm sunlight is streaming down today and the little lake lies so still, in the midst of the hills, that it reminds one of a huge sapphire in a green gold setting. The bluebirds are fitting about in the trees—and we know it is nesting time, and a time of happiness.

Every morning the same people come out on the same car, and they all greet the grooming conductor with a good morning. I think he has a kind of mental roll call before giving the starting signal, and if they are not all there, he waits a while longer. The obedient motor man can make up the lost time en route.

There's an attractive little school teacher—yes she is attractive, and she's a school teacher too. Maybe she's the exception that proves the rule—I don't know. A young man, who agrees with me that she is attractive, says that she will probably not be a school teacher long, but I don't think he has designs on her himself. He carries a picture in his wallet, and talks about saving money, um hum, that's why! But anyway the attractive school teacher has an ardent admirer, and he's just about seven. His mother puts him on the car each morning and he races joyfully up the aisle with flower offerings and a face fairly wreathed in smiles. One day, though, there was almost a tragedy. Another seven year old got on the car when it left Arlington and had the seat of honor all the way.
We wondered what would happen when the regular suitor appeared. He came in joyfully as usual, but when he saw a hated rival in his place, a terrible gloom settled down on his features. To make it worse the h. r. moved in to make room for him and thus brought himself so close that his head must rest against the shoulder of the beloved. That was almost more than human nature could bear.
Oh—the jealousy of youth! But that was only once. We hope there has been no foul play, but it certainly does look suspicious. The hated rival never appeared again and the ardent admirer has held undisputed sway every morning since.

Out here there's a painter whom we call the Laughing Philosopher.
His name is Kendall but it ought to be Kelly, for if ever the map of Ireland shone forth from a face, it does from his. He's kissed the Blarney Stone, too—or if he hasn't, then surely his father did long ago. And all day long he whistles and sings at work, and sometimes he pauses in our doorway and tells us bits of his life philosophy. We've read much the same bits in a great many books, but that wasn't the way he got his. He's learned it from living.

MISS ANNIE DODD CELEBRATES

Ninety-five Years Old.

Miss Annie Dodd was born May 12, 1825, and on Wednesday celebrated her ninety-fifth birthday. This unusual age becomes the more remarkable when it finds the person youthful and attractive as is Miss Dodd.
Her face is fair and her smile is winsome as ever. With an easy, quick step she comes to meet you, and with keen mental faculties she delights you with her kindly conversation. Many prize her friendship.

A number of Miss Dodd's friends called to congratulate her and others sent affectionate greetings. Mrs. Leon J. Crouch, for the Ladies' Aid, presented a bouquet of flowers. Mrs. J.
N. Mason read a poem entitled "My Old House" which was written by an elderly lady on her 85th birthday, was sent to Rev. J. H. Mansfield on his 85th birthday and here read to Miss Dodd on her 95th birthday.

"My Old House"

"I hail once more my natal day,
Still in my tenement of clay,
With many favors blest.
And He who placed the structure here,
Can prop it up another year,
If He should think it best.

Long has it stood thro' snow and rain,
And braved life's fearful hurricane,
While many stronger fell.
The reason why, we cannot tell,
But what to us seems mystery,
The Builder knows full well.

And now 'tis weather worn and old,
The summer's heat and winter's cold,
Pierce thro' the wall and roof.
'Tis like a garment so worn out,
To mend there seems no whereabouts,
So gone are warp and woof.

The tottering pillars all are weak,
The poor old rusty hinges creak;
The windows too are dim,
These slight discomforts we'll let pass,
For looking darkly thro' a glass,
We catch a hopeful gleam.

Nature and reason tell us all,
This shattered frame ere long must fall.

When, where or how, unknown,
We'll leave that to the Architect,
And trust His wisdom to direct,
The taking of it down.

And when you see it prostrate lie,
Let not a tear bedim your eye,
The tenant is not here.
But just beyond time's little space,
She's found some quiet resting place,
No more to date her years.

And though she walks with you no more

The world will move just as before,
'Tis meant it should be so.
Let each his house in order set,
That he may leave without regret,
Whenever called to go."

Mrs. Ida Purinton brought a birthday cake with ninety-five candles on it. All expressed their joy at being present and wished Miss Dodd continued health and happiness.

Refreshments were served by Miss Emma Trowan, Miss Dodd's niece, and by Mr. Thomas Morris, her brother-in-law, with whom, at 18 Mystic ave., she makes her home.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The scholarship awards for this year's graduating class were announced in Assembly last Friday. Miss Eleanor Tilden has won the Valedictory and John Sullivan the Salutatory.
Mr. Sullivan is the third boy to win this honor.

Last Saturday afternoon a party of girls chaperoned by Miss Weeks and Miss Taylor went to the presentation of "The Merchant of Venice" at the Opera House. The following girls were among those in the party:

Betty Brd, Marion Henderson, Mildred Lewis, Dorothy Lewis, Virginia Carrier, Barbara Goddard, Molly Pol-land, Blanche Johnson, Ruth Barnard, Ruth Mathews, Alice Webster, Mary McCarron, Audrey Godda, Kathryn
Yeager, Agnes Court, Ruth Shultz, Marion Breen, Doris Nichols, Betty Underwood, Ruth Peck, Evelyn O'Connell, Barbara Pike, Marion Winn, Nancy Clark, Sylvia Parker, Vera Harrington, Alice Renert.

Miss Helen Foley and Miss Louise Simonds both of the Senior Class have been awarded recognition for speed and accuracy in typewriting.

Both the base ball game scheduled at Wakefield last Saturday and the one at Watertown Tuesday were postponed because of rain and wet ground.
The team is anxious to get in action again as its members are all up in their studies now.

In assembly Tuesday, Mrs. Mead gave a very interesting talk on schools.

A SHOWER

Miss Anna E. Sullivan of Nelson street was tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home Tuesday evening by some seventy-five of her friends from Beverly, Woburn, Stoneham, Charlestown, Malden, Medford and Winchester. She was the recipient of many handsome and useful gifts in recognition of her approaching marriage. Instrumental and vocal music made up a pleasing program and a dainty collation was served during the evening. Miss Sullivan marries Mr.
Ivan J. Nash of Burrage, June 16th.

DAMON—BOYER

Mrs. Fannie B. Boyer of 16 Everett avenue and Mr. Ralph T. Damon of 64 Fletcher street were married on Saturday by Rev. Frank Oliver Hall.
The ceremony was private and the couple were unattended. They will make their home at 16 Everett ave.

The Increased Stability of National Banks

in the United States is shown by the Comptroller's 1919 Report to Congress.
Out of the 7,700 National Banks there were:

17 failures annually from 1874-1893
16 failures " " 1894-1913
8 failures in 1914
5 failures in 1915
3 failures in 1916
3 failures in 1917
1 failure in 1918
No failure in 1919

Such testimony to the watchfulness of Uncle Sam's servants who are entrusted with the care of the National Banking system is proof positive that your money

Hovey, dated Nov. 1915, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, book 4174, page 236, for a breach of the condition contained in said mortgage deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises on Saturday, the fifth day of June, A. D. 1920, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

A certain tract or parcel of land in Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, situated on the Western side of Sheffield West, so-called, containing ten thousand six hundred and thirty (10,630) square feet, more or less, and bounded as follows:

Southerly by lot 4 (1) shown on plan of land belonging to said Ripley and Hovey, dated May 1909, recorded with said Deeds, book of plans 179, plan 6, there measuring one hundred twenty-four and 70-100 (124.70) feet.

Northerly and Northerly by three lands of said Ripley and Hovey in three parcels, nineteen and 46-100 (19.46) feet, thirty-nine and 3-100 (39.03) feet, and forty-eight (48) feet respectively.

Northerly and Easterly by land now or formerly belonging to Robert Holt, and owned by said Ripley and Hovey, 131-150 (131.50) feet.

Said lot shown as lot numbered eight (8) on plan entitled "Plan of land of Frank L. Ripley and Frederick E. Hovey dated July 2, 1910," recorded with said Deeds, book of plans 188, plan 3, together with the right to pass and re-pass with teams or otherwise from the rear of said lot eight (8) over other land of said Ripley and Hovey to and upon a private way fifty feet (50) feet wide which lies along the Easterly bank of the brook and in land adjoining the Western line of land of Blaikie to Everett Avenue.

Said lot is subject to the following restrictions, to wit: No building shall be erected thereon nearer than forty (40) feet to any street (except that steps, bay-windows, verandas and porches may extend not more than fifteen (15) feet into said restricted space) or nearer than ten (10) feet to either side line of said lot. No house shall be erected thereon to cost less than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00); no double houses, apartment houses, stables or buildings for mercantile, manufacturing or other obnoxious purposes shall be erected thereon except that a garage for the private use of the owner may be built on said lot within forty (40) feet of the back line thereof.

Said premises shall be sold subject to all outstanding and unpaid taxes and other municipal liens if any.

TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale and the balance within ten (10) days thereafter upon the delivery of the deed at the office of Ralph E. Joslin, 18 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Desire for Friends Universal.

Whether we confess it or not, we all desire to be loved; however we may seek for friendship, we secretly long for friends. But like every other good thing on earth, being liked by others must in some way be earned; it has its price, and must be bought. He who will take no trouble to make himself worthy of the liking and regard of his fellows must in the end find himself lonely.—Exchange.

Planting Small Fruits and Berries
These should be planted as early in April or May as the ground can be prepared and the plants obtained. Strawberries are ordinarily planted in rows about 30 to 36 inches apart, 16 to 20 inches apart in the row. Care must be exercised to plant them just right, so that the crown is not too deep; it should be just even with the surface of the ground. Ordinarily four plants are saved from runners of each mother plant during the growing season. These are selected and trained out in four corners from the plant.

Red raspberries are ordinarily planted in rows 7 feet apart and 2 1/2 to 3 feet apart in the row. Black raspberries are often planted in hills 4 or 5 feet apart, or in rows 7 feet apart and 3 feet apart in the row. Blackberries are usually planted in rows 8 feet apart, and the plants 3 feet apart in the row.

Currants and gooseberries are ordinarily planted about 5 feet apart each way, so as to permit cultivation both ways. In the small home garden they may be planted in the row considerably thicker, possibly as close as 3 feet.

of interest to many home gardeners. Miss Marian R. Case of Weston, Mass., won $115 in prizes last year at exhibits of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society.

In cooperation with Professor Charles S. Sargent of Boston she has worked out a contest open to any home gardener in Middlesex County.

The details are as follows:

Prizes and Conditions for Competition

For the best vegetable garden in Middlesex County, Massachusetts, that covers not less than 800 square feet and contains at least ten kinds of vegetables cultivated by the owner himself or by one employing not more than one man, three prizes: $60, $35, $20.

These prizes are offered with the hope of stimulating an interest in gardening, increasing production, and so, in a small way, reducing the cost of living.

General Supervision and Judging

The Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics, 7 Moody Street, Waltham, has kindly consented to judge these gardens. The Bureau will advise with regard to preparation of the soil, seed, methods of planting, control of disease and insect pests, cultivating, harvesting and all problems of garden management. Each garden will be judged by a representative of the Bureau three times during the season, once in July, once in August and again in September. The basis of judging will be as follows:

Plan and application, including arrangement and succession, 10 points. Garden management, including cultivation, freedom from weeds, thinning and stand, 35 points. Health of plants, including insect pests and diseases, 20 points. Economic results, including yield, use of products and net profit, 35 points. Total 100 points. Local conditions, such as the original adaptability of the soil and unpreventable handicaps, will be given consideration by the judges.

How to Enter the Contest

Any person with a garden satisfying the entrance requirements and who is willing to abide by the rules, may enter the contest by filling out the required entry blank and sending it either to the Middlesex County Bureau, Waltham, or to Miss Marian R. Case of Weston, Mass., on or before May 1st.

Beginning June 1st the banking hours of the WINCHESTER SAVINGS BANK will be as follows: 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Saturdays 9 A. M. to 12 M. and 6 to 8:30 P. M.

The Collection of "Slow" Telephone Accounts

THE PURPOSE OF THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is to show that it is desirable to save the time and labor that is expended in collecting bills that remain unpaid after the lapse of a reasonable period of time.

BILLS ARE DUE when rendered on the first day of each month, and while most telephone accounts are paid promptly, there are a number of "slow" accounts that require labor, time and expense that might better be devoted to other work that is more directly in the interest of the public's telephone service.

WE BELIEVE that this method of bringing the matter to the attention of the public, this frank and open discussion of our aims, is all that is necessary to secure proper understanding and co-operation.

WINCHESTER, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1920

PRICE FIVE CENTS

K. OF C. BUY PROPERTY

Papers have been passed closing the sale of the Ambrose property on Vine street to the Knights of Columbus Building Association of this town.

This estate, consisting of a large frame building and 24,000 feet of land was once known as the Windsor place. The land borders Wedge Pond and is quite near the center of the town, which makes it an ideal location for the Association. Plans are now under consideration for an auditorium on the second floor; reading room, reception room and pool room on the ground floor. To keep pace with the strides of the National Order towards civic improvements, a gymnasium will be added as soon as possible, and an evening school will follow as a matter of course.

There has never been a time when the future of the local Council looked brighter. The present membership is in the neighborhood of 250, and it is confidently expected before the year is over to increase this to 500. With every member working, as they are at present, wholeheartedly for something worth while, there is no reason to doubt the success of the undertaking, difficult as it may appear just now.

To raise money for immediate expenses a bazaar is scheduled to take place in the fall. It is also expected that not only every member of the Council but every person interested will avail themselves of the opportunity to buy a share of the stock which may be obtained from members of the K. of C. Building Association.

The Building Association was started about 5 years ago by Mr. William C. Welch. It was incorporated under the laws of this State, and many of the business men of the town became interested in this effort to establish a permanent home for the K. of C. in this town. Among its first patrons was the Rev. Father Merritt, who still has the project greatly at heart, and the late William D. Richards who contributed generously.

Owing to war activities, the Knights had to abandon, for a time, their plans for self-betterment. Now that affairs of State are becoming more normal every member is out to make this the banner year of the Council.

K. of C. Building Association:—President, F. J. O'Hara; Vice-President, Luke P. Glendon; Treasurer, Henry Longfield; Secretary, D. F. Dineen.

Directors: Rev. N. J. Merritt, Dr. Richard Sheehy, J. C. Sullivan, G. K. M. E. O'Leary, James W. Haggerty, John F. O'Connor, Patrick Fitzgerald, Charles V. McGuerty, Edmund Gogans, Daniel Reardon, George R. Poland.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF LEWIS LODGE

Saturday, May 22nd, Lewis Lodge, the Women's Rest Home of the Frances E. Willard Settlement, will celebrate its tenth anniversary and invites all its friends to participate. An attractive program has been arranged in addition to having all parts of the place open for inspection from 10:30 to 5 o'clock. At 11:30, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney will speak, as will Mrs. Myra L. Higgins, the retiring Head Resident, whose management of the Lodge from its opening has contributed largely to its great success. Miss Caroline M. Caswell, Founder and President of the Frances E. Willard Settlement, will preside. The music will be in charge of Mrs. Elmer A. Stevens, and Mrs. Herbert W. Reed of Arlington will sing. At 2:30, Mrs. Lulu L. Shepard of Utah will speak, and children from the Settlement will give a play and exercises on the lawn. A cafeteria luncheon will be served at noon under the direction of Mrs. William P. Liston. Products of the Lewis Lodge Industries, notably the handwoven linens and rugs, will be on sale and an unusually full line of children's garments. The Lodge is situated on the Old Billerica Road, Bedford, within easy motoring distance from Boston, and carriages will meet all trains and trolleys for those who wish to go that way.

BILL REPORTED AGAINST MISS STINSON

The bill introduced into the Legislature by Selectman George M. Byrne to permit the Town of Winchester to appoint a woman as its Town Clerk, was unfavorably reported upon by the house committee Friday. The bill was introduced with the intention of appointing Miss Mabel E. Stinson to the office. She has been assistant clerk for a number of years and is liked by all doing town business. It is reported that opposition to the bill developed among Town Clerks in other places who feared similar appointments of women. At present Selectman Arthur A. Kidder is making a very acceptable clerk for Winchester.

Upon a vote in the Legislature Monday the bill was defeated 58 to 48. The bill came up before the Senate on Wednesday and was passed. This will mean its reference to the House again today.

BUILDING PERMITS

The Inspector of Buildings has issued the following permits for the week ending May 20:

J. M. Pringle of Boston. Wood frame dwelling on Yale street, 38x27 feet. Same owner on same street, wood and brick dwelling 25x41 feet.

Fred W. Aseltine of 7 Cabot street. Concrete block garage at same address, 12x19 feet.

Samuel H. Broughton of Millford, N. H. Wood frame garage on Chesterford road, 12x18 feet.

J. H. Winn Sons. Washington st. Brick addition to present watch hand factory, 24x65 feet.

Mr. Maurice F. Dinneen has tendered his resignation as inspector of plumbing for the city of Woburn.

MASS MEETING

The Fortnightly Opens Campaign Against H. C. L.

Opening with the sounding of the Boy Scouts' call on the fire alarm Friday afternoon, members of The Fortnightly started their campaign against the high cost of living in this town.

The call for a mass meeting of Winchester residents in the town hall on Saturday night was sent broadcast over town by the Scouts, called together by the sounding of their alarm call Friday and Saturday evening saw a good gathering at the hall, all eager to learn how to combat present day prices and costs. The gathering was estimated at 500 persons.

The meeting was in charge of the Civic Committee of The Fortnightly. Mrs. Alfonso F. Woodside, chairman, and the ladies who assisted included Mrs. A. W. Mudge, Mrs. A. W. Hildreth, Mrs. F. N. Kerr, Mrs. Walter S. Wadsworth, Mrs. Charles E. Hoey, Mrs. Walter F. Chamberlain, Mrs. B. T. Morgan, Mrs. T. G. Abbott, Mrs. Dolan, Mrs. A. S. MacDonald and Mrs. George R. Townsend.

Mrs. Herbert T. Bond, president of The Fortnightly, presided and opened the meeting, explaining in her remarks that the organization was taking up the matter from the viewpoint of the consumer, primarily the women, who as spenders of the family income might be considered perhaps as the most vitally interested. The Fortnightly, representing the women of Winchester, felt it possible that through its size and organization it might make itself felt in the matter. She laid stress upon the fact that the club had no idea of boycotting Winchester merchants or anyone else, but rather desired to work with them in reducing costs.

She said that primarily the women would be asked to sign pledge cards issued by the club calling for the elimination of unnecessary purchases and any form of extravagance. The matter before the people today appeared as serious as any arising during the war, and it might well be taken up before all war activities are laid aside.

She introduced Mr. George Dane of the War Camp Community Service, who led the gathering in community singing for a half hour, after which former Representative Charles Underhill of Somerville was introduced.

Mr. Underhill said that present high costs appeared due to present prosperity; low costs came with times of depression or panic. He read from a report of the legislature compiled in 1900 to substantiate this. He said the most important asset of today—time—was the factor least considered. Today's condition needed the work everyone could give, but everyone desired to give less. If all would work a little longer each day, and a little more each week the greatest step toward remedy would be begun. Instead of this everyone desired less work, while demanding more in money and luxury.

He urged economy by all—wear clothes longer, watch the food for waste and conserve in every way. The remedy is in our own hands. Are we all to take hold, or are we to sit back and "let George do it?" He also spoke in reply to a question concerning retail dealers, saying that in his opinion they were not to blame for present day conditions; taxes, labor costs and the demands of the people all taking a large toll. The average merchant made less than before the war.

Dr. Frank Oliver Hall spoke on the urgency of united action and thought the pledge an important factor if lived up to. Mrs. A. W. Mudge also told of incidents showing the attitude of the club women in practicing economy and brought up again the fact that the club had no idea of conducting a boycott. Mrs. A. W. Hildreth was another speaker upon the matter of what the club desired to do.

The meeting closed at ten, those present being asked to sign the pledge cards which were given out by members of the committee.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

By Mack.

Tomorrow the game will be played for the "Sally" drive, and two first-class teams will play the game. As far as I am able I will have what will probably be the Town Team on the field for one team. The other will be made up of players from Arlington and Woburn, and both these towns are noted for good ball players.

The entire receipts will be turned over to the Salvation Army and the collection will be in the hands of the committee in this town. I will furnish everything to play the game, so that a goodly sum should be turned in to this good cause; so pull the rubber off your bank roll and give. The Salvation Army is entitled to all you can give and just a little more.

SOCIAL IN METCALF HALL

Last Friday evening the Metcalf Union gave another social in order to make up for the last one, for they only made just enough to clear expenses.

It was a very pleasant affair for the music which was supplied by two of the members of the "Century Four" was very good, and an incidental eccentric dance, furnished by John Morrill was very entertaining. The social was under the direction of Edward B. Sandberg and Miss Helen Bowe, Mrs. Goldard and Mrs. Lombard were the matrons.

Some of those present were the Misses Barbara Goddard, Dorothy Abbott, Isabel Beggs, Harriett Hopkinson, Maude Crowley, Dorothy Barre, Alida Goddu and Elizabeth Wicker.

Messrs. Robert Hart, Parker Hart, Forbes Getty, Curtis Caldwell, Robert Apsey, Benjamin Drisko, Everett W. Ginn, Jr., Emerson Priest and Hall Gammon.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMAN'S GUILD

The annual meeting of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Epiphany in the parish house Thursday voted to postpone the election of officers until fall because plans are under way for changes in the organization to be announced by the Episcopal authorities. Pres. Mrs. William Sache of the guild announced that she would retire from that office after seven years of service.

The reports of the activities of the various committees showed that over $3000 had been raised during the year. Of this amount $2000 was raised by the St. Barbara committee of young women, of which Mrs. Christopher Billman is chairman, through various entertainments during the year. Of this sum $1000 is to be devoted to the vestry building fund and the other $1000 to co-operative parish service work.

The report of the mission committee by Mrs. Sylvester Taylor, chairman, showed that an unusual quantity of missionary boxes, clothing, etc., had been sent to the Southern mountain regions. Mrs. E. E. Murphy, chairman of the welfare committee, reported on the articles made and donated to hospitals, rest houses, besides the work done in the parish itself.

Mrs. Walter Cummings reported for the vestment committee that about 145 garments used by the vested choir of men and boys had been supplied and kept in condition during the year. Deaconess Lane, chairman of the St. Elizabeth committee, reported on the parish and welfare work. Mrs. George Fitch reported for the hospitality committee and Mrs. George N. P. Mead for the St. Cross committee. Miss E. J. Colby of Boston rendered musical selections and tea was served by a committee of which Mrs. Robert Davis was chairman.

SPECIAL UNION MEMORIAL SERVICE

Sunday Evening at 7:30 in the Town Hall

The people of Winchester are invited to co-operate with the Grand Army Post, the American Legion Post, and the Machine Gun Corps in a union memorial service to be held in the Town Hall next Sunday evening (May 23rd) at 7:30 o'clock. It has been customary for the Grand Army Post to attend divine worship in one of the churches on the Sunday before Memorial Day. That service would according to rotation be held in the Baptist Church this year, but due to the large attendance anticipated with the American Legion Post and Machine Gun Corps co-operating with the Grand Army Post in this service, it has been deemed advisable to transfer the meeting to the Town Hall. All the friends of the soldiers of two great wars are invited to attend and help make this an inspiring, community, patriotic memorial service.

The program will open with a community sing of patriotic and religious songs led by Mr. Edward D. Hall. The ministers of the different churches have been invited to take some part in the opening exercises. Rev. Clifton H. Walcott of the Baptist Church will deliver the address on "Stones of Memorial." Special anthems will be rendered by the Quartette of the Baptist Church. Some confusion exists concerning the date of this meeting, but in fixing upon next Sunday night, May 23rd, the local Grand Army Post is conforming with the orders of the national Commander.

SALVATION ARMY SERVICE CAMPAIGN

Efforts are being made by the local committee to prevent the failure of Winchester's quota to the Salvation Army Campaign Fund. To date the response has been very discouraging, and further house-to-house canvass is being undertaken to secure the required sum of only $1800. It is the plan to solicit every family in town, and contributions, no matter how small, will be gladly received. Mr. Charles E. Barrett of the Winchester Trust Co. is acting as treasurer, and any donations may be left with him.

On Saturday—tomorrow—a tag day will be held, a group of young ladies having volunteered their services. Everyone is urged to buy a tag and help this worthy cause.

Tomorrow afternoon the first big ball game of the season will be held on Manchester Field at three o'clock. "Connie Mack" has volunteered to place two teams in the field which will give their services for the campaign.

MRS. HELEN S. PALMER

Mrs. Helen S. Palmer, aged 86 years, a resident of this town for over half a century, passed away on Monday night.

Mrs. Palmer was a native of Roxbury, Mass., her father being Abel Taylor and her mother Naomi (Bunker) Taylor. She was the widow of the late Abram Prescott Palmer and the mother of Mr. Wallace P. Palmer of Forest street, and Mrs. Arthur T. Downer of Stevens street. Mrs. Palmer was one of the early members of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of Mrs. A. T. Downer and were conducted by Rev. Clifton H. Walcott of the First Baptist church. The burial was in the family lot in Wildwood cemetery.

VACANCY ON WATER AND SEWER BOARD

Through the resignation of Mr. Robert B. Davis, who has recently moved from Winchester, it will be necessary to appoint a new member to the Water and Sewer Board. Arrangements have been made by the remaining members of the Board and the Selectmen for a joint session to fill the vacancy Monday night.

G. A. R. SUNDAY SERVICES AT TOWN HALL

The usual Sunday services of the G. A. R. will be held this year in connection with the Memorial Day exercises at the Town Hall. They will take place May 23d at 6:45 P. M.

Members of A. D. Weld Post, G. A. R. of this town, together with their friends should note this important fact. Usually the Sunday service has been held at one of the churches.

The local post is planning to observe Memorial Day as usual, and in addition to the Sunday exercises the program at Wildwood cemetery will be carried out on the afternoon of the 30th. The Macon Band will provide music, the exercises being at 3 o'clock. Rev. Clifton H. Walcott will deliver the prayer and Rev. S. Winchester will read the address.

STREET WORK ACTIVE

After three years' of handicap owing to war conditions, work on the Winchester streets has now commenced in earnest, notwithstanding that we already have much better streets than most of our surrounding neighbors.

The most important work is the resurfacing of Forest street from a point north of Highland avenue to the Stoneham line. This has been badly needed. In doing the work it is the intention to also repair the space between the electric car rails.

A car load of tar was received this week by the street department and the work of taring streets begun. The first streets to be treated are those which were rebuilt last year, and already a number of these streets have been covered.

Patching crews are working about town and within a few days all of the small holes, so annoying to autoists, will be repaired.

The coal for the highway department was purchased direct from the mine this year, at a saving of something over $3 a ton. The cars were run into the Blanchard yard and the coal loaded onto the teams by a conveyor, making the cost of carting to the town yard about 93 cents a ton.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED AT SHOWER

The engagement of Miss Constance Elizabeth Park, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Park of Forest street, and Mr. Howell Field Shepard of Amherst, was announced last Friday evening at a tea and shower given by Miss Irene Lord of Pine street for Miss Esther Cutting. The affair was attended by many of Winchester's younger set and the engagement came as a surprise to many. Each guest took the ribbon of a bridal bouquet and received the rose to which it was fastened when the flowers were pulled apart. Attached to the flowers inside a tiny heart were the names of the two fiancés and on Miss Park's rose was her ring. She is to be married next month. Among those who attended the affair were Miss Park, Miss Marion Kendall, Miss Esther Cutting, Miss Marjorie Wait, Miss Edith Fenno, Miss Dorothy Hewitt, Miss Dorothy Kerrison, Mrs. Walter York, Miss Ina Brown, Miss Bernice Westcott of Malden, Miss Virginia Mosman and Miss Lord.

NEEDS LITTLE MORE

Chairman George M. Byrne of the local Salvation Army committee, announced yesterday that about two-thirds of Winchester's quota has been secured in the past fortnight's campaign. According to this statement about $600 more is needed today and tomorrow to make up our allotment of $1800.

A number of Winchester ladies have joined in the work of collecting and soliciting funds and have aided materially in assisting the chairman.

It is hoped that the townspeople will give their hearty support to the tag day and base ball game tomorrow, the last day of the campaign, that Winchester may fill its requirements and not go on record among those places unable to turn in their allotment. The ball game promises to make a notable event in the opening of the sport here. It will be played on Manchester field, opening at 3 o'clock.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending May 20: Measles 6, German measles 1, whooping cough 6, mumps 1, scarlet fever 1.

Tomorrow night Legion Show Town Hall.

BASEBALL

The season in Winchester starts Monday, May 31, and should prove a good one. In former years we never booked games more than one week ahead, but this season there are so many strong teams on the field that I have given them dates this early so that they may be seen here in Winchester.

I have been in touch with the following players, who may be seen here in our lineup this year: Davidson, who played with Baltimore when Babe Ruth and Shore were on the team, will probably pitch; Robbins, of Syracuse University, catcher; Hatch, left base; Hillis, 2nd base; Morton, or Penny, who was with Bridgeport in the Eastern League last season, at short; McMahon, of Pere Marquette, on third base—or Sheridan, if I can reach him. McKenzie, Hevey and another strong batter and fielder will cover the outfield positions.

Hevey and Mack make two of the best outfielders we can possibly get, as both are great ground coverers and can throw like Speaker or Duffy Lewis.

Right field is still undecided, but with strong players calling up, I will be able to pick a live one soon.

This team will cost more money than ever and subscriptions should be sent in early to Mr. Davidson, so that we can know just where we stand. Last year there was a deficit in every game up to the time we played Arlington and Woburn, and at the end of the season found us with a balance of ($33.00) thirty-three dollars in the treasury. This should not be the case this season, every game should pay for itself and that is all I ask. If every one will contribute as they should we can have a great year here. EDWARD MCKENZIE. ("Mack")

WINCHESTER GRANGE

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

A Winchester gentleman calls The Spectator's attention to the ultimatum issued by U. S. District Attorney Clyne at Chicago: "Go back to work, withdraw your demands and adopt other measures for procuring an adjustment of your grievances, or quit work and permit others who are willing to work to do so." Every Winchesterite will agree that this is the right sort of ultimatum to fit every strike. Samuel W. Gompers continues to argue for the right of men to quit work. That is all very well. They have the privilege of quitting as individuals, or even in factions, but let them leave the field free to other workers in honest fashion. Strikes of whatever sort they are, will never get any real sympathy from decent citizens.

"A Star Reader" writes The Spectator that not long ago it was his privilege to hear Thomas Mott Osborne, the prison reformer, deliver an address in a certain Western Massachusetts city in which the Winchesterite happened to be at the time. In this address Osborne characterized the United States as "the rottenest country on the face of the earth with the exception of Russia."

The Winchester man quite properly looked upon such words as an insult to the intelligence and patriotism of our people. According to the Winchester man such language may be used for a cheap sensationalism by which to boom a lecture-platform career and without a proper consciousness of the effect which they produce; whatever Osborne's motive such words are reprehensible and atrocious.

Mr. Osborne said that he had come face to face with more crooks in the public walks of life than he had behind prison walls; and he anathematized American politics and American business methods. "This may gain the speaker notoriety for waking up an audience but it is destructive business," commented his Winchester hearer, "undermining the faith of those who do not see through the man, and giving all those who love to laugh and sneer and all who want fuel to inflame the ignorant full reasons for rejoicing. It implies, as so many things have, that the man is not sincere, for no sincere man could utter those words even for the sake of notoriety." In the opinion of The Spectator Thomas Mott Osborne is reverting to the time when the muckraker was in his hey day. We have had enough of muckrakers.

"What teaching is, in short depends on who the teachers are," insists a leading Winchester professional gentleman. "It is for the public to decide whether it will be content with slipshod methods and personal mediocrity." It is a cause for thankfulness that here in Winchester our public school teachers do their work with a conscience and a whole-souled, indivisible loyalty. Such sacrifice certainly has a right to expect the entire parental constituency to uphold the scholastic effort.

A very prominent Winchester layman is inclined to uphold Dr. George A. Gordon, that hard-headed Scotsman of the old South Church in Boston, who still believes this Inter-church drive is "unhappy in origin, objectionable in method, insane in scale, deplorably wrong in emphasis, blind to the nature of our religion as spirit and life and without vision of the world's essential need—the profound surrender of the soul of man to the soul of God." And Dr. Gordon adds that "big business in the name of God without the requisite business insight is tragic." Those are strong words but the prominent Winchester layman believes that on the whole they are sensible. He says the world is "drive" crazy. To his way of analyzing the situation the only redeeming feature thus far is that at least our "drive lunatics" do not as yet talk of making such things inter-planetary. "That may come eventually," says this prominent Winchester layman, "in common parlance we should not put it past them."

A few days ago a young Winchester soldier discussed the bonus question. This young man who went across and "did his bit" gives The Spectator to understand that he does not know any soldier who came thru the war without a wound or getting gassed who really needs the bonus, or who isn't working at a good job or able to get one if he really wants to work. But he says he does know dozens who are shouting for this bonus who never got across and, he suspects, didn't want to get across. He says they are out to get every dollar they can squeeze out of the Government, without caring overmuch where it comes from.

"I hope the Government won't give another red copper to any ex-service man except the sick and wounded," declared this young Winchester warrior. "The others don't need it and are not entitled to it. Not a single one of them any more than I did. They Catarrah Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrh of the ear, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrh Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Dry Cleanse and Dyeing

Now is the time to look over your wardrobe and arrange for dry cleansing and dyeing. We extend our service to you, calling at your home and returning all articles with promptness and dispatch.

Wearing apparel should be cleansed often—it is insurance against germs, dust, stains, soils, etc. Present high prices of clothing would seem to demand the making of one's wardrobe last as long as possible.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The football schedule for 1920 has been announced by Manager Vincent Ambrose. At present there are only eight games on the scheduled list. It is hoped that one or two may be arranged in addition and also that the Friday games may be changed to Saturday. The following is the list:

Oct. 1, Friday. Arlington at Winchester.

Oct. 9, Sat. Belmont at Winchester.

Oct. 16, Sat. Norwood at Norwood.

Oct. 23, Sat. Lexington at Winchester.

Oct. 30, Sat. Woburn at Woburn.

Nov. 5, Fri. Watertown at Watertown.

Nov. 13, Sat. Melrose at Winchester.

Nov. 19, Fri. Wakefield at Winchester.

In Assembly Tuesday, Mr. Jacobs of the Chauncey Hall School gave a very interesting talk on Russia. Mr. Jacobs was in the banks of Russia throughout the Kerensky and Soviet revolutions and had some very interesting things to say on Russian clothes, food, customs and tobacco.

Mr. Johnson, former teacher and basketball coach at High School was at school for a brief visit Monday. Those of his old pupils who are left were very glad to see him.

We are glad to see Belmont on our schedule again after several years. And since they beat us 4-2 at baseball Wednesday we will be anxious to get at them this fall in football.

The old clothes movement is gaining headway at the High School. There has been no demonstration of "freaks" but a general tendency to wear patches and sweaters is noticed.

PROPERTY VALUES HAVE INCREASED—Have You Increased Your Insurance?

In five years, building cost has increased about 65 per cent; furniture cost, about 127 per cent, and clothing cost, about 129 per cent. Consequently, there has been a great increase in the values covered by the usual policy on dwelling houses and their contents.

If you were burned out today, would your loss draft from the insurance company pay its rightful share of the present cost of replacing your property?

ARE POST-OFFICE EMPLOYEES HUMAN BEINGS?

Editor STAR:

Kindly print the following in your this week's issue and oblige:

An American boy went to work one day in the United States Post-office. He was wide-awake and ambitious, and so he chose the biggest business and the biggest employer in the country. Step by step, he rose to be supervisor, and then superintendent of an important department. He made a record of "supreme industry, faithfulness, and loyalty." Age came on, but his zeal did not diminish. Postal officials pointed to him with pride and said he upheld "the very highest traditions of the service," and was "ever ready to sacrifice his personal interests for the public good."

So, fifty years without a break he served his big employer, the American people, a shining example for all who would hear that crowning tribute: "well done, good and faithful servant!"

Last winter, at his post of duty, he was stricken with a chill. Pneumonia followed. Even then he begged that he might dress and return to his duties. And his big employer—the American people—what generous provision and tender care did it give to this oldest employee who had always "sacrificed his personal interest for the public?"

The man had not yet taken his annual vacation of fifteen days. His absence now from his post of duty was charged against his vacation. In fifteen days all his "vacation" was gone and his salary stopped. For three days, as he lay on his death-bed, his pay was deducted. Then death came, and he went to receive the "well done" from One whose words are backed with eternal reward. But on earth, where he had toiled so long, the praise given him was empty. No allowance for sickness; no allowance for burial; nothing for his family; his meager salary docked after seventy years of faithful service. What an employer!

Congress has been looking into these facts, but Congress is not the "big employer" against whom the prophet Malachi thunders when he threatens swift judgment for "those that oppress the hireling in his wages." The bitter protests poured out to the Committee of Congress must ring in our ears and rouse us to action. Crowding the experience of thousands into a single sentence, a letter-carrier from Camden, N. J., exclaimed: "If you men really knew the want, and distress, and sorrow, and trouble that reach into the life of the poor letter-carrier, you would be up at night trying to find a remedy."

From every city and village of this great rich country and from every branch of the postal service have come these protests and appeals for fair play: "We are not able to provide for our families with the necessities of life." "Our wives and our children have to go to work in order to exist." "If you compel men to be ill-fed and under-nourished because of insufficient salary, it will have a far-reaching effect on the coming generation." "We bought Liberty bonds to help the Government and had to sell them at a loss to buy food."

Can we hear such things from the men who are working for us and not single with shame and indignation? Can we rest easily and take our own pleasure and comfort until we have first done all in our power for quick relief?

Consider the kind of man our post-office demands as clerk. His work is highly specialized and complex; he must be skilled by long and intensive training and study, memorizing thousands of facts, intricate systems of classifications, and many methods used in banking, insurance, and commercial business. He must be familiar with the postal laws and regulations filling a volume of 1,700 sections. All this study and preparation must be in his own time and at his own expense. And when he stands in his hard-earned place, a full-equipped postal expert in the employ of the American people, he is paid less than the common unskilled day-laborer on the streets. One of these experts, who after twenty-four years of postal service had acquired special knowledge and experience invaluable to the Government, testified, "I could go out as a milk-wagon driver and get $50 a week, yet the Government pays me an average of about $4 a day."

The steadfast loyalty of such a man through long years of punishing penury may be a splendid example of American patriotism, but not one of us can claim a like virtue if we fail to raise our voice against the continuance of such shameful parsimony.

But that isn't all. These meager salaries are constantly shrinking throughout the year. Any absence for sickness or other causes is penalized by forfeiture of pay. If death occurs in the family of the employee, whether wife, child, or parent, not a day nor an hour of absence with pay is allowed. Even the solemn hours of funeral rites can be taken only at the expense of the employee.

Letter-carriers are converted into pack-animals and loaded down with burdens often weighing sixty to eighty pounds or more. Through driving rain or blizzard, in burning heat or stinging cold, they must cover their routes on schedule time. The stoutest often succumb to the inhuman strain; yet the highest salary they can earn, after years of smaller pay, is less than $32 a week.

New York is the biggest post-office in the world. It does the biggest business and turns in millions of dollars profit. It is one of the most highly specialized and responsible organizations in modern industry, the center of innumerable activities on which the progress and prosperity of the entire nation depend. Its banking and financial transactions last year alone totaled more than $672,000,000. The management of this vast business concern, with its great central office covering two city blocks, its fifty branch offices, its 250 substations, and fourteen thousand employees, requires supreme managerial abilities on the part of its department chiefs. They would be receiving salaries of $25,000 to $75,000 for such official service in big commercial organizations. Yet the highest salary paid to the "big four" superintendents at the head of the four main departments of the great New York Post-office is only $3,360 a year, or less than $65 a week, and not one of these men attained his position in less than twenty-seven years' service. The superintendents of the great railway terminal postal stations receive less than $46 to $56 a week after serving an average of thirty-five years each! And we pay more than that to longshoremen and window-cleaners and drivers of milk-wagons!

We are doing more than this act of cruel injustice to the 289,000 postal employees of the country. We are bringing a serious menace to our own interests. The postal service is being crippled by wholesale resignations. It is becoming impossible to induce competent men or women to fill the vacancies. In the New York post-office alone nearly eight hundred resignations have occurred within five months. False economy is destroying all efficiency and threatening a collapse of the service. Time and energy that ought to be given to handling the mail is diverted to instructing and managing a shifting, dissatisfied organization. The same thing is true in all part of the country. Our indifference and neglect as the "big employer" of the post-office workers is reeling on our own heads.

The blame and the shame for this pitiful injustice to the nation's postal employees are ours as a people. It is yours who read this page. It is ours who write and publish it. The change of policy from a brutal stinginess or careless indifference to a fair and liberal American policy must be wrought by us, the Americans who always love fair play.

Write to your Congressman and to both of your Senators, every one of you men and women who has a heart and an active sense of human justice. Don't put it off; the time before Congress will adjourn is short. Urge them to give their most ardent support to the bill putting into immediate effect a substantial increase of salaries throughout the entire postal service of the United States. Congress will gladly and quickly pass this bill when the American people rally to its support. If you don't know the names of the Senators and Congressmen ask your letter-carrier, or postmaster, or banker. Let all business houses be heard from, and all civic societies and fraternal orders. Rescue these postal toilers from penury and narrow lives and set them on their feet as American citizens who need not suffer nor be ashamed in their service of us all.

Winchester Postal Employees.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

A large audience of the representative men and women of Winchester gathered at the Mass Meeting in protest of high cost of living, held in the Town Hall on Saturday evening, under the auspices of The Fortnightly.

The meeting opened with a half hour of Community singing, with Mr. Chaffner as leader, from the Camp Community Service, and Miss Mary French at the piano.

The audience entered into the singing with much enthusiasm and pleasure. In introducing the speakers, Mrs. Bond said, the men were so busy earning money, that the spending of it was left to the women, and that cooperation in spending, among the women, might bring about some change in conditions. Mr. Underhill opened the question by telling of his own personal efforts, and those of his family in combatting this difficulty by cooperating work in the home, with laundry and the various cleaning apparatus, making very pronounced the idea that there should be no apology for thrift and saving devices, but congratulations when well done. His remarks were full of humorous incidents and plain common sense, giving many simple reasons for present conditions.

He advised that the girls should be taught to sew, not to buy ready-made garments, and the boys should learn a trade. That an experience he had for some years in a blacksmith's shop had been one of the most valuable of his whole life, the knowledge he derived from meeting people on that level.

He quoted from material collected by a committee in the Legislature of 1910, who investigated the subject of H. C. L. at that time, proving that this is no new circumstances, but has always been, especially in prosperous times.

At the close of his remarks, Mrs. Mudge, chairman of the committee, spoke of the Fortnightly Pledge Cards, and the question was asked from the floor, that hands should be raised to signify how many of the audience would take the cards, sign, and live up to the pledge.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

Again has George M. Cohan scored a most emphatic triumph in stage production and again has he satisfied his expectant public with a new attraction which deserves to take rank with the many notable stage offerings that have sported his banner. The new success is "Genius and the Crowd" which opened in Boston last Monday at the Hollis Street Theatre.

Its reception by critics and public was a manifestation of such hearty enthusiasm for this new production and star that nothing beyond what has been said or printed could extol it further.

"Genius and the Crowd" is a comedy in three acts written by John T. McIntire and Francis Hill, described as a play of youth, love and temperament.

Mr. Renavent has been provided with a picturesque role and there is an unusually large company of supporting players numbering over 50. These members have been chosen with the punctilious care usually exercised by Mr. Cohan. The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given. Out of town theatregoers may be assured that all mail orders will be carefully filled.

Mr. Whitfield L. Tuck, spoke at the high cost of living protest meeting of the Housekeeper's League at Faneuil Hall, Boston, Saturday night.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

When the sexes have equal rights will men wear war gardens on their hats and kiss each other on the street.

If a man has a large family to support, he can't afford to have any other extravagant habits.

There are two things in life that we are all after—Money and pleasure; and no man is a success who spends all of his time in the pursuit of only one of them.

Nothing makes a mad man so mad as an adversary who isn't. Isn't it funny that people are always doing things that they condemn in others.

May, apparently, has arrived.

"Unrest sweeps the country!" One might think so after viewing the number of automobiles filling the streets every Sunday.

It might appear from the vote of the Legislature this week on the bill introduced for the benefit of the Town of Winchester that it might have a woman serve as Town Clerk, that that body still has some members who do not favor suffrage.

Winchester residents should recognize the independent spirit of our local American Legion Post. In common with all other similar organizations the local Post desires to raise funds to place itself on its feet and on a running basis. Instead of following the usual easy course of opening a "drive" and soliciting such money, the Winchester boys have gone to work and produced a play—to be given in the Town Hall tomorrow night by excellent local talent. Their efforts should be commended. They will raise their funds and in so doing provide recreation and pleasure to all who contribute. We trust they will play to a crowded house—as they and the excellent cast deserve.

A recent statement credited one purchase of a house with the responsibility of ten families moving. A speculator purchased a house and notified the tenant, giving him the choice of buying the property or moving. The tenant in turn purchased elsewhere and the chain continued through ten families. It now remains for some enterprising real estate broker to establish a clearing house of real estate. How simple it would have been under such circumstances. The first family would have taken the house of the tenth family, who in turn would have taken the house of the first, and the other eight would have continued to live in peace, paying (so we presume) a small percentage for such peaceful tenancy. Unfortunately human nature would play an important part, but perhaps the scheme may yet be worked out.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMAN'S GUILD

Parish of the Epiphany

On Wednesday afternoon May 12, the annual meeting of the Guild was held, marking the close of its thirty-eighth year. The chief feature of the meeting was the interesting account of the activities of the various committees, as well as the annual report of the secretary and treasurer. The Missions Committee, Mrs. Sylvester Taylor, chairman, reported sending to Southern mountaineers boxes valued at over $500, a surprising amount, considering the high cost of materials and scarcity of clothing. The Vestments Committee, Mrs. Walter Cummings, chairman, reported new vestments made, and the keeping in order of 150 garments for the large choir for men and boys, three for each. The Welfare work under the chairman, Mrs. E. E. Murphy has ministered to the comfort and needs of the parish with unusual care during the severe winter, and also contributed gifts of dish-towels to five institutions in the community.

The St. Elizabeth Chapter, under leadership of Deaconess Lane, has held weekly meetings and through worship, work and play has brought inspiration and opportunity for service to an increasing number of members.

The work of St. Barbara Committee Mrs. Billman chairman, has been shown by the raising of nearly $2000 through its various activities, $1000 of which is for the Rectory fund, and the other for warm co-operation in every form of Parish and community service.

Mrs. G. N. P. Mead with her Committee has cared for the altar and chancel through the year. Mrs. Geo. Fitch, aided by members of the Hospitality committee, and captains in the 12 districts of the parish, has extended sympathy and cheer to many, and a welcome to strangers. On account of the plan to change the form of the Women's organization in certain respects to conform with the Church League of Service the Nominating Committee reported it seemed wise, to postpone the election of officers until the autumn.

Tea was served by Mrs. R. V. Davis, assisted by Mrs. Geo. Morley and Miss Colby gave piano selections in her usual charming manner.

TOWN OF WINCHESTER SELECTMEN'S MEETING, MAY 18 RECORD

The Board met at 7.30 P. M., all present.

The records of the meeting of May 10 were read and approved. Eastern Mass. St. Ry. Co. (Fares): Mr. Parsons reported that he had talked with Mr. Ellis of the Eastern Mass. Street Railway Co., and that Mr. Ellis was coming to Boston to see Mr. Dolben and him this week.

Memorial Day: A letter was received from the A. D. Weld Post, G. A. R., inviting the Board to be present and assist them on Memorial Day, May 31, 1920. The Clerk was instructed to write the A. D. Weld Post that the Board would be glad to accept the kind invitation and would very much desire to march in the parade instead of riding as has been the custom in the past.

Bacon Street Bridge: The Board voted to refer the questions of obtaining borings for the proposed new bridge on Bacon Street over the Aberjona River to Mr. Byrne of the Board and Mr. Hinds, Town Engineer. The matter of plans and specifications was laid over for the consideration of the entire Board of Selectmen.

Boston & Maine R.R.: A letter was received from the Boston & Maine Railroad in regard to the matter of the under-crossing at the Winchester Station. The letter was ordered filed and the matter laid over for further consideration.

Licenses 1920 Explosives and Inflammables: After hearing at which Mr. Sanderson, Chairman of the Water and Sewer Board was present and on an unfavorable report from the Chief of the Fire Dept., the Board voted not to grant the Winchester Tire Company (S. Brener) permission to install a one thousand gallon tank and a five gallon sidewalk pump for the storage and sale of gasoline at 583 Main Street.

Everett Ave. and Cambridge Street: A report was received from the Town Engineer in regard to remedying the dangerous corner at the junction of Everett Avenue and Cambridge St. In his report, the Town Engineer states that Mr. Davidson, chairman of the Park Board, "believes with me that the desired result will not be brought about by slicing the triangular grass plot, but a great improvement can be accomplished by making certain land takings on either corner of Everett Avenue and Cambridge St. The rounding which can be made by taking the land will cost considerable money but it will be worth it." The matter was laid over for further consideration.

Water and Sewer Board: Notice was received from the Water and Sewer Board of a vacancy on the Board. A joint session was set for Monday, May 24, 1920, in the Selectmen's Room. The vacancy is caused by the resignation of Mr. Robert B. Davis.

Dumps: A complaint was received from Mr. Daniel W. Lynch, 23 Russell Road, Winchester, in regard to a parcel of vacant land which is being used for pumpling purposes. The matter was referred to the Board of Health. The meeting adjourned at 11 P. M. George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen.

Rev. Clifton H. Walcott of the First Baptist church will preach at the G. A. R. services Sunday evening at the town hall. This service opens at 7 o'clock and all G. A. R. residents and friends are invited. Sons of Veterans will attend as usual and this year it is hoped that there will be a large attendance from members of the American Legion.

About three years ago a gentleman made inquiry regarding annuities payable to himself and wife as long as EITHER lived. At intervals he has purchased twelve such, one of which is payable on the first of each month. This monthly income has not grown at all monotonous, so he has bought eight more payable the middle of consecutive months. I sold him his twentieth annuity yesterday. An annuity yields a large income in proportion to amount invested, for the later years of life. "It is as sure as you live, as long as you live."

The Increased Stability of National Banks

in the United States is shown by the Comptroller's 1919 Report to Congress. Out of the 7,700 National Banks there were:

17 failures annually from 1874-1893
16 failures " " 1894-1913
8 failures in 1914
5 failures in 1915
3 failures in 1916
3 failures in 1917
1 failure in 1918
No failure in 1919

Such testimony to the watchfulness of Uncle Sam's servants who are entrusted with the care of the National Banking system is proof positive that your money is safe when deposited in your local National Bank which is always at your service.

FOUND: A SKYSCAPE PYRAMID

A pyramid that may rival those of Egypt, for size, and prove to be even older than the Nileian piles, is reported discovered at Teotihuacan, Mexico.

"Long ago two other pyramids, relics of the Toltec people of pre-Columbian times, were found among the volcanic ashes around San Juan Teotihuacan, meaning "City of the God," a village about 25 miles north-east of Mexico City," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society.

Excavation of the new pyramid may help to lift the veil which dims our knowledge of these American pyramid-builders, members of a bygone race.

Certain it is that the pyramids of Teotihuacan, which already are widely known, have kept their heads above the vomiting of angry volcanoes for numberless centuries, while it would appear that the cities near by were without doubt buried in those bygone ages by volcanic eruptions. The Toltecs were by tradition famous mound-builders, and here it seems they mingled with their reverence for the Supreme Being the mythical religion of astral worship. Their earliest temples were devoted to the sun. The moon they worshipped as his wife and the stars as his sisters. No image was allowed within these temples, and their offerings were perfumed flowers and sweet-scented gums.

The projecting stones of "El Sol," the highest pyramid, seen here and there over the pyramid, mark the upward progress of these indefatigable workers until they gained the summit of their ambition. The pyramid was divided into stories by placing a series of truncated pyramids one above the other.

Two hundred and sixty-eight steps must be climbed to reach the summit. The pyramid is 216 feet in height, and has a base about 761 feet square. The summit is 59 by 105 feet square.

Many strange idols have been dug up—Dioses of grotesque form and many others. Many beautiful pieces of jade and obsidian, arrow heads, little heads of burnt clay, earthen jars of antique form, and others similar to those in use at the present time. One little piece of cloth that was found is carefully guarded in the museum. What was its use? Many skulls, as well as some skeletons, have also been unearthed.

Reaching the summit, one is richly rewarded, for a fine expanse of country lies unfolded to the gaze, with just a peep of the snow-capped volcano Popocatepetl far in the distance, while under the little town of San Juan appears sleepily dreaming under the shadow of the pyramids. Turning to the right, not far distant stands the Pyramid (la Luna), smaller than the "Sun Pyramid," but looking very green and attractive, covered yet with its mantle of grass, heavy underbrush, and trees.

Russian Villages Prey of Fire.

The Russian village is built principally of wood and roofed with wood, or with straw and stones. For this reason there are so many fires that, according to statistics, one-fifth of all the peasant cottages burn down every year, or putting it in another way, every house burns down after five years. This seems improbable, but it is reliable information.

THE "OPEN DOOR" IN ASIA

With several European cities, which were alternately raked by the fire of foe and friend, proposing to preserve their hollow-eyed and ghastly ruins as a reminder of the shame of 1911 and the glory of four years later, we are liable to ignore a more significant change which is taking place in Asia, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

Roads taking the place of barriers; communication instead of exclusion; picturesque landmarks of the past sacrificed to unromantic modernity—these are the changes that are altering the appearance of the Chinese city and the life of its people.

Nineteen years ago, Yuan Shih Kai demolished the city walls of Tientsin. Almost immediately the life of the city changed, but the experiment was not soon repeated. Then came the revolution and in many cities where Chinese and Manchus lived in contiguous walled cities, the Tartar portion was razed to the ground when the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty came.

Prominent among these cities where the Manchu or Tartar portion was burned was the most beautiful city of China, Hangchow. Between the Chinese city and famous West Lake about whose beauties Chinese poets were going into ecstasies of five footed verse many years before Homer told of the walls of Troy, there was the Tartar city.

When this was burned, the eyesore of a ruined waste stood between the Chinese and their beloved lake, where pleasure boats swung lightly at anchor or noiselessly traversed the placid waters, and as a backstop to this waste land a towering wall shut off all view of their beauty spot.

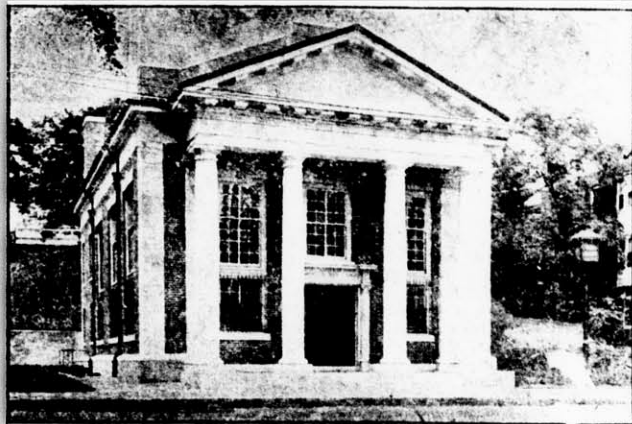

There still remained the inner wall which had separated the Chinese and Tartar cities and hence the outer wall was useless. Progressive spirits not only brought about the destruction of the wall that had the lake but laid out a modern city with wide macadamized streets constructed of the material which had once been wall.

Rickshas appeared in regions where only sedan chairs could move before and since one man can pull a ricksha easier and faster than two can carry a chair, life in Hangchow began to speed up. Soon an automobile appeared and cross city streets, connecting the lake front with the railway station, were laid out.

This meant widening the narrow lane to modern thoroughfares and the fronts of hundreds of shops had to be cut away. Then came the edict that whenever new building operations were started in any part of the city the front wall of the new structure should be moved back several feet. This gave a cog wheel effect where old and new structures alternated but the move was in the right direction. The city which Marco Polo had praised so highly was becoming modern.

Hangchow was not alone in tearing down walls and building modern roads on the site of ancient barriers. In a score of Chinese cities the ancient bricks, six times the size of our own and the squared stone that was sometimes found, began to take on new value and the wall became a quarry for anyone who needed building material.

Nanking had one of the longest city walls to be found anywhere and the Tartar city there was very large. Not long after the revolution, the Tartar walls began to crumble before the picks of pygmies who razed what giants had raised and creaking wheelbarrows, laden with bricks and stone, filled the streets of the huge city, which had so much agricultural land within the 32 mile wall that it could have withstood a siege for years. Nanking had one of the longest city walls to be found anywhere and the Tartar city there was very large. Not long after the revolution, the Tartar walls began to crumble before the picks of pygmies who razed what giants had raised and creaking wheelbarrows, laden with bricks and stone, filled the streets of the huge city, which had so much agricultural land within the 32 mile wall that it could have withstood a siege for years. One of the finest of modern missionary school buildings rests on a foundation made of material first used in the city wall built by the Ming more than five hundred years ago.

Safety did not necessarily come with this removal of the protecting wall, but a sense of security did. The most crowded portions had sometimes been separated from farm land that could be bought for a song, simply because a gateless wall filled the distance between them. Chinese standing on the top of the dividing line of rampart may have sighed "How near and yet how far" but most of them chose to live within the refuge from robbers and bandits which the wall provided.

In the north, the demolition of the wall did not make so much difference for the cities were widely spread out and wheeled vehicles and draft animals were common. But in the south, cities were much more crowded and almost no traffic was pulled. Almost every portion of a tremendous trade was carried.

Now the wall destroyed move has breached Canton and within a few weeks electric street cars will rush along on the site of a wall four centuries old. The already large suburbs are growing at an increasing rate and the pressure that made Canton's streets so narrow that they were picturesque has now relented so that maloes or horse roads will traverse the city in increasing numbers.

When good roads supplant protecting walls in China, things will begin to move. The sleeping East is waking up and when the sound deadening barrier of a Ming Dynasty wall gives way to the clang of the warning bell on an American made electric car, the waking is not likely to be long delayed.

There still remained the inner wall which had separated the Chinese and Tartar cities and hence the outer wall was useless. Progressive spirits not only brought about the destruction of the wall that had the lake but laid out a modern city with wide macadamized streets constructed of the material which had once been wall.

This gave a cog wheel effect where old and new structures alternated but the move was in the right direction. The city which Marco Polo had praised so highly was becoming modern.

Hangchow was not alone in tearing down walls and building modern roads on the site of ancient barriers. In a score of Chinese cities the ancient bricks, six times the size of our own and the squared stone that was sometimes found, began to take on new value and the wall became a quarry for anyone who needed building material.

Nanking had one of the longest city walls to be found anywhere and the Tartar city there was very large. Not long after the revolution, the Tartar walls began to crumble before the picks of pygmies who razed what giants had raised and creaking wheelbarrows, laden with bricks and stone, filled the streets of the huge city, which had so much agricultural land within the 32 mile wall that it could have withstood a siege for years. One

Obviously, then, the clothing problem in Benin is one that only the bachelor maid need worry about—but for her it may be a serious matter indeed. Naturally, under such economic pressure and with polygamy permitted, there are few old maids in Benin.

Even the undraped maid of Benin does not rely alone on natural charms. A fashion reporter at a Benin sub-debante ball would have plenty to write about concerning the season's fashions in necklaces of coral, often exquisitely carved, arm rings of iron or copper, spiral, puttee-like bands of metal on the legs, and copper rings that crowd the fingers.

Less esthetic, though, is the native habit of cutting the body and frequently the face to denote tribal membership—a self-inflicted practice suggestive of the branding of cattle on our western plains.

Though polygamy is practiced almost universally, infidelity is punishable by death. Of the upper classes, one traveler said that he never had met with any black princes "so sensible and well informed as these men, who had so noble and commanding an appearance!" In some parts of Benin his religion will not permit the native to strike a white man but noisome is resorted to instead. Most explorers have attested to the kindness and generosity of the natives, also to their light fingered qualities, and all agree that to infringe upon their religious beliefs is a sure route to the sacrificial crosses where human crucifixion is practiced by the whole-sale.

The use of the present tense in all that has been said about Benin was wholly justified until 1897 when because of the massacre of Europeans, a British expedition was sent from Sierra Leone to Benin city 25 miles inland. Since then the Benin sacrifices have been virtually eliminated, and native practices that violate civilized ideas modified. But enough of the old time customs remain unaltered to afford an unusual opportunity to study primitive civilization in many of its most vivid, interesting and significant aspects.

Canada's Coal Regions.

Canada has the only two coal regions on the seacoasts of North America. The bituminous coal of Nova Scotia is estimated to last 700 years; that of Vancouver Island has been operated since 1890.

The Home Garden

Contributed by the GARDEN SPECIALIST
of the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture
WALTHAM

What thrills we are daily experiencing as we note that the seeds which we planted a short time ago are germinating and breaking through the surface of the ground! Cultivation should start in the garden as soon as the seedlings have come up sufficiently so that the rows can be seen. Cultivation should be frequent and thorough. The home gardener should stir the soil at least twice a week with a rake, hoe, or garden cultivator. One should aim to stir the soil after each rain. The ideal is blanket, or loose, dry soil upon the surface, commonly known as dust mulch. This dust mulch breaks up the capillary tubes and prevents the too rapid evaporation of the moisture in the soil. There probably will not be as much rain fall from now on as formerly. Therefore all good farmers and home gardeners will attempt to retain all the moisture possible in the soil, as sufficient moisture is as important a factor in successful growing as is plant food. Weed seedlings also are killed by this frequent cultivation. They are eradicated very easily at this early stage of their growth. A week later and twice as much work will be necessary to accomplish the same result. Level cultivation should be practised on all crops with the possible exception of those grown upon wet, heavy soil. Set Out Lettuce and Cabbage Plants. Lettuce and cabbage plants can be purchased at many of the seed stores and nearby commercial gardeners. It is well to put in a limited amount of them at the present time so as to furnish an early crop before the plants that are grown in the garden from seeds.

Transplanting

Many of the tomato plants and other plants being grown in the cold frame or seed box in the house are ready for transplanting. As soon as the third and fourth leaves make their appearance, transplanting should start. When transplanting, be careful not to disturb the root system. The small root hairs are very tender and should not be broken off any more than is necessary. A large amount of the dirt which adheres to the seedling should be taken up and moved with the plant. In order to have as much dirt adhere to the root system as possible the plants should be watered thoroughly a few hours before they are transplanted.

Fight H. C. L. With the Home Garden

Many urban dwellers are attempting to fight old H. C. L. with backyard gardens. The Philadelphia North American recently printed a story telling something of the tremendous shortage of food and the likelihood of very much higher prices. Among other facts, the article brings out the fact that the wheat acreage is estimated at 4,000,000 acres less than that of last year, and rye 12,000,000 acres less. Only 25 per cent of the drafted farmer boys have returned to the farms. The European situation is not satisfactory. France has gained only 5 per cent over last year in her acreage of grain. Denmark and Sweden have gained about 20 per cent. To offset this, the grain acreage in England and Wales is less than last year. Australia's wheat production this season is 4,000,000 bushels against 75,000,000 last year. The farmers are forced to reduce their acreage in New England and elsewhere in the United States because they cannot get labor at any price. The farmers are doing this reluctantly, as they prefer to plant their acreage in order to keep it up in good condition. With all of these facts in mind every urban dweller should exert himself to even greater extent than during the war period in order to protect himself against this tremendous food shortage and high price period which is bound to come with the shortage of food supplies.

Best Type of Tomato Plants

Shortly stores will start offering tomato plants, and home gardeners should exercise caution in their purchase. There are two types: One type shows a stocky, dark green growth, about 6 inches tall, that stands well in the box. The other type is one which seems to lack the vitality of the short, dark green type. It is not a question of vigor, however, for if the two types were set out side by side in a garden, it is very likely that one would grow as well as the other; in fact the lighter colored type would doubtless grow taller and produce more tomatoes. The tall light green plants are the ones the home gardener should select for planting. They are the early and main crop varieties and the biggest yielders. Do not be led astray this year and purchase one of the dwarf, dark foliaged varieties.

Plant Sweet Corn Now

It is now safe for the home gardener to plant his first planting of sweet corn. The corn seeds should not be planted too deeply as the ground is still wet and cold. It is well to plant sweet corn in squares rather than in long rows. This in order to get better pollination during the blooming period.

It is probably safe for the urban gardener to put in his first planting of string beans. Like the corn, they should not be planted deeply, however, and after they have come up it will be wise to exercise caution in case there is any likelihood of frost some evening and cover them with dirt or cloth.

GIRL SCOUTS

Have you your tickets for the big Drum and Bugle Corps Demonstration on May 22 at two o'clock in Boston South Armory?

If you haven't, it is high time that you were thinking about it, for the demand is heavy and the supply of course, limited.

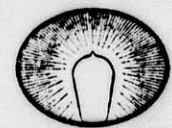

You may obtain them from Mrs. Lefavour. Leaders are ready to accompany all girls who wish to attend this big 1920 get together meeting of the Girl Scouts.

Telephone your captain and say you will go, to support those of your troop, and your sister troops who are taking part, to meet scouts from all the neighboring towns, that you may find out more intimately what they are doing and—perhaps more than anything, to show that you are a loyal scout and anxious to identify yourself with whatever the organization of which you are a part is doing.

The May issue of the High School Recorder made its appearance yesterday. Although smaller in size than the previous issues of this year, the paper reflects much credit upon its editors and management.

The proceeds of the sale will be used for the new church building.

The Queen of Spain had a pleasant surprise during her recent trip to England, says an English newspaper. Her little son, Don Jaime, who had been deaf from infancy as the result of an accident at a bull fight, was practically cured the other day, and it is expected that the final result may be an almost complete cure. It is an open secret in London that the cure was accomplished by osteopathy, after all the great court specialists had failed to bring about relief. As many members of the British royal family have already openly espoused osteopathy, this startling cure of the young son of the Spanish house is the talk of the day in court circles.

WINCHESTER BOYS RECEIVE LIFE SAVING MEDALS

STANLEY McNEILLY

PHILIP HIGHT

Winchester and her Boy Scouts and the Members of Troop One should be proud of two awards recently made by the New York Headquarters, National Council of Boy Scouts.

On Wednesday P. M. June 2. The awards consist of two life saving medals, presented after searching investigation by the National Council to Stanley McNeilly and Philip Hight, both members of Troop One, Winchester Boy Scouts.

Philip Hight's medal was for saving Lawrence Hallock from drowning in Wedge Pond, and Stanley McNeilly's was for rescuing Franklin Murray from drowning near Dennisport on Cape Cod, where he was spending the summer.

We find that no other Troop in the United States has ever had two life saving medals awarded its members.

In this regard we would quote from the National Council Headquarters in New York:

New York, May 21, 1920 "Troop One, Winchester Boy Scouts, Winchester, Mass.

You are to be congratulated on having two scouts in your Troop qualified for life saving badges.

No other troop in the United States has ever had more than one scout qualify for this medal.

Yours sincerely,
W. L. NEILL,
Assistant Secretary, Committee on Badges Awards and Scout Requirements."

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Capt. Parker will have charge of the June Meeting which will take the form of a picnic at Indian Hill on Wednesday P. M. June 2.

East Side Scouts are requested to meet at the Common at 5 P. M. West side Scouts join them on Church St. Each girl is asked to bring a picnic lunch and some article of food to be cooked over an open fire. Picnic will be over so girls can be home by 7.30 o'clock. If stormy, it will be held at the same time Friday.

In spite of the severe storm some thirty Scouts and Captains attended the State Rally in Boston, last Saturday.

PAPER FUND FOR WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

The Finance Committee of the Winchester Hospital will be very grateful for donations of old newspapers, magazines, rags, bottles, rubbers, old iron, etc., for the benefit of the Paper Fund.

Telephone any of the following ladies: Mrs. John Abbott, Tel. 367; Mrs. H. C. Sanborn, Tel. 420; Mrs. A. H. Wood, Tel. 276.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

SUMMER HOURS
From June 7 to September 7 the library will be open from 4 to 8 p. m. Saturday until 8.30.

CHILDREN'S ROOM
Open 4 to 6 p. m.; Saturdays 4 to 6 and 7 to 8.30 p. m.

MEMORIAL DAY

G. A. R. Program of Exercises for Monday

The local post, A. D. Weld Post, 148, G. A. R., has announced its usual program for the observance of Memorial Day. The Post invites all members of other Posts, American Legion and all soldiers and sailors who served in the War of the Rebellion, together with Spanish War Veterans, to join with it in the observance of the day.

The Sons of Veterans will as in former years assist the veterans in carrying out their program, and the Malcon Band will furnish the music. The escort this year will be the Winchester Machine Gun Co., Capt. Harold V. Hovey commanding.

The members of the Post will assemble at headquarters G. A. R. hall, 8.30 A. M. Monday, and under escort of the Boy Scouts will march to Calvary Cemetery, Montvale, and decorate the graves of veterans buried at that place.

At 2 P. M. the Post will assemble at headquarters and under escort of the Machine Gun Company march to the Town Hall, where the members will receive the town officials.

The march to Wildwood Cemetery will be as follows from the Town Hall: through Washington, Main, Church, Fletcher and Wildwood streets. The exercises at Wildwood Cemetery will be held at 3 o'clock, when the following program will be carried out:

Selection—Malcon Band
Reading of Orders, Roll of Honor and Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech.
Prayer—Rev. Clifton H. Walcott Singing—Star Spangled Banner
Everybody Sing
Address—Rev. S. Winchester Adriance
Singing—America
Selections by Malcon Band.

The audience are requested to join in the singing of our National Anthem.

BASEBALL

(By Mack)

Memorial Day afternoon will see the opening of the baseball season here in Winchester.

We will have the Revere City Club as an attraction. The manager has promised to bring here one of the strongest teams in Greater Boston and if the rest of the team are as good as the battery he has engaged we will prove we have been in a ball game.

Tengren, the catcher is well known here having caught for Woburn for a season and also with strong semi-pro teams in this section. Hunt the pitcher was with Atlantic last year and Charlie Flaherty who caught him when he played with Queen Quality, says he is a star.

The rest of the team is composed of strong semi-pro players. The second baseman will bear watching as he is reported to be a live one. The Winchester team this season should be a good one. The battery will be Davidson and Bradish.

This pair has worked together for a number of years so should show to advantage here. Hatch will be on 1st Hillis of last year's team on 2nd. Penney or Morton short. Nelson the best third baseman of Brown University ever turned out, will fill in the hot corner, Mack Hevey and a minor league outfielder who was with Elmira last season will be the outfield with Roche of Tufts as utility.

There will be a big turnout and as the extra seats will only accommodate about 100 more an early arrival at the field is in order. All we require is a pleasant day and Winchester town team will show you some baseball.

PROGRESS CLUB PICNIC

The annual picnic and election of officers of the Progress Club of the First Congregational church was held on Tuesday evening at Indian Hill, about 30 of the club members attending. The trip over to the Hill was made both by foot and auto, the party leaving the church at 6.30.

Lunch was enjoyed by a big camp fire, and singing formed a part of the program during preparations for the spread. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—T. Parker Clark
Secretary and Treas.—Capen Abbott
Members of Council—Miss Gladys Folts, Miss Janet Hammer, Miss Charlotte Brooks, Miss Constance Lane, Miss Pearl Dearborn, Robert Cooper, Henry Simonds, Gordon Parker.

MISS ARMSTRONG, VICE-PRESIDENT

At the recent elections of the Dramatic Club of Mount Holyoke College, Miss Elizabeth Armstrong of this town, was elected vice-president of the club. Miss Armstrong is particularly fitted for this office as she has taken a great interest in dramatics since she has been in college. She has had leading roles in practically all of the plays staged by the Dramatic Club this past year. She has also been prominent in other non-academic activities of the college. In athletics she has played on her class basketball team for two years and on the class hockey team this past year. In her class she held the office of sergeant-at-arms in her freshman year.

BROKEN STREET LIGHTS

The Board of Selectmen wishes to notify the citizens that the Town is credited for the hours that street lights are not burned.

The Police Department, therefore, should be notified when broken lights are noticed, in order that this Department may immediately notify the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

"OFFICER 666"

Legion Show Saturday Night a Great Success.

Winchester Post, No. 97, The American Legion, made its first public appearance in the field of amateur dramatics Saturday night before a record audience in the Winchester Town Hall. The Post presented the melodramatic farce, "Officer 666," under the direction of the well known coach, Charles J. Harrold.

The Post was fortunate in its management, direction and artists, for the whole affair was a great success from start to finish, the entire house being sold out two days before the show and the big audience enjoying one of the best shows of the spring and winter. The piece was full of action from start to finish, and afforded ample opportunity for those who filled the cast to show what they could do.

The cast was as follows:

Batacto, Evan Kibbe
Michael Phelan, Police Officer 666
Charles J. Harrold
Whitney Barnes, Alden H. Symmes
Travers Gladwin, Francis A. Wyman
Helen Burton, Margaret Rae
Sadie Small, Doris G. Thompson
Mrs. Burton, Hester K. Bradford
Alfred Wilson, Kenneth F. Caldwell
Watkins, Harold V. Farnsworth
Police Captain Stone, Edward G. Boyle
Kearney, Plainclothes man
Harry G. Bignow
Ryan, a Policeman, Royal McCarthy Policemen
Allen Wood, Marshall Symmes

CHAS. W. CASSON TO PREACH

At Unitarian Church Sunday Morning

The Rev. Charles Wesley Casson is a graduate of Victoria University, Canada in the class of 1892. He has held pastorates at Pembroke, Revere, Milford, Ottawa, Ont., Dorchester and Rosindale, where he is now settled. For three years he was Secretary of the Department of Publicity of the American Unitarian Association. In his present pastorate he has built a new parish house, and organized the parish thoroughly along social and philanthropic lines. He has had wide experience in publicity and newspaper work, and is a strong preacher.

His sermon, "Three Great Words in Modern Religion" was chosen by the Unitarian Laymen's League as one of the three best sermons preached in June, 1919, on the general subject "Unitarianism, what it means and what it can do under existing conditions for the help of mankind."

Dr. Casson's says in the concluding paragraph "What can Unitarianism do to help mankind under existing conditions? It can give freedom from bondage to the souls of men. It can summon forth the power that resides in every human life. It can direct the use of this power in freedom to the work of saving the world from its sin and it's wrong. It can transform mankind! In the gift of its gospel lie Freedom, Power, Democracy."

"AMERICANIZATION"

Owing to the growing interest in this problem, and the realization of the importance of bringing before the foreign-born in this town the advantages of citizenship in order that they may participate more intelligently in the life of a nation, a meeting has been called by Mr. John R. Faussey, Superintendent of schools, in the High School Library, Tuesday evening, June first, at eight o'clock for the discussion of this matter. Mr. John J. Mahoney, Director of Americanization work on the State Board of Education, will present a plan and Mr. Joseph Spano, Executive Secretary of the North American Civic League will speak. A cordial invitation is extended to all who may be interested to attend.

MANY ATTENDED G. A. R. SERVICES

There was the largest attendance in years at the G. A. R. service in the Town Hall on Sunday night. Not in many years has this part of our Memorial Day program called forth such a turnout, and those who were present were amply repaid for their effort in the excellence of the program and the fine address delivered by Rev. Clifton H. Walcott, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

There was a special musical program by the quartette of the First Baptist Church and the community singing was led by Mr. Edward D. Hall. Included in the attendance were many veterans of the World War, members of the local Machine Gun Company, and Spanish War Veterans and the American Legion.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB DANCE

The first dance of the season will be held at the Winchester Boat Club, on Monday evening, May 31, with the usual good music. This will be an open night for members and their friends.

DRIVE A SUCCESS

Salvation Army Campaign Proceeds Amount to $2000.

Although the stormy weather of last Saturday eliminated the exhibition ball game and put a decided crimp into the advertised Tag Day, Winchester has succeeded in raising her quota of $1800 for the Salvation Army Campaign and a little more.

Last week it looked as though we were going to fall down, and the committee in charge, headed by Selectman George M. Byrne, ably assisted by Mr. James Hinds, decided to hold a Tag Day Saturday, and an exhibition ball game Saturday afternoon. The ball game, for which "Connie Mack" had made extensive arrangements, could not be played owing to the heavy rain, but a number of boys and girls were out with the tags, and to their credit the sum of $200 odd was raised.

This money, together with the additional contributions paid solicitors, swelled the total until it was well beyond the supposed sum required of us.

Among the young people who sold the tags were the following:

Mathew Murray
Frank McCauley
Barbara Flaherty
Melvin DeLoe
Norman Ash
Albert McFeeley
R. E. Simonds
Dorothy McFeeley
Barbara Fitzgerald
Audrey Goddu
Clarice Bernard
Helen Curtis
Margaret McAdams
Margaret McKee
Harry Chitel
Lars Sandberg
Mabel Mead
Charles H. Hart
Herbert Rowe
Katherine Donnelly
Isabel MacDonald
Priscilla Tilden
Ruth Barnard
Marjorie Davidson
Joseph Cohen
Helen Flaherty
Walter McLaughlin
Louise Stinson
Francis McKee
William H. Morton
Melvin Gilman
Molly Feinberg
Ruth Morrill
Esther Smith
Constance Curtis

Chairman Bryne furnished an unexpected and unlooked for surprise to these young people in appreciation of their work in the rain when he presented each with a pound box of candy Monday at the STAR office.

BILL PASSED

Miss Mabel Stinson Will Soon be Town Clerk.

The bill allowing the Town of Winchester to appoint a woman to its office of Town Clerk, after being once rejected by the Legislature, passed the House last Friday morning. It was previously rejected on a vote of 58 to 48, the chief opposition coming, so it is reported, from the clerks of other places. Upon its presentation to the Senate it went through by a large majority, Senator Edwin T. McKnight giving it his personal support.

Selectman George M. Byrne was largely responsible for the passage of the bill, he being also aided by Rep. Richard B. Coolidge. The appointment of Miss Stinson to the office will now be made by the Selectmen, Governor Coolidge signing the bill Tuesday, making it a law.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been issued by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending May 27:

Whitney Machine Co., 667 Main street. Wood addition to stable, 6x9 1/2 feet.

I. L. and C. H. Symmes, 751 Main street. Addition to present garage of concrete block oak pocket 12x8 feet.

J. Albert Hersey, 6 Elm street. Addition to present wood frame dwelling 26x8 feet.

W. W. Thomas, Highland avenue at Jefferson road. Wood locker building, 12x20 feet.

Edward H. Walker, 4 Lakeview road. Cement block garage, 15x19 feet.

Mrs. Clara Parker, 180 M. V. Parkway. Steel portable garage, 9x16 feet.

RENT AND HOUSING COMMITTEE

The Board of Selectmen have appointed the following persons to serve on a committee to be known as the Rent and Housing Committee for the investigation of charges made for rent and the housing situation.

William A. Kneeland
William R. McIntosh
Percival B. Metcalf
Walter S. Wadsworth
George B. Whitehorse

POLICE HAVE TARGET PRACTICE

Members of the Winchester Police Department are holding fortnightly pistol practice on the State Guard rifle range at the rear of Wildwood cemetery. Many of the officers have individually taken up practice and are reported to have made some excellent records in shooting, but in accordance with the desire of the Board of Selectmen regular practice will now be a part of the duties of the officers. The Selectmen attended the practice yesterday afternoon and expressed themselves as much pleased with the results.

Supt. of Schools and Mrs. John R. Faussey will move from No. 2 Rangeley to their new home at No. 6 Stevens street the first of the week.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

At Rumford School.

The following program was presented by the children of the Rumford School, Friday afternoon, on the lawn of the school, under the direction of Miss Mary A. Lyons, principal; Miss Mary A. Doherty, Miss Elizabeth Naven, and Miss Helena B. Doherty. The children in their white dresses and boys in white blouses with red, white and blue caps carrying flags made an impressive sight.

METHODISTS TO SELL

A very important Quarterly Conference was held at the Methodist church Wednesday evening with Rev. C. H. Stappole in the chair. Among other matters was discussed an interesting proposition made by the Winchester Laundries, Inc., to purchase at once the Methodist church property corner Mt. Vernon street and Converse Place. The society would be granted the privilege of using the auditorium and of enjoying such other privileges as could conveniently be granted, for a period of several years. Although the disposal of this property is now in the hands of the Trustees there seemed to be a feeling at the Conference that there should be an acceptance of this offer.

Provision was made for a "New Church" Committee of twenty-five. Important changes in the officers of the church were made. Mr. Raymond S. Quimby was elected Recording Steward; Mr. Leon E. Crouch becomes Treasurer of the Official Board; Mr. Albert Bent is made a Trustee; Mr. George Davidson and Mrs. Nellie Dodge, Stewards; Mr. Herbert Richardson become a member of the Music Committee. A substantial increase in the Pastor's salary was voted. Reports showed the society to be in an excellent working condition and confident of larger things yet to come.

WINCHESTER'S EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE

The last regular meeting of the Winchester Equal Suffrage Club will be held at the home of Mrs. D. C. Dennett, 7 Washington St., Wednesday, June 2nd, at three o'clock. In view of the fact that the purpose for which this organization existed has virtually been fulfilled, the Winchester Equal Suffrage Club will become the Winchester League of Women Voters at this meeting. A new constitution will be submitted. Members will speak informally.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending May 27: Measles 18, German measles 1, scarlet fever 1, lobar pneumonia 1, whooping cough 2.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, was held last evening in Small Town Hall. It is hoped that more ladies who have had father, brothers, sisters or husband in the U. S. service will join this Auxiliary.

DEDICATE MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Dedication and unveiling of a large rustic boulder bearing a bronze plate in a special lot in Calvary Cemetery by Winchester Council 210, K. of C., in memory of the three members of their council, William M. Glendon, Augustus M. Leonard and William J. Noonan who gave their lives to their country in the World War, will take place next Sunday afternoon, May 30th.

The dedication will begin at 2.30 p. m., and will consist of the unveiling of the memorial by Elizabeth M. Glendon, Elizabeth E. Noonan and Katherine A. Leonard, sisters of the three young men. Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt, pastor of St. Mary's church and chaplain of the council, assisted by Rev. Fr. John Gorham, pastor of St. Charles' church of Woburn, will bless the memorial and say the prayers for the Dead. Mr. Patrick J. Kennedy who designed and made the bronze tablet will present the memorial to Fr. John Gorham, who will accept it in the name of his Eminence Cardinal O'Connell, District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, Supreme Advocate of the Order will deliver the oration.

Committee of arrangements are: Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt, Patrick J. Kennedy, Eugene P. Sullivan, James W. Haggerty and Frank E. Rogers.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Carlson of Wedgemere road, are the parents of a son, born at the Winchester hospital.

A break was effected at the Symmes grain mill on Main street last night, entrance being made by breaking open a door. The place was ransacked, but nothing of value was taken so far as has been ascertained.

At an open air horse show and matinee held Wednesday at the Charles River Speedway by the Metropolitan Driving Club, Miss Helen Sanborn's entry "Beau Brummel" took first prize for horses over 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2 hands. The horse was entered under the Weld Stock Farm, but was not its own entry, Miss Sanborn simply keeping her horse at that place.

The Winchester police will have in court this morning two Brookline boys who are charged with the theft of two valuable fur coats from the residence of Mr. Edward E. Deal of 36 Calumet road. The boys visited the house Monday or Tuesday night, entering either by opening a door or by way of an unlocked door, and took the garments. They are Hanley P. Divigne and Thomas C. Fitzpatrick. The coats have been recovered, one in Cambridge and the other in Lynn, where they were sold to second hand clothing dealers.

Let us assist you in selecting your gifts for the bride and the graduate. Our stock is not large but carefully selected. E. H. Butterworth, Jeweler.

A very successful whist and dancing party was held in Lyceum Hall, Wednesday evening, in aid of the Summer Festival of St. Mary's Parish, under the auspices of the Married and Young Ladies' Societies. Prizes were awarded the following: Mr. Lynch, Miss Glendon, Mrs. Conlon, Miss O'Malley, Miss Arrell, Mrs. Hanlon, Miss McNulty, Miss Foley, Mrs. Hodge, Mrs. Fleming, Miss Murray, Miss Flaherty, Miss Hogan, Mr. M. Maguire, Mr. Lydon, Mr. McCarron, Mr. Grimes and Mr. Costello.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

The press of today devotes to hygienic matters an amount of space that old-time editors would have considered prodigal, and here in Winchester as elsewhere there is need of counsel and caution. And some of those who know least are very speedy to respond to friendly advice. But in Winchester, as in all other communities, there are those who intentionally defy the laws of health, or who carelessly forget them or who intend to heed them some day—a day which, like tomorrow, never comes.

In years gone by West Point Cadets, accustomed to the easy-going atmosphere of home, would grumble over such regulations as rigidly emptying pitchers and inverting wash bowls. But for all these regulations there was sound reason. A Winchester physician says that in many a house the water left in pitchers and bowls is just sufficient to add to the list of perniciously active mosquitoes.

A very interesting article in a magazine reaching The Spectator's desk speaks as if the Declaration of Independence read at Fourth of July gatherings was practically the same as the Declaration of Independence written by Thomas Jefferson. Far from it. Henry E. Randall, the best known of Jefferson's biographers, has placed the text of Jefferson's paper beside the document sent forth and the variations are numerous and very striking.

A Winchester gentleman who is a very keen student of politics says that the Democratic Campaign is decidedly poverty stricken for material and that judging the situation on the record of the past years, on the administration of Woodrow Wilson, and on the available Democratic candidates we are forced to the conclusion that the Democratic ship has a very serious list to port and is headed for the shoals with all sails set. He says "the pilot has been looking the other way too long to permit the course to be changed now."

We do not hear so much this spring about the gardening that has taken up the attention of so many families in Winchester and elsewhere. We do hope that the garden habit is not waning. The war gardens served their purpose and there is no reason under the sun why it is not certainly advantageous for a gardener who has met with success to keep right on with his little patch regardless of the war's end. The whole truth of the matter is that those who find pleasure in gardening and who truly derived some benefit because they have the knack of raising produce will very likely continue the really useful work, but there are certain to be some who have not the land and who, if assisted even a little, would make a mighty good thing out of it providing the land were available. But as yet there seems to be no organized movement to undertake anything in the way of development of the community garden idea.

Without the least feature of sensationalism it is stated that Herbert Hoover as a mining engineer went five times around the world in the space of five years. Winchesterites versed in travel literature will know that at a period not very remote there was not a man in the world who had such a record of mileage. Take the voyages of Paul Jones and the ramblings of Meringo Park, imposing as they were in their day, and see how they shrink beside the journeys of Herbert Hoover.

The Spectator.

CHARM OF GOOD FICTION

Editor of the Star:

What William Elder, M. D., had to say in 1854 upon the subject of the charm of good fiction will be read with profit by Winchester folk in 1920:—

"No one loves to be deceived, to be cheated, to be made a fool of with a lie; yet fiction is almost universally agreeable. * * * It is the attraction of living a grand life, though only in the reveries of fancy, that wins us away into the enchanted regions of fiction, from the hard-featured facts and urgent demands of our actual life; and the delight in the illusion proves that in right conditions and under favoring circumstances men would be as noble as poetry conceives and their high destiny demands of them. Every aspiration for the highest right, every sympathetic emotion of virtue, however transient, unsteady or misapplied, shows that we were created for honor and glory and immortality."

Eugene Bertram Willard, Chelsea, Massachusetts.

To Dry Narrow-Necked Bottle.

In order to remove the last few drops of water which remain after washing and draining a narrow-necked bottle, dry the rim on the mouth and then hold the bottle upside down under cold water running from the tap. In about half a minute dry the outside of the bottle and examine the inside, when it will be found perfectly dry.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

AN OBSOLETE FORMALITY

To appoint Miss Mabel Stinson town clerk of Winchester after she had served 13 years as assistant, the Selectmen are obliged to go to the Legislature for a special bill. Miss Stinson has been clerk for the assessors, for the tax collector, for the auditor, for the Town Treasurer and for the overseers of the poor, in addition to her regular work, and in absence of these officers she has unofficially donned the toga. In order to be appointed town clerk to finish the term of George H. Carter, deceased, the Selectmen find they must push an act through the House and Senate and have it submitted to the Governor.

In the course of a few weeks a Salem woman has been appointed probation officer in Essex County for the first time. Yale has added a woman to her faculty, and a girl has presided over the New York Legislature. Everywhere women are coming into their own. Legal impediments in New England, however, have in most cases obstructed their progress. Recently in a Wyoming town women were elected to all the offices.

With the inevitable ratification of the suffrage amendment, women will advance more and more into public life.

Massachusetts laws should be liberal enough to allow Selectmen to appoint a woman to fill an unexpired term without going seeking permission from Beacon Hill. —Globe

JOHN THE GARDENER

John, the gardener, came from Ireland six years ago. He found his way to a Boston suburb and, because he was a willing worker, it wasn't long until he was selling all his daylight hours at twenty-five cents an hour.

The work he did was perfectly satisfactory, and when he increased his price to thirty-five cents an hour, none of his customers objected. He did just as much work as before and his employers felt that his dependability and reliability were worth any reasonable price he cared to charge for them.

But, unfortunately, John began attending meetings at which unthinking speakers aired their views. These wrong ideas began to manifest themselves in his work. He boosted his price up to fifty cents an hour. His employers stood for this because the prices of most of the other things they bought had doubled.

But, when they discovered that John was doing less than half the amount of work for fifty cents an hour that he had done five years ago at twenty-five cents an hour, trouble broke out.

There are hundreds of thousands of men like John scattered over the country. Today they are doing less work for more pay—and naturally the cost of everything is going up.

What we need is more of the spirit that was in John when he came from Ireland a half dozen years ago.

Workers who work are the only people who can save this country from disaster.

COMMENDATION OF MR. METCALF

It is hoped that a large number of Winchester people will attend the presentation of these medals at the annual exhibition and entertainment of the Winchester Boy Scouts to be held in the Town Hall next month.

The committee appointed at a special meeting of the Winchester Unitarian Society has prepared the following recognition of the services of their pastor, which by vote of the Society is to be sent to him by the hands of Mrs. Metcalf.

Dear Mr. Metcalf:—
At a meeting of the Winchester Unitarian Society on May 5 your resignation as pastor was formally accepted, those present realizing that in existing circumstances no other action was possible. Expressions of keen regret for the severance of the intimate relations of pastor and people were numerous and heartfelt.

The undersigned committee was authorized and instructed to convey to you the thanks and appreciation of the Society for your faithful services during the nearly ten years of your pastorate, which we take pleasure in doing. Especially do we desire to express the gratitude of the members for your constant endeavors to guide and instruct them in the ways of right living and thinking, and in the cultivation of those moral qualities which help to make better men and women and a better community in which to live.

Your interest in the activities of the church has been unremitting, resulting in the greater usefulness of the Sunday school, the Metcalf Union, the Ladies' Friendly Society, the Knights of King Arthur, and the recently organized unit of the Laymen's League. By this interest and encouragement given, you have won the respect and affection of our young people and endeared yourself to those of maturer years. We recall with gratitude your untiring sympathy in times of sickness and bereavement, which will ever be a tender memory.

Your devotion and self-sacrifice in that wonderful service in France caused, and had not ceased to cause, our admiration and that of all our townsmen, increasing as time gives a truer perspective. This service reflects honor upon yourself, your parish, and this community. In all the vicissitudes of the five trying years last past you have been the apostle of a moral awakening, of courage and confidence.

Toward Mrs. Metcalf we have the liveliest sense of obligation for her great work in all the activities of the Society, her unvarying graciousness, her tact and resourcefulness, in the church, in the home, and in all social matters. Particularly do we value her counsel and influence with the young people of our Society and her helpfulness in maintaining the work of the parish during your absence in the world war.

We are confident that the humanitarian mission you have undertaken for the relief of a distressed people in a foreign land will result in great benefit to them, reflecting credit upon our fellowship and our country. We commend both you and Mrs. Metcalf to the people of a strong parish in a neighboring state, in the full belief that they will appreciate as we do your strong qualities of leadership in Christian helpfulness and Community welfare. Your coming to our parish was our great good fortune, and we shall retain the pleasantest memories of your ministrations among us.

Sincerely yours,

Charles A. Baldwin,

Lewis Parkhurst,

James L. Campbell,

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Assembly last Friday was given to the Economics Class. Fred Boyle read a theme on the preparation of leather; William Moore spoke on the making of machinery for leather working; and Ronald Hatch discussed the child labor problem. The whole program was decidedly interesting.

The baseball game with Woburn, scheduled for last Saturday and postponed because of rain, will be played the first week in June.

Parker Hart has been elected captain of the 1920 crew. The crew has been a failure the last two years and this year we are bound to regain the Lawson Trophy from Medford. Enough candidates for two crews have reported in spite of interest in baseball. Among them are: Parker Hart, Robert Hart, Stuart Eldridge, Stephen Ryan, Winslow Jennings, Lincoln Russell, Malcomb Emery, Leonard Clifton, Wallace Downer, Joe Ryan, Richard Caldwell, William Clark.

On Wednesday evening Miss Palmer took the Trigonometry class to Boston University to use the telescope. The trip was arranged through the kindness of Professor Brigham, who made the observations with the class. The work began about dusk when observations of the moon and her craters were made. Then, as it grew darker Saturn, with his rings and Jupiter, with his satellites were examined. Professor Brigham then explained the simplest workings of the telescope and the effect of atmosphere and the tremor caused by the subway beneath. Those in the party were: Fred Ashworth, Francis Barrett, Alden Reed, Roy Jordan, Robert Apsey, Winslow Jennings, Parker Hart, Stephen Ryan.

Vacation Position—possibly permanent—open for High School pupil. Applicant must be the kind that has won respect of instructors, classmates and himself. Accuracy in simple forms of mathematics essential. Apply 6 to 7 p. m. at 1 Woodside road.

bers of the cast. Some parts were more prominent than others and possibly some of the members made more of their work than the audience as a whole was aware of, but to find any one who fell short of expectations was impossible. The three ladies were exceptionally pleasing, both to the eye and ear. Miss Rae took the leading part and filled it to perfection, while Mrs. Thompson and Miss Bradford seconded her admirably to the great gratification of the audience.

"Officer 666" was Mr. Harrold himself. His work was professional in its completeness, and as he himself remarked, "he was a h— of a (good) cop." Since he and the audience admitted it, the fact is unquestioned. Mr. Francis A. Wyman, always eagerly sought for the principal part in local theatricals, out-did himself. His easy, pleasing personality immediately captured his audience and his appearance was eagerly welcomed from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Messrs. Alden Synnnes and Kenneth F. Caldwell likewise gave a finished impersonation of their parts, the former as a friend of a wealthy young art collector and the latter as the gentleman crook.

Another part well taken was that of "Watkins," the chauffeur accomplice to Wilson the crook. Mr. Harold V. Farnsworth filled this part in a manner which won him much praise. Edward G. Boyle was a typical captain of police, and Harry G. Bigelow missed his vocation when he gave up plain clothes work. Evan Kibbe played a difficult part of the Japanese servant in a very acceptable manner, and the statement was heard at the close of the performance that the policemen in the show were members of the Winchester force who gave their services free to the Legion. This should certainly hold these stars.

The committee in charge of the show was as follows: Mr. Theodore W. Lawson, business manager; Mr. Kenneth M. Pratt, property manager; Mr. James M. Flinn, tickets; Mr. Terence J. Cullen, music; Mr. William E. Ramsdell, program; Mr. Louis E. Goddard, publicity; Mr. Charles N. Eaton, ushers.

The Legion issued an attractive souvenir program for the performance and the orchestra, in charge of Mr. Cullen, was a feature of the evening, it furnishing the music for the dancing which followed until a late hour.

A substantial sum was realized from the show which will be used for the running expenses of the Legion.

At the close of the last act the ladies in the cast were presented with several handsome bouquets, and director Harrold received a fine pair of gold cuff links. The later presentation was made by Mr. John Hickey for the Brookline Catholic Club, this year being the 15th season Mr. Harrold having acted as coach for the organization, which was originated by the late Rev. John Sheehan. Mr. Hickey, who will be remembered as playing the part of Ambrose Peale in "It Pays to Advertise," given here in March, made a most acceptable and flattering speech in making the presentation.

The ushers, in charge of Commander Eaton, included Messrs. Courtenay, Gendron, Theodore W. Lawson, Louis Goddard, Maurice Rebenacker, Robert Kronquist, George Barbaro, William E. Ramsdell and Dr. Richard W. Sheehy.

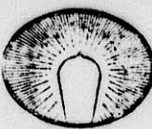

JAMES KNEW IT WAS COMING

So, Contrary to All Precedent, He Pleased With His Mother to Administer the "Dose."

James, his mother called him, but he preferred the name of Jimmie, by which the neighborhood knew him. He also preferred rough-and-tumble clothes to starched clean apparel—the movies to Sunday school—and almost anything to grade school, although he had given it only a few weeks' trial, the Kansas City Star says.

While his father is overseas with a government permit to hunt the Hun, the mother adds to the family income by working in an office close to home. James had made it a custom to meet his mother at the closing hour and accompany her home.

Early one morning James started for school dressed in a clean new suit. That evening an almost unrecognizable six-year-old youngster awaited his mother at the office. Immediately upon her appearance he stepped forth with the explanation, forestalling anything that might be said or done on her part. "I didn't go to school. I went riding with the coal man. I 'spect you're going to whip me." Placing a snuggly hand upon his mother's arm, he continued: "Come on, let's hurry home and get it over with."

CORPORATION COURTESY

MARSHALL FIELD once laid down this rule for his employees: "The Customer is Always Right."

Now this wasn't true in its literal sense, of course. It has, however, even a broader, deeper and truer meaning.

Courtesy and Politeness must be an integral part of real service in all business transactions.

And this is doubly true of Public Service business.

BOWLING NOTES

The other day after A. L. Hersey's team had beaten the team from the Methodist Church, Mr. McDonald walked into the Alleys and said, "Mack, I don't think that A. L. Hersey has the best team that can be made up from members of our Men's club, and I would like to put a picked five against them." Of course A. L. Hersey was agreeable and the match was on. Well, what Hersey's team didn't do to Mr. McDonald's team was a shame, the final box leaving them with a lead of 99 pins. Mr. Walcott was high man on the losing team while Earle Richardson topped the winners score.

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE

"Another George Cohan hit!" is the expression generally voiced by all who speak of the new Cohan production, "Genius and the Crowd," which is drawing Boston theatregoers in large audiences at the Hollis Street Theatre where it enters upon its third week next Monday night.

Theatregoers who have sought something new happily found it in this delightful comedy produced by the Cohan who has probably made more innovations in method and construction of stage offerings than any other producer in America.

There is a company that well might be termed mammoth for a comedy, more than 50 players numbering the cast brilliant in their individual competency.

The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees are given. Out of town patrons may be assured that all letter orders for seats will receive careful and prompt attention.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

A man is never ridiculous for what he is, but for assuming what he isn't.

It isn't what the average man knows about the hereafter that frightens him; it is what he doesn't know.

A lot of fellows who think they are on the straight and narrow way are just narrow.

An optimist is a man who is always getting into the ditch by turning out for some pessimist who won't.

They say the road to Heaven is a little rough. Perhaps it isn't traveled enough.

You seldom hear a man say he didn't get a good night's sleep if he did a full day's work.

Governor Coolidge signed the bill Wednesday calling for the appropriation of $5,000 for the completion of the work of dredging and beautifying the Aberjona river. This bill, a part of the original bill for reclaiming up the river, was brought up by Representative Richard B. Coolidge after having been shelved for several years. Its main purpose is the cleaning of the small pond in front of Wedgemere station. This was the point where the previous work ended. Rep. Coolidge has given much attention to matters affecting legislation as applying to this town, and is said to have been largely responsible for the passage of the recent "town clerk's" bill.

No better example of what this town furnishes its residents, not to omit its neighbors in adjoining communities, is amply illustrated by a trip to Medford or points south. A person leaving Winchester square going to Medford travels on a high grade and perfectly ordered macadam road until he reaches the Medford line, whereupon he is subjected to great personal discomfort and vehicles to great strain because of the worn and rutted road stretching to Winthrop Square. In other words, Winchester provides for its neighbor on the south a smooth, delightful entrance, and good roads through its confines to all points north, east and west. Many of our residents have watched for some time in hopes of a recognition on the part of Medford and a betterment of this principal artery to the south. This year shows no improvement. However, we are glad to give our neighbors the benefits of South Main street and Highland avenue, and possibly, in the future, they will reciprocate. Perhaps it is such contrast as this which places our town in its present standing. It appears that the city of Medford has no money to build this street, although it is at present doing some repair work, but how long such surfacing will stand up under the truck traffic which passes through is problematical. Almost a year ago—June 24, 1919—our Board of Selectmen took up the condition of the street with Medford, but without result. Since that time Grove street has been rebuilt, making it equally desirable for travel as far as the Medford line, where it again resembles its neighboring street to the east.

MRS. CHARLES T. SYMMES

Mrs. Abby Elizabeth Symmes, widow of the late Charles T. Symmes and mother of Mr. Charles Herbert Symmes and Mr. Irving L. Symmes of this town died at her home on Main street, Friday. She was 77 years of age.

Mrs. Symmes was a native of Roxbury. Her parents being John and Elizabeth (Whiting) Hunt. She married Charles T. Symmes at Fayville, Mass., and came with her husband to this town when 22 years of age. She had lived ever since that time in the house in which she died at No. 232 Main street.

She was a member of the Unitarian church and of the Fortnightly Her two sons are the only living members of her family.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. William L. Lawrence of Auburndale, a former pastor, on Monday afternoon at two o'clock. There was a large attendance of old friends and many very beautiful floral tributes. The pall bearers were her two sons and Messrs. Chandler Symmes, Dean Symmes and Albert J. Hunt of Chicago. The burial was in the family lot in Wildwood cemetery.

June 3, Thursday. Meeting of Western Missionary Society, 10-4. Mrs. E. S. Gould of Lawrence, president of the Andover-Woburn Alliance, will speak at 2.30.

Miss Marion Nichols who is in the class of 1923 at Mount Holyoke College has been elected circulation manager of the Mount Holyoke Monthly, the college literary publication. This past year Miss Nichols has been her class representative on the Students' League Board, which is the executive and judicial body of the student government.

W. C. T. U.

Postponed from last month because of the illness of some of the residents, the meeting of the local W. C. T. U. was held last Friday at the home for the Aged, with a good attendance. Coming at the usual time for the anniversary celebration it was especially interesting and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent by the members and their friends.

Mrs. Lillian Marshall of Beach Bluffs conducted a song service in connection with the opening exercises, using the old, familiar hymns so beloved by all. She also sang a group of songs most delightfully and Mrs. Isabel Foster read several appropriate selections. One of the hits of the program was a playlet given by Mrs. Martha Tibbetts and Mrs. Maud Wolcott, "Taking the Census," the costumes attracting special commendation. At the close of the formal program ice cream and cake were served by a committee under the direction of Mrs. Jennie Tolman. Mrs. Marshall also visited the rooms of those unable to come down to the meeting and delighted the invalids by her singing.

Middlesex County's spring convention was held in the Park Street Baptist Church in Framingham Wednesday, May 19, with a good attendance and good weather. Reports from the Jubilee fund campaign were very encouraging. Winchester and West Newton having already secured their quota and others nearing it.

Sunday afternoon, May 30, 3 p. m., Mrs. Lulu Loveland Shepard, for twelve years president of the Utah W. C. T. U., will give an address for women only at the Methodist church, Winchester, discussing some of the serious objections to the increase of power by the Mormon church. Familiar with the effects of the teachings of this so-called church of the Latter Day Saints, she has a thrilling story to tell and tells it in a masterly manner. Mormonism is growing rapidly in many sections of the country and the practice of its adherents of voting as a body for measures favored by the hierarchy makes it a real menace to those parts of the country where it has any strength. Mrs. Shepard has many stories to tell which cause many people to "sit up and take notice" and those interested should not miss the opportunity of hearing her. She is a forceful speaker and has been for years one of the lecturers of the National W. C. T. U., which is a guarantee of her ability to interest and inform her hearers. Women only, all women welcome.

"STILL ALIVE"

To the Editor:

On account of the misunderstanding that prevails here in regard to the present status of the Anti-Suffrage Association, will you kindly put into the "Star" of May 27, a few extracts from the "Woman Patriot" and other Reports showing that Anti-Suffrage is still very much alive:

"The National Association opposed to Woman Suffrage held the greatest meeting in its history last Thursday (April 29), at the Hotel McAlpin, New York City. With spontaneous enthusiasm more than 500 delegates, representing the 26 state associations that compose the National, cheered again and again as speeches, plans, legal arguments and political measures against Federalism and Suffragism were advanced.

The chief speakers were Senator George A. Erick of Maryland; Hon. John R. McNabb of Delaware; Mr. J. Holaday Johnson of Maryland; and Miss Kilbreth, Pres. of the National Association, of whom the "Patriot" says: "She aroused tremendous enthusiasm when she declared that the issue now was exactly the converse of that of the Civil War. Then men laid down their lives that the States should not destroy the Union. Now the issue is 'Shall the Nation destroy the States?'"

Miss Kilbreth was re-elected President for the year; one of the four vice-presidents is Mrs. James M. Codman of Brookline, Mass.; while among the officers and Board of Directors are representatives from all of the 26 states.

"A resolution was passed in memory of James Calloway, and in appreciation of the firm stand taken by Gov. Holcomb of Connecticut, by Gov. Clement of Vermont, and by those many legislators who have resisted all forms of suffrage coercion."

In our own State, on April 21, Mrs. John Tremont Hill gave a luncheon at the Chilton Club to the Chairmen of the branches of our Mass. Association. Mrs. Barrett Wendell, presided, and here also great enthusiasm was aroused.

Winchester was represented at this luncheon and also at the New York meeting, by the chairman of our branch, Mrs. Maurice C. Tompkins.

April 26, at the Anti-Suffrage headquarters in Boston, the annual business meeting of the Mass. Association was held, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Randolph Frothingham, president; Mrs. Henry P. White, Mrs. B. L. Robinson, Mrs. A. H. Parker, and Mrs. James D. Colt, vice-presidents; Mrs. Chas. P. Strong, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Foxcroft, recording secretary.

On Thursday, June 3, in our own town at the house of Mrs. Alfred Wallace, 9 Calumet road, Mrs. Edwin Ford is coming to meet the members of our own association at 3 o'clock, and tell them of the work that has been done the past year by the Anti-Suffragists, and what they are planning for the future. Tea will be served and a social hour follow Mrs. Ford's talk.

It is hoped every member of the Winchester branch will show her allegiance to the cause by attending this meeting, and any woman, whether a member of the Branch or not, who sympathizes with the two causes of "Anti-Suffrage" and "Majority Rule," is cordially invited.

VEGETABLE GARDENS

Editor Star.

Dear Sir:

I have noticed in going about Town, that there appears to be very little interest in Vegetable Gardens and only a very few of our citizens are preparing to raise part of their own vegetables.

All the papers have been telling us about the scarcity of farm labor. This statement is certainly correct. In my business, I come in touch with Rural Districts a good deal. Men who have been usually enticed away by high wages. The farmers are offering big wages per day and board but are not getting the help. There is sure to be a smaller production of food this year as compared with other years.

Everyone who has some land in connection with their dwelling ought to plant this season. There will be a scarcity of some kinds of food next winter and prices will be extremely high.

I am practicing what I preach. I am planting a larger garden this year than usual.

I hope that our citizens will raise at least part of their vegetables this season.

Yours very truly,

Frank A. Cutting.

PROBLEM FOR ART EXPERTS

How to Save Masterpieces of Painting Is Matter Which Puzzles Authorities in Italy.

A heating apparatus, powerful enough to force heat through a pile of sandbags 12 feet thick and to dry without scorching the wall behind is needed to preserve one of the world's masterpieces, "The Last Supper," of Leonardo da Vinci, which is painted on the wall of the Church of Santa Maria delle Grazie at Milan, Italy. The dampness which accumulates in the sand necessary as a protection from air raids is fast fading the colors of the picture, already damaged by time. The restoration necessary for Leonardo's picture is unsuited to the frescoes of Luini and other masters painted on the same wall. How to give each set of masterpieces the treatment required is the problem. So far the experts of the Italian ministry of the arts have been unable to find a solution.

Hereditary Hay Fever.

Dr. W. Scheppegrell, president of the American Hay Fever Prevention association, has recently made an analysis of 415 cases treated in the hay fever clinic of the Charity hospital at New Orleans and elsewhere in that city in order to determine the influence of heredity on this disease. He finds that in more than one-third of the cases the patients had a father, mother, brother or sister who was a victim of the disease. Probably the influence of heredity is even greater than indicated by these figures, as specific susceptibility may exist indefinitely without developing hay fever, by reason of insufficient exposure to the pollens that cause the malady. The question of the development of a natural immunity from continued exposure to the specific pollens is, says Doctor Scheppegrell, a difficult one to settle, on account of the difficulty of eliminating the question of decreased exposure.—Scientific American.

MERIT

True merit is like a river—the deeper it is the less noise it makes. True merit in a banking institution is expressed in service. The officers gain your friendship and confidence through the quiet, unpretentious yet effective service rendered. Officers of this bank are waiting for an opportunity to give you a chance to pass judgement on the merits of this bank's service.

NAVY MEDALS AND WHY THEY ARE GIVEN

The controversy about the bestowal of decorations upon naval heroes of the War lends interest to the history of the three Navy awards now made, which is related in the following bulletin from the National Geographic Society:

The Navy medal was changed in 1862 to bestow it on "seamen distinguishing themselves in battle or for extraordinary heroism in the line of their profession." This eliminated "seamanlike qualities" and confined it to heroism, but it will be noted that it permitted the granting of the reward for heroism at other times than in action, and a number of Medals of Honor have been so given in the Navy. This condition lasted until February, 1919, when the wording of the Army conditions was adopted for the Navy also, so that the Medal of Honor, the highest award in the Army, and the Navy Medal are now on exactly the same footing.

The Medal of Honor was instituted by act of Congress in 1861 and was the earliest American decoration. However, it applied at that time only to enlisted men of the Navy. In the following year enlisted men of the Army were included, and by an act approved March 3, 1863, its provisions were extended to include officers in the Army, but naval officers were not eligible for this decoration until 1915.

The conditions under which the Medal of Honor may be awarded have been changed from time to time by various laws. The first, that of 1861, authorized the bestowal upon such enlisted men of the Navy "as shall distinguish themselves by their gallantry in action and other seamanlike qualities during the present war." The act of the following year, which applied to the Army, read the same, except that "seamanlike" was replaced by "soldierlike" and the war was termed an "insurrection."

In its original conception, therefore, the Medal of Honor was not limited to heroism, much less to heroism in action, as seamanlike or soldierlike qualities could be rewarded with this medal. However, this did not last long. The Army conditions were changed in 1863, so as to bestow the medal on those who "have most distinguished or may hereafter most distinguish themselves in action." This absolutely limited it to services in action, and the conditions were made more stringent later.

The Distinguished Service Medal for the Navy is awarded under exactly the same conditions as for the Army and was established by act of Congress in February, 1919. The Distinguished Service Medal ranks next to the Medal of Honor.

It should be noted that the services to be rewarded with this decoration do not have to be rendered at the front, much less in action, the requirement of great responsibility being the governing factor. It should also be observed that this decoration can be awarded to women.

The Navy Cross was authorized by the same law that established the Navy Distinguished Service Medal, and it can be awarded to any one in the naval service who distinguishes himself by extraordinary heroism or by distinguished service not justifying the award of the Medal of Honor or the Distinguished Service Medal.

The difference between this and the Distinguished Service Cross of the Army should be noted. The Army decoration is given only for heroism in action. The Navy Cross is much broader in scope and, in addition to heroism in action, it includes any other distinguished service, not only in time of war but also in peace, in the theater of hostilities or elsewhere. It is a junior decoration to both the Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Service Medal.

These three naval decorations cover the whole possible gamut of services which should be rewarded. The Medal of Honor is the appropriate reward for extraordinary valor in action, the Distinguished Service Medal for any other specially distinguished services, and the Navy Cross for any meritorious service, of whatever character, of a lesser degree.

Material for Explosives.

As to the source of the nitrol used for explosives, it is pointed out that there has been recently a great increase in the number of by-product coke ovens in this country. However, says the Scientific American, if 20,000,000 tons of coke are made in these ovens during the present year we shall get from this source only 10,000,000 gallons of nitrol, which is about one-fourth as much as the government estimated it would need for munitions. Another promising measure recently inaugurated is the stripping of city gas of this material, which can be spared without any serious detriment to the gas, and amounts to about .04 gallon for each 1,000 feet of gas. It is estimated that ten of the largest city gas plants of the country will yield about 10,000,000 gallons of nitrol.

SAVE MONEY ON MEAT.

Here is a real thrift recipe for a tasty, nutritious dish prepared from less costly meat. It is issued by the Division of Women's Activities, Department of Justice. Use this recipe and save money on meat.

HOT POT OF MUTTON AND BARLEY

1 pound of mutton
1-2 cup pearl barley
1 tablespoon salt
4 potatoes
3 onions
Celery tops or other seasoning herbs
Cut the mutton in small pieces, and brown with the onion in fat cut from meat. This will help make the meat tender and improve the flavor. Pour this into a covered saucepan. Add two quarts water and the barley. Simmer for one and one-half hours. Then add the potatoes cut in quarters, seasoning herbs, and seasoning, and cook one-half hour longer.

QUICK MEAT LOAF

3-4 pound round or some other solid meat run through meat grinder twice
3-4 cup softened bread
1 beaten egg
Salt and pepper
Lemon juice
A little nutmeg Onion juice added to bread
Add the bread mixture to the meat. Shape in a bowl and sprinkle well with flour. Melt two teaspoons of butter in a frying pan, put in a sliced onion, cover and cook slowly, until the onion is a light brown; remove the onion; put the meat loaf into the hot pan with the floured side down. Cover and cook for ten minutes, then sprinkle the top with flour, turn carefully, and cook for 5 minutes longer. Lift the meat loaf onto a platter with a cake turner, place the cooked onion on top and pour over the juice remaining in the pan. This meat loaf can be served either hot or cold.

BRAISED OX JOINTS

1 ox tail (cut in two-inch pieces)
1 cup tomatoes
2 small onions
1 tablespoon chopped celery
3 whole cloves
3 bay leaves
2 tablespoons flour
Brown ox tail well in oven. Cut onion, carrot, celery and brown all together well. Sprinkle with flour and brown fifteen minutes. Add one cup hot water and tomatoes, bay leaves, cloves, salt and pepper. Cook until meat falls from bones.

BEEF BALLS WITH DUMPLINGS

To a cup and a half of beef from the shank, put twice through a food chopper, add a third of a cup of bread crumbs, salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, a little nutmeg and a beaten egg. Shape into balls lightly, and let them stand for half an hour or more to become firm, then roll them in flour and brown in the frying pan with three tablespoons of lard or some salt and pork fat. Then add a tablespoon of flour to the remaining fat and a cup of stock. Season well, add this mixture to the meat balls and simmer in a closely covered dish for an hour and a half.

BEEF BRISKET-Boiled and Browned

If the piece has much bone, part may be removed for soup stock, or for gravy to be used with the meat when warmed over. Cook the solid part of the meat until tender, with a little celery salt and garlic added, turning it once during the cooking, which will take from four to six hours according to the amount of meat. Remove meat from liquor; place in shallow pan with skin side up, and score several times across top. Have boiled potatoes (hot or cold) in readiness and drop into kettle to take up some of the fat; then place them around meat and brown all in a hot oven for about twenty minutes. Make a gravy with the remaining liquor and serve separately. The meat will slice as firmly as cheese, and will be tender and appetizing.

IRISH STEW WITH DUMPLINGS

2 pounds mutton (neck)
Carrots, turnips, and potatoes
Seasoning
Wipe and cut in pieces the mutton. Put in kettle, cover with boiling water, and cook slowly two hours until tender. After cooking for an hour add vegetables cut into small pieces. Thicken with 1-4 cup flour, diluted with water to form a paste. Season well and serve with dumplings.

OX TAIL SOUP

1 cup ox tail cut into small pieces
1-2 cup onions, cut fine
1-2 cup finely cut carrots
1 cup diced potatoes
1-4 cup barley
1-4 teaspoon white pepper
1 tablespoon parsley or celery top
1 tablespoon caramel
1 tablespoon salt
The ox tail should be chopped at each joint, making the pieces from one to two inches long; wash well in two or three waters, put on to boil with two quarts of cold water, add the barley and boil slowly for two hours; then add the onion, carrot, salt and pepper, boil for thirty minutes. Add the potatoes and boil for twenty-five minutes; add a little paprika, thyme, parsley and the caramel. Serve all with the pieces of ox tail. This makes a very nutritious soup.

PLANKED REGULAR ROLL

2-12 pounds regular roll
Place the meat upon a well seasoned plank. Grease board well with butter or butter substitute. Place beneath broiler and broil for 2 hours, basting frequently with butter or butter substitute. Remove from broiler and finish roasting in moderate oven.
To Garnish: Around edge of plank place border of Duchess potatoes. Duchess potatoes are mashed potatoes to which an egg yolk has been added. This mixture is forced through a pastry bag, forming rosettes around the roll. Garnish with canned peas and canned asparagus tips. Serve on plank.

BEEF STEAK PIE

Chuck steak, cut in narrow strips
1-2 bay leaf
6 peppercorns
Sprig of parsley
4 halved potatoes
1 onion stuffed with 2 cloves
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup celery cut in strips
Tie in square of cloth.

Place steak in a kettle with boiling water to cover, and let it simmer for half an hour. Add seasoning in bag together with salt to the meat, and thicken the stock. Place the kettle on an asbestos mat to keep sauce from sticking. Some dried mushrooms soaked and drained improve the flavor. Simmer while making the pastry. Then remove the bag of seasoning. Put all in a baking dish with a rolled crust over the top and sides. Brush with milk and bake forty minutes, covering it with heavy paper as soon as it is brown.

BRAIN RISsoles

2 cups brain (or 1 whole brain)
3-4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1-2 cup thick white sauce
Put brains into a bowl of cold water with salt for thirty minutes, skin and remove fibre. Cook in water to cover fifteen minutes. Drain, chop, or

BAKED PIG'S HEAD

Biscuit dough
Salt and Pepper
Choose a pig's head and clean very well. Parboil. Put out biscuit dough and roll pig's head in the dough. Bake until brown.

BRAISED BEEF

Cut the meat which may be from the brisket, into cubes; brown in frying pan with drippings. Use strong heat—stir meat so it will cook quickly and not lose its juice. Tender cuts can be cooked whole. Remove the pieces to a closely covered kettle that can be used on top of range (unless the oven is heated for other cooking.) Rinse the pan with a 1-4 cup of boiling water to save all browned bits, and pour over meat. Cover tightly and cook slowly for two hours. Prepare the following sauce and pour over the meat and continue cooking for another hour.

Sauce:
chopped: 1 onion, 1 carrot
Few sprigs of parsley
2 tablespoons butter or butter substitute
1-2 cup diced celery
1 cup canned tomatoes
Salt and paprika
Melt fat. Brown onion, carrot in it. Add parsley, celery, and tomatoes. Heat thoroughly. Add seasonings.

Cultivate! Cultivate! Cultivate!

We must all cultivate frequently. A fine proof of the need of cultivation was given us last week during the five days of warm sunny weather without the usual frequent showers. The soil dried up, likewise many of our little seedlings whose rootlets were near the surface. Cultivation, as suggested previously, tends to form a blanket cushion which prevents the evaporation of soil moisture, induces the root system of the plants to grow deeper, and nips the weeds when they are just getting started. Let's see to it that we cultivate at least twice a week. The garden rake will be found a satisfactory implements for this work.

Kill Cutworms.

The time has arrived when cutworms are making their appearance. Cutworms attack nearly all vegetable crops at this time of year, especially those that have been transplanted. The common cutworm is a smooth, soft bodied, cylindrical caterpillar. Cutworms vary in color from a pale gray to dark, dirty gray, and are sometimes spotted or striped. They live over winter in the soil, generally in the sod adjacent to the garden. At this time of the year they become active again, emerge from their winter quarters, and seek soft, succulent growth for their food in order that they may complete their growth. Cutworms do most of their feeding at night; they hide in the soil during the day.

There are two common methods of control. One method is to wrap a band of newspaper about the stems of newly transplanted plants. The paper band is placed around the stems in such a way that a portion of it will be beneath the surface of the ground when the plant is set. By this method the cutworm is kept away from the stem of the plant. The newspaper band rots within a few weeks and becomes ineffective and does not retard growth. By this time, however, the ravages of the cutworms will be over. Another successful practice especially valuable on larger plantings and crops like peas, beans, and beets, is to kill the worms by means of poisoned bait. Poisoned bait is made by mixing together 1 quart of bran or coarse flour, 1 ounce of white arsenic or paris green, 3 pints of water, and 1 pint of molasses. Only a little of this poisoned bait is required. It should be sprinkled around the young plants in the evening.

All Pea Seed In.

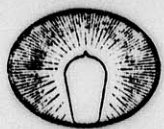

All garden pea seed should be planted by the present time. Peas are essentially a cool season crop. They at least require planting early in the season in order to be most productive. The pea lice, or Aphids, are much more severe upon late planted peas. Late planted peas rarely yield as heavily as those planted early.

Safe to Plant Squash, Beans, and Other Warm Season Vegetables.

It is now safe to plant summer squash, beans of all varieties, sweet corn, cucumbers, musk melons, and other seeds of so-called warm weather crops. The first planting of all of these warm season crops should be put in this week.

Rose to Fame Unaided.

On the 23rd of October in 1825, Pliny Fisk, a zealous American missionary, died at Beyrout in Syria. Born in extreme poverty, Fisk managed to educate himself by his own labors. He was a remarkable linguist and preached in Italian, French, modern Greek, and Arabic. For two years, while he was working to get his education, Fisk subsisted entirely on bread and milk.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

May 24, 1920.

The Board met at 7.30 P. M. All present.

The records of the meeting of May 17 were read and approved. Committees: A letter was received from Mr. George B. Whitehouse accepting his appointment on the Rent and Housing Committee, a committee appointed by the Board at its last meeting. The Clerk was instructed to ask Mr. Wilson, Editor of the Winchester Star, to publish as a news item the names of those who have been appointed to serve on this committee. The committee as appointed is as follows:

William A. Kneeland
 William R. McIntosh
 Percival B. Metcalf
 Walter S. Wadsworth
 George B. Whitehouse

A petition was received from Sullivan and McKenzie of 522 Main street asking for an extension of the closing time of their bowling alleys from 11 p. m. to 11.45 p. m. As this extension of closing time was approved and recommended by the Chief of Police the Board voted to grant the same.

Street Acceptances (Woodside Road): A letter was received from Mr. Herbert E. Gleason asking that a former petition signed by him and several others in reference to the acceptance of Woodside Road be received. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Gleason that the petition would have to be laid over for the present until such time as other street acceptance matters which are now on file would be taken up.

Everett Ave. and Cambridge St.: The matter of taking some action in regard to remedying the dangerous corner at the junction of Everett avenue and Cambridge street was laid over another week.

Water and Sewer Record: Record of Joint Meeting. The Board of Selectmen held a joint meeting with the Water and Sewer Board in the Selectmen's Room at 8.15 p. m., to appoint a successor to Mr. Robert B. Davis, who recently resigned from the Water and Sewer Board. Present at this meeting were: Messrs. Edmund C. Sanderson and Charles E. Kendall of the Water and Sewer Board and all the members of the Board of Selectmen. The meeting organized with Mr. A. A. Kidder, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, as chairman of the joint meeting, and Mr. George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of the Board of Selectmen, as clerk of the joint meeting.

Mr. Sanderson nominated Mr. Edward S. Mansfield to fill this vacancy, and the joint meeting immediately proceeded to ballot. The result of the ballot showed that Mr. Edward S. Mansfield was unanimously appointed to fill the vacancy. According to law this appointment holds until the next annual Town Election in March.

Street Acceptances 1920 Cottage Ave.: A petition was received signed by Mr. Henry McMillan and eight others asking that Cottage Avenue be accepted by the Town as a public way. This matter was laid over for the present until such time as other street acceptance matters are taken up. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. McMillan that while the Board would consider this petition when considering other petitions of a similar nature now on file, yet the street could not be accepted until passed upon by the Town at a Town Meeting.

Stables: A letter was received from Mr. Hosea J. Foster of 15 Stone Avenue stating that he was contemplating buying the house on the Holton Estate, Washington street, near Lebanon street and would like to know whether or not he would be permitted to build a small stable and shed where the old one was originally. This matter was referred to the Board of Health and Inspector of Buildings. The meeting adjourned at 10.43 p. m.

George S. F. Bartlett,
 Clerk of Selectmen.

REACH LIMIT IN ABSORPTION

Small Things Like the Turmoil of a Great War Cannot Disturb Chess Devotees.

To its devotees chess is the most absorbing of all mental activities, the game that above all others brings complete forgetfulness of the world to those who play and those who watch the moves, observes a writer in the New York Herald.

A striking example of this self-absorption has been shown recently in the rooms of a local chess club when distinguished experts struggled for supremacy in the mind-bending headless of the stupendous four-year struggle that was fast drawing to a close on Europe's shell-torn, blood-soaked board. What was the reckless slaughter of thousands of German soldiers in comparison with the sacrifice of a single ivory pawn standing guard before its queen? Which one of those who moved the pieces or of the greater number who watched them with furrowed brows and fast-beating hearts thought of the Kaiser's peace offer while the queen's gambit was passing before their eyes? The pope may lift his voice in words of solemn counsel, but they heed him not. The only ecclesiastical power that they recognize is that of the mitred bishop sweeping into the heart of the enemy's country and smiting the rock as it stands.

To read the printed accounts of this tournament is to recall the old Puck picture of two chess players carried in their chairs from a burning building with the board between them. Nor do we wonder at the fact that it was only while absorbed in his daily game that the exiled Napoleon could forget Sir Hudson Lowe.

EPIGRAPHS PROVE A PUZZLE

Explanation of Hieroglyphics Admittedly Very Old Will Surely Be of the Greatest Interest.

Amateur archeologists of California are endeavoring to interest professional scientists of the East in the epigraphs which abound on the rocks of Round Valley, not far from the city of Bishop, and which are believed to be as old, if not older, than the hieroglyphics of earliest Egypt, to which they bear a strange resemblance.

It is believed by many that the strange markings constituted the names by which ancient tribes marked the source of water supply for the benefit of those of their number who lived roving lives.

These hieroglyphics have never been deciphered, although they are matters of record in the leading museums of the country. It is said. The Indian tribes now living in the vicinity declare they are the work of the Indians of North America and that they antedate all aboriginal lore.

Some who have examined the strange markings in the flint boulders say the hieroglyphics closely resemble those of earliest Egypt and may replace the latter as the first written language of humanity.

They are found always in the vicinity of water supplies, the same markings discovered near Bishop appearing also on rocks extending through the Canadian border, down through Washington, Oregon and California to the Mexican line and beyond. This fact, it is argued, indicates that prehistoric tribes marked a highway for their migrating members or for their armies, giving specific directions as to the best water supplies along the way.

French Live Stock on the Decline.

The United States food administration has called attention to the large decrease in live stock in France since the beginning of the war. In cattle this decrease amounted to 2,599,000 up to December, 1917; in sheep the decrease amounted to 6,238,000 head; in hogs to 2,809,000 head. In the period since owing to the food shortage there has been a still further shrinkage. Figures like these indicate that there will be a large and insistent demand for live stock from this country for the foreign trade for many years after peace is finally established.

Good American Family.

Thirty years ago a girl came to this country from Russia to marry Louis Fleschner, an immigrant from the same country. They settled in Springfield, Mass., and when the United States entered the war they had four sons, the oldest 23. All of them entered the army and the oldest has distinguished himself in battle. He is the young man who, having lost an arm and an eye while carrying ammunition through shell fire, optimistically exclaimed: "I'm the luckiest Jew in the army. Any other man in my place would have been killed."—American Israelite.

"Olive" Oil.

Over 500 different types of husked rice or paddy were under examination last year at one of the government agricultural farms in Burma, and over 200 types of sassumum were grown at another. Hitherto much of the sassumum grown in Burma has been exported to Europe, where it is used for the production of the so-called "olive oil" for which France and Italy have long been famed.

Try a Tricorn.

Stop to think how often a certain clerk in the bakery department of a certain downtown store helps you to decide on a round marshmallow cake or a square chocolate in preference to a three-cornered devil's food.

"Look at the tricornes left again," snickered the white-aproned diplomat. "Never catch me rootin' for tris; too hard to wrap."—Indianapolis News.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Frank A. Johnson to the Winchester Cooperative Bank, dated October 2, 1916, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4088, page 25, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises on Saturday, the fifth day of June, A. D. 1920, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

A certain tract or parcel of land in Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, situated on the Western side of Sheffield West, containing ten thousand, six hundred and fifty (10,650) square feet, more or less, and bounded as follows:

Southerly by lot four (4) shown on plan of land belonging to said Riple and Hovey, dated May, 1909, recorded with said Deeds, Book of plans 129, plan 8, there measuring one hundred twenty-four and 70-100 (124.70) feet.

Northerly and Northerly by other lands of said Riple and Hovey in three courses, ninety and one-half (90.5) feet, and 3-100 (3.00) feet, and forty-eight (48) feet respectively.

Northerly and Easterly by land now or formerly belonging to Robert Cost, one hundred thirty-one and 13-100 (131.13) feet and 8-100 (8.00) feet.

Said lot is shown as lot numbered eight (8) on plan entitled "Plan of land of Frank L. Riple and Freeland E. Hovey, dated July 27, 1910," recorded with said Deeds, Book of plans 188, plan 3; together with the right to pass and re-pass with teams or otherwise from the rear of said lot eight (8) over other land of said Riple and Hovey to and upon a private way fifteen (15) feet wide which lies along the Easterly bank of the brook and on land adjoining the Western line of land of Blahie to Everett Avenue.

Said lot is subject to the following restrictions, to wit: No building shall be erected thereon nearer than forty (40) feet to any street except that steps, bay-windows, verandas and porches may extend not more than fifteen (15) feet into said restricted space, or nearer than ten (10) feet to either side line of said lot. No house shall be erected thereon to cost less than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00); no double houses, apartment houses, stables or buildings for mercantile, manufacturing or other obnoxious purposes shall be erected thereon except that a garage for the private use of the owner may be built on said lot within forty (40) feet of the back line thereof.

Said premises will be sold subject to all outstanding and unpaid taxes and other municipal liens if any.

TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS ($200.00) will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the balance within ten (10) days thereafter upon the delivery of the deed at the office of Ralph E. Joslin, 18 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Hovey, dated November 1, 1915, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4173, page 238, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises on Saturday, the fifth day of June, A. D. 1920, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

The land in Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, shown as lot four (4) on a plan entitled "Plan of land of Sheffield West, Winchester, Mass., belonging to F. L. Riple and F. E. Hovey, dated May 1909, W. J. Dutton, Engineer," recorded with said Deeds, Book of plans 129, plan 8.

Said tract of land contains ten thousand seven hundred and seventy-five (10,775) square feet and is bounded:

Easterly by said Sheffield West, eighty and 25-100 (80.25) feet.

Northerly by other land of said Riple and Hovey, one hundred twenty-four and 70-100 (124.70) feet.

Northerly by land now or formerly of Archer D. Friend and shown as lot three (3) on said plan, one hundred thirty-eight and 95-100 (138.95) feet.

Together with the right to pass and re-pass with teams or otherwise from the rear of said lot four (4) over other land of said Riple and Hovey to and upon a private way fifteen (15) feet wide which lies along the Easterly bank of the brook and on land adjoining the Western line of land of Blahie to Everett Avenue.

Said lot is subject to the following restrictions, to wit: No building shall be erected thereon nearer than forty (40) feet to any street except that steps, bay-windows, verandas and porches may extend not more than fifteen (15) feet into said restricted space, or nearer than ten (10) feet to either side line of said lot. No house shall be erected thereon to cost less than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00); no double houses, apartment houses, stables or buildings for mercantile, manufacturing or other obnoxious purposes shall be erected thereon except that a garage for the private use of the owner may be built on said lot within forty (40) feet of the back line thereof.

Said premises will be sold subject to all outstanding and unpaid taxes and other municipal liens if any.

TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS ($200.00) will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the balance within ten (10) days thereafter upon the delivery of the deed at the office of Ralph E. Joslin, 18 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING

The first circus of the season for Boston is Sells-Floto which is being billed for afternoon and night performances one week beginning Monday, May 31st, and not only is the circus to be there, but Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion and war hero of France, is also to be in Boston, on the same day and date. In fact, Carpentier is one of the many big feature attractions with the circus this season and he is to appear at each performance in the big show without extra cost whatever as to the admission price.

Three rings, two stages, and a great track are necessary in the presentation of the great feature program which opens with the colorful spectacular entree, "The Birth of the Rainbow," followed by many of the biggest acts to be seen in aerial, ring, stage, contortion, ground, riding, Indian, animal, statuary, wire-dancing, balancing, clown and other novelties. The menagerie has great cages and many spaces where the animals from many countries and climes are to be seen.

The street parade is scheduled at 11 o'clock on Monday morning, and one of the features of the pageant is that the great dens are open to give the crowds of sight-seers an opportunity to get a glimpse of the attractions to be seen in the animal department. The performances begin at 2.15 and 8.15 o'clock, the doors to the great tents opening one hour earlier.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

By Mack.

Tomorrow we will have the Back Bay K. of C. team as our opponents. The manager of the team, Mr. Paul Everett, has been connected with baseball for a number of years, and talking with me about this game has promised to bring a team here that will make us travel. They have played four games already this season and won them easily. The manager now thinks his team is unbeatable, but after the game tomorrow he will have a couple of more things coming. This crowd is one of the strongest in the State financially and in membership, so that there is plenty of funds to produce a good team. We will probably play the same lineup as Monday and that means good baseball. There is a game in Woburn, so a crowd will probably be down from there to see our team in action. Now, in regard to finances, I am perfectly willing to put my time in and furnish good baseball for the season, but I expect to have those who witness the games pay for it. I will refuse to accept dimes or nickels from anyone, as I am not looking for charity, but money to keep baseball on the field. The least I expect from spectators is 25 cents, and if everyone will give that, there will be no trouble in having first-class baseball. The other day at Marblehead, when it was discovered that there would be no baseball there, 75 men got together and subscribed $900. In Woburn between $400 and $500 has already been collected. At the present writing $145 has been the extent of contributions to our reserve fund here in Winchester. Men should have enough public spirit in their town to keep such an American institution as baseball alive. Hurry your checks to Mr. Geo. T. Davidson, Winchester, Mass.

TWO MEN HELD FOR SYMMES BREAK

The Winchester police arrested two men, Louis Bennett, 27 years old of Somerville, recently living on Chester street, this town, and Francis Veinot, 18 years old of Salem street, Saturday forenoon charged with breaking into the Symmes grain mill Friday night. In the Woburn court Tuesday morning they were held in $1000 bonds. Both have records.

The break at the Symmes mill was made Friday night, a rear door being forced. A safe in the office was broken into and its contents scattered about in search of money, but fortunately everything of that nature had been removed the evening before.

The Packard truck of Charlie Smith of Harvard street took fire Saturday morning when on Forest street extension, resulting in an alarm of fire from Box 34. The fire was quickly extinguished with little damage.

It was reported this week that the Henry W. Savage Co. has sold for Daniel Kelley and D. Webster Hawes of this town, the three-story brick apartment building at 1865 Beacon street, Brookline. The building contains three suites of seven rooms each and is taxed for $19,500, of which $15,000 is on the building. Frederick E. Johnson was the purchaser, he buying for investment.

NEW BAY STATE DISTRICT

The Public Trustees of the Bay State have given notice of its intention to make the following changes in operating districts north of Boston.

It is proposed to divide the North-Suburban District (commonly known as the Chelsea District) at the Malden-Melrose line.

A District to be known as the Chelsea District will include Chelsea, Revere, Malden and Everett.

The remainder of the North-Suburban District, including in general Wakefield, Stoneham, Medford, Arlington, Melrose, Winchester, Woburn, Burlington, Wilmington, Reading and North Reading, will be set apart and known as the Melrose-Woburn operating district.

REV. WILLIAM D. JOHNSON

Rev. William D. Johnson, aged 83, a retired Baptist minister, formerly assistant pastor and one of the founders of the Ebenezer Colored Baptist Church of the South End District of Boston, a resident of Winchester the past 14 years, died at his home, 68 Irving street, Tuesday, after more than a year's illness.

He was a native of Virginia and was ordained to the ministry about 40 years ago. He lived in Boston about 35 years and preached and assisted the pastors of the colored churches in Boston and vicinity a quarter of a century. He leaves a wife and a daughter, Miss Dora Johnson.

The funeral will take place with services in the New Hope Colored Baptist Church of Winchester this afternoon.

COUNTRY CLUB EVENTS

Large Fields Over Week-End Compete in Several Events

Week-end events at the Winchester Country Club included a 36 hole medal play, with 18 holes Saturday and 18 holes Monday, and a mixed four-somes played Monday afternoon. In addition the medal play of the previous Saturday for the club championship and the spring cup, postponed on account of weather.

H. V. Hovey won the Spring cup 18-hole medal play in a field of about 100 players. He returned a card of 73 net and a gross score of 99. H. V. Turner and F. M. Smith finished second in this match with a net of 74 each. J. H. Byron returned the best gross score, 97.

In the qualifying round for the club championship, F. L. Hunt Jr. and S. G. Hicks led the 16 who qualified out of about 95 entrants. The summary:

Spring Cup—H. V. Hovey, 99—73; F. M. Smith, 98—74; H. V. Turner, 104—74; Charles Evans, 109—77; C. M. Crafts, 101—78; George Musgrave, 99—79; J. A. Byron, 97—80; Irving Hilton, 112—80; A. B. Saunders, 98—81; W. S. Olmstead and P. B. Elkins, 100—82; J. P. Carr, 107—84; N. H. Stelye, 102—85; George Elkins, 103—85; T. I. Freeburn, 118—86; Irving Hilton, 112—80; E. A. White, 111—87.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT HIGHLANDS

A bad accident occurred at Winchester Highlands Saturday forenoon when a limousine owned and driven by Emmanuel Ashworth, 60 years old, of Lawrence, and containing besides himself, his wife and son, ran into a telegraph pole at the corner of Forest and Washington streets. The auto was wrecked and the occupants badly injured. Mrs. Ashworth receiving a broken leg and other injuries. Mr. Ashworth numerous severe cuts about the face, hands and arms, and the son, Walter B. Ashworth, being badly shaken up.

It is reported that the car met a team at the corner, and in avoiding it ran onto the sidewalk and into the pole, which it struck a glancing blow, and striking a tree head on. The party were on their way to Springfield. They were rescued by passing autoists and residents and taken to the Winchester Hospital.

RUN OVER BY TRUCK

Dominick Morano of 14 Olive street, 47 years of age, was injured in the square Tuesday evening at five by a motor truck. According to reports of the accident Morano was riding to the square on the rear of a C. H. Symmes grain truck driven by Ivan H. Pattee. When the crossing was reached he jumped off and was run over by the truck.

He was taken from under the truck and placed in the automobile of H. K. Libby, who with Arthur Cameron took him to the office of Dr. Sheehy, who ordered him taken to the Winchester Hospital.

No broken bones were found and it is thought that he was only badly shaken up and bruised, although he has been kept at the hospital in case of internal complications.

WINCHESTER GRANGE, P. OF H.

The very finest meeting Winchester Grange ever had was held Tuesday evening last in Lyceum Hall with a number of visiting grangers from neighboring towns and cities present to witness the progress Winchester Grange has made since its reorganization. The wonderful work of the ladies' degree staff was highly commended by the past masters of neighboring granges, for its effectiveness, also the snappy delivery of the various lectures without the use of the ritual. The third and fourth degrees were conferred on a splendid class of candidates.

A feature of the evening's program was the presentation of a very pretty bar pin to Sr. Adelaide Lister, of Stoneham, past lecturer of the Middlesex-Exeter Pomona Grange for her assistance at the piano in such a pleasant spirit of willingness. This was a surprise to Sr. Lister, but she rose to the occasion, thanking Winchester Grange and offering very kindly to serve Winchester Grange at any time in like manner.

Neighborly greetings were extended by W. M. Lathrop of Medford Grange, Sr. Lillian Breslin of Woburn Grange rendered beautiful vocal solos.

Bro. Frank B. Patterson past master of Groton Grange complimented the ladies' degree staff most highly. The next meeting will be Tuesday evening, June 8 and the lecture hour will be given over to a Children's party which promises oodles of fun for the kiddies.

EPIPHANY CHURCH

At the Church of the Epiphany next Sunday morning, the Rev. Mr. Dewart will speak on the subject of "The Christian Healing Mission," as presented by Mr. James Moore Hickson, whose work of healing is now going on in Boston.

BOAT CLUB DANCE

Regular Saturday night dance at the Winchester Boat Club, June 5. The dances at the Club will be held under the same arrangements as last year. Non-members being admitted at one dollar per couple, plus war tax.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE APPOINTS MR. THOMPSON PRINCIPAL

The principalship of the Winchester High School, vacant since February 1, 1920, because of the resignation of Mr. Charles L. Curtis, was filled by the School Committee Wednesday evening, by the appointment of Mr. Edward E. Thompson. Mr. Thompson has been Acting Principal since February 1. He was graduated from Brown University in 1899 and received his A. M. degree in 1901. For two years he taught German and French at the Mitchell School in Billerica, and for four years was Principal of the Montpelier, Vt., High School. Later he spent a year abroad in the study of German and French. Since 1909 he has been teacher of German, Spanish and French in the Winchester High School and for several years head of the Department of Modern Languages.

Besides the selection of High School Principal, several other matters of importance were decided. It was voted to close the schools on Thursday, June 24, instead of Friday, June 25.

Beginning with September 1, 1920, the seventh grades in the Prince school will be transferred to the Wadleigh school and the sixth grades in the Wadleigh school will be transferred to the Prince school, thus making the Prince school a sixth grade building and the Wadleigh school a seventh and eighth grade building.

It was voted to employ a man as director of physical education.

As a result of the discussion at the Americanization meeting held at the High School on Tuesday evening, when the State Supervisor of Americanization, Mr. John J. Mahoney of the State Department of Education spoke to a group of citizens and the School Committee on the Education of the Alien Immigrant, the Committee passed the following vote: "That the Committee authorize the Superintendent of Schools to establish and maintain classes in Americanization in co-operation with the State Board of Education as provided under Chapter 295, Acts of 1919."

Under this vote the School Committee may employ teachers for alien adult immigrants who wish to learn English. If this is done under the direction and supervision of the State Board of Education, the Town may be reimbursed for one-half of the amount expended.

In order to encourage professional study among the teachers, the Committee passed the following vote: that all teachers who take university extension or summer school courses of a professional nature shall be reimbursed for the same to the amount of fifty dollars, such reimbursement to be made under the following conditions:

1. Courses shall be approved by the Superintendent of Schools before they are taken.
2. Extra payments shall be charged to teachers' salaries in the Budget.
3. Such extra payments shall not be regarded as permanent salary increases.

The resignation of Miss Beulah A. Wing, teacher of grades seven and eight in the Wadleigh school was accepted. Miss Wing goes next year to a much more remunerative position in a private school on Long Island.

CALLAHAN—SHEA

Mr. Christopher Laurence Callahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Callahan of 188 Washington street, was married on Wednesday evening at St. Anne's Church, Somerville, to Miss Teresa Gertrude Shea, daughter of Mrs. Daniel E. Shea of Somerville, Rev. Fr. Manning performing the ceremony.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white crepe de chine trimmed with Irish lace and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Vera Shea, who wore pink crepe de chine and carried American beauty roses. Mr. William Callahan of this town, brother of the groom, was best man.

A reception, attended by about thirty relatives, followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, from seven till eleven. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Callahan and Mrs. Shea assisting in receiving.

The couple were most generously remembered by their friends with numerous and beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, china and household furnishings. Mr. Callahan is employed in the mailing room of the Boston Globe.

Following a wedding trip to New York, Niagara Falls and Montreal, they will make their home at 22 Connecticut avenue, Somerville.

FLOWERS FOR BOSTON

Thursday, June 10th, the season begins for sending flowers to Boston to those who are shut-in and who miss the joys of country and garden.

For several years the people of Winchester have sent, once a week during the summer, gay baskets of flowers to the city. These are made up into bouquets at the North End Union and distributed by it to those who particularly need such cheer. 51 years ago this work was started.

All those who are glad to help, are urged to bring garden or wild flowers to the Winchester station in time for the 9.06 train every Thursday during the summer.

ONE MAN CARS HERE

The one man electric made its first regular appearance here Tuesday when all cars on the Stoneham-Arlington line were replaced by this type. The service thus far has been very ragged, but an improvement is anticipated. The chief difficulty and delay has been by the waits occasioned by the motorman—conductor making change. It is said.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Monday's Program One of Finest in Recent Years

Monday's Memorial Day program, carried out by A. D. Weld Post, G. A. R., Henry M. Brookings, Commanding, was one of the finest in recent years, and the exercises were attended by the largest gathering seen here in a long time. The devotional services of the Post were held last week Sunday at the town hall.

Monday's program opened at 2 o'clock, when the veterans and members of the local Machine Gun Co., under command of Capt. Harold V. Hovey, accompanied by the sons of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans and over 125 members of the American Legion, assembled on Mt. Vernon Street and marched to the town hall, where they were reviewed and joined by the Board of Selectmen.

The route of march to Wildwood Cemetery was the same as in previous years, excellent music being furnished by the Malcom Band. The veterans who participated in the parade were Commander Henry S. Brookings, Senior Vice Commander Henry Smalley, Henry Richburg, Peter Walling, James Dunnell and David L. Storey. In addition several veterans from other places joined with the local Post in the program and march.

At the cemetery the exercises included selections by the band, prayer by Rev. Clifton H. Walcott of the First Baptist Church and an excellent address by Rev. S. Winchester Adriance. The graves of the veterans were decorated as is the custom, those of the veterans buried at Calvary Cemetery being decorated in the morning by a special detail.

Mrs. Frank M. White of Lawrence street has opened her summer home at Allerton, where she will remain until fall. Her Winchester residence will be occupied during the summer by Mr. and Mrs. George B. White-horne.

MONUMENT UNVEILED

Winchester Council K. of C., Honors Dead Members

Over 1,000 persons attended the exercises at Calvary cemetery Sunday afternoon when the memorial monument erected by Winchester Council Knights of Columbus, in memory of three of their members who died during the World War, was unveiled by three sisters of the deceased soldiers. Will M. Glennon, Augustus M. Leonard and William J. Noonan.

The memorial, placed near the main entrance to the cemetery, is a large granite boulder on which is placed the bronze seal of the order with the names of the three honored members cast on it.

The exercises opened at two-thirty with the sounding of the bugle call "Attention" by James Fitzgerald, an overseas veteran and member of the Council. The memorial was blessed by Rev. Nathaniel M. Merritt, pastor of St. Mary's Church and chaplain of the Council, after which Mr. Patrick J. Kenneally, of the memorial committee and designer of the shield and inscription, presented the memorial to the council for the committee. It was accepted by Past Grand Knight and Chancellor Frank E. Rogers. The memorial was then formally presented to Rev. John P. Gorham of Woburn, rector of St. Charles Parish, who has charge of the cemetery.

Rev. Fr. Gorham, in accepting the memorial, made a brief address, after which Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt recited prayers for the dead and spoke of the life work of the three soldiers whose memory prompted the erection of the monument.

Other speakers were Charles T. Daley of Medford and Hon. James T. Brennan of Charlestown. The exercises closed with the soundings of "Taps" by bugler Fitzgerald.

The memorial was draped with a large and handsome United States flag, it being unveiled by Miss Elizabeth T. Glendon, Miss Catherine A. Leonard and Miss Elizabeth P. Noonan, all sisters of the deceased soldiers.

Included in the attendance were many prominent Catholics and members of the order, many coming from considerable distance to attend the service, among them being Mayor Bernard J. Golden of Woburn.

The flowers which were used to grace the memorial were very beautiful, a wreath of galaxy from Winchester Council and a wreath of cut flowers from Santa Maria Court, D. of L., being placed on either side by Grand Knight J. Chris. Sullivan and Mrs. Cecelia Kenneally for their respective orders, in addition to other beautiful tributes.

To Patrick J. Kenneally, designer of the memorial, and Eugene P. Sullivan of the Council, who worked untiringly in its completion and placing, much credit should be given.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permits have been granted by the Inspector of Buildings for the week ending June 3: O. A. Court, 51 Washington street. Wood frame hen house at same address. D. F. Holmes, 34 Oxford street. Wood frame and stucco garage at same address 20x20 feet.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending June 3: Measles 5; German measles 2; chicken pox 1; whooping cough 2; tuberculosis 1.

MISS MABEL E. STINSON
Who May Now Be Appointed Winchester's Town Clerk.

ACCIDENT AT PARKWAY MONDAY EVENING

Two men, two women and three small children, the youngest a three-weeks old baby, were thrown out of a touring car and one of the women and one man injured, when it crashed into an iron trolley pole of the Woburn division of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company at the corner of Mystic Valley Parkway and Main street, about 5.45 Monday night.

The accident was the result of the slackening and breaking of the tow rope hitched to the touring car, which had been disabled and was being towed toward Lowell by the auto truck owned and driven by Charles Sipula of 39 Evergreen Ave., Billerica.

The tow rope slackened, caught round one of the front wheels of the touring car so that the owner, Chester Ward of 124 Concord St., Lowell, who was operating his disabled car, lost control.

The occupants of the touring car besides Ward included his wife, Mrs. Annie Ward, aged 39, who sustained a gash on the head and cuts on the face and one of her hands; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turnbull of Center St., Lowell; George Ward, aged two years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward and the two Turnbull children, a 2-year old girl and the three weeks old baby.

The driver of the truck was unaware of the accident until passersby shouted to him to stop. Word was sent to the police station and Dr. R. W. Sheehy was called to take care of Mrs. Ward and examine the other occupants of the touring car. The occupants of the car went to their home in another auto.

MIXED FOURSOMES AT COUNTRY CLUB

The open mixed foursomes at the Winchester Country Club this week resulted in a baker's dozen cards being turned in, interest in the event not being so great as had been anticipated. Best gross and net were won by Mrs. D. M. Belcher and L. B. Paton with 85 and 81.

The results:

Mrs. D. M. Belcher and L. B. Paton	85	4	81
Mrs. E. W. Daley and R. de Z. Pierce	86	3	83

AMERICANIZATION MEETING

An interesting meeting was held at the High School library on Tuesday evening, on the matter of Americanization of foreign born residents of this town. The meeting was called under the direction of Mrs. Daniel C. Dennett, heading a committee of interested ladies, and assisted by Supt. of Schools, John R. Causey. The speaker of the evening was Mr. John J. Mahoney, director of Americanization work for the State Board of Education. He outlined plans and methods for the accomplishment of the object, being assisted in his talk by Mr. Joseph Spano, Executive Secretary of the North American Civic League.

BIRTHS

The following births have been reported during the week: A son, John Kneeland Andrews, to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Andrews of 10 Sheffield road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. MacLeod of 2 Dunster lane, are the parents of a son, Ronald E. Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mackay of 61 Swanton street are the parents of twins, a son and daughter, born at the Winchester Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kimball are the parents of a son, born at the Winchester hospital.

WINTER POND OVERFLOWING

Winter Pond, on the West Side, has never before been so high as it is at the present time, the water being far above any of the old high water marks.

It is said that this rise is due to the wet spring and the fact that the old outlet of the pond has been filled up. An effort is being made to interest State authorities in having the old outlet reopened as several cellars are flooded by the water.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE

The final meeting of the Winchester Equal Suffrage League, after more than thirty years of active work, was held at the home of its president, Mrs. D. C. Dennett, on Wednesday, June 2. That league was dissolved and, by adopting a new constitution, became the Winchester League of Women Voters.

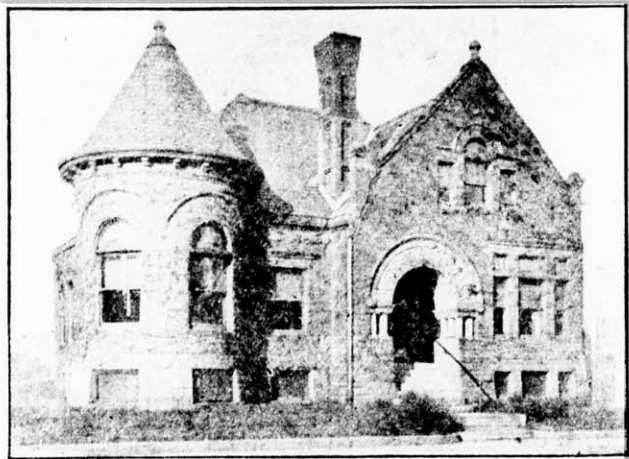

Mrs. Woodside gave an excellent resume of the address given by Mrs. Bird and Miss Luddington at the Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts Women's Suffrage Association, which has also now become the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, and Miss Frances Elder told in an interesting way about her work at the Public Health Hospital in Roxbury, which is a government hospital for ex-convicts. The "H. C. L." pledge cards which were distributed and the League endorses that movement.

METCALF—POWERS

Mr. Percival Bartlett Metcalf, chairman of Winchester's Board of Assessors, was quickly married on Wednesday evening, May 26, to Miss Dora Reed Powers of Glen road. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Clifton H. Walcott of the First Baptist Church.

WHO CURED THE PRINCE?

To the Editor of the Winchester Star, Friday (21st) last there is set forth a claim that the improvements in condition of Prince Don Jaime of Spain, reports of whose cure circulated in this country in the Sunday papers of April 26, were effected by Osteopathy. America is fundamentally a country of fair play and an American public is always ready to listen to facts.

To him who runs, if he be at all conversant with Chiropractic, it is evident from the original story, the statements of Johnson May, the "anatomical adjuster" who cured the Prince, and from the pictures, that it was Chiropractic pure and simple that benefited the young man. Johnson May's own words bear testimony to this: "The real trouble with the Prince was caused by displacement of the atlas and axis bones of the neck, the first and second cervical vertebrae. The displacement produced a pressure on the great auditory nerve to the ear and caused deafness. . . . When the Prince was first brought to me I reset the displaced bones."

Without needing to go into discussions as to practices of different schools of therapy, these statements of Mr. May point to the employment of the fundamental principles of Chiropractic. That this is not Osteopathy is evidenced by the fact that no less than eight leading colleges of Osteopathy in the country have asserted in writing that what they teach is not Chiropractic. The Massachusetts College of Osteopathy states, "There is a wide difference between Osteopathy and Chiropractic. We do not teach Chiropractic at this school."

May I venture to point out the absurdity, therefore, for Osteopathy to claim results from a system that it has itself disclaimed?

Chiropractic, which is well known in the best circles in Europe, with wide distribution throughout the West and a steadily growing influence in the East, and with legal recognition in 27 states of the Union, can stand solidly on its own merits without the need of borrowing its laurels from sources outside its own limits.

Uncomplimentary.

The audacity of a famous writer in his book, "Joan and Peter," is making all who read it—including the victims—chuckle. Nor does "H. G." spare Mr. Wells.

After calling himself a "counter-jumper," he puts this description of his personal appearance into the mouth of one of his characters:

"A heavy bang of hair assisted a cascade mustache to veil a pasty face that was broad rather than long, with a sly, conceited expression . . . and rubbed together two large, clammy, white misshapen hands."

IN HONOR OF DR. VAN DYKE

Costly Organ Installed by Grateful Associates in Church of Which Noted Man Was Pastor.

A new pipe organ has been installed in the Brick Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue and Thirty-seventh street, New York. "In gratitude for the ministry of Henry Van Dyke," Doctor Van Dyke, who was until recently American ambassador to the Netherlands, was for more than twenty years pastor of this church.

The new organ, which is one of the most complete and is today perhaps the most modern church organ in the United States, is a four-manual instrument of 120 stops and 6,000 pipes, with electric action. It is really a combination of six organs—great organ, swell organ, choir organ, solo organ and echo organ. The installation includes also a set of chimneys. The echo organ and chimneys will be placed above the ceiling at the rear of the church, over the apse. The other parts of the combination are enclosed, each in its own swell box, and all in one general swell box, placed in the choir gallery over the front entrance to the church. Though the new organ is considerably larger than the one which it replaces, no architectural change is evident, much of the instrument being concealed behind the walls. E. M. Skinner of Boston is the builder of the new organ, which has been under construction since the summer of 1917.

It is understood that the organ cost in the neighborhood of $35,000. The fund was contributed by members of the congregation as a tribute to their old pastor, under whose leadership the worship of the Brick church was greatly enriched and beautified.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

WROTE MESSAGES WITH DYE

Material for Invisible Writing Used by German Spy Was Obtained From Silk Hosiery.

A cleverly designed method of outwitting the government officials and furnishing information to the enemy was revealed in the early days of the war by the arrest of a man in Paterson, N. J., by naval intelligence officers.

The man, held as an alleged spy in a jail in Brooklyn, is said to have come from Holland and to have been employed in a silk dyeing establishment in Paterson. His unique method of sending messages to Germany called for the use of silk hosiery of a peculiar dye. It is said that he had received a dozen pairs of these socks from German agents in Holland and that his method was to soak them in water and use the coloring matter which they gave forth as a writing fluid. As this dried it became invisible until brought out by a special process, which, however, the federal agents are said to have worked out.

They, in turn, in learning the secret, opened his letters and changed the contents and forwarded the letters. The information thus received by the Germans proved of little use to them.

But for a long time it is said, there was not enough evidence on which to convict this man, until one day through carelessness he left one of the socks where a naval intelligence officer found it. When confronted with this the man is said to have confessed to the entire project.

PROPERTY VALUES HAVE INCREASED—Have You Increased Your Insurance?

In five years, building cost has increased about 65 per cent; furniture cost, about 127 per cent, and clothing cost, about 129 per cent. Consequently, there has been a great increase in the values covered by the usual policy on dwelling houses and their contents.

If you were burned out today, would your loss draft from the insurance company pay its rightful share of the present cost of replacing your property?

If you have not enough insurance, permit us to consider with you what amount you should carry.

BASEBALL

By "Mack"

Winchester opened the baseball season of 1920 Memorial Day afternoon with a 6 to 0 victory over the Revere City team. The game was delayed half an hour due to the non arrival of the visitors who had a breakdown on their way here. The ideal weather conditions helped to bring a large turnout of enthusiastic baseball lovers, and they saw a fine snappy game of ball furnished by both teams. We start off with what promises to be a likely looking ball team and if possible will try and keep it intact for the season, provided it plays the same brand of ball as Monday.

Davidson pitched great ball and had very little trouble holding the visitors in check, only two men reached third base all the afternoon, and only three flies were driven to the outfield. Davidson was well backed up by Bradish the catcher, who had been his battery mate for four years. The Revere team were a smart crowd of ball players and had a very fast infield. Howe, the shortstop, and Christoforo, the 2nd baseman, were both fast men. The battery worked together well, but the pitcher was very slow in the box. They are anxious to play here again later in the season.

NOTES

The crowd would have been larger but the parade kept quite a number from the field.

The new seats were a source of satisfaction to a large number who had to stand in previous seasons.

A number of out of town visitors enjoyed the game, coming here from Medford and Woburn.

John Finn of Woburn, umpired the game and will probably be here for the season. He is a first class man in every respect and has had a lot of Minor League experience umpiring. He missed a few but they all do it.

Hatch played a good game at 1st base and will do better the next time. He missed a couple of throws from Davidson, but they did no damage. As the other battery failed to bring the winners home.

Hillis as usual put up a brilliant game and will captain the team for the season.

Hevey preferred to play short and as I had a chance to get a good outfielder, he will stick there for the season.

I think we have picked up a good man in Nelson on third base. He is rated as a clever fielder and fine hitter, and will show much better in the next game. Although there was nothing in the matter with the game he put up Monday.

Mack had a tough time playing the sun field Monday, as the sun was directly in his eyes all the afternoon.

Mulcahy and Roche need no introduction to the fans here as they are both good ball players. I am not certain about retaining Mulcahy, but hope to. Pressure is being brought to bear to have him return to the Woburn team, although his present inclination is to play here.

Woburn also started off the season with a win. They had a couple of the Arlington team filling out. Cadigan at short, and McCarthy at third.

Arlington also won, beating the Lexington K. of C. before the largest opening crowd that ever saw a game in Arlington. Geary, the Arlington manager is a good sport and deserves a successful season.

The John C. Page team beat Reading 5 to 4, and will play here Saturday, June 19th.

The Packard Co. team will be here the 12th of June, and there should be a good game.

I am in touch with several Legion and K. of C. teams, and expect to land a Legion team for June 17th.

Supt. McDonald and his assistants had the field in fine shape, and had to spend a few hours in the morning so everything would be O.K. for the afternoon.

Supt. Clarke of the Street Dept., sent the small roller down Friday and flattened the infield into good condition.

The Park Department is also co-operating in every way, as usual, to make the season a success, and with the brand of ball furnished Monday it should be.

Richard Barnard was among the willing helpers at the cemetery on Memorial Day. He will make a good scout.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Of course, your neighbor has his faults, but you should have enough self-control not to mention them.This is a sour old world for any man who has a sour disposition.Many a weak and lowly man has ruled the roost—but that was when he was a baby.You cannot always flatter a man when you tell him that his baby looks like him.When a meek man speaks to another on the street he nods-up instead of down.One man trolleys. Have you tried them? No, but I waited 40 minutes in hopes of doing so.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

June 1, 1920.

The Board met at 7.30 p. m. All present.The records of the meeting of May 24, 1920, were read and approved.Jurors, 1920: The Chief of Police appeared with a venire calling for five traverse jurors for the Superior Court to be holden at Cambridge within and for the county of Middlesex on the first Monday of June. The jurors are to appear and to attend Court on Wednesday the 9th day of June, 1920.
Messrs. Marshall W. Jones, 326 Highland ave., James H. Brine, 67 Nelson street, William C. Wade, High street, William E. Botcher, 108 Church street, and Patrick H. Craughwell, 33 Swanton street, were drawn.Jurors, 1920: The Board voted to hold the regular meeting next week, June 7, 1920, at 7 o'clock, in order to make up the jury list for 1920.Census: A letter was received from M. A. Sherriff, 12 Dix street, asking that the census enumerator be asked to send a census blank to her in order that the same may be filled out. The Clerk was instructed to forward a copy of this letter to the Supervisor of Census of the 14th Massachusetts District, M. John J. Sullivan.Town Clerk: A letter was received from Edwin T. McKnight, President of the Massachusetts Senate thanking the Board for its kind letter conveying to him the thanks of the Board for the part which he had in obtaining the decision of the bill providing for the appointment of a woman as Town Clerk of Winchester.Stables: A letter was received from J. Chris. Sullivan, 23 Vine street, complaining against the granting of a license to Hosea J. Foster, 15 Stone avenue, for the purpose of maintaining a stable. The Clerk was instructed to forward this letter to the Board of Health and to write Mr.
Sullivan of this action taken by the Board.Committees: A letter was received from Mr. George B. Hayward calling the Board's attention to the vote passed at the adjourned town meeting held on March 1, 1920, at which were appointed a committee of three to confer with the Selectmen on the matter of determining the physical condition of the Town Hall, its heating and ventilating system, with alterations and repairs needed, this in connection with the erection of a new memorial building. As suggested in Mr. Hayward's letter, members of the Board on Town Hall Committee, are to meet with the other three members of the committee on Tuesday, June 2, 1920, at 8 o'clock, p. m., in the General Committee Room.Westland Avenue: A letter was received from W. H. Edwards calling the Board's attention to a previous letter sent by him to last year's Board which called attention to the condition of Westland avenue on the "Edwards" end and asking that the same be attended to. This matter was laid over pending investigation by the Board.Licenses, 1920, Explosives and In-flammables: After a hearing at which no one was present, the Board voted to grant Messrs. Kimball and Earle of 751 Main street, a license to store gasoline in an underground tank of a capacity not to exceed 500 gallons at 751 Main street, Winchester.This license to grant permission to store gasoline in an underground tank was granted on the recommendation of the Chief of the Fire Department. The Board, however, refused to grant Kimball and Earle permission to install a sidewalk pump as requested in their petition. This was done as the Chief of the Fire Department did not approve of the same.Winter Pond: A letter was received from Samuel H. Broughton, asking that the water in Winter Pond be drawn down in order to prevent water from flooding his garden. This matter was referred to the Chairman for investigation and report.The meeting adjourned at 10.12
p. m.George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen.The Misses Hilda Johnson, Edith Nelson, Elsie Bartsch, Marguerite McCormack of this town, Agda Lundberg of Medford and Alice F. St.
Croix, Helen J. Farrell of Jamaica Plain, spent the week-end at the camp of Mrs. E. Jones, Mann's Hill, Sharon, Security

By BERTHA R. McDONALD

(Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)"I always told your mother that she was a little fool to marry a man old enough to be her father!" exploded June Portsmouth."But, Aunt Jane, father and mother were ideally happy.""Happy enough—yes—but the difference in their ages made him shelter and shield her from all sense of responsibility, until now, when he's gone, the two of you are left with next door to nothing and neither of you any more fitted to earn a living than a butterfly!""Please don't say that. I know mother isn't strong, but I am and I'm going to find some way to keep the wolf from the door, too.""Don't worry about the wolf. You can sell your house and come and live right here with me. I'll tell you, Beth, why don't you set your cap for the young doctor that's just bought your father's office?""Don't ever mention such a thing to me again, auntie! I'm not going to marry anybody, and besides, if I were to set my cap for Doctor Danforth and he saw fit to be caught he'd be taking me out of sheer pity, I'm sure.""There, little girl, I didn't mean to be hard, but I would so like to see you nicely settled, and that doctor man certainly is charming."Neither of them heard the approach of the visitor who now appeared and coughed to attract their attention."Oh, good morning, Doctor Danforth," greeted Miss Portsmouth. "I was just congratulating Niece Beth on the good hands into which her father's business has fallen. Will you have a chair?""No, thank you, Miss Portsmouth," replied the young man, openly admiring Beth; "I've only a moment. I called to ask about Doctor Longstreet's office safe."

"What is it you wish to know?"

"Your father's safe—do you wish it sent to your home?""The safe was included in the purchase of the office, and I went through the contents before I turned it over. I bid you good morning."She sailed past the astonished pair down the flower-bordered path toward the gate, and Doctor Danforth was about to speak to Miss Portsmouth, when a frightened cry caused them to turn just as Beth flittered into a senseless heap beside the path.The young doctor flew down the path, and lifting the limp figure in his strong, young arms, bore her tenderly into the house. Cool water quickly revived her, but an examination and the discovery that her ankle was really broken sent her promptly into another faint, which lasted until her Aunt Jane had made her comfortable in the little guest chamber off the parlor. When she regained consciousness this time Doctor Danforth was sitting beside her with one of her hands in his."Home—I must go home to mother!" she moaned."You must lie right here for a few days. Your foot turned on one of the cobblestones in the walk and your ankle has been broken. Miss Portsmouth has telephoned your mother and I am going to bring her over this evening in my runabout.""It will not be necessary to trouble you. Mother can come over with Joe Mead when he goes to the station for the mail.""Please don't be unkind, Miss Longstreet. It really doesn't seem like you, and my heartiest wish is to be of some service to you and your mother.""I—I didn't mean to seem ungrateful, or rude, but I—"In another moment she was sobbing among the pillows, and, while the man longed to stay and comfort her, the physician knew it was best to leave her alone just now, so he slipped quietly through the door to the porch, just as Aunt Jane came in to take his place. While he was drawing on his gloves he heard her cry out hysterically:"He'll think I did this purposely—he'll—he'll think I'm setting my cap for him, like all the rest of the silly girls in town."The man on the porch smiled and thought, "How I wish she would!"Beth's ankle kept her at her aunt's for almost a month, and during this time she was under Doctor Danforth's constant care and attention.
Gradually, day by day, he managed to penetrate the reserve behind which she had entrenched herself, and then one day when he was taking her for a little spin into the country, he asked her to marry him."But, doctor—Ned—I can't marry anybody. Mother and I haven't a cent.
If dear old dad hadn't lost what he had put by to protect mother and me, things might have been different, for I do like you, Ned.""What did your father lose, and how?""Oh, some papers—stocks—securities—bonds and things, I guess. Whatever they were he had the papers out on his desk one day when he received an urgent call, and while he was out the colored man who took care of the place 'straightened up.' When daddy came back the papers were gone. We questioned Jackson, but he swore he put everything back into the safe, and there you are. Jackson was too ignorant of their value to take them, so after a fruitless search we decided they must have blown out the window.""You are sure you have examined the safe thoroughly?""Absolutely. There's another thing of dad's I haven't been able to find—a copy of the first edition of 'The Vicar of Wakefield,' of which he was very fond.""But—you aren't going to make this final, are you, Beth?""Please, Ned, don't ask me again until I've found some way to take care of mother."That night Doctor Danforth sat alone in his office, trying to study, but the pages were filled with visions of Beth. His mind wandered to her story of Doctor Longstreet's investments and he began to wonder if possibly there might not be some far corner of the safe which had not been explored. He took his flashlight, and, kneeling before it, began half-heartedly to pile the contents on the floor.He sighed as nothing came to light, and began to put the things back.

The first thing he picked up was a box of rubber stamps, and, feeling they would not be needed soon he thrust them as far back into the safe as possible. In doing so his hand was scratched by a piece of the zinc lining of the safe, and using his flashlight to see how badly it was torn, he discovered the end of something sticking up behind it. He pulled it out and found it to be a copy of "The Vicar of Wakefield."The next day was the one set for Beth's return to her home, and Doctor Ned was to take her in the run-about. He found her waiting for him on the front steps and she looked so like a breath of spring as she sat there that he leaned over and kissed her without a word of warning."I'm asking you again, Beth, in spite of what you said, to be my wife.
Before you answer this time look through this old book."She took the book wonderingly and opened it. "It's dad's 'Vicar of Wakefield,'" she cried. "And what are all these papers, Ned?""Don't you see, dear? They're the papers which we all thought were lost. Jackson must have placed them between the leaves of this book and the book got wedged in behind a torn place in the lining of the safe. Now you won't have to find any way to take care of your mother!"

"Ned, you—you darling!"

Gleaning.

England is delighted, and justly so,
with her surprising success at wheat culture, the present home-grown crop of which released many thousands tons of shipping for use elsewhere.
Incidentally, also, the home product saved England many millions that normally would have been sent beyond the ocean to Argentina and the United States for breadstuffs. It is now predicted that never again will the "island kingdom" allow her ancient agriculture to fall into evil ways as during the last half century. How well, indeed, the world has learned during the trials and restrictions of war that Mother Earth is a cherishing mother indeed, and that in hours of distress it is to her that man must turn for comfort and succor.

Prussians Really Huns.

The appellation of Huns, which William II coveted for and himself applied to Prussians, even to the extent of naming one of his sons for the infamous Attila, the Hunnish "Scourge of God," seems really to belong to that people in an ethnological sense. Mr. Levisse, in his "Studies in Prussian History," tells us that the Prussians are "a people belonging to the Lithuanian race mixed with Finnish elements; which would make them kindred with the Huns, Turks and Bulgars. They were of old colonized, Christianized and ousted from their old domain by the famous Knights of the Teutonic Order. The last grand master of that order, Albert of Brandenburg, espoused the reformation, secularized the domains of the order, and made himself hereditary duke of Prussia—that is, Prussia, or "Near Russia." It is interesting to recall that the first Hohenzollern duke of Prussia began his historical career as a renegade, a perjurer and a traitor. Truly the Hohenzollern line has been what cattle breeders call "constant to the true!"

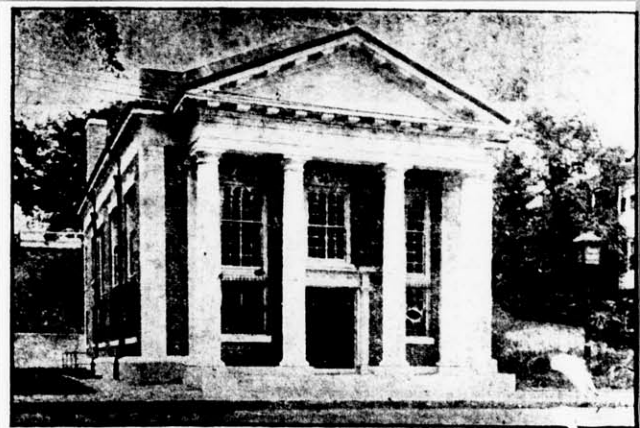

Talked Too Much.

Joe had been instructed that if he did not stop running away he could not go to the movies. Supposing the day's slute was clean, Joe's mother was taking him to a show. As the two reached the door Joe said: "Just running to the bridge wasn't far, was it, mother?" Joe was turned homeward, and put to bed. Hearing the little fellow talking to himself a few moments later, mother eaves-dropped: "There's one time, old man, you talked too much."

Slang in the Pulpit.

A striking instance of the force of American "slanguage" is afforded in one of America's leading preachers. The speaker, a doctor of divinity, was addressing a Canadian audience on Uncle Sam's efforts. In a 90-minute talk there occurred, among others, these "gems": "We are on this job to the finish. We are prepared to fight till hell itself freezes over, and if Germany isn't beat then we'll buy skates and get after her on the ice." "This kaiser is the biggest duplex, double action, high-powered liar in history. He told his people the Americans could never get to France. Well, he and his people have got another guess coming."

Cement Industry Big.

Statistics of the cement industry in the United States in 1917, prepared by the United States geological survey, indicates that the total shipments of Portland cement from the mills amounted to 90,703,474 barrels valued in bulk at the mills at $122,745,088. This represents a decrease in quantity of 4.1 per cent and an increase in value of 17.8 per cent compared with 1916. The production of Portland cement in 1917 was 92,814,202 barrels, compared with 91,521,198 barrels in 1916, an increase of 1.4 per cent. This production holds the record, the next highest output, 92,097,131 barrels, having been in 1913.

SAVE MONEY ON MEAT.

Here is a real thrift recipe for a tasty, nutritious dish prepared from less costly meat. It is issued by the Division of Women's Activities, Department of Justice. Use this recipe and save money on meat.

STEWED BEEF HEART WITH PRUNES

1 beef heart
1 cup pitted prunes
About 1-2 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
Pour boiling water over the beef heart. Let stand for ten minutes. Trim off fat and arteries. Cut in pieces for stewing. Dredge with flour and brown in a little fat obtained by trying out fat which was cut off. Place in stew kettle and pour over it enough hot water to cover, add the prunes soaked and pitted, season with salt and pepper. Stew slowly till tender. Take care that it does not burn. Will serve eight people generously.

CHOPPED BEEF AU CASSEROLE

1 1-2 pounds clod of beef, ground
1-2 cup tomato relish Tabasco sauce
1 can beets
Mix chopped beef with tomato relish. Add 1-4 teaspoon tabasco sauce (more if desired). Season well with salt. Put in glass casserole and bake two hours, basting frequently with a high quality of table sauce. A few strips of bacon across the top of any meat loaf adds to its richness and improves flavor. Serve garnished with 1 can beets, quartered. Serves five people.

FRESH PORK, PARSNIPS AND CARROTS

1 lb. pork, butt
4 large carrots
4 large parsnips
1 small red cabbage
Seasoning

KILL ANTS
Many inquiries are coming in as to how to kill ants in the garden, on the lawn, in the flower bed, and around the shrubs. There are a great many different kinds of ants, many of which have different modes of living. Where there are a few small ant holes in the garden, the ants may be destroyed by pouring scalding hot water down the holes. If this method is not successful carbon bisulphide should be tried. Carbon bisulphide is a deadly poison, highly inflammable, and of great value to gardeners. It is well for all home gardeners to have a can of it on hand for use against the different types of insect life in the soil. The method of combating ants with it is to punch holes a foot deep around the infested area, and pour 3 or 4 teaspoonfuls of the liquid into each one; then the hole should be plugged up with sod or a chunk of damp earth. The fumes from the liquid will penetrate the soil in all directions and kill the ants and all other animal life present.

START THINNING
It is not too early in many of our home gardens to start thinning. Radishes and lettuce especially should be thinned, radishes to 1-2 or 3-4 of an inch apart, and lettuce to four inches, and later to eight inches. If beets are not planted too thickly they may all be allowed to grow until they are about 3 or 4 inches high, and then the thinned beets can be used for greens. One garden was seen recently where the peas were altogether too thick. It is rare that we plant peas so that they come up too thick. If there are two peas to the inch they probably will come through and give the maximum crop.

SECOND PLANTINGS
It is now time to make the second plantings of radishes, lettuce, and many other seeds, in order that one will have a continuous supply. Only a small amount need be put in, but the product will come in pretty handy in giving a continuous supply.

CONTROL WITCH GRASS
Many gardens are green with the growing witch grass. Witch grass can be controlled if one but will keep at it. It requires patience and constant attention. One must cut the grass off at least twice a week so as to starve the root system. The roots must obtain their starch from the leaves, which obtain it from the air. If the roots do not have growing leaves on them for any length of time they starve within six or eight weeks. If one hoes witch grass once a week the leaves are on the plants long enough to form enough starch to drag the plants along from week to week.

Vision of an Empress.
Has anyone taken time to think of Empress Eugenie, widow of Napoleon III. Just at this time? Nearly half a century ago she saw her France overthrown and outraged and humiliated and the terms of the humiliation laid down in her own beautiful palace at Versailles by booted and spurred German insolence. She saw her husband dethroned to die in exile. Later she mourned the death in battle under an alien flag of her only son, disinherited.

The dim eyes of the old woman, who has known so much of pomp and pride and humiliation and exile, will now see the authors of her undoing stripped and bending with bowed head before the high court of civilization and without an extenuating circumstance to plead.

Surely a fitting and dramatic close to an historic life.

A Woman's Right

What's become of the prejudice against automobiles because they frightened the horses

© 1920

Now cars are everywhere. The horses have gotten used to them—and so has everybody else. Think of it! This year the American people will spend nearly a billion dollars on tires alone.

Tires are one of the biggest items on the car owner's bills.

Hardly a Saturday, when you motorists drop in to "tune up" for a Sunday trip, that one or more of you doesn't tell us something of value to our business. Sooner or later it comes back to you in Service.

Service is what the car owners of this community are looking for nowadays.

And especially the small car owners, who put service first in figuring their motor-ing expenditures.

Just because a man has a moderate - price car is no reason why he should get any less service out of his tires.

We believe that the man with the small car is entitled to just as good tire service as the man with the big car—and both are entitled to the best tire service they can get.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires in this community.

And why more car owners—large and small—are coming to us every day for U. S. Tires.

Come in and talk to us about tires. We're here to help you get the kind of tires you want.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Emma A. Johnson to the Winchester Cooperative Bank, dated October 2, 1916, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4089, page 44, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises on Monday, June 14, 1920, at four fifteen o'clock in the afternoon, all real and personal property conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein substantially described as follows, viz:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Winchester, and being the whole of Lot 131, and fifteen (15) feet of the southeasterly portion of Lot 127 on Plan of land in Winchester, S. 7, bearing to G. Edward Smith, G. F. Hartshorn, Surveyor, dated May 25, 1891 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Plan Book 50, Plan 18, being bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of the premises on the Northwesterly side of Irving Street, thence the line runs easterly by Lot 127 one hundred (100) feet to the line of said Irving Street, thence the line runs southeasterly on said Irving Street fifty (50) feet to the point of beginning. Being the same premises conveyed to the grantor by Elmer Shortell by deed dated July 1, 1916, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3950, Page 412."

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, assessments or other municipal liens.

$100.00 in cash will be required to be paid at time of sale, and the balance to be paid within ten days from the date of sale.

Room 329, 18 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Other terms and conditions made known at the time and place of sale.

PROBATE AND OTHER COURT NEWS

The will of Walter S. Kramer who died May 12 has been filed. It is dated June 3, 1918, and names the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co., as executor. No valuation of the estate was filed.

William T. Bond of Winchester has been appointed as guardian of Grace Long, aged 15, of Woburn; Viola Long, aged 18 of Georgefield N. S.; by the Probate Court. He has given a bond of $400. Their property is valued at $150.

The Harvard Trust Company of Cambridge has been appointed as conservator of the property of Maria Murdock of Winchester by the Probate Court. The Company has given a bond of $90,000. The property is valued at $75,000; $30,000 in real estate and $45,000 in personal property.

Wallace P. Palmer has asked to be appointed as administrator of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Helen S. Palmer, who died May 17. No valuation of the estate was filed.

Dreaded Sub-Tropical Spider.

The mygalid is one of the best known of the large and heavy spiders. It is a native of tropical and sub-tropical America. It is said that it catches and kills small birds with its poisonous bite and then sucks the blood of its victims. The body of this spider is dead black and is covered with long reddish-brown hair. It possesses eight eyes, placed close together in the front of its head.

Fewer Walking Sticks Used.

Not as much timber is being made into walking sticks as in days gone by. About two generations ago no gentleman was considered fully dressed for the street unless he carried his stick. Now it is almost as unusual to hear of a man being presented with a gold-headed cane as with a silver or tortoise-shell snuff box.

Bryant's Writings.

Bryant's writings transport us into the depths of the solemn, primeval forest, to the shores of the lonely lake, the banks of the wild, nameless stream, or the brow of the rocky upland rising like a promontory from amidst a wide ocean of foliage, while they shed around us the glories of a climate fierce in its extremes, but splendid in its vicissitudes.—Irving.

CARUSO'S OWN LIFE STORY

TOLD BY HIMSELF FOR THE FIRST TIME

Reminiscences of the great tenor that are full of tragedy and yet are related with bright flashes of humor.

Illustrated by special cartoons drawn by Caruso himself and by rare photographs.

A wonderfully human tale of poverty, hunger, discouragement and appalling obstacles overcome by youth and hard work.

In 1893 Caruso found himself in Rome with only two cents in his pocket---and practically starving.

This year he receives $12,000 a performance for twelve nights of opera.

Caruso made this sketch of himself in "La Boheme" in Boston.

MISS O'LOUGHLIN SHOWERED

Miss Nora O'Loughlin of Bridge street, was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of the Misses Rogers, Elm street, on Monday evening, by about 60 of her friends, from Medford, Woburn, Lowell, Arlington and Winchester. She was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts in cut glass, linen, silver and many other household supplies. Instrumental and vocal music made up a very pleasing program, with many delightful solos from Miss Mabel Coty and Mrs. Margaret Given, sister of the bride to be. A dainty collation was served. Miss O'Loughlin marries Mr. Frank Shaw of Woburn, on June 30.

June 19, Saturday, 8 p. m. Second annual exhibition and entertainment by Winchester Boy Scouts at Town Hall.

MR. PHIPPEN GUEST OF HONOR

The Music Garden of this town held its last meeting of the season Tuesday evening, June 1, at the home of Joseph Adams, Grove street. The occasion was Guests' Night, and Mr. Joshua Phippen, the well-known pianist of this town, was the guest of honor.

The program consisted of two quintets, the first a string composition by Franz Schubert, in which Mr. Phippen played the cello, and the second quintet, Opus 30, Carl Goldmark, with Mr. Phippen at the piano. There was also a group of songs by Miss Jean MacLellan.

About 100 music lovers were present. Each member of the Garden brought a friend.

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD ANOTHER EXHIBITION IN TOWN HALL

The Winchester Boy Scouts will give their second annual exhibition and entertainment, to be followed by a dance, at the Town Hall on Saturday, June 19th, beginning at 8 p. m. There will be novel and exciting features, given both during and in addition to the regular scout work.

Those who are nervous should perhaps not come, but we hope others will attend in great abundance. The proceeds will be used for scout equipment and toward the needs of the Winchester hospital.

MISS DONOVAN SHOWERED

Miss Gertrude M. Donovan was the recipient of many useful presents Monday evening when she was tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home, 41 Lincoln street. Miss Donovan was overcome with surprise at the presentation, but regained sufficient control to make a pleasing response. Music selections were rendered and refreshments served. About fifty friends were present.

Miss Donovan will become the bride of Mr. John H. Sullivan of Jamaica Plain on June 30. They will reside in Somerville.

LAWSON TROPHY RACE

Next Thursday afternoon the Lawson Trophy Canoe Race will be held on Upper Mystic Lake. The only schools that will be represented this year are Medford and Winchester high schools. Medford is the present holder of the trophy, having won it the last two years by forfeit. In 1917, when there was a race, Winchester was the winner and has been practicing hard to repeat this year. The crew as it stands at present is: Robert Hart 1, Winslow Jennings 2, Stuart Eldredge 3, and Captain Parker Hart 4.

McCALL APPOINTED TO TARIFF COMMISSION

Announcement was made Wednesday of the appointment of ex-Governor Samuel W. McCall by President Wilson to the United States Tariff Commission. The nomination was made several weeks ago, but the United States Senate adjourned without acting upon it, whereupon President Wilson filled the position as a recess appointment.

DODGE CAR OWNERS

When in need of repairs, take your car to F. J. McCarthy, 21 Cogswell tainly an expert on Dodge cars. The tainly an expert on Dodge cars. The work just done for me on my car deserves praise and recommendation. His price is right and his work is excellent. I am glad to recommend him. Respectfully,

BODY OF PRIV. GLENDON ARRIVES

Solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Mary's This Morning

The body of Private William M. Glendon, who died in France August 12, 1918, arrived in Winchester yesterday forenoon at 10:30. The remains had been expected on Wednesday, a telegram having been received by the family stating that they had arrived at Hoboken, N. J., and been shipped from New York June 9. They were taken in charge by undertaker Eugene P. Sullivan.

Private William O'Connor of Cornish, N. H., accompanied the remains from Hoboken to Winchester.

Private Glendon was a member of the 303d Stevedore Regiment, Headquarters Co. He died from pneumonia while serving in France. He was the son of Richard P. and Johannah M. Glendon, and besides his parents he leaves five brothers and four sisters—Luke P., Patrick, George and David of Winchester; Henry of Medford; Annie, Elizabeth, Josephine and Lucy of Winchester. Miss Elizabeth Glendon is a well-known operator at the Winchester telephone exchange.

Miss Josephine Glendon is at the Western Union Office.

The dead soldier was a member of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, and one of the three soldiers members honored by the Council a week ago Sunday at Calvary Cemetery by the dedication of a granite memorial marker.

The funeral services will be held this forenoon at 9 o'clock and solemn high mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. There will be a delegation and firing squad from Winchester Post, A. L. The interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

The pall bearers will be William H. Heavey, Edward D. Fitzgerald, Edward G. Boyle, Clarence E. Dunbury, Charles E. Eaton, Commander of Winchester Post, A. L.; Louis E. Goddu, Daniel T. Leahy, John McKenzie, Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt was celebrant of the mass, Rev. John W. H. Corbett, deacon and Rev. Francis E. Rogers, sub-deacon.

HOUSING COMMITTEE MEETS

Sixteen Residents Appear and Make Complaints.

The first meeting of the recently appointed Rent and Housing Committee was held Tuesday evening in the general committee room at the Town Hall, sixteen residents of Middlesex street appearing in complaint of a raise in their rents.

Spokesmen complained that tenants of this street had been subjected to a raise of 50% in their rent, and protested against the raise as unfair.

The committee took no action beyond hearing the complaints and listing the facts presented from the tenants' side.

A meeting has now been called for this Friday night, at which the owners of the Middlesex street property will be given opportunity to appear and state their side of the case.

To this meeting all persons who have complaints to make relative to the subject of rent profiteering or housing conditions are requested to appear and will be given a hearing.

DANCING PARTY TONIGHT

The Kum-O-Misit Klub of St. Mary's parish will conduct an informal dancing party, in aid of the parish Summer Festival, June 26, tonight at Waterfield Hall. The organization consists of about a score of young women in St. Mary's parish.

The proceeds of the party will be presented to Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt and his assistants, Rev. Fr. Francis E. Rogers and Rev. Fr. John W. H. Corbett, who have charge of the field day for the purpose of raising a fund of $8000 for the parish school on Washington street. Many novelty features are planned.

Miss Alice M. McCauley, vice-president, is chairman of the committee, assisted by Miss Dolly Bennet, president; Miss Anna F. Leahy, secretary; Miss Mary Murphy, treasurer; and these aids: The Misses Frances Fitzgerald, Lucv Glendon, Josephine Glendon, Margaret Leahy, Florence McCarthy, Esther McCauley, Mary Le Due, Marion McDonald, Elsie O'Connell, Alice O'Connell, Martha and Russell Russell, Madeline Reardon and Loretta Hayes.

MISS JULIA E. JOHNSON

Miss Julia Elizabeth Johnson, aged almost 79 years, died at the home of Mrs. Warren Johnson, 35 Washington street, Tuesday of pneumonia, after an illness of three months. She was one of the few remaining old residents of the town, having been born here in 1841 and residing here ever since.

Miss Johnson was the daughter of Francis and Elizabeth (Munroe) Johnson, and a niece of the late Warren Johnson. She attended the public schools here and graduated from the High school in one of the first classes. She leaves no immediate relatives.

The funeral services were held from the residence yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, and were conducted by Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational church. There was a large attendance and many beautiful floral offerings from old friends. The burial was in Wildwood cemetery.

MATINEE WHIST

At a matinee whist party in aid of St. Mary's parish June festival, Saturday afternoon, in Lyceum Hall, prizes were won by Miss Mary Hammond, Mrs. Frank Nowell, Miss Margaret Foley, Miss Rose Doherty, Mrs. James Haley, Mrs. Warren Cox, Miss Helen Doherty, Mrs. Frank Davis, Mrs. Catherine Callahan and Mrs. Bernard McFeeley. Last night the K. of C. held a whist and dance in Lyceum Hall, in aid of the festival.

FIRE DRILL LAST NIGHT

The Board of Selectmen and other interested citizens attended the regular fortnightly fire drill by the Winchester Fire Department, given at the rear of the fire station on Mt. Vernon street last night. The drill was remarkably interesting.

Included in the work was practice ladder raising, the 20, 40 and big 55 foot ladders being set up; exhibition life net work, with practice in holding the net and jumping; practice in carrying an unconscious person up and down a ladder; laying hose from hydrant to ridge; pole; cellar pipe practice, used with the newly built stand for this purpose; exhibition of work with the door opener and other tools; running three lines to the motor pump into the deluge, and other work.

A number of firemen were carried up and down ladders. John A. Doucette of the department taking one man to the top of the fire station and bringing him down on another side. George F. Osborne received a slight burn on his arm when using the door opener on a large packing box which was burning, a hot-air explosion occurring when the door was opened.

A number of firemen took the jump into the life net, jumping from the top of the police wing of the building. Eugene P. Sullivan did not jump, although it was anticipated that he might. The closing feature was the exhibition of the pump, three streams being put through a siamese nozzle and sending a stream as high as the Town Hall spire.

The exhibition proved of considerable interest, and the firemen gave a remarkably good demonstration of their ability to handle their apparatus in quick time and in an efficient manner.

Besides the Selectmen the program was witnessed by Fire Chief Tracy of Woburn, several city officials and the fire chief of Medford, and a number of other out-of-town firemen, all of whom expressed themselves as much pleased with the affair. The visitors and members of the department enjoyed a luncheon following the exhibition.

WEBER—LEONARD

Miss Helen Elizabeth Leonard, daughter of Mr. Frank Leonard of 5 Harvard street, and Mr. Carl Ernest Weber of Bay State road, Boston, son of Mrs. Carl E. Weber and cashier and accountant for the Stone & Webster Co. of Boston, were united in marriage at five o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's rectory, Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt, pastor of the church, performing the ceremony.

The bride wore a simple, dainty gown of white organdie, with hat to match, and she carried a bridal bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Ethel Anderson of New York and Allston was bridesmaid, wearing pink organdie with hat to match and carrying pink roses. The best man was Mr. John P. Leonard, brother of the bride.

A small reception, attended by members of the families and immediate friends only, was held during the evening at the Hotel Westminster, Boston.

The couple will spend the month on a trip through the White Mountains and northern Maine, going as far as Second Lake on the Canadian border and then to Quebec. They will visit lumber camps of the Stone & Webster Co. and upon their return will make their home at 3 Greylock road, Allston.

GAME JUNE 17, THE HOLIDAY

On June 17 we will have the M. J. Perkins Post, A. L. of South Boston, as our opponents. This team opened the season at Braves Field before 6,000 people, and easily defeated the Roberts Post of Dorchester.

The Perkins Post is considered the top-notch ball team among the Legion Posts and will give us a great game. For that matter we never brought a team here from South Boston but did play good ball. So with the Saturday and holiday bringing banner attractions we should look forward to some good baseball, weather conditions permitting. We will play the same lineup as on Memorial Day; also there will be games on Manchester Field every Saturday and holiday until October 1st, with the exception of July 3rd, when we play Marblehead at that place. A truck has been engaged for that date and the seating capacity is limited, so if you care to make the trip, speak for a seat at once.

HOUSING COMMITTEE ORGANIZES

The new Rent and Housing Committee, appointed by the Board of Selectmen to investigate alleged unsatisfactory conditions and rent profiteering in this town, organized on Tuesday night, when it held its first meeting at the Town Hall.

Former Representative William A. Kneeland was chosen chairman and Mr. Walter S. Wadsworth, treasurer of the Co-operative Bank, was selected as secretary. The other members of the committee are Chief of Police William R. McIntosh, Chairman of Assessors Percival B. Metcalf, and Mr. George B. Whitehorse.

VISITED AMERICAN GRAVES IN FRANCE

Mrs. Ella A. Gleason of Edgehill road arrived home Wednesday night, sailing from Cherbourg, France. She visited England, Scotland, Wales, France, Belgium, Switzerland and many of the European battlefields. At Belleau Wood she found the grave of Richard Metcalf, nephew of Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, and placed flowers upon it. It is in a beautiful spot, in the midst of many other graves of American soldiers, all sleeping in the American cemetery. Mrs. Gleason says that "anyone who has a boy buried in that cemetery may feel comforted with the sympathetic care that has been and is being given to the graves of their dear ones."

VACATION TIME

Can you beat it? Two of our well known ten-year-old youngsters decided Tuesday morning that school should be over and that it was time for vacation. Without imparting this thought to their parents they packed their grips, took a train for Boston and bought a ticket for Portland, leaving the North Station on the 9 o'clock. It was learned that they had not attended school and it was surmised that they might have gone towards Biddeford. Investigation confirmed this suspicion, and an officer at the North Station reported that he had followed the two, who were bareheaded, onto the train, where he asked them their destination. They told him they were going to Biddeford, and when he asked them where their mother was they pointed to a woman across the car, who thought it a joke, evidently, and smiled. The two travelers were welcomed at Portland when they arrived, by the officers of the law, and were held until one of the mothers, after a hasty trip, arrived to pilot them over the return trip. Each boy had packed a grip and prepared for a long summer, although they were thoughtful enough to leave their hats at home as usual when departing for school. How long the ten dollars they took with them would have provided provisions was a minor item.

PROMINENT IN COLLEGE LIFE

Miss Margaret W. Adriance, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Adriance, will receive her A. B. degree from Mount Holyoke College on Tuesday, June 15. Miss Adriance has been prominent in college activities during her course. For four years she has been a member of her class basketball team, and this past year she was captain. She has also played on the class hockey team for four years and this past year was elected to the All-Holyoke hockey team. For her achievements in athletics, she was awarded the Old English "H" and sweater, the highest award in athletics given at Mount Holyoke. Miss Adriance's non-academic interests were not confined to sports as she has been active in Y. W. C. A. work. In 1918-19 she was chairman of the Girl Scout committee which takes charge of the Girl Scout work in South Hadley and neighboring districts. That same year she was on the Holyoke Work committee which assists the Holyoke Y. W. C. A. and settlements of Holyoke. This past year she was elected to the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet which has general management of the affairs of the Association. She has been chairman of the Vocational committee which aids the girls in finding regular positions and summer work.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

The graduation exercises of the High and Wadleigh schools will be held as usual in the Town Hall.

The high school graduation exercises will take place on Tuesday evening, June 22 at 8 o'clock.

The Wadleigh school exercises will be held Thursday evening, June 24, at 8 o'clock.

The customary programs will be given and further announcement will be made next week. Admission will be by ticket in both instances, owing to the limited seating capacity of the hall.

MR. HICKSON IN WINCHESTER

Mr. James Moore Hickson, whose ministry of healing has attracted attention throughout America during the past year, will have a single service in Winchester at the Church of the Epiphany, Monday, June 21, at 10 o'clock. Arrangements may be made for a limited number to receive his ministrations. There is no charge for this. Mr. Hickson wishes those who are simply curious not to attend his services, but those who are sympathetic and are willing in all honesty, to pray for those being treated, will be welcomed to the service.

HURD—TINDALL

There was a large attendance at the Unitarian church on Tuesday evening when two well known young people of Winchester, Miss Anna Tindall and Mr. Theodore C. Hurd, were united in marriage by Rev. Frederick Gill of the Arlington Unitarian church. The contracting couple number a host of friends among Winchester people, having spent the larger portion of their life here. Miss Tindall is the daughter of Harry B. Tindall of Cabot street, and Mr. Hurd, an overseas veteran of the 26th Division, is the son of Dr. George P. Hurd of Syracuse, N. Y., and a grandson of the late Theodore C. Hurd of the County Court.

The ceremony took place on the anniversary of the wedding of the bride's parents, and she wore her mother's wedding dress of ivory satin and lace. Her tulle veil was caught with a spray of lilies of the valley and she carried bride's roses.

Mrs. James E. Henry was matron of honor, wearing turquoise blue taffeta and carrying Jack roses. The bride's matrons were Mrs. Chesley Whitten and Mrs. Edwin M. Lawson, they wearing orchid maline and taffeta, and peach maline and taffeta. They carried pale yellow roses. Mr. Edwin H. Lawson was groomsmen.

The ceremony took place at eight and immediately following a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The ushers for both the ceremony and reception included Mr. Ira Moody of Waltham, Mr. Carlyle H. Holt of Boston, Mr. Ralph C. Ackerman of New Haven, Conn.; Mr. Osborn Palmer of Peabody, a cousin of the bride; Dr. E. Russell Murphy and Mr. Chesley Whitten.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. They will make their home in Winchester upon their return from their wedding trip.

The groom is a graduate of the Winchester High School, class of 1912, and served overseas 18 months with the 101st Engineers. The bride also graduated in the class of 1912 from the high school and the Sargent School, Cambridge, in the class of 1916.

FORTNIGHTLY AND BOARD OF TRADE MEET

The Fortnightly committee on the reduction of the high cost of living and the special committee appointed by the Winchester Board of Trade met last evening in response to the request of the first named organization at the home of Mrs. A. W. Mudge, Wedgemere avenue. The purpose of the meeting was in connection with the efforts of the women's club to reduce present costs.

Attending the meeting for the Fortnightly were Mrs. H. T. Bond, president of the club; Mrs. A. W. Mudge, Mrs. A. L. Woodside, Mrs. Rufus Clark, Mrs. F. N. Kerr, Mrs. D. C. Dennett, Mrs. G. H. Root and Mrs. H. W. Hildreth. The Board of Trade committee comprised President A. T. Downer, Secretary L. P. Gleason, A. B. Allen, H. M. Richardson and Charles A. Lane.

Various phases of the situation were discussed without apparent immediate results. The ladies contended that local prices were higher than elsewhere and the gentlemen, who sat opposite, contended that the prices were no higher than absolutely necessary for the merchants to establish a living. The meeting discussed the situation until a late hour, and apparently no solution has yet been arrived at.

RECEPTION MONDAY

Over 150 ladies attended the reception held on Monday afternoon from four to five in honor of Mrs. Joel H. Metcalf and Miss Rachel Metcalf at the Unitarian church. Mrs. Metcalf and her daughter leave this week for France to join Rev. Joel H. Metcalf who is abroad with the Unitarian Commission to Transylvania.

The reception was given by the Ladies' Friendly Society. It was wholly informal, and arranged to afford an opportunity to the many friends of the two ladies to bid them goodby and good luck on their journey. They were received with Mrs. H. E. Wellington, president of the Society.

Decorations of cut flowers adorned the church parlors and during the reception refreshments were served by members of the Metcalf Union. The ladies in charge of the reception included Mrs. Wellington, Mrs. R. H. Perkins, Miss E. A. Stevens, Mrs. Samuel S. Symmes and Miss Anna Symmes.

WINCHESTER SALES

Through the office of Thomas H. Barrett is reported the sale of the property located at 132 Highland avenue and 1 Cliff street, belonging to Mrs. Rebecca A. Ayer and Mrs. Florence A. Gendron to Mr. Asa J. Kenerson of Newton North. The estate consists of a large double house of 18 rooms, with about 15,000 feet of land. Mr. Kenerson who will occupy 132 Highland avenue, is a Civil Engineer on the Boston & Maine railroad and will occupy his new home on or about September 1, 1920.

Through the same office is also reported that Dr. J. Austin Pierce of Somerville has purchased the house formerly occupied by Dr. A. L. Brown at 434 Main street. Dr. Pierce has already taken possession.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

By Mack

Tomorrow we have with us the Packard team. Here is a team that will give us a good battle, as they are considered one of the strongest semi-pro. teams in Boston. Last season they played us a 1 to 0 game which was won by Winchester. At that time they had "Dutch" Thormahlen pitching for them, this season they are better fixed for players and are due to reverse the decision of last year. Davidson is going better in his workouts and the Packard people will know that they have been in a game if they beat us.

M. C. O. F. WHIST

The whist party and dance Monday night at Lyceum Hall under the auspices of Winchester Court, M. C. O. F., in aid of St. Mary's parish summer festival, to be held on the parish grounds, June 26, was attended by about 200 persons. A score of whist prizes were awarded. Refreshments were served. The committee in charge included Mrs. Mary Flaherty, chairman; Mrs. Nora O'Melia, Chief Ranger; David Meskell, Winchester Court, M. C. O. F.; Miss Mary O'Leary, Mrs. P. J. Kennally, Mrs. D. J. O'Leary, Miss Margaret Canniff, Mrs. Susan Moore, P. J. Mooney, M. P. Meskell and M. J. Donnelly. Winchester Council, K. of C. held a whist and dance in Lyceum Hall Thursday evening, in aid of the parish summer festival, and the Kum-O-Mist Club of young women of the parish will hold a dance this evening at Waterfield Hall.

GIRL SCOUT PICNIC

On a perfect day, June 2nd, thirty-one girl scouts, with Captain Emerson, Captain Boone, Captain Williams, Lieutenant Downer as leaders, enjoyed a picnic on Indian Hill. The girls made two camp fires, and had the fun of cooking over them.

One tenderfoot, Phoebe Dotten, was invested and Marion Smith received her naturalist badge for her work collecting flowers.

The meeting broke up after the singing of scout songs. The walk down was most refreshing for everything was so green, and there was a delightfully cool wind blowing.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

That "the party managers don't want Hoover" strikes one Winchester "pol" as rather an asset than a liability. To quote the Winchester "pol's" own words: "The United States is large enough, and its need for the moment is big enough, to warrant it in demanding the absolutely most able man it can find to oversee its destinies for the coming four years. One has to leap somewhat in the dark, it is a fact, because all we have to go and come on is the apparent ability of a man to be president, as manifested in his proved ability to be something else. In my humble opinion Herbert Hoover has shown more of the right stuff than any of the other candidates—good as several of the others unquestionably are. That is the reason I am decidedly in favor of him for president."

"A Winchester Farmer's Wife" writes to The Spectator, and she is very insistent that the place of woman is at home and not at the polls. "Woman was meant for a homemaker, not a politician," she says, "and to care for her home and the comfort of those in it." This Winchester farmer's wife concludes her letter thusly: "I should also like to ask, What can one expect of a woman, when God took a rib from a mere man to make woman? And I'll bet it was the smallest and meanest rib he had, at that."

The following excerpt from Boswell's "Life of Johnson" should be inwardly digested by every Winchesterite:

"I have often thought, that as longevity is generally desired, and I believe, generally expected, it would be wise to be continually adding to the number of our friends, that the loss of some may be supplied by others. It is consolatory to think, that although we can seldom add what will equal the generous firstgrowths of our youth, yet friendship becomes insensibly old in much less time than is commonly imagined. Warmth will, no doubt, make a considerable difference. Men of affectionate temper and bright fancy will coalesce a great deal sooner than those who are cold and dull. He (Johnson) said to Sir Joshua Reynolds, 'If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life, he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendship in constant repair.'"

Cutting off 107 of the unnecessary publications issued from the Government printing office is a good beginning of the "save paper" campaign started by the Congressional Joint Printing Committee. But the pruning knife should not stop there. The Spectator's mail is still flooded with useless Government publications, which are very speedily consigned to the waste basket and which if they should disappear from the mails "never would be missed."

A Winchester gentleman rises to inquire how long it will be before Winchester girls abandon the crippling, pointed-toe, high heeled shoe and adopt a sensible shoe, conforming to the shape of the foot and the low, broad heel.

According to one STAR reader among the possibilities of sensational fiction yet to be is a novel in which a band of automobile thieves will be worked up as artistically as the pirates and highwaymen in any of the tales of past generations.

Those in Winchester and elsewhere who have been alarmed by the prevalent fashions will no doubt be reassured and soothed by the promulgated announcement that "women's clothes will go on higher." Sleeves are apparently shorter and necks lower—but the skirt, which has approximated half mast for some time, in all probability has reached its maximum altitude as well as the maximum price thereof. Really reassuring and soothing news!

Winchester veterans of the World War should heed the advice of National Commander Franklin D'Olier, of the American Legion, who warns ex-service men to have their discharge papers put on record in their home county. The good sense in this advice is to be seen at once. Innumerable cases involving great trouble to veterans developed from the Civil War because they had lost their discharge papers. Veterans who applied for a pension and who were undoubtedly entitled to relief could not establish their case because they had no date to show their claim was valid. It will be the same for many ex-service men of the World War, unless they take the precaution to put their papers on file. An attested and recorded copy is a protection for every ex-soldier. He is a foolish man who neglects the precaution.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Dry Cleanse and Dyeing

Now is the time to look over your wardrobe and arrange for dry cleansing and dyeing. We extend our service to you, calling at your home and returning all articles with promptness and dispatch.

Wearing apparel should be cleansed often—it is insurance against germs, dust, stains, soils, etc. Present high prices of clothing would seem to demand the making of one's wardrobe last as long as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Hayes of Lawrence, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Wight, to Mr. Harold Franklin Ogden, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Ogden of Ridgefield road.

Many Winchester people attended the closing drills and exercises at the Mitchell School at Billerica Wednesday. Among the local boys who took part were Joel Whitney, John Martin, David and Arthur Downer and Thaxter Williams.

Mr. Frank A. Black of Rangeley, in speaking at the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at Indianapolis Tuesday, stated "retailers should recognize that today the newspapers provided the ideal vehicle for up-to-date store advertising, because of their form, elasticity, frequency and cost."

Invitations were issued this week by Rev. and Mrs. D. Augustine Newton of Reading, formerly of this town, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Christine Marion Newton, Miss Newton is to wed Mr. Otis Witham Means of Machias, Me. The ceremony will take place on Monday evening, June twenty-eighth, at the First Congregational church, Reading.

Miss Clara O. B. Stockenberg, who is to marry Mr. Alvin Leonard Olson of Woburn, this month, was given a kitchen shower this week by the members of the Linnea Class of the Swedish Evangelical Free Church of Woburn. The shower was held at Miss Stockenberg's home on Norwood street, and she was showered with a great quantity of useful articles by her friends.

OPPORTUNITY IN NATIONAL GUARD

No. 7 Dix Terrace,
Winchester, Mass., June 8, 1920.
Editor, Winchester Star:

The attention of the young men of Winchester is called at this time to the re-organization of the National Guard.

Special attention, however, is called to the Cavalry, and anyone desiring information on this attractive branch of the service can have same by communicating with above address, or calling at the Armory, Commonwealth avenue, Allston, any Tuesday or Friday evening, between seven and nine.

The different troops are being rapidly filled up, but there are still a few vacancies for the right men.

Yours very truly,

John McKinnon.

PROPERTY VALUES HAVE INCREASED—Have You Increased Your Insurance?

In five years, building cost has increased about 65 per cent; furniture cost, about 127 per cent, and clothing cost, about 129 per cent. Consequently, there has been a great increase in the values covered by the usual policy on dwelling houses and their contents.

If you were burned out today, would your loss draft from the insurance company pay its rightful share of the present cost of replacing your property?

If you have not enough insurance, permit us to consider with you what amount you should carry.

PIANOFORTE RECITAL

The 125th recital by pupils of Mrs. Annie Soule Lewis, was held in Assembly Hall, High School, Friday evening, June 4th.

There was a large, appreciative audience, who stayed to the end of the longer than usual program.

The pianoforte selections were rendered with an accuracy, a brilliancy or a sentimentality (according to the character of the selection), not often heard by other than professionals.

The other numbers were a recitation by a 4 year old future pupil, Tiny Anguish, who made herself an immediate favorite with the audience. A song, accompanied by himself, given by John Clarke, and showing choir training efficiency.

A group of songs, sung by a group of pupils, usually played and sung by themselves, but on this occasion Mrs. Lewis accompanied them. A couple of violin solos by Dorothy Lewis; a couple of songs by Mildred Lewis, each soloist being accompanied by her sister, proving, that it is possible to continue two lines of music study with High school studies, in an eminently successful manner.

The last but not least of the extra numbers was two numbers of songs, sung by Evelyn Snow, a former advanced grade pianoforte pupil, well known to the recital audiences. She accompanied herself in a most musically manner.

The first of the two songs, by Mary Turner Salter, was dedicated to Mrs. Lewis.

Following is the program in detail:

A TRIP TO THE NAVY YARD

Through the kindness of Mr. Nichols, the eighth grade pupils of the Wadleigh school were able to visit Franklin Park and the Navy Yard this week.

They visited the Navy Yard first where they saw many interesting things, such as the rope walk, the chain foundry, the large dry dock, and last the Museum and the old Constitution.

At Franklin Park the boys, going through their funny tricks, took the fancy of all the children. The raccoons all looked their best. It was a hard task to get the boys away from the elephants, but as there were many more animals to be seen, they hurried on. Many thanks are due Mr. Nichols for the pleasant afternoon.

A SOUTHERN MOUNTAIN PARISH

To the Editor of the Star:
"I Remember," submitted herewith, is a description of conditions which a soldier, back from the Argonne, has found in Fletcher, Va., where he is endeavoring to establish a church. St. Andrews-on-the-Mountain, for the good that he can do. There may be those in Winchester who will give ear.

Eugene Bertram Willard.

I Remember.

(By the Parson of Rock's Mountain.)
I remember the Blue Ridge in springtime, with its apple blossoms, and exquisite bits of scenery like unto rare old porcelain, or carved Chinese jade, or ivory heavy with memories of ancient India. And I remember those same hills in winter, bleak and barren, torn by winds and desolate, with jagged rocks and leafless trees.

And I remember a laughing boy, but his laugh was harsh and terrible, for he was drunken, and very young. I remember awful poverty, where they bathed and washed the clothing and cooked the meals in the same vessels. And I have eaten, for in their gentle way they offered to the stranger the best they had. And it was sweeter than finer food in wealthier houses, where they look upon the weary traveler with distrust.

I remember the old basket-maker who loved his work and wove into it his laughter and his tears, for he was an artist. And his wife was lame and blind, yet helped him as he "bottomed" chairs or made his baskets, honest baskets for burden-bearing. His own burdens he bore bravely, and wished to help others, so his handiwork was good to look upon.

And I remember the specter Death, robbed of all his dignity by the terrible mountain winter, where little ones have slept for days with the Thing that has been Mother. And I shuddered and thought of careless faces along the city streets, and wondered. Had they forgotten Him, or did they know?

I remember a darkened attic stairway, and a lonely boy. He did not play as other children, for he was blind. And I remember the big gentle doctor, and the hospital where he gave himself for man; and the lad saw, and I was glad.

And I remember a child, and in her arms she held a child, and my heart was sad, because I knew. And I thought of Christ's lovely temples in the cities and praying throngs. And I prayed, and wondered, when?

And I remember little clearings against the heavy wooded hillsides, and the tiny patch of corn land, and the plowman struggling with the stony soil, and the lines graven deep upon his brow. His heart was heavy for he wondered then if there would be enough for the winter. And I remember speaking to him and to his wife and children, and many others in the evening when the day's toil was done. Under the purpling dome of heaven, 'neath the stars and trees, I told them of the Nazarene, and they listened gladly, and wistfully asked for more.

I remember hungry children, 10 of them, as they sat upon the cabin floor and ate ravenously. Their bread was in their laps, their dinner in the common pot. And I saw their widowed mother, and she was very ill, and I wondered, how? And I thought and saw beneath the dirt and rags, my children. He gave them me. And I remembered how He said, "Suffer little children." Yet some there are who, in their carelessness, seem to think that He commanded them to suffer. Can they not remember that He said, "Come unto Me"?

I remember bitter nights when babes cuddled closer to their mothers' breasts, and the old folk sat in chimney corners and smoked their pipes and listened to the howling wind. And the icy blackness of those nights, when this one's child was taken "awful sick"—the long anxious hours when one heard only the troubled breathing of a suffering child and the crash of falling trees without.

And I remember an old crone, bare of feet and wrinkled of face, and how between puffs from her old clay pipe she told me tales, strange, weird tales of the hills and of bloodshed. And weather signs she knew, and queer old remedies for this and that. And her wisdom was great, for she was old.

I remember the "witch doctor," as he worked and used his "conjuring" rod, and his incantations. And I thought of Mabeth and of darkest Africa and wondered. And I remember the piteous hopefulness of the sick woman, disfigured with goitre, as she turned away. And heard him tell her to return for cure, the "fast Friday in full moon." Can such things be?

I remember a fine old man as he looked into my eyes and pleaded for these, his people of the hills, and how he wished that someone might bring to them the Light of Love. And his good wife who gave and gave, and worked and prayed for the Mission, and now she is sick and troubled lest her dim old eyes may never see His church planted here. Yet she labors on and her face grows wistful as she talks of Him and of how He alone may save her people.

I remember cities filled with churches. Here, one tiny House of Prayer, and one lone missionary, while the voices of thousands cry, "Come over and help us!"

Literature for the Blind.

The first book in English printed in raised or embossed letters for the use of the blind was issued at Edinburgh 92 years ago by James Galt. The first attempt to provide literature for the sightless was made in 1786 by Hanly at Paris, who invented a system of printing raised letters. Hanly used the Hylian or Slavonian alphabet in the few brief works he published, and his project ended in failure.

CHAPIN SCHOOL FESTIVAL

The 220 children of the Chapin School gave a most interesting festival program on the lawn in front of the school, Tuesday afternoon. A large number of visitors were present. Six children formed a semi-circle in front of a throne, each holding a large letter which spelled Chapin. In front of them stood Kathleen Lynch, the president of the Thrift Stamp Club; Daniel Beaton, president of the Chapin Civic League; and Helen Rogers, president of the Chapin Health Club. The other members of the school were arranged on one side.

At a signal from the Civic League president, everybody faced the flag pole and saluted the flag.

Those in the center retired to make way for the King, Wilbert Dobbins, and the Queen, Edith Baker. They were followed by Melvin Ralph, bearing the crown on a cushion, and Florence Caponi, who carried the train. Last came Vincenzo Rolla, attendant to the Queen, and William Dowd, attendant to the King.

After the crowning of the Queen, a fine program was enjoyed, as follows:

The Fairies Dance.
Robin Hood Anthony Marchesi
The Sunbeams Dance.
The Miss Spring appears and the Leaves Dance.
The Flowers, Wand Drill.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Nothing pleases some of us more than being able to convey bad news to others.

Although married to a cooking school graduate, many a man would rather fight than eat.

Looking for little faults in your neighbor enables you to overlook a lot of big ones in yourself.

Be sure you are wrong—then don't do it.

A man thinks he's good enough when he doesn't act more than usual.

Hats off to Winchester's new Town
Clerk.

Considerable complaint has arisen since the installation of the one-man electric cars on the Stoneham division. It is said that one can seldom be sure of securing a car at any given time, especially the 10:20 a. m. car, which seems to have been taken off altogether.

Boston traffic officers, it is said, are as strongly opposed to pedestrians proceeding against their "stop" signals as they are to automobiles. This was learned by one of our well known residents to his inconvenience Tuesday night, when, in his haste to catch his train, he proceeded on his way after the officer signalled him to hold up. It is said in some circles that he got a ride—but not in his usual car on the train.

Winchester people who tour over northern routes in the vicinity of Nashua, N. H., are making it a point to stop at the fine Smith-Henry Garage at that city, of which Mr. Clarence S. Henry of Highland avenue is one of the firm and Mr. Edward T.
Wolcott of Washington street the manager. This garage is the finest in the city of Nashua, and besides handling the Dodge, Hudson and Essex cars and a farm tractor, does an immense repair and supply business.
It was our good fortune to visit the Smith-Henry Co. on Sunday with car trouble, and through the courtesy of the proprietors a fine new Essex car was placed at our disposal that we might continue our trip. Winchester visitors receive a warm welcome and are well cared for—as we can testify, and Winchester people who once make a call there make it a way point when traveling in that vicinity thereafter.

Winchester received notoriety this week by a revival of the pig question in a Boston paper, the article being manufactured over the revocation by the Board of Health of a license here.
According to the department a license was granted early in the year to an Italian resident. Following this considerable opposition appeared in his neighborhood, and when another application was received it was refused whereupon the applicant requested a hearing before the Board, at which time he expressed the thought that an American citizen should be allowed equal consideration with a foreign born resident and stated that many pigs were kept without licenses. It appeared that the Italian resident was a war veteran, giving him the right to become a citizen at any time, and that those five who were keeping pigs without licenses had been requested to obtain the same. The result of the controversy was that the license was not granted and the Italian's license revoked. As the town sells the swill, collected about town without charge,
there is little opportunity to keep pigs here unless the owner desired to feed them grain.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE RETURNS

Editor of the Star:

The recent campaign for raising a fund of $1,800 for the Salvation Army Home Service has resulted very successfully, the amount raised to date being about $2,500. In behalf of the Salvation Army people I desire to take this opportunity to most heartily thank everyone who contributed to this most worthy work, and especially to thank the following men and women who acted as captains in overseeing the work throughout the town:
Mrs. James E. Corey
Mr. Alex. S. MacDonald
Ralph S. Vinal
Port B. Elkins
Herbert S. Underwood
Wallace F. Flanders
Thomas H. Barrett
George T. Davidson
James Hinds
Miss Parker
Miss Barnard
Mrs. Alice E. Young
Miss Smith, Winchester Laundry Co.
Mr. Ernest G. Beaton, Whitney Machine Co.
Mr. Timothy J. O'Leary, Puffer Mfg.
Co.
Mr. William E. Beggs, Beggs & Cobb
Tanning Co.

The names of all who assisted the above named captains are not at present in my possession but arrangements have been made for each captain to express to his assistants the thanks of the chairman of the general committee.
The chairman extends hearty thanks to yourself and to Mr. Charles E. Barrett of the Winchester Trust
Co. for your services.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

June 7, 1920

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present.

The records of the meeting of June 1 were read and approved.
Fire Department Unclassified: A letter was received from the Chief of the Fire Department inviting the Board to attend a drill by the firemen on Thursday evening, June 10, at 7:30. The drill is to be held in the rear of the Fire Station.

Enclosed with this letter was a program of the exhibition drill.

The Clerk was instructed to write the Chief of the Fire Department that the Board would be pleased to be present.

Town Clerk: Mr. Kidder tendered his resignation as Town Clerk of the Town of Winchester, same to take effect immediately. The Board accepted Mr. Kidder's resignation and voted to extend a vote of thanks to him for his willingness to act as Town Clerk until such time as a permanent Town Clerk could be appointed. The Clerk was ordered to file this resignation of Mr. Kidder's in the office of the Town Clerk. The Board then proceeded to appoint Miss Mabel W. Stinson, Town Clerk of Winchester.

Measurers of Leather: A petition was received from Frank G. H. Finnimore to be re-appointed a measurer of leather for the year ending June 30, 1921. This matter was laid over pending the appointments of the measurers of leather, which will be made toward the end of the month.

Arlington Gas Light Co. (Rates):
Notice was received that the Public Utilities Commission would give a public hearing to all parties interested at its hearing room, 166 State House, Boston, on Monday, June 21, 1920, at 10:30 o'clock a. m., in regard to the petition of the Arlington Gas Light Co. that the Commission revise the order of the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners, whereby on May 14, 1918, the maximum net price of gas sold and delivered after May 1, 1918, was fixed at not exceeding $1.25.
The Clerk was instructed to send a copy of this notice to the Town Council and to request him to attend this hearing and to look out for the interest of the town in regard to the matter.

Gas Service: An application was received from the Arlington Gas Light Co. for permission to extend its mains
as follows:

Governor's avenue, Winchester, approximately 450 feet of 4-inch cast iron pipe.

Stone avenue, Winchester, approximately 600 feet of 4-inch cast iron pipe.

The meeting adjourned at 11:30 p. m.

GEORGE S. F. BARTLETT,
Clerk of Selectmen.

WHO CURED THE PRINCE?

Editor of the Star:

Regarding the statement in the June 4 issue of the Star, that the cure of the deaf condition of Prince Don Jaime of Spain was not made by osteopathy, I wish to state that I know that Dr. Johnson May, the osteopathic physician who cured the case, was a graduate of the American School of Osteopathy.

This notice appeared in the London and Edinburgh newspapers as such,
and no mention of any osteopathy's imitators was made.

There is a widespread propaganda among those who have stolen osteo-pathy and call it another name, to use stories of osteopathic cures to further their own interests. Recently the magazine "Life" secured an injunction on these imitators, which made them reprint an article which they had stolen from osteopathy and also make an apology.

Osteopathic physicians are registered by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as "registered physicians." These imitators are not registered, and in order to practice their science, they must first graduate from a medical or an osteopathic school, which are the only two schools that are recognized by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

MAY ESTABLISH FLYING SCHOOL IN THIS CITY

"Bob" Fogg, Noted Aviator, in Concord to Look Over Possibilities

[Concord, N. H., Evening Patriot]

The possibilities of Concord becoming an important aerial center became apparent Monday evening when ex-Lieutenant Robert S. Fogg arrived in Concord from Oklahoma as the guest of C. G. Remick of this city.
Lieutenant Fogg is here to consider the possibilities of Concord for the establishment of an air-port. He is planning to open a flying-school at this point. Having lately acquired the agency for a new plane that offers many notable improvements over other types, he is likely to attract much interest to the flying project now developing in this region.

Lieutenant Fogg has served two years in the United States Air Service as an instructor of advanced flying, and has spent an aggregate of several thousand hours in the air, which implies a distance travelled sufficient if pursued in one direction, to encircle the earth three times. Since the signing of the armistice he has been actively engaged in commercial aviation in the South and West, and has served as general manager of an airplane company engaged in passenger transportation. Lieutenant Fogg believes that Concord, with its many broad expanses and open fields, will prove an ideal location for aviation activities, and is much gratified at the interest and enthusiasm shown here in the development of aviation. "Bob" Fogg, as he is called in the West, is the son of George O. Fogg of Winchester, Mass., and a brother of Mrs.
Glady's Benedict, the well-known singer.

Through a transposition in correction last week, Rev. Clifton H. Walcott of the First Baptist church was credited with speaking on "Beyond the Unitarian Paths" at his morning service last Sunday. Mr. Walcott really spoke on "The Untrodden Paths," and had no intention of speaking upon a controversial subject as credited.

The above advertisement was

Out of replies offering in some cases over 20%, also a

OLSON-STOCKENBERG

Many Winchester people were interested in the wedding on Wednesday evening at the Swedish Congregational church, Woburn, of Miss Clara Stockenberg of 16 Norwood street, prominent through her connection for a number of years with the Winchester Exchange, and Mr.
Alvin L. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Alfred Olson of 24 Bedford street,
Woburn.

The ceremony was performed at eight by Rev. A. Z. Freedlund of the Swedish Congregational church of North Easton. Mr. Wilbur A. Olson, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Helen C. Olson, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Elvira M.
Anderson and Miss Hilda F. Anderson, both cousins of the bride.

The bride's dress was white georgette crepe over white satin. She wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bou-quet of white sweet peas and orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony, being held in the parlors of the church. The couple were assisted in receiving their many friends by Mr.
and Mrs. Gustaf Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Olson. The ushers for both wedding and reception were Mr. William Froberg, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Elmer E. Anderson, cousin of the bride.

Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Olson will make their home at 59 Eastern avenue, Woburn.

AUCTION

Edward F. Maguire will conduct an auction of household furniture at his rooms, 620 Main street, on Tuesday, June 15th. A full assortment of useful articles will be disposed of. The sale begins at 1:30 p. m.

Chief David H. DeCoursey of the local fire department was a guest at the banquet given Wednesday night by the Woburn Firemen's Relief Association.

FROM EVE TO MODERN DAME

Evolution of Feminine Attire From the Simple Fig Leaf Is Most Interesting Study.

When Eve first started out to dress to cover up her nakedness, she picked the fig leaves soft and green—admirable, perhaps their dusky sheen. But soon her daughters found this shade quite unbecoming to a maid with tresses neither gold nor red; so substituted grass instead, which made them yellow skirts when dried, and satisfied primitive pride. And then the blondes found peacock blue was quite their most becoming hue, and robbed that bird of plumage rare to decorate their sunny hair; while raven locks of the brunettes were strung with bright red featherettes.

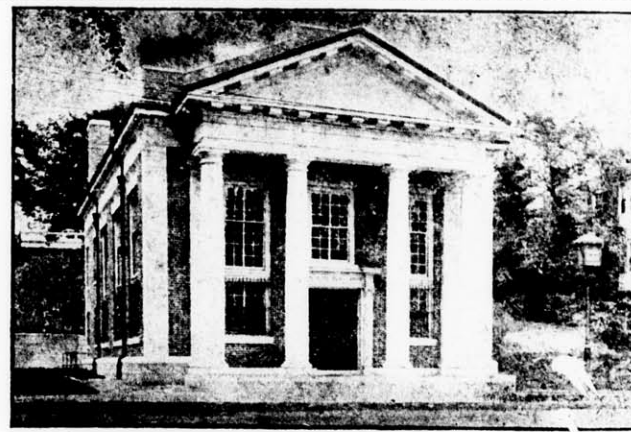

From beasts they took both fur and hide, and still their tastes were not supplied; they found the silk worm at his loom, at which his business took a boom; they sheared Angora sheep and goats to make therefrom their winter coats.

From fields of cotton and of flax came fabrics to adorn their backs; and now to Hooverize on waste, they've spider webs with beadwork traced! Eve's modesty is quite forgot—we've evolved such a lot.—Mrs. V. W. S., in the Kansas City Star.

Extracting Salt From Ocean.
Experiments in Norway with a view to extracting salt from ocean water by means of electricity have been successful, and two salt factories will be started for this purpose in the near future. In recent years it has been difficult to get salt from abroad and sometimes it has been impossible to salt down the fish. The new salt works should greatly improve the situation.

SET RECORD FOR BUILDING

New York University Put Up Eight Large Buildings for Soldiers in Thirteen Days.

New York university set a record in finishing an army barracks building for the new students' army training corps in six days, says the New York Tribune. This building was the first of a group of eight needed for the newly inducted soldiers at the university. The entire group was completed in 13 days from the time the work was started. Prof. Collins P. Bliss, head of the department of mechanical engineering at the university, supervised this rush job of construction, the university authorities having contracted for the erection of the barracks as soon as it was learned that New York university would become an S. A. T. C. camp.

The buildings are completely sealed so they can be kept comfortably heated by the big cantonment stoves. There are double floors throughout. Each barracks conforms to the army plan of 43 by 120 feet dimensions.

In the mess hall 1,000 men are fed in two shifts. High pressure steam cookers are used. There are gas and coal ranges, steam tables on which to keep the food hot, and some kettles three feet in diameter. A dishwasher operated by steam cleans 3,000 dishes an hour.

One of the university's graduate engineers—John Lowry, Jr.—was responsible for the rapid erection of the barracks. Being engaged extensively in government work, he was able to throw in a large force of men, transferred from other government work that was finished.

The site of the first barracks was surveyed and staked and posts were set in concrete in one day.

They Laugh on Jokers.

We do not think of M. Clemenceau as the sort of man on whom practical jokes would be played, yet he was the victim of an elaborate jest some while ago—in pre-war times, needless to say—and he accepted the position with commendable grace.

A number of Parisians received bogus invitations to dine at the premier's house. Some were total strangers, and their grateful acceptance mystified M. Clemenceau until he realized the hoax.

He did not put them off. He ordered the dinner, and gave his guests a pleasant evening. Not until the evening was drawing to a close did he inform them that their invitations had been sent out by some one of whose identity he had not the remotest knowledge.

Breaking the News Gently.

In our opinion this Higginville soldier deserves the medal for delicately breaking bad news of two sorts to mother. His letter in the Jeffersonian says: "How is every one at home? I am fine and dandy. Say, mother, you ought to have seen my new bed last night. It was one of the nicest white iron beds, with springs, mattress, sheets, blankets and a soft pillow. It was in a hospital where I am now. The front is the only place I see any fun now. I haven't been paid for six months, and so you see I am near broke."—Kansas City Times.

WHY IT IS "CZECHO-SLOVAK"

Sounds Awkward, but Really Is the Only Way to Correctly Express What Is Meant.

Speaking of the awkward cognomen of "Czecho-Slovak," the Independent says it is partly due to linguistic accident and partly to political exigence. The old familiar name "Bohemia" has, like the name "Serbia," a territorial rather than a racial significance and is too small to cover the ethnical entity on which the modern concept of nationality is founded. The Slovak language is only dialectically different from the Czech or Bohemian, but the differences were purposely intensified during the nineteenth century to keep the Hungarian branch of the race apart from the Austrian. Even in America Slovak and Czech newspapers are distinct, although either people can read the other language. Professor Masaryk, head of the new Czecho-Slovak republic, is a Slovak. The Slovaks, being inferior to the Czechs in numbers, wealth and education, are naturally insistent upon equal rights and recognition. The spelling "Czech" is neither native nor English. It is a Polish form of the word, foisted upon the world by persistence of Viennese journalists. The True Bohemian newspaper for lack of type with inverted caret over the C, to represent Ch. The final ch is sounded like the German guttural or the Scottish ch as in "loch," but to the ordinary ear is hardly distinguishable from plain k.

More Americans in China.

Foreign firms and the foreign population of China are increasing perceptibly. The American population increased in 1917 by 10 per cent over the previous year, and American firms from 187 to 216; Japanese advanced from 104,275 persons to 144,492 and the number of Japanese firms increased during the year by 900; the Russian population decreased by 3,925, but firms increased by 1,492; the British population decreased, but British firms increased by 11. There was a total increase over 1916 of 34,872 in the foreign population of China last year and of 2,331 firms.

TOOK NO CHANCE ON "HANTS"

That Batch of Troopers Didn't Intend to Be Caught With the "Goods" on Them.

There was a colored labor outfit in the S. O. S. engaged in quarry work near a base port. A few weeks ago, in the course of opening up some new ground, they discovered an old Roman burying ground with many skeletons, coins and relics. The find made quite an impression on the minds of the finders, and there were many speculations as to whether the shades of the departed legionaries still hovered around in the vicinity of their last resting place. The general opinion was that a man ought to be on his guard when out late at night.

About that fine the sum of 60 francs disappeared from the counter of a nearby Y. M. C. A. hut. The captain of this outfit doesn't know a great deal about classroom psychology, but he has learned a lot about it in the field. He called his outfit together one night in the Y hut and told them of the disappearance of the money. Then he outlined the history and characteristics of the old Romans.

"Boys," he said, "there was one thing a Roman hated worse than anything else, and that was a thief. If the ghosts of those old fellows who were buried up there on the hill should learn that somebody in this outfit had 60 francs in his pocket, I don't know just what would happen. I'm going to put my hat here on the table and turn out the lights. The guilty man will know what to do."

There was quite a shuffling of feet and milling around in the hut, and then all was quiet. When the captain turned on the lights again and looked in the hut he found not only the 60 francs, but 300 more, and a few old centimes for good measure.—Stars and Stripes.

Water the Garden

The past few weeks of dry weather have started many home gardeners to watering. It is regrettable to note the common method practised. This method is to sprinkle the garden every evening without getting enough water on to really be of great value. To do the thing right one should water so that the water will soak down one or two inches deep. This will require a tremendous amount of water. It is well then to follow this watering the next day with a hoeing in order to make the surface soil mulch, or blanket, which will tend to conserve the water in the ground for the use of the vegetables. Watering practised in this manner will not have to be duplicated for some time. The other type of watering tends to encourage the root system of the plants to develop near the surface of the ground. This is harmful in that the root system will be up where the dry periods will injure it all the more.

Beware of Bean Rust.

Most home gardens include beans as one of their vegetables. Many home gardeners are familiar with the farmers' practice of not doing a thing to or in among their beans when they are damp. Rust is a fungus disease which spreads very quickly when there is dampness upon the vines. Beans should not be hoed, picked, or one should not work among the bean rows, when they are damp in the morning after the dew or after a rain.

Summer Greens.

The doctors are telling us that we do not eat sufficient quantity of greens. Spinach is the common green grown in the garden during the spring and late fall. It does not do well during mid-summer as the warm weather sends it sprouting up to seed. An earlier article suggested New Zealand spinach as a good summer green. This can still be safely planted. Swiss chard is another summer green that can be safely planted at the present time.

Save Fertilizer Around Home.

The writer has a neighbor who saves the kitchen garbage and buries it in his garden daily. This is a most excellent practice. If followed up for some length of time the garbage from the home applied to the garden will very materially increase its fertility. This neighbor also has spaded up a spot where he proposes to have a garden during succeeding years. This year he is spending his energy in getting the weed grass under control, and will shortly seed the piece with clover, being careful to lime the area well. This clover will be spaded under as a green manure crop. The clover furnishes a large quantity of humus to the soil which practically all back yard gardens crave, and in addition will add a lot of nitrogen to the soil which the clover collect from the air. Nitrogen is the most expensive element in our fertilizers; therefore any plant that will gather this element from the air and add it to the soil in a form which the plant can readily use, is a great friend of the home gardener. Let's see to it that we plant clover in all vacant spots in our garden.

New Portico to Be Erected Over Plymouth Rock by Society of Colonial Dames

Congregationalists From All Over the World to Assemble at Boston This Week

Sir Auckland Geddes, New British Ambassador, to Make Fourth of July Oration Jane Addams A so to Speak—rilliant International Celebration in Honor of Plymouth Ter Centenary.

PLYMOUTH ROCK MEMORIAL

The first Pilgrim celebration on an international scale, in this tercentenary year when Pilgrim celebrations are being planned by a bewildering variety of organizations, will fittingly be that of the Congregationalists who, in a series of meetings beginning Tuesday, June 29th, and closing July 6th, will take advantage of their fourth Decennial Council, to emphasize afresh the spiritual significance of the coming of the Pilgrims to America, and to interpret the ideals of the Pilgrims in terms of world democracy.

The steady effect of this International Council, to which some 200 delegates are coming from England alone, and at the biggest meeting of which Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador to America and Sir Robert Falconer of Canada are to be the speakers, is a matter of no small moment just at this time when relations between this country and Great Britain are in a somewhat ticklish state.

But though the sailing of the Pilgrims and the beginning of Congregational history will have a large place in the Conference, the achievements and lessons of three centuries of Congregationalism will naturally furnish most of the themes and there will be a great deal of earnest looking forward as well as some justly proud looking backward. The Congregationalists realize that the world has not yet become heaven though they believe that heaven is vastly nearer than it would have been without Plymouth Rock. The glorification of days gone by will thus supply the point of departure rather than the raison d'être of the Conference.

The Council would have met anyhow. For it was organized thirty years ago, and meets once in ten years. Previous meetings have been held in London and in Edinburgh; and the second Decennial in 1900, was held in Boston. The meeting at the end of June will, however, be much larger than any previous gathering, and is being widely advertised as "the most notable gathering of Congregational people since the 'Separatist' movement began."

In planning the program which will be staged in Mechanics Hall, and will include eleven major sessions as well as ten sectional meetings in smaller halls for the more intimate treatment and free discussion of live topics, the underlying thought has been to discuss the application of Pilgrim principles to present-day problems, and to promote international friendship and co-operation in Christian work. Thus the school, the college, the university, national and international affairs, the problem of civic reform and social readjustment, the reunion of Protestantism, the organization of democracy and liberty, all are scheduled for consideration. And for speakers, in addition to men of distinction from abroad, there will be such well known Americans as Raymond Robins of Chicago, ex-Senator Burton of Ohio, Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, ex-Governor Osgood of Michigan, President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College; Roger W. Babson, the well-known statistician; Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn, New York; the Rev. Charles E. Jefferson of Broadway Tabernacle, New York City; Dr. Charles R. Brown of Yale School of Religion; President Marion L. Burton of Michigan; Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa; Rev. Harry P. Dewey of Minneapolis; President W. Douglas MacKenzie of Hartford, Connecticut; Professor J. W. Buckham of California; Rev. George A. Gordon, D. D. of Boston; and Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago.

From England will come as delegates Professor Robert Mackintosh, a prominent Glasgow graduate in philosophy, who has been minister of the Congregational church at Dumfries; Rev. John A. Patten, M. A., of Ipswich, England, the young minister of one of the old East Anglian Congregational cathedrals, who has made a name for himself recently by reason of a book which contains the result of his experiences as a chaplain for four years in Flanders; Sir Robert Murray Hyslop, head of a great firm of iron founders, and treasurer of many leading Congregational organizations in England; Rev. Nelson Bittton, home secretary of the London Missionary Society, who has rendered yeoman service to missions both in England and in China; Dr. Alexander J. Grieve, Principal of the Edinburgh Theological College; Rev. R. W. Thompson, who, with the aid, on the organization end, of Lord Leverhulme, has federated the Congregational churches in Bolton, Lancashire; Lord Leverhulme's native town; Dr. Burford Hooke, secretary throughout a long life of the Colonial Missionary Society, whose object it is to establish and nurture Congregational churches wherever the British flag flies; and Dr. Griffith Jones, well remembered in this country for the service rendered during the war to the British propaganda department.

As a basis and background of the discussion which will occupy the delegates during their ten days in Boston, there have been prepared for the meeting elaborate reports by ten American commissions and ten English commissions on the following comprehensive themes: "Congregationalism and Spiritual Ideals; Congregationalism and Its Polity; Congregationalism and Liberty; Congregationalism and Theology; Congregationalism and Education; Congregationalism and Missions; Congregationalism and the Social Order; Congregationalism and International Relations; and Congregationalism and Its Young People. These reports are now in the press, and will be distributed among the delegates, but they will not be read at the sessions of the Council.

If only for what it will have done in causing these papers to be written and published, this International Congregational Council would be a gathering of world wide importance. But the contact with the spoken word which will be afforded by its morning and evening sessions in Mechanics Hall, by noon-day sessions in the Park Street Church on Boston's Brimstone corner, for the purpose of bringing the message of this great gathering to business men, and by the great midweek service at Tremont Temple which will be followed by the celebration of the Lord's Supper, should prove of incalculable inspirational value at this trying time in the world's history. At the first evening session, Dr. Morgan Gibson of London and Mr. Raymond Robins of Chicago, will speak on "The World of 1620—The World of 1920," at another session Rev. S. Parkes Cadman will discuss "The Contribution of Puritanism to the English speaking world." Again, Rev. E. Griffith Jones and Rev. Ashley D. Leavitt will talk on "The Contribution of Congregationalism to Civil and Religious Liberty," and Mr. A. E. Hutton who is a well known English layman, and President Marion L. Burton of Michigan University, will speak on "Congregationalism in Education: Its History and Present Problems."

Miss Jane Addams of Chicago on "The World Food Situation" can be counted on to strike the international note in a very noble way. And again this note will be worthily upheld at the Fourth of July celebration which comes on Sunday, and which will take the form in the afternoon of a memorial service for the soldiers who died in the great war, and in the evening will be internationally patriotic in character, with Sir Auckland Geddes as speaker.

The music of the Conference is to be a feature of special interest and value in that under the direction of Professor H. Augustine Smith of Boston University historic church hymns will be sung with large choruses and with stirring orchestral accompaniment. Another feature of unusual appeal will be the great exhibit in the halls and balconies adjacent to Mechanics Hall of books and pamphlets, relics, photographs, tracts, charts and maps from all parts of the United States and from all other lands of whatever may help to illustrate the history, life and work of the Congregationalists and Congregationalism.

But it will not be forgotten in this feast of inspiration and flow of oratory that the season is summer and that the nearby historic shrines are naturally of great interest to the delegates. On Thursday of the session a pilgrimage will be made to Plymouth Rock where appropriate exercises will be held. Allusion will doubtless be made at this time to the new portico which the National Society of Colonial Dames is planning to erect at this famous spot, thus affording a monument comparable in dignity to the tomb of Napoleon in the Hotel des Invalides.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

At last the Supreme Court has handed down its decision regarding the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment and the question is settled beyond the peradventure of a doubt. There were few intelligent people who were worried over the outcome—on the dry side, at least—but it is a satisfaction to know that there was no dissenting voice among the arbiters, in so far as the validity of the amendment was concerned. The phrase "concurrent" admitted of some division as to its interpretation but the majority upheld all power conferred by the Volstead Act. And even the leading advocate of the "wets," Levy Mayer of Chicago, has said that the avenue of the courts is closed.

Now for the full enforcement of the law and the hearty co-operation of all in the effort to bring about better conditions. The nation is not to be made perfect by the coming of prohibition but the greatest stumbling block in its progress has been removed in the downfall of the legalized liquor traffic. And reformers and philanthropists may now give their attention to remedying other evils such as child labor and entrenched wrongs of various kinds. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has a great field before it and not yet is it time to lay down its weapons in the war for better things.

For various reasons it has been thought best to postpone the June meeting of the local Union until the fourth Friday of the month when Miss Nellie Frank Hill, general manager of the Frances E. Willard Settlement, will bring a party of children from Boston to entertain and be entertained at the home of Mrs. Hamilton, the president. Reserve the date.

Norumbega Park is to be the place at which Middlesex County will hold its annual picnic, June 15, and a large attendance is desired. A number will go from Winchester and those wishing to go in company with others may arrange with Mrs. Hamilton, local and county president, tel. 273-M, sometime before that date. Various attractions are offered and a box lunch will be carried by those going.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Our President, Mrs. Bond, will leave Winchester, Monday, June 14, to attend the Biennial Convention at Des Moines.

Mrs. May, President of the Roxbury Club and chairman of the State Legislative Committee, will be her travelling companion.

Mrs. Bauer, President of the State Federation, has appointed Mrs. Bond chairman of a Federation Committee to co-operate with the Department of Justice in the fight against the High Cost of Living.

This is a nation wide movement and we are glad that The Fortnightly has expressed her sentiment in regard to it by the mass meeting recently held in the Town Hall.

Over a thousand of the pledge cards have been distributed, they may now be obtained of Mrs. A. W. Mudge, chairman of the committee, or by courtesy of Mrs. Carpenter, at The Exchange.

We wish Mrs. Bond bon voyage on her journey West, knowing that she will do her part well, and bring back to us much of interest which occurs there.

HELPED BY WESTERN IDEALS

American Missionaries Must Be Given Much Credit for the Uplifting of John Chinaman.

He is now to be found in every country of the globe. As an immigrant he comes ignorant of language and subject to oppressive laws, but he makes his own way. Drop him down on any spot on the earth's surface and he will make a living for himself and ask odds of no one. The Chinese beggar in a foreign land is unknown. He is miserly and lives cheaply only when circumstances compel. When prosperity smiles there is no more generous people. As a trader and a merchant he has no equal. In the Philippines there are only 50,000 Chinese, less than 1 per cent of the total population. But this handful of Chinese controls 90 per cent of the retail trade of the islands. In trade, in scholarship, in bodily strength and endurance, in industry John Chinaman individually is able to hold his own against all comers. He can live and prosper in adverse conditions where all other races fail. Yet his country is weak and helpless against the aggressions of smaller countries and its future is a subject of apprehension and doubt. Official corruption, superstition, provincial spirit in stead of national patriotism, bind the country to old forms, and make its progress slow and uncertain. Western ideals and learning, carried to China largely by the American missionary, are helping now to show more clearly the ways to advancement and are loosening some of the old bonds.—World's Work.

WRIGHT-KENDALL

A June wedding of interest to Winchester's young people was that of Wednesday evening, when Miss Marian Ingersoll Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ingersoll Kendall of 7 Symmes road, was married to Mr. Whitehead Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wright.

The wedding was largely attended, guests from many surrounding places being present. Both the bride and the groom enjoy a large circle of friends. Rev. John W. Suter, rector honorarius of the Church of the Epiphany officiated, the ceremony being performed at the church at seven-thirty.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white satin with court train, trimmed with silver flowers. Her veil was of tulle, caught with orange blossoms. Miss Jean Daly of Naperville, Ontario, Canada, was maid of honor, wearing a dress of orchid organdie with picture hat to match. Mr. Harry Goodwin of Medford, an overseas veteran and close associate of the groom, was best man.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Morrison and Miss Esther Cutting of this town, Miss Dorothy Jones of Boston and Miss Olive Her of New York City. They wore apple leaf green organdie with picture hats. The ushers were Mr. Maynard Wheeler of this town, Mr. Gordon Hall of Brookline, Mr. Roland Day of Medford and Mr. Winslow Wetherbee of Newton Centre.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, the couple being assisted in receiving by their parents. There was a large attendance at the reception as at the ceremony, and the same group of ushers assisted. The house was decorated largely with roses and carnations.

Mr. Wright, who served twenty-one months overseas with the 26th Division, will locate in Omaha, Nebraska, where he and his bride will reside after their wedding trip.

SATURDAY'S PLAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

A. W. Hilliard was the winner of the special cup play at the Winchester Country Club Saturday afternoon, the event being an 18 hole medal play. There was a field of over 30 entrants. Mr. Hilliard's card turned in a net of 65, his gross being 96. G. N. Proctor and F. H. Walker tied for second net with 73 each and E. L. Smith turned in the best gross with 81.

SORE THROAT EPIDEMIC

A septic sore throat epidemic broke out in town last Saturday and Sunday, many people being affected. The first cases made their appearance late Friday and Saturday, and on Sunday the cases were reported to the Board of Health in considerable proportions. Steps were immediately taken to investigate and handle the situation.

Investigation seemed to indicate that milk was responsible for the trouble, and as a result one herd of cattle was immediately placed under observation and one cow in this herd isolated. Investigation by the local Board of Health under Inspector Maurice Dineen, who is receiving the co-operation of the State Board, is still under way.

Up to Tuesday, when the last case to date was reported, some 28 cases were brought to the attention of the health authorities, the majority coming in on Sunday. No new cases have been reported since Tuesday.

It appears that the trouble has been promptly located and remedied, and within a few days it is expected that the definite cause of the epidemic will be ascertained.

PROVINCETOWN

The Pilgrims' First Landing.

Historic Provincetown will be the scene of thousands of tourists during the coming season. The Cape Cod Steamship Company has made ample provisions for the comfort and convenience of all visitors to this historic spot.

The iron steamship Dorothy Bradford, newly renovated throughout, offers every convenience for a delightful sail across the bay, landing its guests at Provincetown at 1.30 p. m.; leaving Provincetown at 3 p. m.; reaching Boston at 7.00 p. m. Sundays and holidays a half hour later.

Special arrangements can be made for parties of 100 or more upon application to the manager, 400 Atlantic avenue, Boston, Mass.

EDISON EMPLOYEES PREPARE FOR MONSTER FIELD DAY

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston will hold its annual Field Day on Saturday, June 26, 1920, at the Company's Massachusetts Avenue grounds. Festivities of the day start at 8 o'clock in the morning and continue until 6 o'clock in the evening. On this day the Company plays host to all its employees and their families. All sorts of amusements have been arranged, including for the little ones the Stage Children of New England.

There will also be an exhibition by the Boy Scouts, a troupe of open-air performers, the Waltham Watch brass band, a troupe of merry songsters and dancing. Merry-go-rounds will furnish amusement for the little tots throughout the day, and lunch will be served to all entering the Company's gates by the Company. All food served on this day will come from the Company's own electric kitchen.

Mrs. Charles L. Edgar, the wife of President Charles L. Edgar, has offered a prize for the most originally dressed Edison child. The usual Field Day clowns will be in evidence, and over 12,000 people are expected to attend this event.

The Company's doctors and nurses will be in attendance throughout the day to render assistance to those who may become ill, also a special menu has been prepared for the Company's guests under five years of age.

WINCHESTER LOST TO WATERTOWN

Winchester High lost to Watertown High Friday afternoon on Manchester field in the Mystic Valley series, the visitors taking the game 3 to 2. Watertown opened with two runs in the first, the local nine making one at their turn at bat. In the sixth Watertown got another run and Winchester two, thereby evening things up. Watertown again scored in the seventh, and in the ninth errors and passes gave it two more.

WINCHESTER GRANGE

Winchester Grange will hold its next regular meeting Tuesday evening, June 22, at Lyceum Hall. The program will be in the hands of the Home Economics Committee and will consist of a very interesting paper on "Corn" by Mrs. Philip B. Carter of Melrose. Refreshments will be served by the committee.

Announcement is made that the meeting of Middlesex-Essex Pomona Grange, scheduled for June 30 at Reading will be held Wednesday, June 23. The fifth degree will be conferred at this meeting.

Winchester Grange entertained a very large attendance of its little folks at a Children's Party, June 8. The worthy lecturer, Sr. Helen E. Dewar, provided a delightful program, and bags of candy, nuts and crackers, with the inevitable ice cream cones, were given each little guest. The children thoroughly enjoyed themselves, as did the visiting grangers, who were looking for inspiration for like affairs.

Somerville Grange is holding a benefit dance at Condit's Ballroom at Revere, Monday evening, June 21, and Winchester is planning to send two truck loads of people to enjoy the treat.

WILLIAM B. SMITH

William B. Smith, residing in this town for about four years and a painter by occupation, died at the Winchester Hospital of heart disease Sunday. He was about 66 years of age, and had been employed by Henry Brookings.

While it is believed that he leaves two daughters in this vicinity, no information regarding them or other relatives was available, and the body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Kelley & Hawes to await claimants. If the remains are not claimed during the week he will be buried in Wildwood Cemetery.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

Tomorrow we will have the John C. Page Co. team as our attraction. Here is a team that is rated as one of the best semi-pro. teams in Greater Boston, and up to this writing had lost but one game out of seven played. They played Woburn yesterday but as this article had to be in the press we are unable to give the score of this game. With the article of ball Winchester is playing, Manchester Field should have some big crowds the rest of the season.

ANOTHER CENTRE BLOCK SOLD

Mr. P. H. Randall, proprietor of the confectionery store in the White Block on Mt. Vernon street, has purchased that building of the S. B. White Heirs. The property includes 4,790 feet of land and the two story and basement brick block numbering 5 to 13 Mt. Vernon street. The building was last assessed for $7,000 and the land $7,675.

This block was built some years ago expressly for use by the Winchester Y. M. C. A., the entire upper floor and rear being constructed for parlors, game rooms, hall and gymnasium to be used by the Association. Since the Association was discontinued here the second floor has been used for offices, and an apron factory occupied the gymnasium portion for some time previous to the war. At present the building is occupied in addition to Mr. Randall's large quarters by Bowser & Bancroft, and Gargas Bros.

CHILDREN'S SUNDAY CONCERT

There was a large attendance on Sunday afternoon at the annual Children's Sunday concert of the First Baptist church. An interesting program was presented by the children as follows:

WINCHESTER MEN ACTIVE IN BANKERS' CONVENTION

Winchester men are actively engaged this week in entertaining visiting bankers on the occasion of the 18th annual convention of the American Institute of Banking at Boston. During the week the leading bankers of the country will address the delegates. Heading the committee of the Associated Banks and Trust Companies in charge of arrangements is Mr. Herbert E. Stone, chairman of the Executive Committee; Mr. George S. F. Bartlett, chairman of the Publicity Committee; F. S. Snyder, Acceptance Committee; Walter B. Kramer, Correspondence Schools; and R. W. Bugbee, Forms. On the ladies' committee are Mrs. Herbert E. Stone and Mrs. George S. F. Bartlett. There are 80 chapters and 31,000 members in the National organization, and more than 1000 of them are expected in Boston this week. Mr. George S. F. Bartlett of the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank is first vice-president of the local chapter.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

A committee from The Fortnightly met with a special committee from the Winchester Board of Trade as mentioned in last week's STAR. This meeting was called in the interest of the townspeople to take up the question of H. C. L. with the Winchester merchants. Nothing definite was accomplished, but it is hoped that some good may result from this conference.

The children in the Chapin and Wyman schools, who have been under the care of Dr. Moore through the Home Economics Committee this year, will be given a picnic at Spot Pond on Monday afternoon, June 21.

Autos have been provided for transportation and refreshments will be served.

Everything has been done by this committee to ensure a good time for the children, and if the sun shines it will certainly be a gala day for them.

AFTERNOON OF FLOWERS

The Epiphany Circle's "Afternoon of Flowers" held at the residence of Mrs. Roland H. Sherman, June 12th, proved to be a most enjoyable and successful affair. The children were costumed in floral colors, picturesquely grouped on the terrace down to the lake and entertained with stories and games by Miss Ure of Brookline.

Three "Flower Fortune-telling Ladies" distributed flowers to each of which a "fortune" was attached, and ices and refreshments were served in novel ways representing flowers.

The Epiphany Circle is an organization of little girls who, during the winter, sew for Missions and assist in the charity work of the Church of the Epiphany.

This particular entertainment was given for the benefit of a French orphan which the Circle has cared for during the last three years.

NASH-SULLIVAN

Miss Anna E. Sullivan, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan of 62 Nelson street, and Mr. Ivan J. Nash, son of the late Frederick C. Nash of Belfast, Me., were united in marriage Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt at St. Mary's rectory.

The bride wore a dainty gown of white georgette with tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Marion L. Sullivan, was bridesmaid. She was gown in pink georgette, with a picture hat to match, and carried Killarney roses. The best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Arthur E. Nash of Lawrence.

A large gathering attended the reception which followed the ceremony, and which was held at the home of the bride's mother on Nelson street. The ushers for the occasion were Robert J. and William H. Sullivan, brothers of the bride. Her aunt, Mrs. James Cannon of Virginia, and Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan assisted in receiving.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful and substantial gifts. They will make their home in Burrage, Mass., upon their return from a wedding trip to New York and Washington.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

June 14, 1920

The Board met at 7.30 p. m. All present.

The records of the meeting of June 7, 1920, were read and approved. Licenses 1920 Junk Dealers: A license of this class approved by the Chief of Police was granted to Michael J. Foley, effective to May 1, 1921, unless sooner revoked, and subject to the usual fee of $10.

Grade Crossing: The Board instructed Mr. Kidder to ask the Planning Board and Finance Committee to meet with the Selectmen some evening other than Monday within the next ten days to discuss the matter of an underground foot-passageway at the Boston & Maine railroad station from Waterfield road to Common street.

Town Clerk: A letter was received from Richard B. Coolidge, Representative of the Twenty-fifth Middlesex District, thanking the Board for its kind letter conveying to him the thanks of the Board, and he states that it was a great satisfaction to have some part in securing the enactment of a bill which may make Winchester the first town in the Commonwealth in which a woman is town clerk, especially where the appointment is so deserved.

Measures of Leather: Petitions were received from Thomas H. Matthews, Michael J. Sullivan and James V. Haley to be reappointed measurers of leather for the year ending June 30, 1921, and the matter was laid over pending all such applications the latter part of this month.

Overseers of the Poor: A notice was received from the Overseers of the Poor of a vacancy on said Board caused by the death of George H. Carter, and a request that a joint session be held to fill such vacancy, and the Board voted to hold a joint meeting Monday evening, June 21, 1920, at 8.15 a. m., in the Selectmen's Room.

Gas Service (Stone avenue): Upon favorable recommendation of the Superintendent of Streets, the Board voted to grant the Arlington Gas Light Company permission to extend the main on Stone avenue from Washington street to Highland avenue, a distance of about 850 feet, in accordance with plan approved by the Town Engineer.

Gas Service (Governor's avenue): Upon favorable recommendation by the Superintendent of Streets, the Board voted to grant the Arlington Gas Light Company permission to lay gas main in Governor's avenue in accordance with location given by Town Engineer for a distance of approximately 425 feet, or to such point in said avenue as is to be completed by the Town for travel.

The meeting adjourned at 10.30 p. m.

Acting Clerk of Selectmen.

OPEN MEETING

An open meeting was held under the auspices of Winchester Council, K. of C., Tuesday evening at Lyceum Hall. Judge William J. Day of South Boston, State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus; Dist. Deputy James E. Henchey of Woburn, and William R. Renton, formerly of Belgium, and Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt, pastor of St. Mary's Church and chaplain of Winchester Council, K. of C., were the speakers. Grand Knight J. Chris Sullivan of Winchester Council, K. of C., presided at the meeting. Judge Day explained the work of the Knights of Columbus during the war and outlined the educational, social welfare and civic program of activities of the organization. Mr. Renton gave a talk on his experiences and observations in Belgium during the early stages of the war. Rev. Fr. Merritt spoke of the effort of Winchester Council to secure a building and home for its members through the building association of council members, and urged the members of the council to do all in their power to make the influence of the Knights of Columbus in Winchester beneficial to the town in every way.

MEDAL FOR BRAVE BOY SCOUT

Through Scout Commissioner Frank F. Gray, a Montclair Boy Scout, Edward W. Rice, of 241 North Mountain avenue, grandson of Edward H. Rice of 20 Eaton street, this town, has been notified by James E. West, secretary of the National Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts, that the court has awarded him a bronze medal for rescuing Harriet Whitney while on his vacation in Maine last summer.

"The intrinsic value of this medal is small," said Mr. West's communication, "but what it stands for should mean much to you now and in the future. It shows that you, as a true Scout, were prepared to do your utmost, even though it may have resulted in the loss of your own life. You will, I am sure, prize this medal very highly, and it will always tend to keep before you the great lesson of being prepared to render service in an emergency."

NO ATTENDANCE BEFORE HOUSING COMMITTEE

The local committee on housing held a second meeting on Friday night for the purpose of hearing complaints of Winchester residents regarding high rentals and also for the purpose of allowing owners of the Middlesex property appear in answer to charges of profiteering made by their tenants. No one attended the meeting, and it is assumed by the committee that at present there is no complaint here over housing conditions.

AWARDED WINGATE TROPHY

Marshall F. Hatcher of Macon, Ga., second baseman on the Exeter team, has been awarded the Wingate memorial trophy donated by Charles E. L. Wingate, '79, of Winchester, in memory of his son, Captain Dana P. Wingate of the 1910 Exeter nine and later captain at Harvard.

BASEBALL

By Mack

Last Saturday we met and defeated the fast Packard Co. team 1 to 0, in one of the best games ever seen on Manchester Field. Great pitching by Davidson, who was well supported by the rest of his team, prevented the visitors from scoring. Davidson held the Packard team to without a hit of run. The game was run off very quickly, requiring only 1 hour and 20 minutes to play it. While Davidson pitched good ball, and had no trouble beating his team, the visitors also put up a good game and did some great work behind Madden, their own pitcher.

There was a change in our line-up owing to an injury to Hovey. Hillis played short and Christoforo at second, and this combination worked all right. We will not be called upon again this season to face such a team as the Packard Co., as the manager always makes it his business to strengthen the team when it plays here. This team plays good clean baseball, and are a credit to the Packard Co. and its manager, Mr. Bolles.

The score:

123456789 R H E
Packard Co. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1

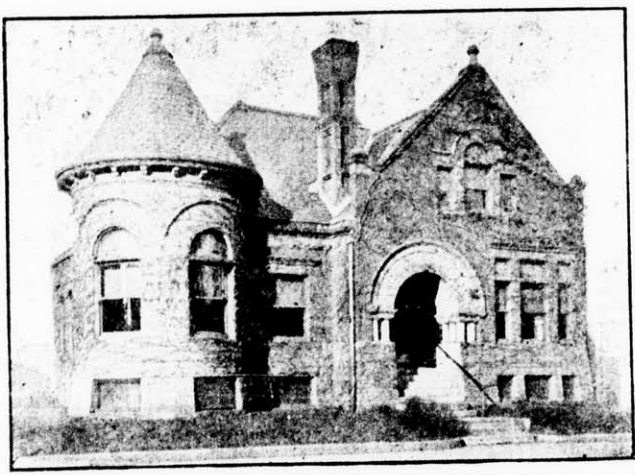

Batteries: Davidson and Bradish; Madden and Brooks. Umpire: Finn.

HOW SHOES ARE MADE

Shoes for the feet we took for granted until their higher prices made them weigh heavily on our minds.

A study of its making transforms the humble shoe into an epic of American ingenuity and skill, according to William Joseph Showalter, who writes to the National Geographic Society as follows:

There are four general types of footwear, according to the manner in which the soles are attached to the uppers. The leading type is the welt. It has a small strip of leather sewed fast, first to the upper, and then to the sole, so that upper and sole are not joined directly. Welt soles are used mainly in higher grade men's and boys' shoes and in women's walking shoes.

The McKay sewed shoe is the second type. In it the sole is sewed directly to the upper. The cheaper grades of stiff-soled sewed shoes are made by this method.

The turned shoe is the third type. In it the sole is joined to the upper with the whole shoe inside out, then turned. Women's pliable-soled shoes are made in this fashion.

The nailed, pegged, or crepe-on sole represents the fourth type and goes with cheaper grades of shoes.

As uppers leather comes into the factory it has the irregular outlines of a hide or skin, as indicated on the coast of Maine, and by hand could be measured only by a master of trigonometry, through a long process of calculations, but a machine has been invented that can calculate more areas in half a minute than a mathematician could in half a day.

Fifty machines, a hundred people, and two hundred processes are employed in the making of a pair of shoes.

In the linings department are big machines that cut uppers cloth, twenty to forty thicknesses at a clip, as easily as a cake-cutter cuts dough.

Beyond is the uppers leather department. Here a trained man, with stubby-bladed, razor-edged knife, takes the skin, lays it on his cutting board, and, running his knife around his several aluminum patterns, cuts out vamp and quarter and toe piece with accomplished art in getting the maximum of pieces out of the minimum of skins. When he has finished with a skin it looks like shapeless strings bordering a series of irregular holes.

In cheaper grades of shoes the leather also is cut by "dinking" machines—mechanical cake-cutters applied to shoemaking. Only one ply is cut at a time, but there are series of dies for the different parts.

After the quarters, vamps, toe caps, etc., have been cut the leather must be skived, so as to prevent any raw edges showing in the finished shoe. The edges are fed through a machine that shaves the unfinished side down to a bevel. This is then covered with cement and the thin edges folded over, much as a seamstress lays a hem. The linings go from the assembly room to be transferred from individual pieces into the canvas counterpart of the leather upper. The quarters are joined at the back and stayed with a reinforcement. The vamps are cemented into shape, ready for inclusion in the finished upper.

The tips go to the toe-cap room, where they are perforated at the edge to give them a pleasing appearance on the foot of the wearer. Fourteen different processes are required to transform a piece of tip leather into a finished cap, with its box to hold the shape of the shoe and canvas lining to protect the hose of the wearer.

The joining of the quarters and vamp must be done with great care, so that there is neither unevenness nor roughness. It is the most difficult task in the making of the upper of a shoe. Judgment and care are required and much strength of hand. Other minor processes follow, and presently the finished upper faces forth to meet its sole-mate in the making department. Before it goes, if it is a laced upper, a girl puts it through a machine that laces it up and ties it in the twinkling of an eye—a machine that would be a glorious aid to a fat man.

Preparatory to its alliance with the sole, the upper is lasted. The inside has been tacked on the last, and the upper is now pulled tight by over the last with a machine that has pincers which act like human fingers. They draw the whole upper in tightly over the last, so that there is not a wrinkle left, and tack it down on the bottom. The toe and heel require a little extra attention and are held down by a piece of fine wire.

The lasted shoe next goes through a trimming machine that removes all surplus leather, while a mechanical hammer pounds the leather smooth. Then it goes to another machine, where the toes and heels are beaten smooth, making the shoe ready for welting.

The welt is so prepared that it can be sewed to the insole and the upper in one sewing, and later have the outsole sewed to it. After the joining of insole and upper to the welt, the shoe is passed through the insole trimming machine. Next it goes to a machine where a small hammer gives the welt a terrific beating. The insole and welt are then covered with rubber cement, as is the waiting sole, when this has dried slightly, the sole is laid on and the shoe is put into a pressing machine, where the cement is dried. Next it goes to the rough rounding machine, which rounds sole and welt, allowing them to extend out from the upper at all points. Looking at the shoe on your foot, you will see that this extension is less at the shank than at the ball, and less on the outer side than on the inner side of the foot. The rough rounding machine also cuts a little groove around the bottom of the sole for the purpose of receiving and covering the stitching, to follow. The welt extends back only to the heel. The latter has no welt, but is stitched directly and has its own special treatment.

One shoe factory in Massachusetts has a daily output of 14,000 pairs, each pair marching through the factory in fourteen days in ordinary times.

WHAT we ought to hear must be as welcome as what we like to hear.

THE CLOSE OF SCHOOL

Another year has glided into space. So many things upon the road we would erase; But what was done by us on yesterday Can never be undone, try as we may.

So also in this life as we go on. We can look back and see the things we might have done. See opportunities that came but once our way. Which, when not grasped by us, slipped uselessly away.

But let us not look backward very long. For, viewing our mistakes, we'd lose the song Of faith, that guides us kindly on our way. Without which there could come no perfect day.

Then travel on, though heart be bleeding sore, Until we come at last, probation o'er. To that last day of school, with one accord, To where our teacher and our guide will be the Lord.

—H. C. Gould.

WORLD'S GREAT NEED OF TIN

War Has Diminished Supply of Indispensable Metal, and So Immensely Increased Its Cost.

Probably no market has been more vitally affected by the war and less subject to control than the tin market. It is not really an American industry, for an insignificant amount of tin is produced in the United States as compared with the total consumed. This country is almost absolutely dependent on foreign sources for its supplies. But the metal is a vital necessity at all times and in many directions. It is particularly a war metal in that its use is essential in producing tinplate for food and other containers and for bearings for machinery.

In no other metal has such complete chaos developed as in tin as a result of war conditions. It is the only metal which is exempt from price fixing by our own government, because about 99 per cent of our consumption comes from foreign countries, where its production and sale are controlled by foreign interests. Only its distribution here has been regulated as a war measure.

One of the largest importers has recently said that it would probably be a long time before 60-cent tin would again be seen. Before the war the metal was selling at a little over 30 cents a pound in New York. It has advanced by leaps and bounds until a month ago the New York price was nominal at over $1 a pound, with the future shipments from the east up to 95 cents—both unheard of heights. This has been caused by the fact that the world's output of tin has not been enough. In fact, statistics show that in recent years this has been at about a standstill.

FORTUNE VANISHED IN NIGHT

American Citizen Tells of His Experience in Mexico, Well Called Land of Revolutions.

The experiences of an American citizen in revolution-racked Mexico, in which between two suns he fell from a position of wealth and affluence to poverty, are told by W. A. King, importer of snakes and wild animals from that cactus country. Widely known as the "Snake King," he makes his headquarters in Brownsville, Tex., where he is prominent in Masonic circles. He was in Washington a few days ago on business with the federal government.

"I lived for a number of years in Mexico," he said, "and am one of the Americans who can really appreciate the genuine freedom of our nation. I had a unique experience there just before Pershing invaded that country on his hunt for Villa."

"I was in that section dominated by the Villa bandits and anarchists. I had in my personal possession more than 300,000 of the Villa pesos, and from the point of view of the Mexicans that sum of money made me a millionaire of influence."

"I went to bed one night with my wealth strapped around me in a money belt. I awakened the next morning and found that a military and political break had taken place between Villa and Carranza and I was a pauper."

"The 300,000 in pesos were worthless. I did not have the price of a cup of coffee."

The Extreme Penalty.

George, the colored porter, was telling about a negro gambling club.

"It shuh is some place, dat is," commented George.

"Any tough colored gamblers ever there?"

"No suh, no tough bulds, only nice gen'men."

"Any of the boys ever got rough?"

"Oh, no suh, not much."

"Any ever pull a razor on you?"

"No, not on dis baby."

"If one did, some real tough fellow, what would you do?"

"Tuhn dat man right ovah to de law."

"And supposing that he would cut you all up, just back you to bits, what would you do then?"

"In dat case dat man wud be bahd frum de club afiah dat!"

Helping Food Administrator.

One industrious war-gardener is pictured as working busily and reflecting on the virtue of raising his own food supply.

"If everybody grew his own vegetables and ate less meat," he soliloquized, "we'd put old Bill on the bum in a hurry. This is tough work, but I'll stick to it if it kills me. I'm with Hoover on this."

At this point a fine assortment of earthworms was unearthed. The digger's reflections immediately shifted to a shady stream and the final scene shows him happily fishing.

"Oh, well," he reflects to soothe his conscience, "vegetables or fish; it's all the same to Mr. Hoover."—War-Garden Guey.

HARRY T. MOREY

When not at work on a picture Harry T. Morey is to be found in No. 16, a dressing room which dates back to the early days of his career in the Brooklyn studio of Vitagraph. It was 10 years ago that he occupied this room with Earle Williams. The walls resemble a combination of art museum and rogues' gallery. They are hung with pictures of Morey in various roles, ranging from a policeman, his first part; the crook, Joseph Garson of "Within the Law," to the high financier in "The Gambler." Recently, he has added Philip Grey in "The Birth of a Soul" and a detective character in "The Flaming Claw."

ONE LESSON TAUGHT BY WAR

Seems Certain That Soldiers Will Spread Knowledge of the Value of Outdoor Living.

Most of us are already planning what we shall do "when the boys come home."

They have been away so long, on such a dangerous heroic mission, that when they come back we will love them more and treat them better than ever before. We will appreciate them—and take more time from our foolish hurrying for love and comradeship. We will spend more time enjoying the human companionship of the boys and each other.

But if we spend more time with them we'll have to spend it out of doors—for they won't stay in the house to play!

The men in the army and navy, drawn from the cooped-up places of modern social and industrial life, have suddenly been taught the uses and delights of plain, everyday fresh air. They like it so well that they won't be content with any other kind. They have learned what it is to sleep under the stars—a joy once reserved to tramps and poets. They have watched the exuberant glory and triumph of rosy sunrise and learned the solemn beauty of creeping twilight.

"In Flanders fields where poppies grow" they have learned a new and mighty language of the common grass and flowers, and thrill to the song of the lark that braves the battlefields as they never thrilled to solemn organ tones.

A day in June or October is more to them than a square on the calendar. It is a God-given time of sun and air, and work and play, and friendship and service—a glorious period of full use of mind and soul and body—for splendor of living inguessed in the old cooped-up life of indoors.

The soldiers have learned that outdoors is not just an interlude between work and home and amusement. Outdoors is freedom and health and happiness—and if we want to work and play with them hereafter we too shall have to follow them out-of-doors.—Chicago Evening Post.

PROVED EFFECT OF MICROBES

Experiments Made by French Scientist Reveal Possibility of Marvelous Things in the Future.

If there were no microbes men would grow to gigantic stature and have intellectual powers far in advance of those which they possess at present. What is more, it is possible, at least, to live without microbes. Anyway, these are the conclusions of no less an authority than Doctor Roux, who heads the Pasteur Institute in Paris. They are based upon the result of some experiments carried on by one of his pupils, Dr. Michael Cohendy.

Doctor Cohendy placed some guinea pigs under glass at the moment of their birth. The air which they breathed was thoroughly sterilized, as was all the food administered to them. Unquestionably many germs were able to reach them, but every precaution known to science and possible with the application of one of the complete laboratories in the world was exercised to protect them.

The result rather astounded the doctor. The subjects grew with amazing rapidity, three or four times as fast as guinea pigs of the same age subsisting under normal conditions. In the brief span of 12 days they were for the most part a third larger.

ENROLLED UNDER RED CROSS

Greek Girls, Trained Here as Nurses, Will Do Work of Mercy in Their Own Country.

Greek girls in the uniforms of American Red Cross nurses are now serving in the hospitals of Greece.

These girls are part of a number from New England who, anxious to help their fellow countrymen, decided to become nursing aids, says the public information bureau, Washington. They enrolled in training courses in the Massachusetts General hospital and other Boston hospitals, where they soon became proficient in their work. Recently four of them, who had practically completed their courses, decided that they would like to go back to Greece with the American mission which was just then about to leave. Through the Greek legation they applied for permission to go with this mission as members of the American Red Cross.

Now they are not only serving their own people, but are also creating a feeling in Greece which cements the long friendship of the Greeks with America. Although no American troops have been landed on Greek soil, the people are nevertheless pleased with the sight of an American uniform, no matter what branch of the service it represents.

Another group of Greek girls in Boston is taking up courses at Simmons college in dietetics, domestic science and home aid. These girls also expect shortly to sail for Greece.

Early Trench Journals.

There is a very long list of these early trench journals, the majority of which have been collected by Mr. Charles de La Ronciere, who has deposited them at the Bibliotheque Nationale in Paris for the benefit of the future historians of the war. They include Le Petit Echo du 18e Regiment d'infanterie territoriale, which was very artistically edited by Corporal Hulmer and autographed in many colors; L'Echo des Tranchées, the editor of which was the famous short story writer Paul Reboux, and which contained articles and poems by such writers as Poincaré and Rostand, Theodore Botrel and Henri de Regnier; and the Echo du Ravin, the organ of the Forty-first chasseurs, which boasted of a private wire connecting the office with abroad—the barbed wire reaching right up to the trenches of the Boches.—Wide World Magazine.

Which Shows!

Two handsomely dressed ladies were seated side by side in an outgoing street car a few afternoons ago. A man in front of them opened a Nashville Banner, which had a great headline, "Germany Sends Embassies to Foch." One lady asked the other: "What does that mean?" The other replied: "I haven't the slightest idea." Which shows that both were qualified military experts.—Nashville Banner.

Reindeer Record.

The reindeer has been known to pull 200 pounds at a ten-mile pace for 12 hours. Santa Claus must be the one who established that record.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

This country will never be free until it is free of people who think it isn't.

The young man who fools around forgets that there are enough fools around already.

The greatest grief in life is to be misunderstood.

A lot of us who think we are living the best we ever lived are living the worst.

A man isn't necessarily worthless just because his neighbor is worth more.

Keep your fur coat and rubbers handy.

The matter of the removal of the unsightly and inconvenient overhead bridge at the railroad station, which seemed to approach an accomplished fact a few days ago, now seems to be again on the wane. Through the efforts of Selectman George M. Byrne, the removal of this structure and the subsequent construction of a tunnel looked bright. Mr. Byrne took the matter up with the railroad and various others concerned, obtained figures and went into the matter very thoroughly. The construction of the tunnel was reported to have been estimated in the neighborhood of $20,000, and it was his intention to call a special town meeting this spring to obtain the sentiment of Winchester citizens over the removal of the bridge and the construction of the tunnel, in order that the preliminaries to the work might go on during the summer, should the town desire the improvement. That every citizen desires the removal of the bridge is without question, and that it does not furnish the safety intended is amply illustrated daily by the number who walk down the tracks and around the fence in crossing, rather than climb up over it. From latest information it seems that the meeting will not be called, although it is said that should the town desire to undertake the construction alone it might do so upon the approval of the County Commissioners. The matter will undoubtedly come up for an expression of public opinion at the first opportunity, and in view of the important future development now forming, all entailing large sums of money, and in at least one instance directly affecting this crossing of the tracks, it is to be hoped that the tunnel will continue to be an improvement of importance in the eyes of public officials.

VIENNA: A CITY OF THE DYING

A "city of the dead" is gruesome; a city of the dying is more appalling—and the latter phrase describes the Vienna of today.

To recall Vienna as it was—gay, musical and dancing—is only to heighten the contrast, says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Recollections of the "prettiest sight in Europe," when thousands of children joined the Procession in the Prater at Whitsuntide, only emphasizes the poignant tragedy of those other thousands, now in hospitals, too weak and sick to cry for food.

The Prater, three times the size of Washington's Rock Creek Park, symbolized the Viennese love of outdoors, which a climate of changeable variety could not quench. There, scarcely out of earshot of each other, the famous military bands played music which later was to be hummed by home-going American theater audiences. Tame deer were as plentiful as the friendly squirrels of Richmond's Capitol Park.

Fourth city of Europe before the war, as large as our own Chicago, Vienna seems doomed, not to temporary suffering, like many another European city, but to permanent disability. She was important principally for being the seat of government of an empire of some 50,000,000 people and rich natural resources. Thus she was like Washington, D. C., only her accretion of prestige, culture, and popularity extended from Roman times.

While the population of Austria-Hungary was but half that of the United States, Vienna was the art, musical, and tourist center of a population fairly comparable to that of the United States.

Therefore Vienna's position today may be likened to that of Washington, should the American capital suddenly become the chief city of an area equal only to that of Virginia, with a population little more than that of Pennsylvania. To complete the comparison, one must imagine this Virginia rimmed with new-born and none too friendly nations. That would mean its nine millions of people could not buy foodstuffs, coal, or raw materials from adjoining States. That is Vienna's plight today.

Vienna abounds in relics of her former glory. Such a reminder is St. Stephen's, the St. Peter's of Austria, which has been a Viennese shrine for seven centuries. The older tower, now replaced by a spire half as high as the Eiffel Tower, was the home of Vienna's early fire department.

By climbing 700 steps the fire watchers reached a platform where there were four telescopes, sweeping every point of the compass. Each quadrant, covered by one telescope, was divided into sections, enabling the observer to determine the exact locality of the fire. House owners in each section corresponding to these sectors were listed in great books by the side of each telescope, and as soon as the observer determined which house was ablaze he wrote the name on a slip of paper, threw it down a long pipe to a janitor below, and by him the fire was reported to the city authorities.

Legend, as well as quaint fact, adheres to many of the landmarks of Vienna. To the south of the city is a beautiful cross, the Spinnerinn am Kreuz. The site was a rendezvous for tourists because of the panorama of the city it afforded. Though the present cross is more than five centuries old, it replaced a simpler crucifix, which is said to have been placed there by a woman whose husband went away on one of the Crusades. When he returned she erected the cross, as an act of gratitude, with the money she earned by spinning.

Only a few years before the World War Vienna embarked upon municipal ownership to an unprecedented scale. Not only did the city own her electric and gas lighting plants, her street railways, and warehouses, but also her breweries, pawnshops, and undertaking establishments.

As befits a city to which the western world owes a debt of gratitude because it was the bulwark against the Turks, Vienna was heavily fortified. The pulling down of these fortifications made room for the extensive park system. With the demolition of the inner ring of forts space was given for the Ring-strasse, or boulevard, which has a two-mile circumference, and is about 150 feet wide. Around this circle, or more accurately, octagon, run street cars, passing various sections given over to different phases of city life, such as the Opera, the business street, the city palace of the former Emperor, and so on.

Vienna is not on the Danube, but is connected with the river's course, several miles away, by a canal.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Miss Marion Reynolds graduated from Smith College on Tuesday.

Mr. Lacy Coe of New York and Chicago, a violinist of note, was the guest of Mrs. E. L. Dunning over the weekend.

By the forfeiture of Winchester High to play its postponed game with Arlington High Wednesday afternoon, the later team wins the Mystic Valley Interscholastic championship for this year.

Former Governor Samuel W. McCall made the commencement address at Columbus, Ohio, Tuesday, at the Ohio State University. A class of 891 graduated.

An exciting baseball game was played Wednesday afternoon between the faculty of the Wadleigh and High Schools. The latter won the game 7 to 6, by the assistance of some of its feminine members.

June 17 was another most disagreeable day to be numbered with those already enjoyed this spring. Rain and cold combined to put a damper on all outdoor festivities and sports, and during the night the rain came down in torrents.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hewitt and daughter, Miss Dorothy, and Miss Irene Lord, will leave on June 28 for a two-months trip through the Canadian Rockies, Yellowstone Park, Alaska, etc., with the Colpitts-Beckman Tourist Company.

The second annual entertainment and exhibition of the Winchester Boy Scouts will be held Saturday evening, June 19, at the Town Hall, beginning at 8 p. m. After the exhibition there will be dancing. As the boys have worked hard to prepare for this event we hope a large number will be present.

WEATHER PERMITTING

The Methodist Sunday School will hold its picnic at the Sheep Fold tomorrow (Saturday), 12 m to 6 p. m. Luncheon at 5 p. m.

SEEKING SECRETS OF ARCTIC

Daring Feats That Have Been Undertaken by Both Roald Amundsen and Storker Storkerson.

Two Arctic explorers, Roald Amundsen, noted Norwegian, drifting in his ice-locked boat eastward from the Atlantic, and Storker Storkerson, lieutenant of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Canadian explorer, floating westward from the Pacific on an ice pack, are both believed approaching the new Siberian islands, which jut out of the Arctic ocean off the mouth of the Lena river in Siberia. Authorities credited with knowing the Arctic currents believe the two will reach the islands early next year, the Washington Evening Star says.

No other explorers are now in the Arctic, and it is thought very likely that neither Amundsen nor Storkerson knows the other has the same goal in mind. They probably will not meet, for Storkerson is expected to arrive ahead of Amundsen and probably will land far west of Amundsen's course.

Amundsen, the discoverer of the south pole and navigator of the difficult Northwest passage, is on the first lap of a journey to the north pole. He expects to make the last lap by airplane. Storkerson is bound back in the general direction of civilization after spending several years in the Arctic. Both are seeking new lands and studying the currents and life of the northern ocean.

When Amundsen reaches the Siberian islands the current, it is believed, will turn and carry him north. He is expected to remain with the drift until it lands him on the immovable ice far up toward the pole. There, according to his plans, he will establish a base and attempt to fly the rest of the distance to the top of the globe.

Parody on James Whitcomb Riley's

"THE GOBBLE-UNS 'LL GIT YOU IF YOU PIPE AN' WATCH OUT"

By Clara E. Birdsall (Inscribed)

To all the profiteers: The happy ones and sad ones:
The sober and the silent ones; the boisterous and glad ones;
The good ones (if there are any)—and all the bad ones.

The coal man big an' strong an' black come to our house today.
An' lit his pipe an' scratched his head an' whistled a tune away.
He wet the coal an' shot it in with an awful rush an' roar,
An' picked up the lumps so tidily an'
slammed the bulkhead door,
An' handed me the bill with an apologetic air.
"Ye gods and profiteers," I cried,
"D'yu think that this is fair?"
"No, ma'am," he said, "Y'know the Reds are in jail and the coal barons are out,
But the Bolsheviks 'll git them
Ef they Don't Watch
Out!"

Wunst I went to buy some things for all of us to eat,
A thimbleful of flour, some bread, an ounce or so of meat,
A cake of soap, a box of oats, a pint of York State beans.
I swan, to pay the bill for them took almost all my means.
The clerk bit off his pencil end an'
studied o'er the sheet.
An' charged me eighty cents a pound for my ounce or so of meat.
"Y'see the packers control the meat," he said, "An' know what they're about."
"But the Bolsheviks 'll git them
Ef they Don't Watch
Out!"

An' shoes an' houses an' clothes an'
ev'ry last thin' we use,
Are sky high an' climbin' higher,
while a few pocket the booze.
One hundred per cent, two hundred per cent, two thousand per cent's
the rate,
With twenty thousand new millionaires, while millions curse their fate.
We're bound for the rocks as sure as fate unless the wind should turn,
An' the powers that be an' the profiteers their age-old lessons learn.
"Oh ye who grow rich while little children go without!
The Bolsheviks 'll git you
Ef you Don't Watch
Out!"

An' the coal man says what the grocer man thinks.
An' the "unrest" quickens, an' our hopefulness sinks,
An' ye see the miners quit an' the times are gray.
An' the laughter in men's eyes is all quenched away.
Y' better change your tactics, all ye profiteers.
An' pay heed to the times an' dry the widows' tears.
An' put this world on an even keel ef
ye know what you're about.
Er the Bolsheviks 'll git us all Ef we Don't Watch
Out!"

VENUS, MARS, AND THE MOON: OUR CELESTIAL NEIGHBORS

Sending wireless messages to Mars and Venus, and the possibility of projecting a rocket to the moon, are subjects of recent speculation which have excited keener interest in our solar system.

"Mars always challenges interest," says William Joseph Shewalter, in a communication to the National Geographic Society.

Its day is about the same length as ours, but its year is nearly twice as long. Although astronomers generally take less interest than laymen in the surmise as to whether other planets and stars are inhabited, since they, more than laymen, realize that this is a problem that must in all human probability remain unsolved, the question is more often asked about Mars than any other planet.

Venus was an unusually interesting object in the sky during July of last year. Not again until February, 1921, will it appear as bright and fair in the evening sky. It has phases like the moon, and these can be seen even through a good field glass. Its day is believed to be the same length as its year, which is 224 of our days.

It is quite generally believed that Mars has ice-capped poles. The telescope reveals white spots at the poles that have every appearance of being like our ocean Polar region. They advance toward the equator in winter and retreat in summer. In the summer of 1916, Pickering, who, with Lowell, has led the school of astronomers who believe they can see canals on Mars, said that he found the white caps stretching farther down toward the equator than he had ever seen them before.

He said that if there was any connection between the weather of Mars and that of the earth, the winter of 1916-17 would be the coldest in many years. And it was. May it yet be possible to do long-range weather forecasting on the earth by studying the waxing and waning of the ice-cap on the South Pole of Mars?

Perhaps our most graphic picture of the solar system is given by Herschel. Imagine a circular field two and a half miles in diameter; place a library globe two feet in diameter in the very center; eighty-two feet away put a mustard seed. The globe will represent the sun and the mustard seed Mercury.

At a distance of 142 feet place a pea, and another at 215 feet. These will represent Venus and the earth, both as to size and distance. A rather large pinhead at a distance of 327 feet will speak for Mars, and a mile-sized tangerine a quarter of a mile distant will stand for Jupiter. A small lemon at two-fifths of a mile will play the role of Saturn, a large cherry three-fourths of a mile distant will answer for Uranus, and a fair-sized plum at the very edge of the field will proclaim Neptune.

Eighty moons would be required to make one earth. A player there could throw a ball six times as far as it can be thrown on American diamonds. A man weighing 150 pounds there would weigh 900 on the earth. The earth receives as much light and heat from the sun in thirteen seconds as it gets from the moon in a whole year.

ARE SOME BALLROOM DANCES OF INDIAN ORIGIN

"Whatever one's view concerning the propriety of the 'fox trot,' the 'lame duck,' and the 'grizzly bear,' one fact about them may be of interest—animal dances are not new," says a bulletin issued today by the National Geographic Society from its Washington headquarters.

These dances recall the steps long practiced by the American Indians and also by some primitive people of the present day.

The red men engaged in the buffalo, deer, bear and eagle dances with true poetry of motion and religious fervor. Modern ballroom artistry frequently is rude as compared with the dances which long existed among these earlier Americans.

Ethnologists say that the so-called animal dances originated in the stories which tribal braves told around their camp fires to illustrate their adventures and the actions of their prey during the hunt.

Travelers in the South Seas found the primitive peoples of the Society Islands engaging in pastimes which they believe had a similar origin.

Among North American Indians many of these pageants were religious and ceremonial in character, as a result of the red man's reverence for nature in all its forms. Many still are practiced today. Some Indian tribes believed that all knowledge was given to animals, and that their Supreme Being did not speak to man, but manifested himself through dumb creatures, and through the sun, moon and the stars. Often an Indian who desired to know how he should live would go into solitude and wait until some animal brought him a vision.

Consequently when he interpreted the movements of an animal he would adhere closely to the truth. As a result of this quality in his dancing and his sense of beauty, he has evolved pageants worthy of preservation.

The buffalo dance is one of the finest exhibitions of Indian art. When the buffalo, in his eastward progress across the plains, came upon the semi-civilized inhabitants of the Mississippi Valley, the Indians were in dire need of animal food. The buffalo afforded food as well as clothing, mocassins, material for tents, tools, and even fuel. Thus he won an especially revered place in their lives and the pageant symbolical of the buffalo chase is one of the most picturesque and highly developed of their art. It was sometimes resorted to by the Sioux as an exhortation when food was scarce. It still holds a high place in the life of this tribe.

The Sioux dancers do not hide graceless movements among a whirling mob. They dare to silhouette themselves in thousands of postures against the clearly defining brilliance of the setting sun.

The cast for the buffalo dance is usually composed of a group of five dancers, two of whom represent the buffalo, one the hunter, and two women the mother animal.

The interpreters wear garments in imitation of the colors of the animal. This sobriety in tone is accentuated on the lower portions of their bodies by a few white marks, an occasional bit of red at the waist, and the soft green of pine branches in their hands.

The dancers representing the buffalo wear long masks in imitation of buffalo heads, the outlines of which blend with the shade of their own black-stained bodies. They imitate as nearly as possible the actions of the animals, catch their solemnity and endeavor to portray their power.

Perhaps the most spectacular of the animal dances still in existence is the snake dance of the Hopi Indians, founded on a fascinating legend with regard to their origin. In this weird and picturesque ceremony they dance with live snakes, furnishing all the thrills of the circus snake charmer.

The Indians' eagle dance holds the highest place among those founded upon their reverence for the bird kingdom. The butterfly dance of Indian youths and maidens has a modern counterpart in one of the famed successes of the Russian ballet.

THE LEBANON: FAMED FOR ITS CEDARS, SHRINES AND CIGARETTES

In the city where its independence was proclaimed, and in the emblem it has chosen, the newly declared government of Lebanon at least has two symbols of permanence, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

Baalbek is so old that no man can tell when first its temples were built to sun or spring or mountain. One shrine after another rose and fell, or was beaten down by rival religionists, until, some time in the first century A. D. two mighty structures whose ruins still stand were raised above the lofty plateau of the Bika.

The larger of these temples was erected in honor of Jupiter or Helios, the sun. It was surrounded by a peristyle of fifty-eight columns, eighty feet in height, and so big around that four large men can scarcely embrace them in their outspread arms.

Six of these huge columns with their Corinthian capitals and with immense fragments of the cornice still poised above the mean dwellings of the modern town. Nowhere does such massive permanence suggest such every lightness as in these six abiding pillars of the Temple of the Sun.

The smaller temple, itself larger than the Parthenon, was erected to Bacchus, a jovial god, now discredited in certain parts. It is one of the finest Roman temples extant. The entrance to this temple to the God of Wine is decorated with delicate carving that would grace Melrose Abbey or worthily frame the Rose Window of Rheims.

The forty-three-foot doorway is surrounded with tracery where vines and garlands, nymphs and satyrs and gay bacchantes are transfixed in stone almost as they appeared two thousand years ago, when the ringing chisels of the Roman sculptors fell silent before its finished perfection.

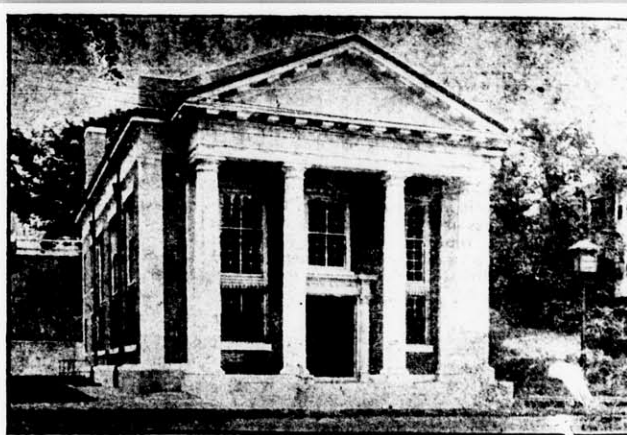

Baalbek bespeaks permanence in spite of the crowd of ephemeral summer visitors who seek in the cool shade of the willows beside the sacred pool a rest from the heat of the Mediterranean littoral.

The emblem chosen for the Lebanon flag is the cedar tree. This symmetrical symbol of lasting strength has long served as the seal of the American university at Beirut. But the cedars of Lebanon are not unappreciated by the people of the mountains. They call them "The Cedars of the Lord."

Some scholars believe that the picturesque sides of lofty Lebanon were once clothed in these majestic trees, and give as a reason the fact that Solomon obtained from Hiram of Tyre great rafts of this time-defying timber for the famous temple at Jerusalem. Others cite this as a reason for believing that never have there been many of these kingly trees, and that their rarity, as much as their rot-resisting qualities, made them desirable to the king, who could scour the known world for the best temple material.

However that may be, the main group of true cedars now contains only about four hundred of these trees, clumped in what from a distance of several miles appears to be a dark green hawthorn thrown against the tawny mountains. Yet these trees, four hundred of which look like a single tree shrub if one sees them from the Kadisha valley or the distant mountain pass, are really eighty to a hundred feet in height, and doubtless many of them are two thousand years of age. Only the cedars of the Himalayas and the Sequoias of California surpass them in age and dignity.

The Lebanon had its own government with a Christian constitution, and a special constitution, dating from 1861, following the Druze-Maronite disorders of the year before. But in 1916 all special privileges were abolished by the Porte. The Lebanon gendarmes wore a picturesque uniform in the Zouave style, with voluminous trousers of dark blue piped with red and with tight jackets and trim leggings.

The grapes and cigarette tobacco of the Lebanon have long been famous. But possibly this long mountain range, which has given its name to the political region, has never done a greater service to mankind than when it drove the Phoenician traders to the western sea and gave sea-borne commerce and, perhaps, the alphabet to the world.

THE RUHR

Crippled Power Plant of a Broken Empire.

"The Ruhr basin was the power plant of Germany's former industrial machine and mighty war engine, hence it is not surprising France should be suspicious of any movement which might lead to jockeying by 'junkers' to regain control there," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

The peace treaty stipulation that Germany must not construct fortifications within 50 kilometers to the East of the Rhine loosens her absolute control over one of the richest coal fields in the shattered empire, over Ruhrort, which had the largest river harbor in Europe, over the once-busy factory cities along the Ruhr's crooked course, and, above all, over Essen, city of the Krupp cast steel and cannons.

"The confluence of the Ruhr and the Rhine was the geographic factor in making Ruhrort, though only one-twelfth the size of our own Pittsburgh, comparable in economic importance to that municipal child of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers. The entire region might be likened to western Pennsylvania.

"Between the Rhine and the Ruhr is Duisburg, city of rolling mills, foundries and factories. Once this beehive of industry was a university town, and a grimy memorial fountain to Gerardus Mercator, latinized form of Gerhard Kremer, is a reminder that the inventor of the famous map projection method was associated with Cassander who, nearly four centuries ago, was commissioned to found the University of Duisburg. Kremer was not a German, it should be noted, but a Flemish geographer who studied at Louvain.

"But the crown jewel of the 'kultur' which drove the earlier culture of university life out of the Ruhr basin was Essen. Essen, too, experienced a transformation, for it originally was the site of a Benedictine convent. For three centuries preceding its incorporation into Prussia, Essen was governed by the Abbess, who became ex-officio, a princess.

Duisburg is connected with the Ruhr by a canal.

"Though the Krupp works were founded in 1812, the year 1848 saw them with only 70 employees. But with the advent of railways and cast steel guns the Krupp works expanded rapidly and their subsequent story is world famous — or infamous — for their incubation of wars.

"Mulheim is a railway center, seven miles northwest of Essen, where convergence of rail and water routes brought an enormous traffic. Four miles east of Essen is another Ruhr river port, Steele, a mining town with iron and steel works, also noted for its fireproof bricks.

"Farther up the Ruhr is Witten, important not only for steel but also for beer, soap and chemicals. Within the area of the present disturbances, though it is on the Rhine, a scant five miles south of the Ruhr's mouth, is Düsseldorf. This is one of the most pretentious cities in western Germany. It was bombarded by the French in 1795, later was the capital of Berg when that State was a Napoleonic duchy, and passed to Prussia, with the rest of Berg, in 1815.

"The Ruhr basin coal fields not only were important to the German Empire because of their heavy production, but because they alone were accessible for water importation of ores. A canal connected Dortmund, a city of the Ruhr basin with the Ens river, thus affording an outlet directly to the North Sea at Emden.

"A by-product of this development of water transportation to care for the coal mining and the attendant iron and steel industry, was the growth of textile manufactures. In cotton spinning the Ruhr basin held first place in Germany. Nearly a third of the spindles in the Empire were located here.

"The Ruhr was made navigable from the Rhine to Witten, some forty-three miles, by means of locks. Even then low water frequently hampered navigation."

Another Philippine Product.

The shrub from which the French manufacture the perfume known as cassie has been found growing abundantly in the Philippines.

Remedy for Burn.

If you sustain a burn and no remedy is at hand try common toilet soap at once. Simply rub it over the burn and you will secure immediate relief and there will be no blistering.

THE LATEST PHONOGRAPH

Volume of Sound Produced Equals that of Reed Orchestra

A British engineer, with more application than mercy, has invented a phonograph the volume of sound of which, it is asserted, will equal that of Sousa's orchestra, the night the States went dry; reproduce a lifelike impression of a modern battle, or make possible an Ulsterman's speech at a Sinn Féin meeting.

This latest and loudest form of musical horror is the invention of H. A. Gaydon, a member of the staff of the Creed Cable Company. A fortnight ago he tried it out on his surprised and delighted neighbors in a London suburb. The tune played was recognized more than two miles away.

Complaints came showering in from the neighborhood. The objectors begged to have Gaydon removed from the neighborhood. So a well-known theatrical manager decided to take the machine for his vaudeville houses as a popular form of amusement.

The instrument is known as the "Stentophone"—after Stentor, the Greek herald, who had a voice like thunder—and as the volume of sound produced equals that of an ordinary orchestra, it may quite possibly effect a mild revolution in the average dancing hall and movie show.

Compressed air and a patent sound-box are the secrets of the new invention. The air is supplied by an electric motor and when it passes through a small valve controlled by the gramophone needle—ordinary records and needles are used—it expands and creates a burst of noise that in the case of vocal selection far surpasses the original.

Standing about thirty yards from the instrument the illusion of a band playing selections at about an equal distance is almost complete, but the most entertaining result is obtained when a vocal record is turned on. The artist was Sir Harry Lauder, and the song, "We Parted on the Shore"—and it sounded like the monster voice of the biggest giant who ever walked in the fairy tales.

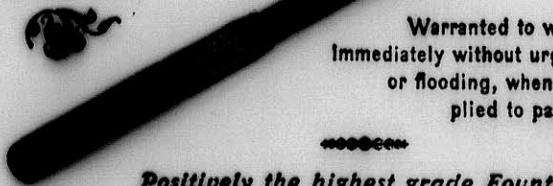

It is contended, indeed, that the machine can be used as a drill sergeant, giving the words of command before playing the marching accompaniment, or that if necessary it can deliver the speeches of famous statesmen in a way that will baffle the obstructive methods of the loudest-voiced heckler.

Plant Lice.

This is the time when plant lice are first making their appearance in the garden. Plant lice, or aphids, are becoming more numerous each succeeding year. They started in on apples eight or nine years ago, and different members of the same family are now making their appearance on most fruits, vegetables, and flowers. Plant lice vary in size and color. They are a very destructive pest as they breed in large numbers. They feed by sucking the plant juices, and when present in large numbers it does not take long for them to kill plants. The aphid thrusts its sharp bill through the leaf of the plant and sucks the juices from within. They can be controlled by a contact spray, the purpose of which is to burn the tender body of the aphid, and to close the breathing pores which kills them by suffocating them. Our arsenical poisons, such as arsenate of lead, will not control these insects because they do not eat leaf surfaces but suck the juice from within.

The popular contact spray for plant lice is a 40 per cent nicotine sulphate solution, the common brand on the market being known as Black Leaf 40. Nicotine sulphate should be used at the rate of 1 1/2 teaspoonfuls Black Leaf 40, 1 cubic inch of soap per gallon of water. The soap helps as a spreader and sticker for the mixture, and should always be added when the Black Leaf 40 is used alone. This suggestion is stronger than what is recommended on the manufacturer's package, but we find the added strength is necessary to give most satisfactory results. If you do not get the bugs, the bugs will get you!

Succession Planting

Home gardeners should not forget to put in plantings every ten days or two weeks of string beans, sweet corn, and other vegetables which the family are fond of, in order that there may be a supply of these vegetables available for use over a long period.

Plant Kale Now.

This is the right time for the planting of kale. Kale is a winter green and the leaves are foiled and eaten the same as beets or chard. It has a mild cabbage flavor, and is very ornamental, resembling a gigantic parsnip, having the same curled leaves. There are ornamental varieties with colored and variegated foliage which are often times planted in the flower garden. Often growers permit this vegetable green to stay in the ground after the ground freezes and until the snow comes. Oftentimes the greens are not harvested until after the snow comes, and the practice seems to be to go out from time to time, as the family requires greens, shovel the snow off, pick the frozen leaves, bring them into the house and draw the frost out with cold water.

Control Leafhoppers

Leaf hoppers, which are becoming so serious in this section, can be controlled, and should be immediately, or else there will be a worse scourge than anything which the fruit and vegetable grower has yet had to contend with.

Prof. P. J. Parrott, entomologist at the New York Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, New York, has been conducting some experiments during the past year for the purpose of finding the best materials and formulas for the control of this trouble. Prof. Parrott suggests the following formulas:

1. Black Leaf 40, 3/4 pint; soap 5 pounds; water, 100 gallons.
2. Lime sulphur solution, 2 1/2 gallons; water, 100 gallons; Black Leaf 40, 1 pint.
3. Copper sulphate, 2 lbs.; lime 30 to 40 lbs.; Black Leaf 40, 1 pint; water, 100 gallons.
4. Copper sulphate, 2 lbs.; lime, 2 lbs.; clay 30 to 40 lbs.; water, 100 gallons.

Let's see to it that each and every one in Middlesex County starts in to get this pest under control before it becomes serious. The county horticultural agent cannot emphasize too strongly the likely seriousness of this pest.

Leaf-hoppers at present are a greenish-yellow colored insect to be found on the under surface of the foliage. Most of the hoppers at present are not of the winged stage. It therefore makes it easier to spray at the present time than it will later, when many of the insects will be in the winged form and as soon as one starts spraying they will take to the air and it will be necessary to spray the air adjacent to the tree in order to envelope the insects with the spray mist.

These insects suck the juices from within the leaves by inserting their long beaks through the under surface of the leaf. The upper surface of the foliage shows a whitened effect because of the large amount of food stuff within the leaf which has been removed. The larger share of this seriously injured foliage will drop. It is perfectly possible for the insects to kill plants, and in all cases a serious infestation will lower the vitality of the plants. Last year apples dropped prematurely from trees which were seriously infested with the leaf-hoppers.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

To close the season's meetings of the local Union, it is planned to have a "party" on Friday, June 25, for a couple of dozen little girls from the Frances L. Willard Settlement who come under the direction of Miss Nellie Frank Hill, the new general manager, but long-time head resident of the Boston institution. Mrs. G. H. Hamilton, of 30 Vine street, president, will be the hostess and the children will enjoy a good time on the shores of the lake near by, later contributing to the enjoyment of their elders after the business session. The meeting will be called to order at 2:30 p. m., a half-hour earlier than usual, in order to close the program in good season. Ice cream and cake will be served the guests, and contributions toward this and the other expenses will be gladly received by the treasurer.

Incidentally, the treasurer, Miss Eugenia E. Elliott, wishes to remind those who have not yet paid their annual dues that she will be at the meeting ready to receive them. It is hoped as many of the members as possible will come, and thus lend their help in this practical bit of Americanization work carried on for many years by the Settlement as neighborliness. It is several years since a group has visited the Winchester Union, and it is hoped the day may come up to the expectations of the young guests, who are looking forward to it eagerly.

Mrs. Ella A. Gleason, State president of the W. C. T. U., has returned from her trip abroad, the chief reason for which was to attend the meeting of the World's W. C. T. U. which was held in London in April. She has much of interest to tell about her experiences, and, if possible, will be at the meeting on the 25th to greet her fellow members and bring the message from the great convention.

Prohibition is so much of an established fact that the Republican Party platform makers did not even mention it. They could not exactly point with pride, nor were they willing to "deplore," and so the question was ignored as a fait accompli and something to be taken for granted. So many changes have come to the world within three short years!

We would like to remind the members that those who have a supply of flowers in their gardens should remember to take or send some of them to the Flower Mission, which meets every Saturday during the summer at 14a Beacon street. Conditions have changed with regard to transportation, but individuals can easily do something to make life pleasant for the city-bound during the hot season.

Larry's Wedding

By Constance D'Arcy Mackay

(Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

When Larry Donovan was promoted from footman to coachman and moved from a room over the stables to a trim cottage with a fine view of the Hemstead's lawn, he felt as if the summit of his ambition had been reached. If genius is a capacity for hard work, Larry could well lay claim to it, for he toiled early and late with a pertinacity which set him high in the estimation of his employer, and enabled him to put by a snug sum by the time he had been in America three years.

There was only one thing wanting to make Larry's happiness complete, and that was the presence of Ellen O'Meara, who was already on her way from the old country. A month ago Larry had sent the money for her transportation.

Ellen was the belle of Ballymorran, and his winning her was to be viewed in the light of a great triumph. For a while it had been nip and tuck as to whether she would marry him or Tim Kearney. But Ellen had chosen Larry, and in the letters she wrote him from time to time there was no mention of Tim Kearney.

"Shure, her heart's all mine," said Larry to himself, and as the day of Ellen's landing approached his joy became more apparent.

Indeed, the whole Hemstead household took great interest in Ellen's coming. The servants knew her age to a dot, that her eyes were as blue as the lakes of Killarney, and her hair like burnished copper.

The morning of his wedding dawned clearly and Larry was in jubilant spir-

She Was Young and Slender.

As he took the Long Island train for New York. How Ellen would delight in their little cottage, and exult in the surprise that her husband was not a groom, but a full-fledged coachman.

Larry boarded the immigrant ferry-boat, and it was not till he had reached the immigrant building on Ellis Island that he found that the Cedric, the steamer on which Ellen was coming, was a day late.

A whole 24 hours to spend without Ellen! Larry wandered disconsolately through the long bare halls of the building, stopping to look at the newly landed immigrants in their cage-like compartments, and thinking of the time when he had been like them. In one of the halls a girl was talking to a blue-coated official, and biting her lips to keep from crying. She was young and slender, with deep gray eyes.

"I'm sorry," the official was saying kindly, "but we haven't been able to get any word of the aunt who was to meet you, and you're too young a girl to work alone in the city. It's against the law. If your aunt doesn't come for you, you'll have to go back to Ireland to your own people."

"But they're all dead," said the girl. "Shure, there's no one belonging to me at all except this aunt in New York whom I've never seen. An' if she doesn't come for me—" the girl broke off with a sudden sob, so childish, so piteous, that Larry, in spite of his happiness, felt his heart ache for her.

"It's a shame, it is," he said to himself. "A poor young bit of a thing like that! Faith, if my Ellen was only here we might think of something to do for the girl." And on his way back to New York Larry determined to speak to Ellen about the matter. Women's wits were much better than men's in such cases.

Next morning he was early at the island, and instead of waiting in the immigrant building tramped up and down outside that he might catch the first glimpse of the boat that was bringing Ellen to him. Presently he detected it and his blood raced at the sight.

He stood as near as he could to the gangplank and anxiously scanned the faces of the immigrants crowded on the deck; but Ellen's was not among them. Larry was filled with an anguish of apprehension. Then his heart leaped. He had seen the glint of Ellen's red-gold hair! For an instant she faced him, their eyes met, and then she turned and spoke to a man beside her. He laughed and pushed back his cap.

As he did so, Larry recognized him. It was Tim Kearney. They were coming down the gangplank now, and Ellen, to steady herself, put a bare red hand on the railing. On her fourth finger gleamed a plain gold wedding ring.

Larry was too stunned to speak. Dazedly he turned toward the immigrant building. He knew not what to do, or where to go. The mockery of it all swept over him—the fruitless years of planning and working; the little house that he had meant to be so happy in. Worse than all, the shame of returning alone smote him to the quick. But as he stumbled on, there flashed through his mind the memory of the gray-eyed girl he had seen the day before. She had been so helpless, yet so lovely in her grief. Somehow, the recollection of her loneliness seemed to draw him toward her as if by an invisible hand.

"Shure, misery loves company," he said to himself, "and if the girl could only learn to care for me, 'tis joy and not sorrow might be in store for us." He quickened his steps, fumbling in his pocket for the letters with which Mr. Hemstead had invested him in case he had trouble in proving his right to Ellen. They certified as to Larry's character and errand beyond a doubt, and satisfied the middle-aged official who ran his eye across them.

"Well?" he said.

The situation was a difficult one and it took Larry some moments to explain.

Finally, the official threw back his head and laughed. "We've had a good many romances on the island," he cried, "but this beats all! Still, as far as I can see, there's nothing against your marrying the girl if she consents. At present she's expecting to be deported, for we've found that her aunt died some days ago after the girl sailed."

So Nora MacManus was called from the women's detention room, and came with a look of wonder—a wonder which deepened as she saw Larry.

"They're telling me you're from the old soil," said he, "and that your name's Nora MacManus. Is it of the Innishowen MacManus you are?"

"Yes," said Nora. Her voice was as soft as the run of a river.

"I was at Innishowen once, myself," said Larry, and he went on to speak of the old people and the old times.

"Faith, they're a great bond when people are in a strange land," he said.

Then Larry took both of Nora's hands at the same time.

"Nora, girl," he said, "listen to me." While he was speaking she kept her gray eyes fixed on his honest blue ones. He did not pause until he had told her the whole story. "I've lost faith in one woman," he declared, "but not in all. And the little house back there is lonely and empty, and my heart, shure, it's lonely and empty, too. Will ye come and fill it, Nora, alana? Will ye trust me when I tell ye that the longer I stand here speakin' with ye the more I love ye?"

"It gives me a feelin' o' home to know they have the Blarney stone in America," said Nora, a gleam of humor appearing in her eyes.

"I'm no worse than an aunt ye never had seen," pleaded Larry, "and I may be some better. And the people where we're going—shure they'll never know but what you're the girl I came here to marry. There's such a thing as love at first sight, Nora, darlint, and that's what's the matter with me this minute. Ah, say ye'll marry me—though I know ye've never set eyes on me before—"

"Oh, but I have," cried Nora. "Yesterday, in the hall—" she stopped with a quick blush.

"Ah," cried the delighted Larry, "then ye did notice me, my angel! 'Twas hardly a wink I got last night, for your face kept haunting me. I thought of what I'd heard ye say and how lonely and hard it was for ye, a girl in a strange land."

"Did ye, now," said Nora. "There's few would have thought o' that!" A wonderful change passed over her face, her eyes softened. "If ye think—if ye're still shure—" she faltered, groping for a word.

"Ah, Nora, is it 'yes' ye mean?" cried the ecstatic Larry.

And Nora nodded.

So Larry and Ellen were married, and the kindly official and the matron of the detention room were witnesses of the simple ceremony. And it chanced that as he and his bride stood on the deck of the immigrant ferry they came face to face with Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kearney, also bound for New York.

"Nora, my dear," said Larry, "this is Mrs. Kearney. Mrs. Kearney, I'd like to make you acquainted with my wife, Mrs. Lawrence Donovan." He shot a sharp look at Tim. "Is it on your wedding trip ye are?" he questioned, and without waiting for an answer drew Nora toward the bow of the boat, so that in going down the gangplank they took precedence of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kearney, who followed sullenly behind, and were just in time to see Larry call a cab, hand Nora into it, and, jumping after her, close the door with a vicious slam.

"There are times," said Larry, when it pays to be extravagant," and leaning over, he squeezed Nora's hand.

Sugar Production.

Although the average acreage of sugar cane per farm outside of Louisiana is quite small, this crop is so generally grown in some of the Southern states that the total acreage for an entire state may be surprisingly large. In Georgia, for instance, the cane patch per farm is only two-fifths of an acre, according to an estimate by the bureau of crop estimates, and yet the estimated total acreage of the state is 67,200.

The Dream Denied

By A. W. PEACH

(Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

In the quiet of his college room Richard Martin fought out the old battle between ambition, dreams and duty. On the desk before him lay the fateful note, written in the wavering hand of old age.

It was his last day and last evening. That afternoon the final exercises had been held that ushered him into the busy, workaday world of men. His lips tightened as he thought of his dreams and plans—that he must put by. His lips dropped in repose that is born of tenderness as he thought of Ruth Leighton.

He had not really known her until the senior year when the senior girls and men were thrown together in the upper classes. She had appealed to him in a thousand ways—the music of her voice, the dark, tantalizing depths of her eyes, the soft dark hair that made such a fine setting for the sensitive face. Then had come the glorious evening, it seemed ages, yet it was but a week ago—when, on the verge of parting, he had told her breathlessly that he loved her; her silence that chilled him, then the whispered word that turned his humble world into heaven.

Then he had met her father and mother, and it had dawned upon him that he had perhaps aspired beyond where his aspirations should go. He discovered that Mr. Leighton was far more wealthy than he had surmised. In fact, as Richard told himself a bit hopelessly, Leighton was an aristocrat in the fine meaning of the term, while he himself was one of the toilers, the son of a farmer in poor circumstances. Then had come his brief visit to Ruth's great home in the beautiful Massachusetts city.

He picked up the brief note from his mother, which told him that his father had suffered a shock and would be helpless the rest of his life. Why had he not realized, Dick asked himself, that something might happen? All he had thought about was the fine opening in the city that had been promised him, with its splendid chances, if small wages. Now, beyond any question, his duty was to return to the farm, from which he knew his father and mother could not bear to be separated, and there take up the round of farm duties.

But Ruth—there his cup filled with bitterness. His dream had been of her. In his home, her dark eyes looking into his, her gay and pleasant voice within his hearing; that dream must be put aside.

First he wrote a note to his mother, then he picked up his cap, set his shoulders squarely and started down from the college hill to the cottage where Ruth roomed. On the way he passed old friends who bade him farewell, telling him at the same time of their own happy plans.

By the time he reached the cottage his heart was bitter within him, though there was no wavering in his mind. He rang and was ushered into the reception room.

"Ruth, I am really here to say good-by," he began quietly, when Ruth came in. "I have received word that means my return to the old place for well, for the best years of my life. I want—"

"Suppose we sit down, Dick," she broke in.

In the dusk of the room he faced her and went on, wrapped in the reminiscence he was visiting. "I want to tell you how much—I love you, just as I had planned—but—well, Ruth, I'm going back to the old place. Father has had a shock—and somebody must help him. If he had kept well—no, I owe them everything. I am going there."

"I see," she said as quietly as he.

She had never seemed quite as beautiful to him as then, with the dusk in her eyes, her voice and her hair. He told himself with firm grip upon his will. He rose.

"I wish things could be different from the very bottom of my soul. My duty is plain, however, and I shall get my joy out of others' happiness. I hope," he said tensely. He held out his hand. "Good-by, little chum."

Quiet, passive, her own hand lay in his for a brief moment.

"Good-by, Dick; I hope everything will be well," she answered briefly.

Outside in the evening dusk he looked up at the stars as men have looked for comfort through the ages. "She understood—to go to an old country farm with me; even love cannot make the sacrifice. Well, perhaps there is a destiny that shapes things for the best after all," he thought to himself.

The next day he took the early train for the city, purchased some gifts for his father and mother, and started homeward. It was evening when the train dropped him at the quiet little station of the village beyond which his father's farm lay.

He found one of his father's men waiting for him with the span of horses that was his father's delight.

They drove home in silence. As the great farmhouse loomed through the friendly dusk, Dick's heart thrilled a bit with pride. It was a splendid home of its type, keeping the stern but beautiful lines of the old architecture. Into it most of his father's money had gone through the hard years. The lights glared on the homelights that always seemed so cheerful—and soon the span drew up before the door.

He jumped out, rushed in, and caught his mother in his arms; then he went to his father, and the trembling pressure of the sick man's hand was a blessing and a benediction. He turned from the invalid's chair to go to the hall and stopped, staring.

In the door stood a girl's figure; her smooth, oval face, rosy under the light, dark eyes and dark hair, she stood there. Ruth in spirit and form!

He rubbed his eyes as he staggered and gazed at her name.

With a hunch half merry, half merry, she came to him and put her arms on his shoulders, looking up into his eyes. "Dick," her voice said, "aren't you glad to see me?"

He caught her tightly to him. "Ruth, what does it mean?"

"It means just this: that if you do intend to leave me behind I do not intend to be left! I thought when you said good-by that you didn't want me—yet now you're so so funny. Do you?"

"No, I'm only a little sweetheart, you don't know you don't; but do you mean that, that?"

"I mean that where you go, my dear, I want to go, even to the very end."

"But this place—"

"It is a beautiful home. You forget that father spent his boyhood and early days at just such a beautiful place."

A brief but tender voice broke in. "You let Dick! And now you're going to leave me behind for a little. I want to ask Dick about some of the trout brooks around here. I'm going fishing in the morning."

Dick had whirled about to find himself facing Mr. Leighton, whose hand was out.

As their hands met firmly Leighton's voice lost its banter and his eyes were steady, though there was a twinkle in them. "Dick, I shall be proud to have you for a son—as I would have told you at the college if you had asked me; and as regards your future wife, let me tell you that she has been brought up in the good old-fashioned way. She is of the hills, she belongs to the hills and I'm mighty glad a man of the hills has won her. That's a thundering long speech for me to make; but I guess you see how I feel."

Duties of Aid-de-Camp.

An aid-de-camp is an officer attached to the general's staff who assists him in his work; he is an acting assistant adjutant general by reason of his detail as aid. He attends the general, acts practically as his private secretary and may be designated to some special military duty. During our Civil war the aids carried orders and acted in all sorts of useful ways.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION

Closing Exercises at Town Hall
Tuesday Evening

For the first time in many years the High School graduation exercises, held Tuesday night in the Town Hall, were accompanied by stormy weather. Notwithstanding this, however, the usual big crowd attended, filling every seat in both the large and small halls. Fortunately, the weather cleared during the evening, and by the time the program finished, clear skies and moonlight furnished a very satisfactory ending.

An innovation was made in the seating arrangements this year in that every seat in the hall was reserved. This insured each person attending a definite seat, and absolutely stage by this means in place of going through the wings.

According to custom, the Class of 1920 marched into the hall and to the stage at the opening of the exercises, led by Stuart Eldredge, president of the class, and Miss Helen Bowe vice-president. Rev. Clifton H. Walcott, pastor of the First Baptist Church, offered the prayer.

The program included two numbers by the chorus, in both of which solos were well rendered by Evan Kibbe. The first feature, however, was the play, "The Spirit of 1620," written for the class by Eleanor Ray Tilden, valedictorian, with music by Edna Mitten. This was well acted by various members of the class and portrayed a Puritan home, typifying the hardships and courage of the early emigrants.

The essay by Evan A. Kibbe was well arranged and delivered, and the presentation of the class gift, a beau-

TREE STRUCK AUTOS

Tuesday's Storm Did Much Damage about Town

Winchester was visited by the heaviest thunder storm of the season Tuesday afternoon, a heavy wind, assuming the proportions of a tornado, accompanied by a torrential down-pour of rain, doing the largest amount of damage the town has experienced in a long time.

The most serious consequences occurred on the west side. A big tree fell on a touring car on Church street, at the Weigmore avenue turnout, narrowly missing killing the occupants, and its branches struck another car on the far side of the road, tangling it up until they could be cut away. The touring car was driven by Mrs. E. M. Wheatley, and contained her son Edward, 13 years old, and Robert Jennings, 12 years old. The car had just stopped in front of the Wheatley house at No. 117 when the big tree broke apart, and a section over a foot in diameter fell on the car.

It struck just at the windshield, and this probably saved the occupants, for the strong steel frame was bent down to the engine hood, the car top smashed, and the front of the car broken. Had the car been a foot farther advanced the tree would have fallen squarely on Mrs. Wheatley at the wheel. Although the glass in the front was broken, no one was cut or injured.

The other auto struck was passing south, it being a delivery truck of the Waltham Laundry Co. This car was not injured other than being scratched up, but it was necessary to cut away the branches to release it.

The path of the center of the storm was between Ranglee and Cambridge streets, and here much damage was done to trees and shrubs. Trolley wires were down on Church street and North Main street; lights and power were off both in Winchester and Woburn; trees were blown down on Fletcher street, Stratford road, Swanton and Harvard streets, and on the east side wires were down on Mason and Washington streets.

Many sections of the town were in darkness during the night, although the electric company gave prompt service in restoring the damage so far as possible. Chief DeCourcy of the Fire Department was out before the storm was over, working on damaged alarm wires, and William Nicholson of the Tree Department was busy all over town with his crew. The wreckage was cleared away in remarkably short time in every instance. The big tree blown down in Ranglee, another on Fletcher street and still another at Harvard and Washington streets, were all promptly attended to. Another tree which fell across the inward railroad track back of the Symmes grain mill was removed before there was danger of accident.

Many gardens suffered from the rain, which came down in sheets, and vines and shrubs also were blown down and uprooted. The violence of the storm was of short duration, but the rain continued until well into the evening.

GAME TOMORROW

Tomorrow Medford will send up its Legion team to try and break our winning streak. The manager, Mr. McAuley, says that Davidson won't pitch a no-hit, no-run game against his team, and that if we score at all we will be lucky, all of which sounds very nice to Mr. McAuley. Well, as I have repeatedly said in years past, ball games are won on the field and not over the telephone. We will have to wait until the last man is out and then I think Medford will get the surprise of their young lives. This team got away to a good start last Saturday, beating the strong Roslindale Legion team, 8 to 7, and Roslindale is conceded to be a good, strong team. Well, we can't win all the time, and perhaps Medford will be the team to trim us, but I have my doubts about it. Now, a word of advice: this team has a long following, and a large crowd will witness the game, so if you want to get a seat, get to the field early. Game will start promptly at 3:30 and Tole will umpire.

PEN PRESENTED BY REPRESENTATIVE COOLIDGE

In the presence of a number of town officials and friends last Saturday morning, Miss Mabel E. Stinson, recently appointed Town Clerk, and the first woman in the State to hold this position, was presented with the quill pen used by Governor Coolidge and Senator Edwin T. McKnight in signing the bill according to this privilege.

The presentation was made by Representative Richard B. Coolidge, who was instrumental in introducing the bill in the House. Representative Coolidge was brought to Winchester by Selectman George M. Byrne, also an advocate of Miss Stinson for the position, and the ceremony ended with warm congratulations from a number of friends to the new Clerk.

WHIST PARTY

A successful whist party was held Tuesday evening in St. Mary's School Hall, under the direction of Mrs. Daniel Lydon. Prizes were awarded to the following people: Mrs. M. Waters, Mrs. D. Mawn, Miss May O'Brien, Mrs. E. Fitzgerald, Mr. S. P. McGown, Mrs. L. Connolly, Mrs. M. McLean, Mrs. B. Mathews, Miss Nora Cullen, Mrs. Waldo Ledwidge, Mrs. John Hanlon, M. F. Donaghey, Mrs. Callahan, Mrs. Corcoran, Miss M. F. Mulligan, Miss Margaret Murray and Mr. John O'Hara.

FESTIVAL TOMORROW

The annual summer festival of St. Mary's parish takes place tomorrow (Saturday) from 2:30 to 11 p. m., at the parochial grounds on Washington street. There will be the usual long list of attractions. This year's festival promises to eclipse all others.

WADLEIGH GRADUATION

Grammar School Exercises Last Evening at Town Hall

Of almost as much popularity as those of the High School were the graduation exercises last night at the Town Hall of the Wadleigh Grammar School. Like Tuesday evening, every available seat in the hall was taken, there being a record attendance of relatives and friends of the pupils.

The feature of this year's program was an operetta, "Hiawatha's Childhood," enacted and sung by twenty-six and over pupils of the school. Tunes, music, recitations and dances combined to make this part of the program of exceptional interest, and the operetta went off without a single incident to mar its presentation.

Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church, offered the prayer, and the music was well rendered by the Wadleigh school orchestra. The chorus singing was exceptionally good this year, and the orchestra bringing many compliments on the work of the supervisor of music, Richard W. Grant.

The graduating class, numbering 152 pupils, was one of the largest to leave the Wadleigh School. It was quite a job to handle this big class, both on the stage and in seating on the floor, but every pupil knew his place and the program showed not the slightest confusion. The diplomas were presented by Mr. Henry S. Chapman of the school committee.

The program was as follows:

SUNDAY NIGHT ADDRESS AT TOWN HALL

Fr. Thomas P. McManmon, assistant at St. Mary's Church, Dorchester, delivered an eloquent address Sunday evening at the Town Hall on the subject, "Ireland's Grievances and Her Case before the World." The audience exceeded 500.

The proceeds are in aid of the Summer Festival fund of St. Mary's parish, Saturday afternoon and evening. Fr. Francis E. Rogers, assistant at St. Mary's Church, presided. There was a concert of Irish music. A chorus of 50 children from St. Mary's school sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," "Sinn Fain Awan," and "Ireland, I Love You." Miss Mabel Cote contributed "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms"; Alfred Maguire of Cambridge, "The Last Rose of Summer"; and "Mother Macree"; and Mrs. J. Roy McGrath, "Killarney" and "I'll Be in Dublin When Ireland is Free." Miss Margaret Merritt, organist of St. Mary's Church, was the accompanist.

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL MARRIED

Among the prettiest weddings of the season was that of Miss Lillian Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stevens of Lynn, formerly of Winchester, to Mr. Arthur Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ryan, also of Lynn. The bride was attired in bridal satin and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Her veil was caught up with orange blossoms. The bridesmaid wore pink satin and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Cora Birchstead of Beverly, and Mr. Walter Ryan of Lawrence assisted the groom. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 31 Alice avenue. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Wyman, the Misses Helen and Anna Doherty and John McMinamin of this town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. After an extended wedding trip to Maine, they will reside at Chatam street, Lynn.

TUNNEL POSTPONED

A joint meeting of the Finance Committee, the Board of Selectmen, and the Planning Board was held Wednesday night, at which the proposed tunnel under the B. & M. R. R. tracks, to connect Common street and Waterfield road, was informally discussed.

It was the sense of the members present, informally expressed, that the project was a needed improvement, and that it should be brought before the Town at the next annual Town Meeting.

It was also decided to hold further conferences of the three boards during the fall to consider a specific plan for this underpass.

EXHIBITION OF DANCING

On Saturday evening the pupils of Miss M. Theresa Connell gave a pleasing exhibition of fancy dancing in Lyceum Hall before a large audience. The affair was in connection with the numerous events being held in aid of the Summer Festival of St. Mary's Church, which took place last Saturday afternoon on the parochial grounds.

The afternoon was under the direction of a committee headed by Miss Mary A. Lyons and Miss Josephine Brine. Miss Elizabeth McKenna presided at the piano, and among those who took part in the exhibition were the Misses Elizabeth Connell, Katherine Coleman, Doris Black, Grace Connell, Katherine Mahony, Mary McNamara, Edwina Phelps, Dottie O'Brien, Ruth Rubin, Lillian Akers, Ethel Bon and Master Edmund Bradley.

REPUBLICAN WOMAN'S COMMITTEE

The Republican Woman's Committee of Winchester is as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. William I. Palmer. Mrs. Maurice F. Brown. Mrs. George E. Willey. Mrs. Alonzo F. Woodside. Mrs. Marcus B. May. Miss Mary Lyons. Mrs. Herbert T. Bond. Mrs. George Neley. Mrs. Daniel C. Dennett.

RECORDER ISSUES SPECIAL NUMBER

the graduating exercises. During the year a number of attractive issues have been produced by the staff, which includes Katharine Pike, editor-in-chief; Rosamond Lefavour, associate editor; Frances W. Hill, local editor; Evander French, boys' athletic editor; Lillian Gray, girls' athletic editor; Eleanor Tilden, exchange editor; Esther Bartlett, society editor; Parker Hart, artistic editor; Isabel Beggs, alumni editor; Stuart Eldredge, business manager; Ronald Hatch, advertising manager; John Sullivan, assistant advertising manager; Frank Laughran, Class '20; Rebecca Barrett, Class '21; Rudolph Mortensen, Class '22; Barbara Pike, Class '23.

WOMEN OF WINCHESTER

One of the important measures passed by the 1920 Legislature was an act providing for the transfer of the names of the women registered for school committee to the regular voting list without making them re-register. Furthermore, the act actually confers upon women the right to vote at all elections under the same conditions as men, upon the completion of ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment.

Our national leaders assure us that ratification will be completed in time to enable the women of the whole country to vote this fall.

Will you who have not registered heretofore, do so now at your earliest convenience? Miss Stinson, the Town Clerk, is ready to enroll you on the voting list.

Hours, 8-12 a. m., 1-5 p. m. Saturday afternoons excepted.

Exercise now, this, your privilege and your opportunity.

Republican Women's Committee, Clara H. Palmer, Chairman, Myopia Road, Winchester.

Arrangements Complete for Celebration at Town

Arrangements are now complete for the annual celebration of July 4 by the Town. An interesting and entertaining program has been arranged, covering the day, and amusement is provided for young and old.

The day's program opens at 10:30 in the forenoon with a Punch and Judy show and entertainment for the children in the Town Hall. The age limit has been set at 15 years, in order that all the younger children may be accommodated, and a fine entertainment has been booked, guaranteed to give them the time of their lives.

Commencing at 2:30 o'clock, on Manchester Field there will be a band concert, followed by a rousing baseball game opening at 3:30. The Winchester team will play the strong Arlington K. of C. team.

In the evening there will be a band concert on Manchester Field from 7:30 till 9, followed by a good display of fireworks.

The Malcon Band, already enjoying a well-earned reputation for its music here, will provide the following programs, the listed numbers being also augmented by popular airs and up-to-date music which is being whistled on the street and played everywhere.

MISS KATHERINE F. O'CONNOR'S WHIST

On Thursday afternoon, June 17, a most successful matinee whist and food sale was conducted in Lyceum Hall under the patronage of a committee of Hillside ladies, directed by Miss Katherine F. O'Connor, chairman.

The party was originally scheduled to take place on the beautiful lawn of the Felix O'Connor estate on Hill street, but unfortunately the rain interfered and necessitated its being held in the hall, to the great disappointment of the residents of the Hillside section, who were for days anticipating the outdoor reunion of old and young.

The food sale was very successful and netted a goodly sum; the whist souvenirs were very profuse and among the most beautiful seen at any of the parties so far held. The proceeds of this party will help to swell the funds to be raised for the garden party of St. Mary's parish.

The following were winners at whist: Mrs. Herbert Bond, Mr. Daniel Kelley, Miss Helen Valley, Miss Mary Lyons, Mrs. Parker Eaton, Mrs. Daniel Callahan, Mrs. J. Frank Davis, Mrs. Abby Waters, Mrs. Celia Corcoran, Mrs. Katherine Lynch, Mrs. John Flaherty, Mr. James Kelley, Miss Katherine Trainer, Mrs. Mary Welch, Mrs. Frank Valley, Mr. John McMinamin, Mr. Arthur King, Mrs. Patrick Flaherty, Miss Mary Foley, Miss Eileen Lynch, and Mrs. Thomas Kelley. The lucky number for both prize cakes was captured by Mrs. Frances Conlon.

provided against overcrowding the hall. In past years it has for some time been necessary to refuse admission to many people after the count for the hall capacity had been completed. The arrangement this week apparently proved very satisfactory.

The decorations were, as usual, of a simple nature. Across the top of the stage was hung the class motto, in black and gold: "Nothing venture, nothing have." The stage was decorated on either side with mountain laurel, the green leaves and pink buds flanking the temporary stairs at the ends, the graduating class and chorus, seated upon the floor, reaching the

Winchester Wins Its Third Game and Shutout

Chalk up another win for our fast-going ball team. John C. Paige Co. of Boston were the victims last Saturday. This nine has been going along at a good clip and had lost only one game up to the time it met us Saturday. And, as usual, they failed to put on their regular outfit, but had strengthened up for this game. They used Ballou of Tufts as short, Wilson of Brookline Legion team in the field, but at that they were no match for Winchester. Davidson pitched good ball, but had grand support in the field and at the bat. Ray, the Paige pitcher, was hit for 11 bases, including a couple of two baggers. He has held the other teams very easily this season, and is rated as a clever pitcher. Finn, our umpire, went to Medford, and umpired the game there. Tole of Arlington took his place and did well, but missed a few balls and strikes, and the best of them do that. Tomorrow we meet the Medford Legion team, and as they claim that they have a team that can beat us, a good game should result.

SHEPARD-PARK

The wedding took place Saturday evening of Miss Constance Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Park of Forest street, and Mr. Howell F. Shepherd of Milford. Rev. Warren Lander of the Second Congregational Church performed the ceremony, at eight o'clock, in the presence of relatives and friends. This was followed by a large reception.

The parlor, where the ceremony took place, was decorated with garlands of pinks, roses and greenery, forming a canopy, and flowers were banked on the mantle and about the rooms. The Blakie Trio, stationed on the piazza, played throughout the evening.

The bride looked very sweet in her gown of white duchess satin, with the train trimmed with satin roses and orange blossoms. The veil was arranged with a pearl and orange blossom coronet and she carried orchids and white sweet peas. The matron of honor, Mrs. James Todd, Jr. (Betty Fiske), of Flushing, Long Island, wore purple prechiffon and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Ray, wore pink satin with silver leaf trimming. The four ribbon bearers were dressed in white satin, two of them who are recent brides wearing their wedding gowns. They were Mrs. Walter York (Helen Ireland), of Boston, Mrs. Oman Thayer (Marion Horvey), of Medford, Miss Eleanor Larabee of Brookline, and Miss Irene Lord.

The best man was Mr. John M. Wood of Hopedale. The ushers were Mr. Guy Messenger of Springfield, Kenneth Simpson of Malden, Ronald Park of Dixfield, and Kenneth Park of Winchester, the last two brothers of the bride.

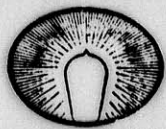

The young couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mayhew of Milford, the latter an aunt of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Field of Milford, aunt and uncle of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. John Park. A large tent was erected on the lawn, where the refreshments were served.

The groom is an overseas man, having served over two years in the 539th French Ambulance Unit of the 5th French Infantry Corps. He went to France with the Amherst Ambulance Unit, and was awarded the croix de guerre for bravery and exceptional conduct in the battle of Chateau Thierry. He was wounded and also gassed while in France. He is a teller at the Milford Savings Bank.

The bride is a former high school student and a graduate of a private school, and is known as a vocalist of considerable talent. About two hundred and fifty guests attended. The bridal couple left on an auto tour through New Hampshire and the White Mountains as far as the Canadian line. They will reside in Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Prime and family have left for their summer home at Nova Scotia.

Miss Alice Nichols of Lebanon street returned home last week from Toledo, Ohio, where she has been teaching music in a private school.

BUYS STARK SUMMER HOME

Beautiful Hollis Farm Estate Taken by Winchester Man

Agreement was reached last week for the sale of the estate of the late John F. Stark in the town of Hollis, N. H., to F. F. B. Chapman of Fells road. The property includes about 40 acres of land and was the summer home of Mr. Stark, who developed it into one of the finest fruit-producing estates in Hollis, noted as one of the most productive fruit sections in New England, both for productiveness and quality.

The dwelling house, an artistic bungalow, designed by one of the leading architects of the country, is situated on a hill top commanding a beautiful view of the surrounding country. There is a double garage, a stable, house for the help, ice house, power pump and storage tank for the ample water supply. The bungalow is fitted with modern conveniences of the up-to-date country home. One of the finest peach orchards in southern New Hampshire has produced peaches of remarkable quality, and there are 150 full-bearing apple trees and as many more young trees of choice varieties just coming into bearing. Strawberries, blackberries, and other small fruits are grown in abundance.

The estate is divided into landscape, woodland and cultivated area in an admirable proportion, and a pretty brook runs through the premises. Mr. Chapman buys for a home, and will take possession at an early date.

BOY SCOUT EXHIBITION

Medals Awarded Two Boys for Saving Life by National Council

There was an attendance of about 500 persons at the annual exhibition and dance given by Winchester Troops of the Boy Scouts Saturday evening in the Town Hall. A feature of the evening was the presentation to Scouts Philip Hight and Stanley McNeilly of Troop I with life-saving medals from the National Council at New York. The presentation was made by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, and both boys received a great ovation when the medals were handed them after Dr. Chidley had cited their acts and complimented them upon their bravery.

PHILIP HIGHT

In the past nine years there have doubtless been over 1,500,000 Boy Scouts, but in that time only 304 boys have been awarded medals for life-saving, and Troop I of Winchester is the only Troop in the United States which has had more than one life-saving medal awarded its Scouts.

Philip Hight rescued Lawrence Hallock from drowning in Wedge Pond, and Stanley McNeilly saved Franklin Murray from drowning off Cape Cod, near Dennisport.

STANLEY McNEILLY

Seated on the stage during the presentation were Mr. Stillman P. Williams and Mr. Henry S. Chapman of the School Committee, Scoutmaster Francis E. Smith, Mr. Charles A. Gleason, Mr. Roland H. Sherman and Mr. Robert F. Guild.

Another feature of the evening was the presentation to two Scouts, Roy Jordan and Lyman Smith, of Eagle Scout badges. These were awarded by the National Council for excellence in Scout work. Some idea of the capability of these two Scouts may be gained by stating that in order to win an Eagle Badge a Scout must have gained 20 merit badges showing that he knows about:

First Aid, Civics, Life-saving, Personal Health, Public Health, Cooking, Camping, Bird Study, Path Finding, Pioneering, Athletics, or Physical Development and nine other subjects.

Following are some requirements necessary to gain one of the above 20 merit badges. Take, for instance, Public Health: To obtain a merit badge for Public Health, a Scout must:

1. State the chief causes and modes of transmission of each of the following diseases: tuberculosis, typhoid, malaria.

2. Draw a diagram showing how the house fly carries disease.

3. Tell what should be done to a house which has been occupied by a person who has had a contagious disease.

4. Describe the method used in his community in disposing of garbage.

5. Tell how a city should protect its milk, meat, and exposed foods. State what are the laws in his community covering this subject, and to what extent they are being enforced.

6. Tell how to plan the sanitary care of a camp.

7. State the reason why school children should undergo a medical examination.

8. Tell how he may co-operate with the health authorities in preventing disease.

9. Produce satisfactory evidence that he has rendered service in some effort recommended by the public health authorities in the interest of Public Health.

These were the first two Scouts to gain Eagle Badges in Winchester. Roy Jordan was the first to finish passing the necessary tests. Within 24 hours after that, Lyman Smith passed his tests. A third Scout, Thomas Martin, in Troop III, but now of a Cambridge troop, some months later also gained an Eagle Badge. These are the only three boys in Winchester ever to have them.

The program of events was well calculated to hold the interest of the large audience, and the boys proved themselves well skilled in every number, from poetry to tumbling. Several stood out in the excellence of their work, notably John Tucker, Thomas White, Albert Horn, Junior Kelley, Alden Reed, John Clifton, Max Hammond, Norman Harold, William Clark, Wallace Downer, Benjamin Priest.

The evening was arranged for and was in charge of Mr. Francis E. Smith, Scoutmaster of Troop I, to whom credit for the excellent program should be given. Benjamin Priest, with his Jew monologues, was excellent, and his numbers were as much a surprise and furnished as much fun to the director of the entertainment as they did to the audience.

The program included:

Assembly—Henry S. Chapman, Jr.

Scouts marched to stage.

Introduction by Scoutmaster Smith.

Play to Colors—Scout Chapman.

Scout Oath and Scout Laws—Troop III.

Head and back spring, cart wheel and somersault by Scouts Tucker, North, Horn, White and Clark.

Bugle calls—Scout Chapman.

Rescuing unconscious person from burning house—Scouts Bancroft, Mansfield and Kelly.

Song—"Old Black Joe." Quartette composed of Scouts led by Johnny Clifton, accompanied by Benny Priest.

ATTRACTIVE NEWSPAPER

The Wadleigh Life, the school paper published by the scholars of the Wadleigh School, has issued this week a special graduation number of six pages. This paper is the first published by the pupils of this school, and it reflects great credit upon their ability, they having issued a most attractive sheet during the last four months of school year. The paper has heretofore appeared with four pages, the last edition being a special graduation number. The officers and managers are as follows: Malcolm Stewart, editor-in-chief; room editors, Jean Ryan, S. Frances Comins, S. Kendall North, S. Marjorie Bean, S. Elizabeth Jacobs, S. Caroline Drisko, S. business managers, Richard Clark, S. Richard Tutin, S. John Tucker, S. John Gifford, S. science editor, Malcolm Jones, S. current affairs, Howard Decker, S. school notes, Gwendolyn Maddocks, S. stories, Ruth Chamberlain, S. jokes, Katharine Fitch, S. sports, Sam Lombard, S. alumni, Cornelia Smith.

COUNTRY CLUB SCORES

Saturday's play at the Winchester Country Club was listed as a blind personal par contest. The following cards were turned in:

P. M. Smith, 99; 21; 75; A. H. Wood, Jr., 105; 20; 73; S. T. Hicks, 83; 6; 77; T. S. Cully, 85; 8; 77; I. S. Hall, 95; 20; 77; A. C. Hovey, 102; 25; 77; B. K. Stevenson, 83; 7; 78; H. B. Wood, 86; 8; 78; P. E. Skeeton, 94; 16; 78; F. H. Walker, 108; 30; 78; A. B. Saunders, 96; 17; 79; J. F. Tuttle, 99; 20; 79; C. A. Wheeler, 97; 17; 80; T. L. Froeburn, 112; 32; 80; E. A. Kelly, 103; 20; 83.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNCILLOR

Announcement was made Saturday by Edward B. Eames of Reading of his candidacy this fall for Councillor for the Sixth Councillor District. Mr. Eames has served two years in the House of Representatives and also two years in the State Senate, and appears to be a promising candidate for the Republican nomination.

Of especial merit was the bandaging by Richard Clark, who deftly placed a number of bandages, including the head bandage. He is said to be the best Scout at first aid in New England. In presenting the numbers the various Scouts opened their turns by jokes and poetry, which highly amused their audience, and Max Hammond's tramp who ate grass took down the house. Tucker's snap-up, evolved by himself, won much applause, and the special diving for height by Downer was a feature in itself.

"I Wouldn't Go Camping Without Rat-Snap," Says Ray White.

"Wife and I spent our vacation camping last summer, smell of cooking brought rats. We went to town, got some RAT-SNAP, broke up cakes, put it outside our tent. We got the rats alright—big fellows." Farmers, storekeepers, housewives, should use RAT-SNAP. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Central Hardware Co., Allen's Pharmacy and Richardson's Market.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Too many of our coming men are unable to catch up with their great future.

If a man has plenty of nerve these days he will get the coin.

People who have the most cause to feel blue seldom have the blues.

Every man knows how different he would act if he were some other fellow.

The successful man roots while his unsuccessful friend stands around and squeals.

Woburn water rates will take a decided raise if the vote of the city council passed Saturday night goes through. The council voted to raise the rate from $7.50 to $14. There is a deficit of $10,000 in the water department, and this raise is intended to clean the slate. An order has been introduced also to require all dwellings to install meters.

The wet spring and summer, while disagreeable to experience, has brought out the shrubbery and foliage in abundance, and many of the fine estates about town have never been so attractive as at present. The chief beauty spot bordering Mystic Lake, the J. H. MacAlman estate on Everett avenue, has been especially marked, the handsome garden at the entrance to the upper pond being much commented upon. This garden is most complete in its layout and planting, and, above all, is kept as it should be to preserve its beauty. Another beauty spot is Dr. H. A. Gale's estate on Myopia Hill, the display of peonies being the finest in town without exception, and the sunken garden just in the first stages of bloom. Contractor James J. Fitzgerald is just completing an exceptionally fine terrace garden at the estate of Mr. William E.
Schrafft, also on Myopia Hill. This estate will soon be the finest in this section and is planned extensively in its appointments.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The Executive Committee held a meeting Monday night, June 21, when the reports of committees were read and accepted. The Executive Committee are trying to help the town collect all questionnaires which have not been returned. We ask the cooperation of all ex-service men who have not sent in the questionnaires to do so at once, or leave them at Allen's drug store. The town is compiling a book with the records of each man from Winchester from the time he entered the service until he was discharged. The book will soon be sent to press and unless all questionnaires are returned certain names will be missing; so send along your questionnaires, boys; don't keep us waiting.

The next regular monthly meeting will be held in Lyceum Hall, Thursday, July 1. This will be the last meeting until fall. The entertainment committee are making plans for the meeting.

Duplicate Victory Buttons

Ex-service men who have been issued either the bronze or silver victory button are informed that the government issues only one button on a soldier's discharge. In case the original button is lost, another can be purchased from civilian firms, on evidence that the ex-soldier was originally entitled to one.

Bailey, Banks & Biddle of Philadelphia has been designated by the War Department as having authority to sell duplicates of these buttons on presentation of evidence as above.
Locally, the H. L. Brown Co., Room 543, Little Building, Boston, will supply duplicate buttons for 54 cents by mail, or 50 cents when purchase is made in person.

HELP AMERICA WIN THE OLYMPIC GAMES

Editor Winchester Star:

The United States will send an Olympic Team to compete at the seventh Olympiad to be held at Antwerp, Belgium, next August. The expenses of this American team are financed by the citizens and New England's share of the expenses is $50,000. Winchester's quota is $20.00.
The committee is anxious to have as many people as possible subscribe towards the sending of the athletes, in order to make it a true American contribution. Five dollars will obtain for you the gold button of a contributing member. One dollar, if you are under eighteen years, will entitle you to receive the card of a junior member. Winchester's share is such a nominal amount that general solicitation seems unnecessary, and the committee takes this means of giving all those who desire to contribute an opportunity to do so. Kindly send contributions for this fund to the Winchester Trust Company on or before July 1.

For the Winchester Committee.

In addition to the usual hours, the office of the Collector of Taxes will be open on the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, June 29 and 30, 1920, from 7 to 9 o'clock. A summons will be issued on July 1, 1920, on all Poll Taxes of the year 1920 which remain unpaid on that date.

It is reported that in all there were close to 75 cases of the septic sore throat last week through infected milk. Fortunately, none of the cases resulted fatally and in almost every instance the sick have fully recovered. The Board of Health is still investigating the cause, which seems to have been definitely traced to one particular herd of cattle. As yet the Board is not prepared to make a report. It is reported that a number of cows are under observation.

Marriage intentions have been filed at the office of the Town Clerk this week by the following couples: William A. Shaw, Jr. of Woburn and Nora Agnes O'Loughlin of 17 Elm street; Clarence A. Lawton of 80 Cambridge street and Anna Altman of Syracuse, N. Y.; John Edmund Delorey of 2 Russell road and Elizabeth Mahoney of Woburn.

BASEBALL NOTES

(By Mack)

Three won, 0 lost, for a percentage of 100.

Three shutouts in a row is going good for any semi-pro team. It also shows some good defensive playing on the part of our team.

Christoforo was the star of the game Saturday, getting three hits, stealing twice, getting one run and having two putouts and four assists. He is a very fast man, and during the war played third base for Jack Barry's Navy Yard team when they were beating the big League teams. He seems satisfied with his berth here, and will probably stick for the season. He can play either short, second, or third equally well.

Ryan of Arlington played right field, but he is an infielder, and played second base for the Arlington K. of C. last year. He is considered one of the fastest base runners in the semi-pro ranks.

Nelson and Hillis as usual played a good game, and Nelson made one swell play of roller between the pitcher and short, getting his man by stride.

Hatch came through in good shape at the bat Saturday, getting a couple of nicely placed hits.

Roche and Mack put up their regular game in the outfield, and Mack is beginning to pick up in his hitting this season, not going after as many bad balls as he used to.

Mulcahy went back to Woburn and thereby hangs a tale. It seems early in the season that Woburn did not want to use Mulcahy in the field, as Manager McColgan thought it might get the team "in bad" with the fans up there, and he also warned me that I would be getting in bad with the fans in Winchester if I played him. Well, as I am given credit for running this team here as I see fit, I engaged Billy to play the outfield, and while Billy is a good player, there are plenty just as good and some that I might get hold of are better. At any rate, when McColgan and Co. saw Bill was going along all right in Winchester the wire-pulling commenced, and pressure was brought on Bill to go back to Woburn, which he did. They even offered him the part of manager or assistant manager if he would get in line. So, instead of yours truly getting "in bad," it seems the Woburn crowd were the ones who dug the ditch and fell in it. Also, any time Woburn wants the rest of my team they can have it, and I am able to go out and dig up another one. I generally can tell a player when I see one, although we all get stung once in a while.

Two teams that were booked to play here, but were called off on account of the rain, won their game Saturday. M. J. Perkins Post winning from Tolman's world beaters of Brookline, 7 to 4, and Back Bay K. of C. beating the Winthrop Legion team, 5 to 2. This K. of C. team from the Back Bay has not lost a game this season, and I am going to try and get them here later.

Fittin A. C., which has won 8 out of 9 games played, also won their game Saturday. This team is booked to play here July 10.

Columbus Club of Dorchester is also going along at a good rate, and beat Norwood, 3 to 2, Saturday. This club beat Arlington, 8 to 1, Memorial Day. We played them last year, winning our game, 8 to 3.

Marblehead won from B. F. Sturtevant Co., 2 to 0. The Sturtevant is booked to play here July 5, but I am tempted to cancel this game, as Modford and Arlington are anxious to come here that day, and neighboring towns always provide the better attraction.

St. Ambrose, as usual, has their strong team on the field. Jim Shea, the old Brighton K. of C. pitcher, is going great. They beat the strong Federal team of Cambridge, 6 to 0. I was talking with Manager Galvin of St. Ambrose, and they want to see Winchester out on their grounds.

I offered him a game if he would play a return game at Winchester, and I am waiting to hear from him.

Arlington has been trying to get a game with Woburn, but McColgan won't give them a return game. Manager Geary says he will bring his team to Woburn and play for nothing if McColgan will do the same. I am very sure you people who saw the games with Arlington last year will admit that they have a pretty good ball team, and will give Woburn or Winchester some good baseball. I like to see a little sporting blood injected into these games, and not so much worrying about the attractive part of it. Geary of Arlington is right in his contention with Woburn, and McColgan should come across with a game there.

Finally, when sending out circulars early this season, through some mistake on the part of the writer, one was sent to one of Winchester's wealthy residents. Knowing this gentleman as I do, and what a philanthropic citizen he is, if I had given it a second thought I would have no more sent him one than I would to the ex-Kaiser, for I knew it would be a waste of stamp and stationery. Well, he replied to the circular at any rate, giving us some advice, which doesn't cost anything, for if it did we wouldn't get that. The only thing I am surprised at is that he used paper and stamps.

He might have waited until he met one of us, and told us his troubles and saved a nickel. Let me tell you what he says, to quote from his letter: "I don't believe in contests between towns, as they are not wholesome. There is often bad language used, and sometimes blows are struck, and the young men going back and forth are not always gentlemen." Well, wouldn't that line of junk make you wonder whether we were living in the eighteenth or twentieth century? Then he gets after the Park Board for keeping three men on the job, taking care of Manchester Field and the plots throughout the town. I wonder what he thinks the town invested $300,000 for. To let the park system grow into a hayfield because that is his idea of economy? I am very thankful the town of Winchester does not contain many more men with such antiquated ideas. And finally, for this gentleman's benefit, if he goes anywhere outside of his own yard, if he will make a visit to Manchester Field some Saturday afternoon or holiday I will be glad to introduce him to some of the best citizens of this town. Our spectators include doctors, lawyers, business men and men from all walks of life, and far surpass this gentleman in their conception of public spirit. Now that I got that out of my system, the game will proceed.

CUTWORMS BAD IN GARDENS

Cutworms are again raising havoc where no means have been taken to combat them. Reports continue to come in of the vast amount of damage being done. Poison bait should be sprinkled around plants such as beets, lettuce, beans, etc., in the evening. This poison bait is made by mixing together 1 quart of bran, or any coarse flour to be found about the house, 1 ounce of white arsenate or paris green, 3 pints water and 1 pint of molasses. A little lemon or orange juice added to the mixture doubles the value of it, as it helps in attracting the cutworms.

GRAPE PLUME MOTH

Backyard gardeners are asking what the insect is that is rolling the leaves at the end of the grape growth. This white, fuzzy caterpillar is the grape plume moth. There is no practical way of controlling it except by opening up the leaves and killing the insect. If one tried to kill it by spraying it would be necessary to spray every few days.

SALUTATORY AND ESSAY

The immigrant of 1620 and the Immigrant of 1920

Since the commencement of the Class of 1920 falls upon the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, it seems peculiarly fitting that our exercises should be in recognition of the founding of our state. It is to these exercises that we bid all you who wish us well—parents, friends, and fellow students—welcome.

The immigrant of 1620 was one of the direct founders of the United States. The immigrant of 1920 is represented by the Pilgrims, a group of people in England, belonging to the middle class, with high ambitions and ideals, ultimately leading to the beginning of New England.

That the chief motive for the voyage to America was a desire to secure religious freedom and that it followed a brief stay in Holland may be read on the early pages of any American history. You would be bored by any recounting of details.

The Mayflower, the ship chartered for the passage, had a register of 180 tons, a length of from 90 to 100 feet, three masts, was rather square rigged and blocky, and had other dimensions which represented the usual type of seventeenth century vessels.

Her armament consisted of three types of cannon, each type varying in size and power. The largest, a cannon over ten feet long, with a four-inch bore, used a four-pound ball; a smaller cannon, called a "minion," a three-pound ball; and the smallest, a ball of a pound's weight.

The question of quarters was one of a serious nature. Judging from the size of the Mayflower, there were at least four cabins on either side of the saloon which provided for the women and children; cabins between decks were used by the men; while the fore-castle housed the crew. As the entire company numbered 102, they were "fairly berthed."

The bill of fare for the sea to a mess of four men was as follows: on meat day, two pieces of beef of 3½ pounds each; four pounds of ship bread; a pint and a half of peas; and, as a matter of relish, four gallons of beer, with mustard and vinegar. On fish days, the diet was changed to cod, cheese, and oatmeal.

The course followed by the ship and its various anchorages are again matters of history. Suffice it to say that early in December the Mayflower came to its final harbor at Plymouth. While at anchor, an exploring party went inland, and reported as a favorable landing site a location where there was a good brook. This was near a large rock, which they named Plymouth Rock. Other exploring parties were sent out, and in the course of time a number of rude houses were erected, and ground was allotted to the several families.

Three centuries have elapsed, and the immigrant of 1620 is displaced by the immigrant of 1920, who comes to America in a totally different way, and for totally different motives.

The modern passenger liner which transports our future citizens far surpasses in size and power the Mayflower of 1620. As an example, there was the Titanic of the White Star Line, 850 feet long, 43,500 gross tonnage, made of steel, and driven by turbines generating 50,000 horsepower, capable of doing twenty-one knots an hour.

The immigrant usually travels in the steerage, and in time of storm does not have the same sensation as a first-class passenger. But the ship has a number of dance halls, swimming pools, gymnasiums, and spacious decks for exercise. The time of the voyage is usually spent in dancing, eating, rough amusements among the men, and in day-dreaming about the Promised Land.

In contrast to the limited food supply of the Mayflower, the modern ocean liner carries tons of fresh meats, vegetables, canned goods, fresh water—all the products and luxuries of the year. It is safe to assume, however, that the immigrant in the steerage does not enjoy all these good things.

The immigrants of 1920 come not only from England, but from all parts of the world, representing many races and nationalities, which include the Swede, Italian, Russian, and German. They are, as a whole, poor peasants or unskilled workers and, without education, cannot advance to a higher position than that of a laborer or semi-skilled worker.

Their reasons for immigrating to America are clear. Theirs is the desire to obtain political and religious freedom, the desire to escape military service, the unstable crops of Europe, and most of all to find an opportunity for development and prosperity in America.

The landing of the Pilgrim of 1920 is very different from that of the storm-tossed Pilgrim of 1620. Our early settlers immigrated to an unpopulated land, with no racial or language difficulties, and no temptations or obstacles which seriously affected their daily routine. The present-day immigrant is obliged to pass a rigid physical and mental examination, and steps forth into our large cities with no knowledge of the English language, no education, and through his ignorance is tempted and exploited.

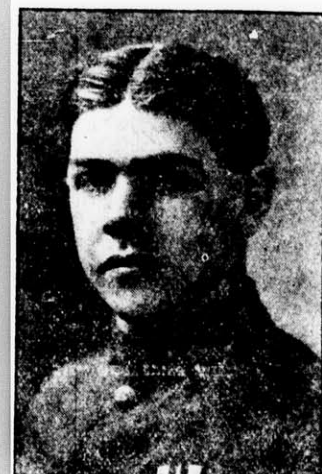

One finds his home in a log cabin; the other in a tenement; both are small, dark, cheerless, yet one has come to mean the abiding place of honor, the other of humiliation. For the one, the savage and the wildest prowls in the near-by forest; for the other, the profiteer and the political agitator lurk on the street corner. To my mind the latter are more dangerous than the former. The one dies of cold and starvation, while the other dies of foul air and poisoned food bought from the decaying store of the neighboring push-cart vender. One finds a world to make as he wishes; the other finds a world already made, and no niche into which he fits easily. If I seem to digress from my subject, please excuse me on the score that I am making a plea for the descendant of the past to stretch out his hand to the ancestor of the future, and lift him from the tenement to the log cabin. For just as both are immigrants, so both are pilgrims starting forth on their voyage with a vision of the future in their hearts. Both leave behind them much that is altogether lovely. Both leave the old and tried for the new and untried. Is it for us to decide that the pilgrim of the future may not bring gifts equal to the pilgrim of the past? Do not both come hoping all things, fearing all things, enduring all things?

John Arthur Sullivan

OUR FIRST NEW ENGLAND FRONTIERSMEN

Our first New England frontiersmen were the Pilgrims. Raw, unskilled adventurers, they worked out their mode of living in a novel, self-reliant way. On their arrival in this country, it was necessary for them to adapt themselves to conditions such as might well have discouraged the greatest of explorers. The fierce weather, with its rain and sleet, impeded them, obliged, as they were, to hew their few cabins from the wilderness about them. Their means of protecting themselves from sickness were slender; food was scarce; and medicine unobtainable. But all these hardships they faced with bravery and fortitude.

The story of that first winter is full of misery and death. Illness and disease confined most of the band to their beds. Those who managed to stay on their feet brought the sick what little food they could procure, cut wood for fires to keep them warm, washed them, and clothed them, although endangering their own lives by doing so. In February, out of the one hundred who landed, scarcely fifty still survived, and of those only six or seven were able to work. In this condition, they applied for aid from the sailors, who still remained on board their vessel in the harbor, but the latter withheld any help whatsoever. They even went so far as to refuse liquor for the sick, saying, "If they were our own parents, they should have none." At

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or impaired hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be relieved and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

SORE THROAT EPIDEMIC

A septic sore throat epidemic broke out in town last Saturday and Sunday, many people being affected. The first cases made their appearance late Friday and Saturday, and on Sunday the cases were reported to the Board of Health in considerable proportions. Steps were immediately taken to investigate and handle the situation. Investigation seemed to indicate that milk was a result one herd of cattle was immediately placed under observation and one cow in this herd isolated. Investigation by the Board of Health under Inspector Maurice Dineen, who is receiving the co-operation of the State Board, is still under way. Up to Tuesday, when the last case to date was reported, some 28 cases were brought to the attention of the health authorities. No new cases have been reported since Tuesday. It appears that the trouble has been promptly located and remedied, and within a few days it is expected that the definite cause of the epidemic will be ascertained.

last came the spring, bringing renewed health and vigor to the few who still survived.

Supported by the unswerving zeal of Myles Standish and Governor Carver, the remnant of the settlers plunged into the work of improvement, and slowly, but surely, forged ahead, proving to a skeptical world that colonization in this country was possible. The death of Governor Carver in April, 1621, was a severe blow, but William Bradford, his successor, carried on the work of progress with honesty and firmness. The Indians helped the colonists a good deal in planting, fishing, and hunting. Three of them, Squanto, Samoset, and Tobbemuck, who had picked up a smattering of the English language through connection with English fishermen, acted as guides, advisers, and interpreters. Through these Indians, too, a treaty was drawn up between neighboring tribes and the Pilgrims, providing that neither should harm the other, that in case of theft the offending party should make restitution. The latter was probably the most important of the articles, at that time, for when the Pilgrims returned to their work after eating their noon meal, they very often discovered that their tools had vanished into thin air, and on visiting a near-by Indian camp were very apt to find these same tools occupying a place of honor in some warrior's tent. In all their dealings with the Indians the Pilgrims were honest and generous, but the crafty character of the savage filled them with distrust, so they built block-houses to protect themselves in case of attack, and posted guards to warn the townspeople when Indians appeared.

In a few years other colonists followed the Pilgrims to this country, some to strengthen the band which had so sadly dwindled during the first winter, and others to form new colonies of their own. With these newcomers the Pilgrims held communication about their friends in England, and established a rapidly growing trade. By means of the boats which travelled back and forth, they started business, for government purposes only, buying manufactured goods and necessities such as could not be obtained in this country. On this attitude of progressiveness, England bent a tolerant eye; but she wasn't interested. "Yes, they can trade in England," but further—"I wash my hands of them." To this lack of appreciation the colonists paid little attention; they just plodded on without caring a snap whether England helped them or not.

From day to day they toiled; sometimes in their gardens coaxing the corn; often swinging an axe to build some newcomer a home, or to erect another church or blockhouse. On Sundays they might be found kneeling in the village church with one eye on the prayer book, the other on an Indian crawling through the window. In all, theirs was a life of hard, drum routine and constant danger. According to William Bradford's account, pleasure and amusement apparently did not exist for them. To be sure, they had a few games, such as quoits, and pitching the bar, but in comparison with our amusements today—moving pictures, plays, and opera—they had nothing. So the happiness and content which seemed to fill their lives was obtained, not through artificial, meaningless trifles, but from the improved conditions which they saw around them, and the sense of peace and security which they felt within.

The church played an important part in these early days. It cast its influence over morals, manners, and customs. The minister held a powerful position in governmental town meetings, which were held within the church walls, and, of course, acted as the spiritual leader of his flock, giving them advice and comfort. Religion had been instilled within the Pilgrims from childhood. They believed in the absolute power of their own church, even after rebelling from similar doctrines in foreign churches. A certain superstitious awe seemed to fill their minds, one which bound them hand and foot, but which was destined to be changed into a freer spirit, of faith, of unity, and of democracy. Throughout their history the spirit of the Pilgrims was full of sublime confidence in Providence. It was a spirit, born and bred in this country; rugged, progressive, noble. PRESIDENT'S PRESENTATION SPEECH

Parents and friends, pupils of the Winchester High School: As President of the class of 1920, I have the privilege, this evening, of presenting to the Winchester High School a gift which we hope will serve as a remembrance of our good-will. Our purpose in this presentation is not merely to follow an established custom, but to express our appreciation of the school during the past four years. Our gift, a silk American flag, has been chosen because we believe that it will inspire the school to still higher ideals of patriotism and loyalty.

The significance of our emblem requires no explanation. Four times our enemies have tried to defeat our flag, but four times they have been unsuccessful. In 1861, our brothers in the South turned against it, but that flag stood and stands today; and it is our greatest desire that the stars and stripes may stand forever as the unstained symbol of America. Moreover, schoolmates, we hope that whenever you salute this flag, you will remember gratefully those boys who, with unflinching courage, fought and died for our country, and that you will salute them through this patriotic emblem.

Follow-schoolmates, on behalf of the class of 1920, I present to you the colors of the United States of America.

Stuart Eldredge, President, '20

VALEDICTORY

Classmates: Tonight we are realizing the fulfillment of the hopes and ambitions which we have been cherishing for four years.

There has come to each of us on this occasion a thrill of happiness and of inspiration such as we have never before experienced. We have the satisfaction of work accomplished, the joy of duty done. There may have been days in the months and years just past, when our school work seemed a burden, when the goal for which we were striving seemed far off and difficult to attain. Now at last we have reached the place where we may look back with a smile upon all that seemed hard or tiresome, and recall only pleasant remembrances. We are deeply grateful for the faithful service and kindly interest of the teachers, and for the privilege of receiving an important part of our education in the beautiful Winchester High School.

But this is not so much an occasion to look backward, as to look forward into the future, that future which beckons us with its rich promises of service, success, and happiness. As we take up our divergent duties, let us be sure that our motives are worthy and our ambitions are high. It is not enough for us to strive for personal success and happiness. Let us take a lesson from the lives of the Pilgrims whom we have honored here tonight. Why does the world remember the Pilgrims today? Is it not because they cherished high ideals and because they dared to follow those ideals, even into hardship and danger, and the sacrifice of life itself? That is the spirit the world needs today; even our own country, great and prosperous as it is, needs it especially.

Therefore, classmates, let us resolve to take for our own that great inheritance which has come down to us through three centuries, not only the principles of Justice and Freedom, but also those personal characteristics which made our Pilgrim ancestors such noble men and women: their strong religious faith, their moral uprightness, their courage to do the right, and their devotion to duty. Following these ideals we shall not fail to become good men and women, working with intelligence and enthusiasm for the progress of our country and the betterment of all mankind.

Eleanor Tilden

CLASS SONG

Words by Frances Warner Hill
Music by Dorothy Grover Lewis
Like Pilgrims, leaving harbor safe
To seek an unknown shore,
Confronted by uncertainties
The future has in store,
We stand, prepared to face a life
Beyond our high school's door.

The Pilgrims, loyal to their cause,
Despite misfortune's stress,
Brought to a glorious end their dream
And we, shall we do less?
Nay! Let us keep their standards high
And make our goal success!

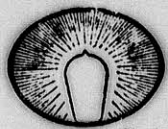

The spirit which inspired them
To such a lofty aim Fills us with strength to forge ahead,
And climb the road to fame.
So, classmates, strive by noble deeds
To win an honored name.
